Background:

Sylwia (S) is 28. She is a side engineer on a construction site in Dublin, where she is the only woman working. She came to Ireland about 2 years ago, shortly after EU accession. When she arrived in Ireland, she worked as a project engineer in a company dealing with unemployment existence for 6 months. This job was organised by an employment agency in Poland.

Zuzanna (Z) is 29, and she is a qualified economist. She works as an accountant in a company in Dublin. She organised that job during a previous stay in Dublin. She lives with her Polish boyfriend in an apartment.

Zuzanna and Sylwia live nearby. They migrated to Ireland together, and shared an apartment in the beginning, until Sylwia moved in with her boyfriend.

Interview:

K: How long are you here now S?

S: Over two years. [Background - arrival IE]

K: (to Z) And you as well?

Z: Over two years. [Background - arrival IE]

S: Almost the same time. [Background - arrival IE]

K: So it was after Poland had joined the EU?

S: Few months after, but the same year. [Background - arrival IE]

K: And did you come because one was here already?

Z: Not really, ... (all laughing) ...but we, I took decision to come to Ireland, then I spoke to my cousin, and then he told me that Sylwia is also going there. So, I got in contact with her, and we decided maybe we could live together.
[Preparation - emigration with Polish acquaintance]

K: Very good. So, you actually lived together in an apartment.

S: Yeah, we were renting an apartment. [Accommodation - sharing with Polish friend in beginning]

K: And did you know each other before, or did you become friends over here?

Z: We met at some occasions, maybe once or twice at my cousin, but we didn't really know each other. [Friends - new Polish friends in IE]

K: So, you made new friends over here?

(both laughing and nodding)

K: And you are working as an accountant [Background - employment], Z?

Z: Yeah. (more like a 'Ja') [Using Polish accent]

K: And you did that from the beginning on?

Z: Yeah.

K: Did you have your job sorted before you came?

Z: It was that way that I came here for two weeks to look for a job, and then I was like, if I don't find a job then I don't come here. But if I have a job and I have my agreement signed then I come back to Poland, sort out my things and then I come back here. [Preparation - organising employment before arrival]

K: Very organised...

Z: Yeah.

K: So, you would not have come here just trying to find a job?

Z: That would have been a little too risky. [Preparation - no emigration without prior employment, guarantee]

K: (to S) and how about yourself, S?

S: It was actually arranged in Poland. Yeah, I was looking for a job in agency, and I got one for 6 months [Finding employment - agency in PO]. So, I knew I was coming here, and something was arranged. [Preparation - organising employment before arrival]

K: And what is the job you are doing?

S: For the first 6 months I was a project engineer. I was working with a company dealing with unemployment existence. [Background - employment] And then I change it for side engineer. I'm a side engineer now, in a construction company. [Background - employment] [Employment - changing job acc to qualifications]

K: Alright, very good. Or there any more women working?

S: There was one more girl working with me on the same project, but then she was going to another project, so I'm on myself. [Employment - working in male-dominated environment]

K: And the other one was she Polish as well?

S: No, she was Irish.

K: And what is your occupation, or your degree?

S: Engineering, civil engineering. [Background - qualification]

K: (to Z) And you're a qualified accountant?

Z: Economist. [Background - qualification]

K: (to S) So, how is life on the construction side?

S: Ha, sometimes it's tough, I'm telling you.

K: Are there many Poles working?

A: We had a Polish subcontractor on side [Employment - Polish subcontractor]. They were happy that I am there, because I was Polish. And that subcontractor became our ... We hired them. [Workplace - Polish employees; temp.] And ...eh... I was working with them for over a year. But now we have no Poles on side, only Irish, Lithuanians, Latvians, from Africa as well. [Workplace - Irish & int. employees]

K: (to B) Are you working with any other Poles?

Z: I do. Every year, there are more and more Poles in my company. So, when I came in my department, there 3 Poles, and now there are 12 Poles. [Workplace - majority Polish colleagues] [Workplace - increasing number of Polish colleagues]

K: Out of how many others?

Z: Eh...in our team, our finance team, there are about 35 people, and 12 Polish in it. [Workplace - increasing number of Polish colleagues]

K: Mostly women or men?

Z: Eh. ...(thinking) I think more or less equal.

S: There is a few Poles on side as well, working as engineers on side, but not on my one. But I know they are there. There is one more girl working as a...with them ...not a side engineer. But there are maybe 10 or 15. [Workplace - few Polish colleagues]

K: But you would not be using your Polish at work, because you are now dealing with Irish only?

S: I am not dealing with Polish at all, not Polish colleagues. I used to, with this Polish subcontractor. Then I was using Polish, because it was...they would understand it. It was convenient for our company to have me on side. I was translating as well. [Speaking Polish in workplace - welcomed]

K: Although it wasn't your job?

S: No, it wasn't, but it was helpful.

K: (to Z) Are you using Polish at work?

Z: No, in the beginning. Because I am working in financial service sector, and we are dealing with various countries, and in the beginning I was working with Poland, but just for few months. But then I moved to a completely different... [Speaking Polish in workplace - no] Because I am using Polish as for chat with people who work in my department, but not for work. [Speaking Polish in workplace - privately]

K: And was that something that was good in the beginning, to have worked in Polish?

Z: No, in fact I didn't like dealing with Polish people. I wanted to have more contact with English speaking people. [Strategies to improving English lang. skills - hindering factor; speaking Polish with Polish colleagues]

K: to improve your English?

Z: Yeah. Because from the beginning in Poland I worked for an American company, and I was even more used to work in English-speaking environment than Polish. So, I prefer...

K: Have you been anywhere else, in any other foreign country, before you came to Ireland?

Z: Eh, Germany, as I told you before, and I have been to United States for a summer, I went four times for work and travel programme [Pre-experience] abroad]. I was just used to work with international people. [Pre-experience international work environment]

K: So, your English would have been pretty good when you came here?

Z: Yeah, you know, it is still improving and improving. But it was good. [English lang. skills - denying obvious good lang. skills]
[English lang. skills in the beginning - good]

K: So, at least you felt in a way comfortable and confident to speak?

Z: Yeah, you know, as usually for work, because I know phrases, which are used in a company. But it might be more difficult when talking with people about everyday stuff, like you know. Or sometimes, they discuss about football or something what's going on. So, this might be difficult for me [English lang. difficulties - related to lack of specific vocabulary; e.g. sports], but stuff related to work was pretty easy. [English lang. skills - confident in working life]

K: Would there have been any situations sometimes in everyday life, say for example in a bank or in a shop, or another institution, where you would have felt any 'uncomfort', where you would have had any problems?

Z: Not really. Because those are using very easy vocabulary. What I mean is sometimes when they discuss what...some films, or cultural issues, because I don't, I am not born into that culture. It might be difficult for me to understand. But in everyday life no, not really. [English lang. difficulties - related to lack of specific vocabulary; e.g. sports]

K: And is it more when people speak with each other, then you can't really follow, but when you are talking with somebody, it's ok?

Z: Yeah. Although my manager, he is speaking so fast, and I can't really understand him [English lang. difficulties linked to native speed of lang.???], because he speaks really Dublin language. [English lang. difficulties linked to native Irish accent & expressions] (laughing)

K: (to S) How was that for you, languages wise?

S: It wasn't good for the first 3 months. [English lang. skills beginning - little]

K: How was your English when you came?

S: It wasn't too bad. But I improved a lot staying here. [Strategies to improving English lang. skills - living & working in IE, English-speaking environment]

K: And have you been anywhere before?

S: No, no.

K: So, it was the first time away for a long time, in Ireland?

S: Yeah. Just visiting different countries for holidays, but never as Zuzanna in the US or Germany. [Preparation - no pre-experiences abroad]

Z: Now she speaks really well, because she spends time with Irish. [Strategies to improving English lang. skills - Irish colleagues; speaking English extensively]

S: A lot of time with Irish. [...] I work with ... (builders, workers???), communication all the time. I spend there 10 hours everyday, it's quite a lot. [Strategies to improving English lang. skills - Irish colleagues; speaking English extensively]

Z: If there is miscommunication it might be bad (she means on the construction side).

(all laughing) [...]

K: What did you do to improve it, did you take any language courses?

S: No, I just think myself. After a few months, I started to understand. [Strategies to improving English lang. skills - improving by own study] And when I started with the company where I work now, on the side, it improved a lot. [Strategies to improving English lang. skills - Irish colleagues; speaking English extensively]

K: Would there have been situation where you felt uncomfortable or frustrated, because you didn't understand or couldn't express yourself?

S: I always ask, if I didn't understand. I didn't feel uncomfortable, and I felt free to ask question ... [Strategies to improving English lang. skills - asking for clarification] of the job. If I needed to understand something, I double checked. And I still ask questions. [English lang. difficulties - confident; dealing with difficulties confidently]

K: And you keep doing this for a long time, to ask questions. I mean I would have the same, I would have situation, where for example I sometimes don't understand slang or something...

S: Oh, yeah...

Z: (to me) How was it for you for the beginning?

K: I came the first time 6 years ago, and it was terrible. I did not understand a word, seriously. I lived in S___ (town in the West of Ireland) the first 8 months, and the accent over there is even more difficult than over here (in Dublin). And I didn't understand a word, it was really frustrating. But I was there to study, so through studying I could learn. [Researcher's background]

S: It is completely different accent here than over there in ___ (West of Ireland). I can hardly understand them. [English lang. difficulties - different accents across IE]

Z: So, you came here to study? [Researcher's background]

(I am telling them about my background.)

Z: How did you like Finland? [Researcher's background]

K: I really loved it. I miss the snow. [Researcher's background]

[...]

K: Well is there anything you miss about Poland? What I miss most about Germany and Finland is 4 seasons, and the snow.

S: Yeah, it's kind of disappearing here, you can't feel if it's summer or winter. There is no real winter here.

Z: And even in summer it could be very cold and windy.

S: I miss snow, yeah.

K: Is there anything else you miss about Poland? (13mins 50)

S: Cultural life [Missing Polish "C"culture], Christmas ... completely different here than in Poland [Missing Polish traditions]. I used to live with a German girl and we recently we talked about that, you know, Christmas, and Santa Clause as well, on the 6th. They don't have that here. [Differences - Christmas in IE & PO]

K: Yeah, I know.

S: I miss those things. Or child's day. We have child's day on the 1st of June. (both laughing) So, we do it for ourselves. [Missing Polish traditions]

K: Yeah, I keep telling people about this...

A: Me too.

K: Yeah, but you it only exists in communist countries, because the international children's day is sometimes in November or December. It is funny, because my birthday is on children's day, and I keep telling people, it is also children's day, and then they wonder 'What are you talking about?'

S: Exactly. The Irish I work with, they actually liked the idea of these holidays, because I always do it for them. I used to leave sweets or something for them, and they liked it. And they actually envy us that we have so many different occasions, that we can celebrate or whatever. Name's Day as well. [Integration - integrating Polish traditional holidays in Irish culture; positively perceived by host members]

Z: Women's Day, I think, is not here as well.

S: No.

K: Not really, that's true, because we would really celebrate it.

S: Mother's Day is in March, is it?

K: Yeah.

Z: Usually, I, for example, I cannot imagine not going for Christmas to Poland. But also this atmosphere, I miss it a lot [Christmas at home in PO - preferred]. I think here, everything is so commercialised, you just go shopping and it's so crowded everywhere, and it's just presents, presents, presents. You don't feel really that atmosphere, you don't really make, prepare anything yourself. You just go shopping, buy and that's it. [Differences - Christmas in IE more commercial than in PO]

S: For Easter, they don't celebrate Easter in a way that we do in Poland. But that's a different culture. [Differences - traditions (holiday traditions)]

K: It's also about bringing family together and everything, because it's so much, there is so much importance around it. It appears not to be the same here, maybe it is, but we don't know.

Z: I don't know Irish families, but that's what I see on the street and in my job. For Easter for example, when I ask people how do you celebrate? 'Oh, we go away for a weekend.' But that's it. [Differences - celebrating traditions differently; e.g. Easter, Christmas; linked to different perception of these traditions]

S: I think it's more social life here than family life. That's what I noticed. [Differences Irish & Polish culture - observing focus on social life in IE vs family-orientation in PO]

K: So, you're flying home for Christmas?

S: Oh yeah, I wouldn't miss that. [Christmas at home in PO]

Z: Yeah. [Christmas at home in PO]

(both laughing and talking about tickets)

S: They (the tickets) are so dear now. For a direct flight, I couldn't find one cheaper than €600. It was the cheapest I could find. I found one via Frankfurt now, that was for €350. [Flights over Christmas expensive]

K: Wow. And to where?

S: To Z____. I couldn't stay here for Christmas. [Christmas at home in PO - preferring]

Z: Oh, that would be the most terrible thing. [Christmas at home in PO - preferring]

Z: Well, Easter we spend last year here. We got everything ready and then we went to Church [Religious holidays at home in PO - important], because you know, in Poland you have this tradition that you go with basket, you put in a basket everything (food). [Maintaining Polish home culture traditions - Christmas, Easter] I don't know if you have this tradition in Germany?

K: No, we don't.

Z: And then we bring it there, and they put the saint (sacred) water on it. So, it was first time that they organised it here. Sometime, we felt the atmosphere then. You know. [Maintaining Polish home culture traditions - Christmas, Easter] Christmas is more important. So, that was fine then. [Religious holidays at home in PO - important]

K: Do you go to church here?

Z: Yeah. [Church practice - attending mass in IE]

S: Yeah, I do. [Church practice - attending mass in IE]

K: Every Sunday?

S+Z: Yeah. [Church practice - regular attendance]

K: Do you go tot the Polish church?

S: Yeah, there is one down here. What was the name of the street? St. Dominic St. There is Dominican masses. [Church practice - attending Polish mass in IE]

Z: There are a few Polish churches now. And even two weeks ago, Polish cardinal, the most important priest from Poland, came to celebrate the opening of new church. [Polish church in Dublin - background (incl. Dominican)]

[...] (19mins15)

Z: We prefer Dominican. [Church practice - preference for specific Polish church in IE]

K: Why is that?

S: The...eh... how do you call that, the gospel, after the gospel, is the speech... (the sermon) [Church practice - preference for specific Polish church in IE linked to being to relate better to this community/sermon]

Z: And we like more the way they explain. It's more...

S: ...about life. It's more about life than... It is more interesting.

Z: Yeah, and then there is more ...eh... when they talk to us, it...eh... the other priest in the other church (High St), he just talking like.. talking... it doesn't have really meaning for us. But the other one, he is talking, just come straight ahead to us. You know. Very convincing.

[Church practice - preference for specific Polish church in IE linked to being to relate better to this community/sermon]

K: And did you always go to church every Sunday? Or has it changed somehow here?

S: No. [Church practice in IE & PO - regular attendance not changed]

Z: No, not really.

S: I used to go every Sunday. [Church practice in IE & PO - regular attendance not changed]

Z: In the beginning I didn't go really, because I didn't like eh... those...

S: There was not actually Polish, Polish Mass, when we came here. It started after six months. I used to go for Irish mass, but it was like half an hour (clicks with her fingers) and gone [Differences Irish & Polish mass - Irish quicker].

[Church practice - preferring Polish mass, having not felt comfortable in Irish mass]

K: Really?

S: Yeah, it was Sunday mass like half an hour. I used to go for the one in the city centre for nine o'clock. Half nine it was done. It was like, it wasn't a real mass. [Differences Irish & Polish mass - Irish quicker]

Z: And then we went for one year to the first Polish church that was here. But because it wasn't convincing, it was to go there just to go. And the other one it opened in spring now, it is just nice to go there. [Church practice - preference for specific Polish church in IE]

K: That's good.

Z: Even Irish archbishop, he sent a letter to Dominicans. And he asked them to come here, because the Polish people need this. Even on Krakow, when I studied in Krakow, they are also there. So, I prefer them to the others. [Polish church in Dublin - background (incl. Dominican)]

S: There was masses for students at seven o'clock, I think. I loved them. [Church practice - preference for specific Polish church in IE linked to positive experience in PO]

Z: So, he sent a letter, and that's why they came. [Polish church in Dublin - background (incl. Dominican)]

Z: (to me) Do you go to church? [Researcher's background]

K: I do, and I found a Lutheran church, German speaking. (They ask me where it is etc. and where I live.) [Researcher's background]

(23mins)

K: (to Z) Why did you come to Ireland?

Z: Let me think. Before I came to Ireland, I was in Ireland once, just for a few days. I really liked it and I thought that maybe one day I would like to come back there. [Pre-experience - previous stay in IE] And after I came back from States to Poland, I had been working there for two years [Pre-experience abroad], I just wanted to go somewhere to get some more experience. [Reasons to immigrate to IE - work experience abroad] And also I wanted to be able to buy a flat when I come back to Poland. So save some money. [Reasons to emigrate - ability to buy apartment in PO] And I had some colleagues at work, who wanted to go to Ireland. So, we gathered together, one of them, one was first, and then the other one, and then after they helped me when I came here. Because it was because we arranged it together, I was more brave to come here. [Preparation - emigration with colleagues from PO]

K: That's very good. So, they were actually here first. And did you move in with them in the beginning?

Z: I was supposed to, but finally I decided that I will live with Sylwia.

K: But you came first and you (S) followed?

S: No, ... (they talk to each other) (S came first in June and Z came for two weeks to sort out a job, and came back in September.)

K: How did you find accommodation?

(they fall into laughter, it must have been a disaster.)

Z: First we found, because I came on 1st of September, and we had just a weekend to look for apartment, and then I needed to start work. I stayed at boyfriend's place, because I met R___ before, and stayed with him, and he stayed with his brother and wife. [Accommodation - staying with Polish friends/family in beginning] So, I really wanted to find something, before I start working. And we saw an advertisement, there was Polish guy. And we thought it would be nice to live with Polish people when you are in a foreign country [Separation - staying with Polish ppl in IE perceived as positive]. So, we arranged meeting with them, and when we got there, two guys opened the door, one very tall, and... [Finding accommodation - negative experiences with Polish ppl]

S: I was so afraid to get into the elevator with them. [Finding accommodation - negative experiences with Polish ppl]

Z: There was a long aisle, like a labyrinth, but finally we got tot the room, and in the room there were three other persons... [Finding accommodation - negative experiences with Polish ppl]

S: Three other boys, and they thought that we were foreigners, and they were talking in Polish, and they though: 'Oh, maybe they won't catch it that we are here, two, or four of us living here.' And that was actually apartment for 3 or 4 people. [Finding accommodation - negative experiences with Polish ppl]

Z: They said: 'Let's not tell them that we live as five here.' And then ... [Finding accommodation - negative experiences with Polish ppl]

S: Then we said 'Hello' in Polish. But we knew in the beginning that we won't take it, but we thought 'we see what they say.' And they start talking about the bills, because I asked them how high they were. And they said 'Ah, we don't know. It depends.' And I knew what the bills are, because a friend of mine told me more or less what the bills are in Dublin. And I knew it was impossible that the bills are that high. [Pre-knowledge - accommodation expenses IE] So, we said we call you back. [Finding accommodation - negative experiences with Polish ppl]

Z: But we were so afraid. [Finding accommodation - negative experiences with Polish ppl]

K: So, what did you do in the end?

S: You (Z) saw an add, and you rang one guy, an Irish landlord. You organised everything for that Sunday. And we move than. It was so hot that day. It was the second one that we saw. [Finding accommodation - positive after negative experiences]

Z: It looked like a ruin from outside, but inside it was nice. [Finding accommodation - positive after negative experiences]

K: And who else was living there?

S: Oh, just ourselves. [Accommodation - sharing with Polish friends]

K: And where was that?

S: (she shows, it was the same area where they live now) just beside Tesco down the road.

[...]

K: Did you always speak Polish together when you lived together?

S: Yeah. [Speaking Polish at home]

(Z nodding)

K: You still always speak Polish to each other?

S: Yeah, I miss actually Polish, because at work it is all English and at home as well, because I live with an Irish guy and German girl. [Speaking Polish - feeling of joy] [Speaking Polish - feeling of joy linked to speaking English a lot]

Z: Me, too. I actually realised that some Polish words go away, and I forget them. That's really bad, you know. [Speaking Polish to retain good level of mother tongue] [Speaking Polish - forgetting Polish words linked to speaking English a lot]

S: You want to say something and you can't remember. [Speaking Polish - forgetting Polish words linked to speaking English a lot]

Z: That's a shame. You have to be able to express yourself, in your language. [Speaking Polish to retain good level of mother tongue]

K: I had the same for a long time, because everything I did, living and working, it was all in English. And then, because I had a few German friends here, I told myself, I won't allow myself to speak bad German anymore. So, I make the effort to find the word, and not just say the English one. Forcing myself to do that.

K: So, you would be spending most of your time with Irish at work (to S, because Z works with Poles as well), and in your social life, whom do you spend most of your time with?

S: Well, I live with an Irish guy and a German girl. So, most of the time it's English, unless I meet up with my Polish friends. [Spending time with int. & native housemates]

Z: Yeah, but social life, it depends on what you mean with social life. Because you (S) spend time with Irish people, because you live with them, but for friends... [Spending time with int. & native housemates]

K: Whom else would you meet to socialise?

S: Polish friends, more Polish than Irish. [Socialising with Polish ppl]

K: (to Z) Would it be the same for you?

Z: Yeah. [Socialising with Polish ppl]

K: And then you live with R___ (Zuzanna's Polish boyfriend) now?

Z: Yeah. (smiling)

(35 mins)

K: Why do you think you spend most of your time with Poles and not with others?

Z: Just naturally. Maybe because, I think when you are abroad and you meet other Polish people, they ... [Socialising with Polish ppl (members from home culture) is perceived as natural]

S: ...stuck together...

Z: ...they are stuck together, because they are helping each other. And it's like you have common subject because you... all of us, we are abroad on our own. So, we just ... [Socialising with Polish ppl (members from home culture) described with sense of community/ support; positively]

S: ...help one another... [Socialising with Polish ppl (members from home culture) described with sense of community/ support; positively]

Z: yeah...

K: And you are sharing this same experience, yeah. And where would you meet them?

S: I knew B, and D___ and M___.... Some of them on the plane and some of them by (first hours???) ...[Friends in IE - mainly Polish]

Z: Someone was coming, for example, and he needed an apartment to stay for a while, so we helped to him, and then we followed the friendship. [Friends in IE - mainly Polish; friendships formed within Polish community]

Z: What about you, do you spend time with German people?

K: I do. I live with an Irish girl and there used to be a Belgian girl, and we would have spent most time together. But I think my best friend here would be German, East German as well. [Researcher's background]

Z: I think it also about the culture and the way people are brought up. I don't have anything against Irish people. I like them, because they are open and friendly towards us [Attributes Irish ppl]. But I didn't like... We understand each other better with Polish people. [Friendship with Irish host members is limited] Even for that reason that I said before, with Christmas, the cultural background, the tradition is the same. [Socialising with Polish friends mainly linked to feeling of familiarity with home culture more than with host culture] [Friendship with Polish ppl linked to feeling of familiar culture, customs, traditions]

K: Is there anything, that you feel, like why you get along better? Apart from Christmas and other festivals? Is there anything more about your culture that you feel you can only share with Poles here, but not with Irish?

S: Something that they don't have, but we do?

K: Yeah, something that you miss and can't share. In situations when socialising or when making friends? ... or in daily situations, when going shopping for example?

A: It is hard to say. I think, because Ireland joined the EU, and Irish got rich in few years time, and... I 'd say, I'm afraid that eventually the same will happen with Poland. Everything will be commercialised and truth, the true values, like family life or love, whatever will... [Family-orientated Polish culture predicted to disappear with increasing prosperity; similar to IE]

Z: ...disappear. (39mins20)

S: ...will be kind of disappearing. ... (thinking about the question) I don't know. It's a different culture, but I'd say it's similar to ours 20 years ago. [Similarities disappearing - PO perceived similar to IE 20 years ago]

Z: Yeah...

S: Coz I was talking about, lots of Irish were asking me, older Irish that I meet outside, either my friends, my colleagues, or people that I don't know, I meet them once and that's it – when they ask me, how was it in Poland? They say it was the same here 20 years ago, like in Poland. Most of that was the same. But it changed, because of Ireland had joined the EU, and it got better here, life got better here, lifestyle, and they became richer. [Similarities disappearing - PO perceived similar to IE 20 years ago]

Z: It's not only Polish people that feel that. I have a colleague from Philippines at work, and she said, for example neighbours, in Philippines they know each other, they help each other. Sometimes just meeting for chat, they have time for each other. Here is different. Our block for example, I even don't know people who live here. Everybody has his life and is in hurry, you know, make career, someone has a good car and that's it... [Life in IE negative - individualistic] [Life in IE - lacking collectivism within neighbourhood] [Similarities disappearing - IE becoming has become more individualistic than more collectivistic PO]

K: And you think this is because you would be foreigners now. For example, living in an estate, you think Irish people in an estate would still be looking out for each other, or would it be the same?

S: They would be friends, but actually... I don't know.

Z: Maybe they would be friends more than with us, but still I think they would not socialise so much with each other, because they don't have time for each other and they don't want the troubles from each other. [Life in IE - lacking collectivism within neighbourhood] In Poland, now it's also changing, but I remember in old times, when it was communistic, we had like neighbours, and they would come to us for a chat. (smiling) It was completely different. You know, when you went to the neighbour to borrow sugar, because you are baking a cake, and you don't have it at the moment. Here I would never do it, because ... [Life in PO - used to be more collectivistic within neighbourhood] [Life in PO - changing from more collectivist to more individualistic behaviour]

S: Times has changed. Because I can see it actually now as well: It was different when I was a little girl, living in my own place. [Life in PO - changing from more collectivistic to more individualistic behaviour]

Z: What do you...?

S: I mean it's different in Poland now.

Z: What do mean?

S: That people are less open than they used to be, I noticed.

K: Why do you think this is?

S: I'd say it's related to the fact that the economic growth and it...(???) is changed. It's easier now to get everything. [Life in PO - changing from collectivism to individualism linked to economic growth]

Z: And I think people are more selfish, and they think more about 'Ah, I have my hobby, and I need to go abroad, and maybe...' They have their goals, and it's important for them to reach their goals. But the other people are not really important. [Life in PO - changing from collectivism to individualism linked to economic growth]

K: What are those cultural values? What is important for Poles? What does being Polish mean?

S: I don't know. I think family life is the most important. [Polish culture - family-orientated]

Z: Yeah.

S: Because I can see the difference between us and the Irish here. It's a bit different. I would like .. I think it's in a way how we were brought up, the values that you learned as you were little, from the very beginning, what your parents taught you. [Polish culture - still more family-orientated than Irish culture; despite changes from collectivism to individualism]

Z: Sharing... Here it's more important to have friends, and as I told, it's more important to develop your hobby, maybe go abroad, and drink. But in Poland it also change like that now, because we even notice the difference with the next generation. Even people who are younger than us, maybe five years, they are already different... [Life in PO - changing from collectivism to individualism linked to economic growth] [Polish culture - still more family-orientated than Irish culture; despite changes from collectivism to individualism]

K: How old are you?

Z: 29. [Background - age]

K: And you?

S: 28. [Background - age]

S: And actually the difference as well, I noticed between how children are acting here and in Poland. That's so, I don't know, but they are so naughty here. Because they are not, completely no, I don't know, they don't listen to anybody. They are so, they used to live in free worlds. I don't know what are the rules of parenting here, because it's unbelievable for me. [Differences life in PO & IE - children in IE less disciplined than in PO]

Z: they do what they want, yeah. [Differences life in PO & IE - children in IE less disciplined than in PO]

Z: I know, maybe also, because we are in Northern part of Dublin, and so far in Dublin it is different, because people here are so poor. Maybe we don't see those people living in the Southern part of Dublin. It's hard for me to be objective, but I think A is right. [Differences life in PO & IE - children's lack of discipline in IE linked to poverty in certain areas; relative]

S: And as well, respect for elderly people, is kind of disappearing here. We were discussing this earlier with Zuzanna, like I wouldn't never thought that I could leave my mom or dad to that nursery house or something, I can't imagine doing something like that. And I'd say ... it's more common here, if your parents are sick or ill, you just try to arrange, make an arrangement and get a nursery home for them. [Differences Polish & Irish culture - caring for elderly; lacking in IE more individualistic approach][Polish culture - caring for parents; elderly care]

Z: You can see so many lonely old people here on the street, like nobody takes care of them. And once, I was coming back from work, I met a woman, she was carrying three heavy bags, and I saw her resting, and I came to her and asked her: 'Can I help you?' She was like really surprised: 'What...?' And she said I am going there...and I said: 'Yes, I live there.' She was really surprised. [Irish culture negative - caring for elderly ppl]

K: This is amazing, isn't it?

S: It's a bit a different culture. Children are used to leave their parents when they are 18, 19. They just go to college or they start their own life. They can afford, or they take a mortgage, whatever they can't buy, apartment, and they move out from home. Parents stay on their own. They begin their own life. It is different in Poland, because it's still a little bit poorer, and you couldn't afford to live on your own, so you live with your parents. [Life in PO positive - living with parents; collectivistic approach] [Differences Polish & Irish culture - collectivistic Polish culture: living with parents vs individualistic Irish culture: living own independent life]

K: How do your parents like it now, that you are over here and not there?

(both laughing)

Z: Not really...

S: They want us to come back. [Parents in PO - missing children; collectivistic culture finding it difficult to deal with children abroad]

Z: Every day when I call to Poland: ‘When are you coming back?’ And they think it’s really bad for us. Like they know, they are really worrying about us, because we are so far away. [Parents in PO - missing children; collectivistic culture finding it difficult to deal with children abroad]

K: And you are probably worrying about them?

Z+S: Uhm.

Z: Especially that my mother is on her own. My father died some time ago. I am thinking, maybe one day I will come back there, because I can’t imagine how it will be when she will be older and she will need care or something, or I need her to come here, or...I don’t know. [Future in PO - certainty linked to collectivistic attitude; caring for parents]

K: Have you got any siblings?

Z: I have brother and sister. [Background - family]

K: And are they both there?

Z: Yeah, but they live far away. ... [Background - siblings in PO live away from home]

K: Have you got any brothers and sisters?

S: One sister. [Background - family]

K: And she is in Poland?

S: Yeah, she is.

K: Is there anything that you feel is very similar between Poles and Irish people? ... You know that people always say that Poles and Irish are so alike and that’s why they would get on so well.

S: History was more or less the same. [similarities - history]

Z: I always thought that we are similar, because I heard that Irish people are Catholic and ...but when I came here I changed a little bit my mind, because I noticed the ...over the time, after they joined the European Union, they have changed. So, maybe they have similar history, but... Maybe older generation will be similar to us, not the new generation. [Similarities btw Irish & Polish culture disappeared with economic prosperity - remaining similar history] [Similarities more evident btw older generation of Irish ppl & Polish ppl]

K: So, it's not like that would help to get along here easier? Or does it?

S: I don't know we all have ...(???) fine in country. Maybe after some time... it depends on people.

K: Imagine, because there are many migrants in Ireland, and now there would be many from a completely different background, who would not be Catholic, and who would not have the same history of emigration, or would not have the same history of occupation by their neighbours. Do you think it is harder for them to get along here than for Poles?

S: I don't know...

Z: I never thought about it... There is one thing, what is similar, what many people say, like 15 years ago lots of them used to go to United States, Canada, to ...the better job and save some money, and it's now the same story with us. We are going to Ireland, and we will come back to our country [Polish migrants general - planning repatriation], but it's like also history, you could say. [Similar historic experience in regard to emigration & economic recession - PO today is similar to IE 15 years ago] [Similar history - experience of emigration]

K: Do you feel that you are part of Irish life?

S: Uhm...difficult question...

K: Are you well integrated?

S: I'd say so, but it would never be my own culture. I say...I couldn't durate (last) with them. I can now, it's not that difficult that it was in the very beginning. [Adaptation - life has become easier in IE] [Integration - never fully integrating/ assimilating???]

K: Could it ever be home?

(Silence...then laughing...)

Z: We ask this question every day ourselves. But we don't know the answer so far, so please don't ask. [Home in IE - negative]

S: I always miss Poland. I'd say, I don't know if you would be able to live here. Maybe I would, but I would always miss Poland? [Home in IE - negative][Missing home]

K: Are there things that you particularly miss about Poland?

S: Family... [Missing family]

Z: Most family... [Missing family]

S: I am so related with my family, with my sister. So, basically I miss them the most. [Missing family]

K: Do you call them often?

S: Oh yeah. Twice a week. [Contact to family - weekly]

Z: For half an hour, an hour. [Contact to family - weekly]

K: (to Z) and you?

Z: Every day. [Contact to family - daily] (laughing) Because I have internet at home. [Contact to family - internet]

S: It's easier for you. (laughing)

K: And are there friends that you would be calling as well?

S: Eh, yeah. Sometimes a couple of Polish... [Contact to friends in PO - weekly]

Z: Yeah.

K: Would your best friends be over there (Poland)?

(both laughing)

K: Are you best friends?

(both laughing)

K: You know in Poland you have like your best friend and the Polish word for it would be przyjaciółka. But here friend is friend, you know? It's different in a way, or what do you think?

S: Yeah, my best friend is my sister, I think [Przyjaciolka - equalled to a sister]. And ... but I have very good, it wouldn't be maybe the best friend, but I have my best friends, few of them, in Poland, I am still in touch with them. [Best friends residing in PO] And they, actually I am visiting them shortly. (laughing) And I can't wait.

K: Are there more women or men?

S: Eh...women first, yeah. [Przyjaciolka - Polish women]

K: (to Z) And how is this for you?

Z: I have friends in Poland, and we are... they are asking me: 'When are you coming back?' (laughing) and you know with time that we are here, I am contacting them and, but I feel that somehow I loose... I have contact with them, but I think friends you make when you are some time together [Friendship is linked to lengths of shared time & experience], and you know, you are helping each other [Friendship is linked to supporting each other], and having fun together and going in holidays, and so on [Friends - best friends in PO]. Now, when I come back to Poland never have time to do that, because I have to arrange other stuff that is important, when you come back to Poland [visiting in PO - during holiday lacking time for friends linked to organising other things]. You have to go to doctor or something. And I am really missing, you know, spending time with them, not just chatting on the skype. I think it's not enough. But they are still my very good friends. And I also have good friends here... But I think it's not enough, just skype. [Friends in PO - loosing contact linked to lack of sharing time together (also przyjaciolki)]

S: Yeah, yeah, yeah...

K: Would your przyjaciółka be here or there?

K: (to S) yours is your sister?

S: Yeah. But here I would say it is Z. The person I most close here. [Przyjaciolka linked to closeness] [Przyjaciolka - Polish przyjaciolka in IE]

Z: Yeah, I think the same with S. In Poland I have a good friend. But as I said I'm loosing the connection, because I am not spending time with her. So, now I feel this, it feels painful, but that's the way it is. [Friends in PO - loosing contact linked to lack of sharing time together (also przyjaciolki)]

K: Yeah.

K: And who would you talk to when you have a problem?

S: Here? (laughing and points to Z) [Support personal matters - przyjaciolka in IE]

Z: (laughing and agrees in signs that it is S) [Support personal matters - przyjaciolka in IE]

K: Would you also sometimes ring home?

S: I sometimes ring my sister. [Support personal matters - sister]

Z: Actually, my mother is my really good friend. So, if I have a very big problem, I call her. [Support personal matters - mother]

K: So, for example also when you have a relationship thing?

Z: Yeah. Because I have a sister as well, but she is nine years older than me. And I don't have with her the same good contact. But when I really need help, she is there. I don't have with her contact like, because maybe we don't have the same subjects, but when I am really in trouble, she is there and help me. [support personal matters - sister]

K: (to S) Are you in a relationship with anyone?

S: No.

K: I asked you earlier what it means to be Polish, but what does it mean to be a Polish woman? Is there anything that makes you different from for example an Irish woman or any other women?

(both laughing)

S: Just thinking of differences between Polish and Irish women... I think Irish women are more career orientated. [Differences Polish & Irish women - Irish women more career-orientated] [Irish women - perceived as career-orientated]

(silence and thinking)

Z: And Polish, maybe they are... because some Polish people are also like career orientated. It is already changing. This is the process. Even since I left Poland two years ago, it has changed and there may be things which I don't wanted, so I might not be objective. [Polish women changes - from traditional to career-orientated] But again I think Polish people, that is my view, Polish women are more like creating the home, I mean not only meaning of ...eh... cooking and cleaning the house, but the warm home, as a warm place, a place where you come back every day and feel there safe [Polish women - family-orientated/ collectivistic]. And come back and talk to your partner, and spend time with your children. [Differences Polish & Irish women - Polish women more traditional] That's my view, but again, I am not sure if I am objective, because I don't really know Irish women, who have their house....

K: Would the Polish woman be at the centre of the family, or the home?

S: Uhm...think so.

Z: In Poland it has also changed a lot, because in the family where I was brought p, my mother used to arrange everything, and she used to clean the house and so on. And for example, me and R___, R___ is helping me a lot, and we are more like partners [Equally shared housework]. So it is different. So, things is changing. [Polish women changes - from traditional role towards more equal/emancipated role]

[...]

K: Which papers do you read here?

S: Here? Irish papers?

K: Do you read Irish papers?

S: Only from time to time, I watch Independent. [Reading Irish newspapers - yes]

K: Do you read Polish papers as well?

S: Not here, I read them from Poland. [Polish community papers - negative] [Polish newspapers]

Z: I have a pile of them (she points at the pile of Polish papers and magazines). We share them at work, and to each other. [Polish magazines] [Polish newspapers]

K: But they would only be Polish papers from Poland?

S+Z: Yeah.

K: And you wouldn't read the Polska Gazeta or Życie?

Z: Sometimes Spīła, when I go to Russian shop. It's for free, and sometimes they have some interesting news from the events that are commencing here. [Polish community papers - free magazine]

K: They are charging now €2 for the Spīła.

Z: Really? How do you know?

K: Because I saw the last one in the Polish shop.

Z: Oh.

Z: So, I read Irish Independent, because we have it at work for free. So, because every day we have breakfast. [Reading Irish newspapers - yes] So, I try, because I want to improve my English. [Strategies to improving English lang. skills - reading Irish newspapers]

K: And do you go to Polish shops?

S: From the time to time. Food shops? [Polish shops - yes]

K: Yes.

S: Very seldom, usually I shop in Dunne or Tesco. [Polish shops - rarely] [Integration - shopping in Irish, not Polish shops]

Z: When I want to cook, because I go there for Polish sausages. [Polish shops - availing of specific Polish things] [Polish shops - sausages]

S: It's usually closed when I come back from work.

Z: And for cheese and paluszki. [Polish shops - availing of specific Polish things]

K: Yeah, I buy them as well.

(laughing)

K: Would you miss any of those kind of things?

S: Food? Oh yes. [Missing Polish food]

(laughing)

S: When I go back from Poland and I eat something, it's...it has taste. (laughing) You can taste it, completely different than here. Tomatoes, cucumbers...is different.... and meat, and sausages and ham.... Cottage cheese... it's different. [Polish food in IE - negative]

K: Is there a Polish shop around here somewhere?

Z: Yeah, there is one Russian...eh [Polish shop - nearby area]

S: On ___ St., just across the road, below Tesco. [Polish shop - nearby area]

Z: And when you go towards P___(area in Dublin), there is one Russian. Because actually there are lot of Russian shops, but most of products there would be Polish. [Polish shop - nearby area]

S: Polish dishes, like... is like pierogi. They have them frozen here, but it's not the same. Completely different than homemade. [Polish food in IE - negative]

K: Can you make them yourself?

S: Never tried it. (laughing)

Z: I tried, but it's quite hard, because you need to stick together the pastry and make sure that the filling stays in there. So, sometimes it happen that you don't do it right. (both laughing) But my mother, sometimes she cooks hundred of them. And every time when I come to Poland, it's like – there will be pierogi and I just can't wait for them. [Polish food - missing mother's homemade food]

K: Of course.

Z: When she first came here, her bag was full of pierogi. We keep them in the fridge and eat for one month. [Polish food - brought from PO]

K: (to Z) Did your family come to visit you? I mean, did your mom come?

Z: Yeah, my sister and my mother. [Family visiting in IE]

K: (to S) and yours?

S: My sister and her husband. They were here for a week. That's when we were driving over (to the West coast) [Family visiting in IE]

K: (to Z) Can I just ask you, when did you move in with R___?

Z: Eh, one year and two months ago. [Relationship - moving in with Polish boyfriend in IE]

K: And until then, the two of you were living together?

S+Z: Yeah.

K: (to S) And then you had to find a new place?

S: Eh, I was lucky. A friend of mine came over from Poland. So, we lived together. And then I found a new place. [Finding accommodation - changing accommodation in IE easy]

K: (to Z) and was it easy for you to find this place?

Z: Well, we had lots of luck. Because we came here for other reason once, because R___, he was working, he was tiling/ selling some stuff to apartments. And we came together, and he went to the other apartment and I thought: 'Oh, I would love to live here, and maybe here in the attic.' But I thought it's not possible. But then when we started looking for a flat, we just found this one and it was second one that we saw, and it was available. So, we just took it. But some people have problems looking for nice places. But we were lucky. [Finding accommodation - by accident & contacts]

K: Yeah, that's true. (to S) You live in a house, do you?

S: Uhm.

K: Do you travel around a lot in Ireland?

S: Yeah, quite a lot. (laughing) [Exploring IE]

Z: Yeah...

K: (laughing) Have you been everywhere?

S: No, not every where. I have never been up North West, Donegal, well I was in Donegal, but not on the very top. (thinking) I was everywhere. ... saw Northern Ireland, and the West. We used to go somewhere at the weekend. [Exploring IE] Now, there is more stuff to do. I work on Saturdays as well. So, it's not that easy.

Z: We also went to Cork, Achill Island, and... some places around. And also we used to travel a lot around Dublin, because she (S) has company car. [Exploring IE]

S: Handy...(smiling)

K: Very good, yeah.

Z: But now, when we got the car (Z and her boyfriend just bought a car last week), it won't be as difficult.

S: Some Irish say, we saw more than themselves.

Z: You know, every weekend, at least Saturday, for a short walk to see a new place. It is like refreshing for your mind. We have with R___ photographic ... Because we are photographing together... I am not a professional (???) photographer. [Exploring IE]

S: (laughing) Yes, you are.

Z: Oh common.... You can go and see, there are places we have seen in Ireland.

K: Do you have them up on the web?

Z: Yeah.

K: And you also explore Ireland to kind of get to know it better, like Irish life, culture and history?

S+Z: Yeah.

K: Do you go to historic sides here?

S: Yeah. We went to go to...how do you call this place? Eh... [Exploring IE]

B: Ah...eh...

A: It starts with V... eh...

Z: (says something to S in Polish)

S: Co się nazywa?

Z: (to K) This is the most famous place here. [Exploring IE]

K: Oh, Newgrange? [Exploring IE]

Z+S: Yeah. (both laughing) [Exploring IE]

K: It's very nice and interesting, isn't it?

S+Z: Yeah.

Z: Oh, the castles here, I think that it's in comparison to Polish castles, you know. When we were in a castle, it was a house that they just put some additional decoration and they call it castle. [Irish sights, castles - perceived as not impressing compared to Polish castles]

S: Yeah. (laughing)

(1h10mins)

Z: I think Ireland is nice, maybe Dublin not so...but around... [IE positive - countryside]

S: ... West. West is absolutely beautiful. I love West of Ireland. [IE positive - countryside]

Z: Some people complain that it's not interesting, but I think it is not right.

S: It is (beautiful).

K: Is there anything else you would miss when you are not here?

Z: You know, maybe, because when we go back to Poland now, then Poland is like our home. But we don't have there our place. So, I really like it when I come back, to this apartment. Here is our apartment, this is our life. So, just when I am coming back from Poland, I have the feeling that I am coming back, because I am coming back to my place. [Home - home in PO & life/home in IE]

K: Is there anything in particular that you like particular about Irish life?

S: I love the country itself, but when I... [IE positive - countryside]

K: more nature-wise?

S: Nature-wise, and I like Irish language [IE positive - Irish lang.]. I wanted to take lessons, but I have no time for that, because I come back from work quite late. But I wanted to start learning Irish. [Integration - expressing wish to learn Irish lang.; adaptation of host culture patterns] But the landscape here... it has its own climate, I don't know, it's hard to explain. People, as well, here... it's different. There is something that attracts...

Z: It's true, they are open [Irish ppl perceived as open] and more than the other countries...it's maybe the reason... [Life in IE positive - linked to Irish ppl]

S: Not maybe all of them, not all of them, but I have few Irish friends that I ...I can trust them. They are not so ... I know lots of Irish are very career orientated, but I don't feel them, they are very similar to Polish. [Irish friends - few: those who are perceived as not being part of majority (not career/money-orientated); but who are more similar to Polish culture (home/family-orientated)]

K: In what way similar?

S: Eh...they are very,, they like... they are very home orientated. They are not so keen on money, more ... [Irish friends - few: those who are perceived as not being part of majority (not career/money-orientated); but who are more similar to Polish culture (home/family-orientated)]

K: Do you think they would be exceptions? They wouldn't be like most of the others? (they had said the opposite before)

S: Yeah.

Z: I like here the atmosphere is more... I don't maybe I miss that place, but I like that it's relaxed [Life in IE positive - relaxed (more than in PO)] and not so...eh... You know, for example, in Poland where I worked, everybody was looking like to get a...eh... a promotion. And there was really big eh... rivals, there was really big competition [Life in PO negative - competitive]

(more than in IE)]. Here it's just different, and the atmosphere is more relaxed. [Differences life in IE & PO - relaxed attitude to life in IE vs competitive attitude to life in PO] And also social life is more important. So, I like that in the morning, when I come to work, we have a breakfast, and we have a chat. And it's not only work. [Life in IE positive - enjoying social/socialising attitude to life in IE]

S: (starts laughing) They are slow. (laughing) [Irish ppl - slow]

K: Are they slower here?

S: It does, I think.

K: Like 'if I don't do this today, I do it tomorrow'?

S: Yeah. Even if you have a point of time that you have to do something, or there is something that has to be done, it's never done. [Irish ppl negative - perceived as too easy-going]

Z: When I came here, in the beginning, I was really annoyed by that. 'Why don't they have project rules? Why don't they ... are they more hard working?' But then I realised that I do like it, because they are more relaxed. [Irish ppl positive - perceived as relaxed] So, I think there are ways to find something in between, not like in Poland, not like here, something in between, I think, is perfect. [Adaptation - adapting to Irish work style; perceived as positive adaptation]

K: That's true. What did you expect when you came here? Or before you came here?

S: I never thought about that.

K: What was the main reason that you came here?

S: I don't find, the job that I had in Poland wasn't really the best one. It still was side engineering, but ...I don't know...it's difficult for a woman to get a job as side engineer in Poland [Reasons to emigrate - lacking professional opportunities at home in PO]. It is much easier here. [Reasons to emigrate - emancipation; better opportunities for women in employment (specific area)] Like, I got it in a week. That's amazing, isn't it?

K: Yeah.

S: That's basically it. It's just, it's hard. And I needed that for practice to do that exam that I am doing now. [Reasons to emigrate - advancing in employment; further qualification]

K: What's that?

S: It's equivalent to chartered engineer here, in Poland. [Reasons to emigrate - advancing in employment; further qualification]

K: So, you are doing the exam in...?

S: In Poland, yes... I think here it is much easier to get a job in construction for woman than in Poland. Because I've actually asked on the interview in Poland, who your man would chose if he had CV of woman and a man [Polish women - discriminated in access to employment in PO]. And he says straight away that he would chose a man. ... It's just, it's easier here to get a job in construction. [Reasons to emigrate - emancipation; better opportunities for women in employment (specific area)]

K: So, it's not only just simply to find work, but it's also a bit more independence...?

S: Yeah, I wanted to do something that would be related with my college, and what I am interested in, not just to find anything. [Employment below qualifications - no]

K: You wouldn't... you know how many people come here and they would take on any job?

S: Yeah.

K: You wouldn't have done that?

S: No. Because I wanted to do what I like. That's what I like to do. But it's very hard in Poland. ... and without that exam in Poland, if I would like to move back there, it would be easier... because it's kind of like... you have to have it to work on side.

K: (to Z) Was it the same for you...?

Z: For me it was a little bit different. Because I had a job in Poland that I wanted, the area [Motivation - leaving job behind in PO]. And I also wouldn't come here, just ... if I would have to work in a restaurant or something, I just wanted to be sure that I be working in my area. [Employment below qualifications - no] But one reason that I was earning just the average [Reasons to emigrate - low incomes], I don't have flat in Poland and I wanted... my goal was to come here and save some money for the flat [Reasons to emigrate - ability to buy apartment in PO] and then also I wanted to do ACCA. It's a ACCA professional, it's for accountants, the post-graduate studies. So, because here so many companies they sponsor this studies and it was the only way to do it. Because in Poland I wouldn't be able even to afford it. Here, even they don't sponsor, I will be able to pay for it. [Reasons to emigrate - ability to afford further qualification] So, I was feeling kind of stuck in Poland, because I didn't develop further in my job. I was doing something related to my studies, but I didn't see any farer away. And here I could get new experience, and get the chance to save some money and also start the studies. [Reasons to emigrate - lacking professional opportunities at home in PO]

K: That's very good. And what's the future plan then?

S+Z: (both laughing) No plan.

A: We are very spontaneous.

K: Do you see yourself going back at some point?

S: I couldn't tell you at that point.

K: (to Z) and yourself?

Z: I don't really know, because every time, I have different feelings: When I come back from Poland, I think 'Maybe I will come back one day'. Sometimes, I think 'Oh no, I will never come back'. [Future in IE or PO - uncertain]

S: Depends on the mood.

Z: Here, also the situation is changing and maybe in few years the economic situation in Poland will be much better. It will better for us to come back. [Repatriation linked to economic & social growth in PO]

K: Say, imagine you had your dream job in Poland, would you rather wanna be there then?

(both thinking)

K: Say, if job-wise it wouldn't be a problem, and you would be paid well.

Z: I don't really know.

S: I think I would go there. When I think of leaving Ireland, I don't know, but I really love this country. It's like my second kind of...I feel here at home, almost. [Future in IE or PO - uncertain] [Life in IE positive - enjoying life in IE] [Home in IE is not imaginable/ conceivable]

Z: Almost. [Home in IE is not imaginable/ conceivable]

S: Almost. [Home in IE is not imaginable/ conceivable]

Z: There would be always ... [Home in IE is not imaginable/conceivable]

S: I ...

Z: Because everything has advantages and disadvantages. Maybe we said that Irish people are different and maybe some things are not so important here as in Poland, but still, I don't know if I would leave this place if I have here certain friends and the environment in which I function. And it would be kind of hard to switch back to Poland. So, it's a hard decision. [Future in IE or PO - uncertainty linked to enjoying current life in IE & adaptation to IE increases difficult re-adaptation to PO; return migrants]

K: Yeah, of course.

Z: And also because I got used to that relaxed style of working. Now when we go back to Poland and worry about your future. Because I could go back there, I had a good job [Future in IE or PO - uncertainty linked to enjoying current life in IE & adaptation to IE increases difficult re-adaptation to PO; return migrants] and, but at that point of time, and farther it could change and you would have to worry then. Here it is different. Maybe here it will also change. I don't know, but that's why my decision is open, because maybe one day I will say 'Ok, now I should come back' and that's it. [Future in IE or PO - uncertainty linked to enjoying current life in IE & adaptation to IE increases difficult re-adaptation to PO; return migrants]

K: And you also found love here? (smiling)

Z: (laughing) yeah.

[...]

K: Is there anything you could think of that would make life easier here?

[...]

S: I don't know. It's not that difficult.

K: Anything you could bring from Poland that would make it easier?

S: Well, the most I miss the atmosphere of Christmas and Easter. [Missing Polish traditions]

K: And that's again related to family?

S: Yeah. But that won't change, I am aware of that.

K: So, it's a compromise?

S: Yeah.

Z: I miss Polish cinemas. They are better films...

S: Definitely.

Z: There are so many good Polish films and everybody is watching American. [Missing Polish "C"culture]

S: European cinema doesn't exist here, only movies from America. The few on are in IFC, and that's it. ['C'culture - limited variety in IE]

K: And they don't even have many.

S: That's what I miss as well, good movie and European directors. ['C'culture - limited variety in IE]

Z: For me unfortunately I don't understand everything when I go to the cinema, My English is well, but like some... even sense of humour or... That's really, I feel sometimes, like... I can't make fully use of the fact that I go to the cinema, because I don't understand fully. [English lang. difficulties - apparent in cinema; difficult to understand humour in English lang.]

K: Do you watch Polish movies then? Do you bring DVDs with you?

S: Eh... no... Well, there is DVD at home, but I don't really watch it. I don't have time, I'd rather read something.

K: Do you read Polish or English?

S: Both. [Reading English & Polish books]

K: And would you read something particularly Irish as well?

S: Only the papers. Or something related with my work, construction, something like that. [Reading Irish newspapers - yes]

K: (to Z) And you?

Z: the same.

K: (to Z) And would you bring and watch Polish movies?

Z: Sometimes we borrow them from friends. [Home culture maintenance & language - watching Polish movies in IE]

[...]

K: One more thing: Do you think it is easier for Polish women to get along here than for Polish man?

K: Or why would maybe Polish women get along here easier, if they do?

S: Like find it easier to live here?

K: Yeah, find it easier to live in, find it easier to work in, might feel more comfortable here?

S: Well, I am thinking: Is it easier for men or women? It wasn't difficult for me. I don't know, maybe it is related to the profession that you want to do here. [Adaptation differences Polish women & men - linked to area of employment]

K: But do you think that for example Polish men even stick more together? Or would Polish women stick more together?

S: Uhm, maybe it's, I don't know, maybe men. Well, women like to meet up together for a chat, or a walk, or discuss something. And maybe men, it's not their nature. [Polish women described as more sociable than men] I am just thinking of my friends, men. [Adaptation differences Polish women & men - women's adaptation facilitated by their social nature/ communicative nature]

K: Have you got more Polish women friends or men friends?

S: Both.

K: You see the reason I am saying this is, you know when you read the news here, you read about a lot of difficulties here that Poles have here and it's usually related to men. I mean there is a lot about exploitation, often on construction sites, or homelessness. I know it's not only men, but still a lot related to them...

S: Maybe men are more...they have no courage to go abroad... [Adaptation differences Polish women & men - adaptation facilitated by women's courage]

Z: Or it is ...together, where wives ...and men comes first to look for a job and then wife comes. And I heard of cases of men who came here, you know, and they spend the last saving that they had, and they weren't able to cope, because they couldn't find a job, and their wife was there at home screaming at them 'Why didn't you manage to get a job? Those were our last savings.' So, maybe it's more hard for men, because their role is to be the brave and come here first and find a job. Women rarely have that role. They come later, they join them later, after the man already got a job. So, maybe that's why it's more hard for them.

[Adaptation differences Polish women & men - difficult for married men: adaptation hindered by men's role to provide for family]

S: I think, it's the same thinking about finding a job by men or women. I think from what I know, I find more women got a job here than men. It was few cases that guys couldn't find a job and they had to go back, but girls always find a job here. [Adaptation differences Polish women & men - easier for women to find employment in IE]

Z: Maybe it's easier, because they can work as au pair or maybe cleaning, or as a waitress. [Adaptation differences Polish women & men - women's easier access to employment linked to specific sectors; caring, cleaning; catering]

K: And when they are single, when they are not coming with a man, do they prepare themselves differently?

Z: Women?

K: Yeah.

S: I don't know. I haven't thought about that.

K: Say, for example the two of you: You came here well prepared, you already spoke English, and you sorted your job, you sorted your accommodation, you (S) had already two friends coming over here... You know, it's all...

S: there is something...

K: Would men do the same? Or would men just go of, because they have to provide for their families at home?

Z: You know, maybe it is as S said: Because maybe they are more brave, and they just come straight ahead, and then when they don't find anything, they are surprised. We, me or S, we knew that we have a job. So, maybe because we are not so brave, because of that it was more safe for us, and we didn't ...
[Adaptation differences Polish women & men - adaptation linked to level of preparation]

S: I would come here, if I didn't have something. [Preparation - employment]

Z: The same for me. [Preparation - employment]

[...]

Z: Before you were asking about friends and I said – you were asking about women friends, and of course R___ is my friend. [Best friend is husband]

K: Of course.

(all laughing)

[...]

K: Yeah. That's true. Would your friends be more women, the Polish friends would they be more women or more men?

Z: Women. [Friends in IE - mainly women]

K: You know, what's interesting as well, one of the interviewees was saying when I was talking about przyjaciółka or koleżanka, she was saying 'Yeah, we only have przyjaciółka, because if a woman has a przyjaciel then it's almost a relationship'.

S: Oh, yeah.

K: Is that true?

S: I don't know. I would say so.

Z: Depends on the woman, some women have better relationship with men, but I find myself...It depends, because at work, I have better relationship with men, here in Ireland, but for friends, real friends, I have better relationship with women. [Friends in IE - mainly women]

K: Are there lots of Poles living here in the area?

S: I think yes, but few of them just across the road and you notice that in the estate. [Polish migrants - large number in the area]

K: Oh, yeah, just when I came in I heard two Poles in front of me.

Z: When we moved here one year ago, there weren't so many, but within this year... And sometimes you hear them speaking on the balcony for his mobile phone. He thinks, nobody understands him, but everybody does. [Polish migrants - large number in the area]

(all laughing)

S: Yeah I think lots of them live around here. [Polish migrants - large number in the area]

K: How often do you fly home?

S: Four times a year. [Flying home - four times a year]

K: Four times? Wow.

Z: The same for me. [Flying home - four times a year]

K: And it's usually for the holidays, like Christmas...?

S: Christmas, Easter, holidays, and one more, sometimes a bank holiday weekend. [Flying home for most national holidays]

K: And you would usually fly to Poland? So, you wouldn't spend your holiday somewhere else?

S: No, actually I was, I connected it this year, I was in Croatia and Poland. Last year I was only in Poland. But we travel a lot here in Ireland, even for two or three days, we are leaving on Friday and come back on Sunday night or Monday morning. There are lots of bank holidays over here. [Free time - weekend trips]

K: Where do you go to meet people?

Z: Here or in Poland?

K: Here.

S: Either in a pub or for walk. [Socialising with friends in IE - outside home] Or meet up at our home, in houses. [Socialising with friends at home]

Z: Yeah, often we make like parties in our homes. Or pub, or trips, sometimes we organise trips together. [Socialising - weekend trips with friends]

K: Would you ever consider taking on Irish citizenship or is EU membership enough?

S: I don't know. Do you mean the Irish passport?

K: Yeah, and to give up your Polish citizenship to become a real Irish citizenship on paper.

S: Yeah, but you don't really have to give up your Polish one, or?

(We talk about dual citizenship.)

S: Well, I changed my address.

Z: You know, if it is really necessary, because I don't, I think it's important what you feel and not what's on the paper. [Polish identity - important]
So, if the situation really requires it, I would do it, but now, no. [Irish citizenship - negative]

K: And with EU membership you can travel freely anyway.

S+Z: Yeah.

K: Is there anything else you would like to say?

...

(I switch off the recorder, but we keep talking for approximately one more hour.)
