TOWARDS A PHILOSOPHY FOR LEGISLATION IN GAELIC GAMES

(APPENDIX I)

[Compiled by Joe Lennon in part submission for a post-graduate research degree at Dublin City University 1993-1997 on the Philosophy for Legislation in Gaelic Games]

A Note from the Sponsor

Kepak are very honoured to be associated with this unique publication. It will be to the Gaelic Athletic Association as the Bible is to Christians (It is for the reader to decide if GAA players are better or worse than Christians at observing the ‘Rules’).

This book will be an invaluable reference source for afficionados of the games and secures for the record a wealth of GAA history in one publication for which the Association will owe a great appreciation to Joe Lennon.

Kepak’s interests in the development of our national games has been nurtured by the success of our commercial partnership with Meath football. That commercial partnership evolved from a personal friendship between Noel Keating and Sean Boylan. Perhaps a greater awareness of the rules of the games would also give birth to more such friendships!

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Without the help of many people, this collection of the playing rules would not have been possible or would the thesis of which this collection is but one Appendix.

To all these and any whose help, advice and encouragement I have benefited from, I offer my sincere thanks.

Liam Ó Maolmhíchil Uas Árd Stúrthóir, C.L.G., kindly made much material available to me, and advised on where I might find more.

Siobháin Ni Chiúana, Cúntóin Pearsanta do'n Árd Stúrthóir, was most helpful in providing access to the files in Croke Park as I worked through the decades of playing rules and Congress proceedings.

 Séamus Ó Riain Uas, Iar-Uachtáin CLG, provided me with two important sets of rules for which I had been searching a long time.

Liam Ó Donnchú Uas, of The Project Team of Centre-field, Lár na Páinte, Thurles, Co. Tipperary – A Visitor Attraction based on the history and games of the GAA – made some very useful material available to me.

Seán Og Ó Canllachain, author, broadcaster and journalist, provided several important documents, and directed me to many fruitful sources.

I gratefully acknowledge several references found in the publications of Pádraig Puirseal.

An t-Ath Padraic Ó Laor was most helpful and generous with his immense store of knowledge on the affairs of the GAA in Galway and Connacht. His two books on The Annals of the GAA in Galway contain much relevant material which I drew heavily upon.

Fr Mark Tierney O.S.B was most helpful in providing important material and references.

Sighlé Nic An Ultaigh, author of An Dún, The GAA Story, was most helpful and supplied an edition of the Official Guide which was essential for this collection.

Marcus de Búirca and Rev. Br. Liam Ó Caithma gave me much invaluable help and direction.

Mr Michael O'Brien was most helpful in supplying a copy of the playing rules proposed by Mr. R. T. Blake and adopted by the Meath Convention on 29th April, 1894.

The collection of the Composite Rules for the Hurling-Shinty Internationals was made possible only by the help of several friends and fellow enthusiasts. Chief among these was Scotland’s Mr. Shinty, Hugh Dan McLennan – journalist, author of many books on shinty and still researching the games.

Owen McCann, editor of Gaelic World, supplied editions of the rules from his collection of the match programmes.

Seán Ó Laore, Bainisteoir na gCluichi. CLG also helped with an edition of the International Rules.

To these, and others whose advice on where to search was very helpful, I am very grateful.

Finally, I must thank Cavan Referee, Michael Greenan, who gave me two copies of the Official Guide of the 1930s during the Congress of 1990 at which the motions... seeking to separate the playing rules of football and hurling and present them in a new simplified format were passed.

I had drafted and piloted these motions through my club, county convention and Congress. It was about two weeks after Congress '90 before I got round to reading these two Official Guides when I realised for the first time that from 1885 to 1950, the Gaelic Athletic Association had presented the rules of these two national games separately. It was only then that my search for the rest of the playing rules began.

Collecting the Official Guides and source material was relatively easy compared with the lengthy task of typing them all into a computer storage system. For completing this demanding task as well as proof reading the entire collection of playing rules, I owe Anne, my wife, a great debt of gratitude.

PREFACE

Although the Killmoi Rules appear to be the first published set of rules for either football or hurling, it is clear that sets of rules for each game existed long before Pat Larkin committed his playing rules to paper.

The rules that were agreed by the captains before games could hardly have been more than agreed variations on a generally accepted corpus of legislation which, it would appear, was so well known to everyone, including reporters, that they did not bother to record them for posterity.

Descriptions of the games tended to concentrate on the activity on the field and the spectators around the field rather than on the parameters within which the games were played.

Although the Killmoi Hurling Club Committee resolved in 1885 that for the future not less than thirty be accepted to hurl a challenge match, it would befan to assume that the number of players on a team could vary considerably.

When Michael Cusack and F.F. Lynch agreed the rules for a challenge hurling match between the Metropolitan Club and the Killmoi Club on 13th April, 1884, they agreed:

1. To play for four half-hours.
2. No tripping or taking holds (wrestling) were allowed when playing.

A Mr Dunbar was appointed timekeeper and groundkeepers (touch judges) and goalkeepers (umpires) were appointed.

Cusack lost all heart and stated that his men were not able for the task. However, he arranged for his team to give an exhibition of how hurling should be played. Then Mr. F.F. Lynch did the same and a reporter of the Western News wrote that the keenest judge could detect no material differences in the style of either teams.

The important points to emerge from these reports are that there was no one well-defined game of hurling and secondly, the rules agreed by the captains before the games were a matter of current consensus rather than of tradition.

Standardisation of the rules was of fundamental importance to the survival of the game.

O Laoi records that it is significant to note that on Thursday, 12th June, 1884, when Killmoi played Melick, the match was played under the rules of the Dublin Metropolitan Hurling Club—not the Killmoi Rules.

The fact that in addition to the Killmoi Rules, there had been at least six other sets of playing rules produced for hurley and hurling meant that when the Association was founded in November of 1884, Cusack had considerable experience in formulating playing rules.

That he drew extensively on the existing rules of similar ball and stick games such as shinty and somewhat similar football games like Australian football is both a matter of historical fact, and is perfectly understandable and commendable.

--- VII ---
In the writer's view it was Cusack's determination that there be a single standard set of playing rules for both football and hurling that made it possible for the young association to survive all the other traumas of the early years of its existence. By achieving this, he ensured that whatever else divided the members of the association from time to time, at least they could all unite on the playing fields under single sets of agreed rules of play.

It could be argued that had Cusack failed to achieve this, neither these games nor the Gaelic Athletic Association as we know it today would have survived.

The importance of the playing rules of the games should never be under-estimated or undervalued.

This collection of the playing rules of gaelic football and hurling stretches back from 1995 to the foundation of the Gaelic Athletic Association and beyond to what is generally regarded as the earliest known and printed set of playing rules for hurling – The Killimor Rules of 1869.

It is safe to assume that there were at least two forms of football and hurling played in Ireland (and Cornwall) before Michael Cusack founded the Association in 1884, and determined that henceforth there would be only one form of each.

Given that it was normal practice in Ireland and abroad for the captains of teams to agree the playing rules shortly before a game, and usually on the day of the game it is fair to assume that there were many local variations of the form of both football and hurling.

Even after 1860, Soccer, Australian Rules, Rugby and Gaelic football were not fully differentiated from the common if not universal game of football.

Hurling and similar ball and stick games, particularly shinty, did not acquire their distinctive characteristics for some time after they were adopted by associations which then proceeded to codify their playing rules.

Pre-famine Ireland had a population of about twice that of today and the games of football and hurling were as popular and as common in winter time at least, as they are today.

Hence it may at first seem surprising that apart from those few sets of hurling rules pre-1884 that there appear to be no records of or detailed references to the playing rules of either game.

Although impossible to prove, one of the reasons for this could be the suggestion by Professor George Blarney in his book on Australian Rules, A Game of Our Own, that in the early years of that game there were more unwritten than written down rules.

Clearly there must have been even a small corpus or core of rules which were generally known and taken for granted and since the rules for the day were agreed on the day, players had to adapt quickly to any variations agreed by their captain.

Unfortunately, descriptions of early games of football and hurling invariably omit detailed reference to the playing rules. However, although Matt Concannon's dynamic and poetic description of a football game at Oxmantown, now in north Dublin city, came tantalisingly close to detailing the rules of play, the best we can extract from it are some of the rules of specification of the ball.

To outward view three folds of bullock's hide
With leathern thongs fast bound on every side,
A mass of finest hair concealed from sight
Conspire at once to make it firm and light and the dress of the Swords players

Then active limbs all loosely clad in White
A Crimson Ribband, trimly tied behind, Hung from each Cap and wantoned in the wind
One kick he sottly stole
And with another drove it through the Goal the players could catch and run with the ball

Then to the wrestling

At Grappling now then mutual Skill they try,
Now Arm in Arm they lock, and Thigh in Thigh
Now turn, now twine, now with a furious Bound,
Each lifts his fierce Opposer from the Ground

From A Match at Football A poem by Matt Concannon, 1720

Although this feature of wrestling while playing the games was abandoned within a few years of the foundation of the GAA, the Official Guide of 1889 contained the rules of four forms of wrestling – Catch-as-catch-can, Greco-Roman, Collar and Elbow and Catch hold.

Unfortunately, I have been unable to trace a complete copy of every set of playing rules produced by the GAA.

It is interesting to note that both Kerry in 1889, and Meath in 1894, produced sets or at least partial sets of playing rules independently of the Annual Convention. Other counties may have done likewise.

After Rule 27 of the 1896/97 set of rules for football a few, perhaps three rules, are missing. Sets of rules were produced in 1901 of which only 15 for football and 20 for hurling were traced.

In the first decade of this century, the dimensions of the scoring space were reduced from 63 to 21 feet. During this same decade, a determined effort was made to abolish the catching of the ball and kicking it when in play.

Proposed by Mr T. Forde (Roscommon) and seconded by Mr H. O’Toole, this extraordinary proposal was defeated at the Annual Convention of 1903 by the a margin of 22 to 11.

Other unsuccessful efforts were made by Luke O’Toole, secretary of the GAA and executives like Mr T. Redmond during the first decade of the century to abolish catching.

At the 1903 Adjourned Convention held on 12 December, it was decided that “[U]mpires, when neutral, should, like linesmen, call the referee’s attention to rough and foul play.”

O Sullivan proposed a successful motion that “the playing rules would be revised only every three years as alterations in the rules year after year was calculated to confuse players and led to endless discussions at the Conventions.”

It would appear that very few rule changes were made in 1903. The fact that a Sub-Committee was appointed on 12 November, 1903 to draft hurling and football rules would tend to confirm this assumption.

Although Eoin O'Duffy was appointed chairman of a committee to revise the playing rules in 1918, it is very doubtful if any playing rule changes or indeed Official Guides were produced from 1915 to 1923.

Even with these noted, and perhaps even further omissions of which I am unaware, there are sufficient sets of rules for the period 1885 to 1995 for the purposes of this collection which is to ascertain what, if any, philosophy or strands of philosophic thought can be gleaned from a study and analysis of these playing rules which may be helpful for future legislators.

Three distinct eras are clearly discernible in this collection of the playing rules of football and hurling.

From December 1884 to the Congress of 1950, at least twenty-four editions of playing rules were published, and at least ten Special Committees had been established and reported back on the playing rules.

The rules of play of each game were presented separately during this sixty-five-year period.

The second era lasted forty years from Congress of 1950 to the Special Delegate Congress in December, 1990.

In this forty year period, the playing rules of these distinctly different games were combined or "Co-Related" as Padraig O Caoimh referred to it. At least twenty separate official editions of the playing rules were produced in 40 years -- ten of them in the last decade.

Finally, on 1st January, 1991, the playing rules of gaelic football and hurling were officially separated again, and presented in a new simplified format which contains three sections -- The Rules of Control, The Rules of Play and The Rules of Specification. A list of definitions of key terminology is now included and is an integral part of the playing rules.

The decision to include the Composite Rules of Hurling and Shinty is justified in terms of the overall study -- particularly the Comparative Analysis.

Having read Richard Carew's marvellous description of two forms of hurling played in Cornwall over 400 years ago, and knowing that Irish hurlers played Cornish hurlers in London, c. 1654, in the presence of Oliver Cromwell, I could not resist the temptation to record the rules of these two Cornish hurling games.

Summaries of the specification of the playing rules from 1885 to 1910 are included at the end of each set to help visualise the scene. Diagrams of the playing field are included with each set of playing rules from 1987 to 1995 inclusive.

In transcribing these sets of playing rules, I have endeavoured to reproduce the text exactly as I found it. Any errors in the cross checking from the original texts with this collection are mine.

Apart from the many people whose help in collecting these rules I have gratefully acknowledged, I must again record my sincere thanks to Anne, my wife, for her patience and skill in the process of checking and reading back from the originals.

THE KILLIMOR RULES – ‘1869’

By PAT LARKIN of KILTOMER, CO GALWAY who was President and Chairman of the Galway Co Board for the years 1888 to 1893 inclusive – except for a period in 1888 when he was in prison.

These Rules were adopted by the Committee of the Killimor Hurling Club on Sunday 22nd February, 1885.

At this meeting it was unanimously resolved:
1. That for the future that not less than thirty be accepted to hurl a challenge match.
2. That we call upon Mr Cusack to deny the false and scandalous accusations made upon us in several of the Dublin dailies after the Ballinasloe challenge match for the silver cup – a truthful reply to which was refused us by the same prejudiced press at the time.
3. That to avoid mistakes our hurling colours for the future be green and gold.
4. That no more challenge matches be either accepted or played against neighbouring parishes.
5. That we hurl under the following rules until a general meeting of the GAA be held on next November.

KILLIMOR RULES

1. Each team when hurling, must wear a different colour for the purpose of distinction.
2. Three umpires to be appointed on each side who have power to order any hurler to cease playing, who in their opinion is under the influence of strong drink, who loses his temper or strikes any of his opponents intentionally. Should the hurler refuse to do so, the opposing team may claim the prize that is being played for.
3. Should any hurler, when jostling, use his hurl so as to bring it into contact with his opponent, with a view of injuring him, he must cease hurling when told to do so by any of the umpires. Penalty same as Rule 2.
4. No hurler can get a substitute, except he meets with an accident which in the opinion of the Umpires renders him unable to play.
5. No hurler is allowed, when playing, to handle the ball, which must, in order to secure a count, be hurled through or over the goal.
6. Should the ball go outside the goalposts it is to be taken back by one of the Umpires and placed at a distance of not more than thirty yards from the said goal.
7. The time and number of goals to be agreed on by the captains before commencing play, and the majority of goals constitutes the winner.
8. Bystanders to have no voice in any decision, and should they interfere with the hurlers in any way, that may be considered by the umpires and judges as.

2. Ibid p 10.
preventi_3ng the game being fairly played, the aggrieved hurlers may claim the prize.

1. In cases of dispute, the umpires and or three of the judges combined must decide by ballot. From this decision there is no appeal.

x On the decision being declared, the stakeholder must hand over the prize to the captain of the winning team.

From this set of rules the following can be deduced—

There were at least six officials - three umpires from each side. The reference to judges is unclear.

Aggressive fouls and intoxication were penalised by dismissal.

There was a set of goal posts at each end of the field but there was no cross bar.

The game was won by the team which reached an agreed number of goals first.

Substitutes were only allowed in cases of accidents.

Teams had to wear different colours.

Disputes were settled by the umpires 'and or three of the judges' combined by ballot.

There was no appeal against these decisions.

LAWS OF HURLEY

As played at T.C.D. (1870)

1. A player is on side, so long as the ball is on the right side of his person, and he hits it with the left side of his hurl. It is not meant, however, by this rule to prevent a player using both sides of his hurl, whilst dodging the ball, although in doing so he renders himself liable to be shinned. Swiping with the right side is strictly forbidden.

2. No hurl to be shod with iron, or hooped with wire in a dangerous manner.

3. No hurl to exceed two inches in depth of blade.

4. The ball may be taken ten yards in front of goal, and then hit off by the goal-keeper, who shall have an unmolested swipe at the ball. No opponent shall be allowed to touch the ball, until the hurl of the goal-keeper shall have done so.

5. No goal can be obtained in one puck, unless the ball strike an opponent's hurl.

6. Should the ball be kicked in or hit behind, it may be brought out ten yards in front of goal, and hit off again. But if the ball be kicked by a player into his own goal, it shall count for the other side. If the ball be designedly played behind, it shall be considered as still in play.

7. Should the ball go out of bounds, the first player who shall touch it, either with his hurl or person, shall have the privilege of throwing it out at the place where it intersected the boundary line. If the throw be manifestly partial, the ball shall be returned. The player may not take it himself.

8. Pushing a man when on side is forbidden.

9. Running the ball into touch, unless when the goal is eminently threatened, is discountenanced as opposed to straightforward play

10 Should a player catch the ball in the air off an enemy's hurl, he can take a free high-up at the place where he stands, but the moment the ball falls on the ground this privilege ceases.

11 Should a goal-keeper, although warned, advance more than 30 yards in front of goal, an opponent may go behind him and still obtain a goal.

12 A player shall not be allowed to wind his hurl round his head when in close quarters.

13 Coming behind off-side to crook an enemy's hurl, whilst he is in the act of striking, is discountenanced as dangerous.

14 All disputes about infringement of Rules, etc., shall be referred to the committee, five of whom shall form a quorum, whose decision shall be final.

15 Gentlemen must all appear in some coloured garment on match days. Members of the eleven and fifteen must wear their uniforms.

16 The ball should always be the object of play.

Apart from the references to the hurley in rules two and three, the method of deciding disputes and the requirement for "some coloured garment" to be worn by the gentlemen, this set of rules says nothing about the specifications of the game.

DUBLIN HURLING CLUB RULES, 1883

(From Irish Sportsman)

A largely attended general meeting of this club was held lately at 85 York Street to adopt a constitution and amend the rules of the game, Dr. H. Auchinleck, F.R.O.S.I., in the chair. After some discussion, the following rules for playing the game were adopted:

1. The goal posts shall be pitched 150 yards apart, and each goal shall be formed by two upright posts, eight feet in height, crossed by a horizontal bar, and the posts shall be ten feet apart.

2. That a goal be obtained by the ball being driven beneath the horizontal bar and between the posts.

3. That the ball shall not be struck or propelled in any way by anything save the hurl.

4. The ball, when raised by means of the hurl alone, may be caught in the hand and tossed vertically for the purpose of being struck by the hurl.

5. The ball may be carried (when raised as in 4) any distance by means of the hurl, or tossed forward, and again caught by the same instrument.

6. That the goal line be a continuation of the actual line between the posts to a distance of 60 yards on each side.

7. That when the ball is driven behind this line it shall be considered dead until driven into the field of play by the goal-keeper or any player he may appoint standing in the immediate front of the goal.

8. That in the melee (i.e., when more than one player is in direct play with the ball), no player shall swing his hurl, or strike with the back of same, save when the ball is in the air.

9. That no crooking or clashing of hurls be admitted, and that the hurl be used solely to guard the person of the player, and to stop, strike, or to carry the ball.

10. Should the ball cross the boundary of touch it shall be tossed out at right angles with the touch line into the field of play by a player on the opposite side to the player that last struck it previous to its going into touch.

11. A player is not allowed to trip, hold, or push an adversary.

12. That in the event of infringements of Rules 3, 8, 9, or 11, the ball be brought back on appeal to the umpire to where the infringement occurred and a bully formed there.

The only specifications are for the goals. See Rule 1.

In our chapter on hockey we allude to the fact that a modification of that fine old game is played in Ireland under the name of Hurley. Between hockey and hurley, however, there are some strongly-marked differences, and as the Irish game, in the peculiar practice of carrying the ball on the stick, seems to be a different imitation of lacrosse, a few words on its laws and principles will not prove uninteresting or useless.

Hockey is played with a stick having a curved head, but hurley is played with a 'hurl,' or bat, made out of ash, well dried, so as to give a certain amount of springiness, and of a stated shape, with crescent curves and flat sides. This hurl, which has a blade two inches deep, is a very powerful implement, and with it some tremendous drives can be given. Like some hockey-sticks, it is occasionally hooped with wire, but the privilege of having it shod with iron has in the Union rules been done away with. Hurley, like hockey, has formed an association of its various clubs, and all the principal matches are now played under the code of the 'Irish Hurley Union.'

The players may number twenty-one a-side, and in village contests are chosen by the two captains in the ordinary way, the first choice being determined by 'handle or boss' instead of 'round or flat.' The goals are eight feet high and ten feet apart, and the goal-keepers have to hit off the ball from a spot twelve yards in front of them, called the twelve-yards line. No one is allowed to touch the ball until the goal-keeper's hurl has done so, and unless the ball is within the twelve-yards line the goal-keeper alone has the right to swipe.

These are the principal points of the game, and from them it will be seen that there is scope in it for good rattling play, and that the hits, owing to the massive nature of the hurl, must be very much longer and stronger than they are at hockey. At hockey, owing to the stock being curved and so thin, it requires very much more than ordinary dexterity to catch and keep the ball on it, but with the flat two inches of the of the hurl it is possible, by a sudden jerk, to hold the ball for a minute or so during which a considerable run can be made, and this running is the best part of the game—at least, to the spectators. It requires some adroitness to run with the ball on the crosse—it requires very much more to run with it on the hurl.

Hurley is, in fact, hockey with this special bat admitting of the carrying game. It is very popular all over Ireland, though of late years football has surpassed it in the schools and colleges. Amongst the townsfolk and villagers it, however, holds its own, and there are, as may well be imagined, few more exciting or lively sights than a genuine country hurley match.

Through the courtesy of Mr. H Worthington, Secretary of the Hurley Union, we are enabled to give the latest edition of the formal -

FOOTBALL RULES

(1886 – Estimated)

According to IRISLEABHAR BLIANTUIL 1944 – OFFICIAL RECORDS OF THE GAELIC ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION page 33, “a book of exceptional importance came into the possession of a G A A Secretary. It contains the early rules of the G A A, sections being devoted to hurling, football, handball and athletics.” The article was entitled A SIXTY YEAR OLD RULE BOOK.

Unfortunately, the actual date of the book or the rules was not mentioned in the article. These rules are not exactly the same as those above for 1885 and they predate the 1888 rules.

There are some differences between these sets of rules and those for 1886 reproduced below.

1 – There shall not be less than fourteen or more than twenty-one players aside.

2 – There shall be two umpires and a referee. Where the umpires disagree the referee’s decision shall be final.

3 – The ground shall be at least 120 yards long by 80 yards in breadth, and properly marked by boundary lines. Boundary lines must be at least five yards from fences.

4 – The goal posts shall stand at each end in centre of the goal line. They shall be 15 feet apart, with a cross-bar 8 feet from the ground.

5 – The captains of each team shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players shall stand in two ranks opposite each other until the ball is thrown up, each man holding the hand of one of the other side.

6 – Pushing or tripping from behind, holding from behind, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul, and the player so offending shall be ordered to stand aside, and may not afterwards take part in the match, nor can his side substitute another man.

7 – The time of actual play shall be one hour. Sides to be changed only at half-time.

8 – The match shall be decided by the greater number of goals. If no goal be kicked the match shall be deemed a draw. A goal is when the ball is kicked through the goalposts under the cross-bar.

9 – When the ball is kicked over the side-line it shall be thrown back by a player of the opposite side to him who kicked it over. If kicked over the goal line by a player whose goal line it is, it shall be thrown back in any direction by a player of the other side, the goal keeper whose line it crosses shall have a free kick. No player of the other side to approach nearer than 25 yards of him till the ball is kicked.
10 - The umpires and referee shall have during the match full power to disqualify any player, or order him to stand aside and discontinue play, for any act which they may consider unfair, as set out in Rule 6.

No nails or iron tips allowed on the boots (Strips of leather fastened on the soles will prevent slipping.)

It would be well if each player was provided with two jerseys, one white and the other some dark colour. The colours of his Club could be worn on each. Then when a match was made, it could be decided the colours each side should wear.

HURLING RULES

1 The ground for full teams (21 aside) should be 196 yards long by 140 yards broad or as near to that size as can be got. There is no objection to a larger ground.

2 There shall not be less than 14 or more than 21 players aside in regular matches.

3 There shall be two umpires and a referee. When the umpires disagree, the referee’s decision shall be final. There should also be an umpire at each goal to watch the goals and points. The referee shall be the timekeeper and throw up the ball at the commencement of each goal.

4 The goal-posts shall be 21 feet apart, with a cross-bar 10 1/2 feet from the ground. Point-posts should also be provided seven yards outside each goal-post.

5 Before commencing play, hurlers shall draw up in two lines in the centre of the field opposite each other and catch hurleys across, then separate. The referee shall then throw the ball along the ground between the players or up high over their heads.

6 A player must not catch or trip another player, nor push him from behind or bring his hurley intentionally in contact with another player. For each breach of such rule, the referee is empowered to award a free puck. The referee is also empowered to order the offender to stand aside during the whole or part of the balance of the game. His side cannot send in a substitute for a player thus suspended. If a player is hurt and unable to continue playing through any breach of this rule by the opposition, the referee can allow a substitute in his place.

7 The time of actual play shall be one hour, unless otherwise arranged, sides to be changed at half-time.

8 The umpires or referee are to throw the ball in when it goes out of play, except when it crosses the end-lines, when it is to be pucked out from goal-posts. No player from the opposite side to advance closer than 21 yards until the ball has been struck. No player from the striker’s side to be further out from his own goal than the centre of the field until the ball is pucked. A goal is scored when the ball is driven between the posts and under the cross-bar, a point is scored when the ball is driven between the posts and over the cross-bar or between the point-posts.

9 The match will be decided by the greater number of goals, where no goals are made, or where an equal number are scored, the game will be decided by the greater number of points.
The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hands when in play. It may be struck with the hand or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Hitting the ball both right and left is allowable.

For any breach of the rules, the referee shall allow a free puck if he thinks fit. In free pucks, except the puck from the goal, the ball must not be taken in the hand. No player from the opposite side to approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is struck, but if the free puck is allowed nearer than 21 yards of the goal-line, the opposite player need not stand behind the line.

If the ball strikes a bystander near the sidelines, except the referee or umpire, it is out of play and must be thrown in by one of these officials. If it strikes a bystander at the end lines, it shall be pucked from the goal. The referee has power to allow a goal or a point if either score would, in his opinion, have been made if the ball had not struck a bystander.

The ball should not be less than 4 1/2" or more than 5" in diameter and should weigh not less than 7 ozs or more than 10 ozs for regular matches. A ball made of cork and woolen thread is recommended. The hurley may be of any pattern fancied by the player.

FOOTBALL RULES

(1886)

As regards the number of players, goal-posts and post-posts, time of play, ball going into touch etc the football rules agreed with those drawn up for hurling. In the matter of fouls, frees, etc the rules were also the same, except, of course, that a free kick was substituted for a free puck.

The chief differences from the hurling rules were:

1. The size of the pitch to be 140 yards by 84 yards.
2. Wrestling and handgrips to be henceforth prohibited.
3. No nails or iron tips allowed on players' boots. Strips of leather on the soles are recommended to prevent slipping.

RECOMMENDATION: All dress material and other articles required in the games to be, as far as possible, of Irish Manufacture.

["The dress for hurling and football is to be knee-breeches and stockings and shoes or boots.
No specific reference to jerseys was made, although they were worn in most cases.

FOOTBALL RULES
(1888 – Revised)

1 The ground for full teams (21 aside) shall be 196 yards long by 140 yards broad, or as near that size as can be got. The ground must be properly marked by boundary lines. Boundary lines to be at least five yards from the fences. NOTE - there is no objection to a bigger ground, but no ground should be less than 140 yards long by 84 yards broad.

2 There shall not be less than 14 or more than 21 players aside in regular matches.

3 There shall be two umpires and a referee. When the umpires disagree, the referee’s decision shall be final. There shall also be a goal umpire at each end of the ground to watch for goals and points. The referee shall keep the time and throw up the ball at the commencement of each half-time.

4 The goal-posts shall stand at each end in centre of goal-line. They shall be 21 feet apart, with a cross-bar eight feet from the ground. Besides the goal-posts there shall be two upright posts standing in each goal-line 21 feet from the goal posts. A goal is won when the ball is driven between the goal-posts and under the cross-bar. A point is counted when the ball is driven over the cross-bar, or over the goal-line, within 21 feet of either goal-posts.

5 The captains of the teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players shall stand in two ranks opposite each other in the centre of the field until the ball is thrown up, each holding the hand of one of the other side.

6 Pushing from behind, butting with the head, tripping, and holding shall be deemed foul, and the player so offending shall be ordered to stand aside for such time as the referee shall think fit, and his side cannot substitute another man. The referee may also allow a free kick if he sees reason for it. If a player be hurt, and unable to play through any breach of this rule, the referee shall allow his side to take in a man in his place.

7 The time of actual play shall be one hour (unless otherwise arranged) sides to be changed only at half-time.

8 When a player drives a ball over the side-line, it shall be thrown back from the point where it first crossed the line by a player on the opposite side. It may be thrown in any direction, but the thrower may not play it himself until it has been touched by some other player. Neither goal nor point can be scored by a throw-in from the side-line unless the ball be struck by some players after the throw-in, and before it crosses the goal line. When the ball is driven over the goal-line, the goal-keeper shall have a free kick from goal, no player on the opposite side to approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball is kicked. No player of the kicker’s side to be further out from his own goal-line then the centre of the ground until the ball is kicked. If a ball that otherwise would not have crossed the line be driven over the cross-bar or over any part of the goal-line outside the goal-posts by a player whose goal-line it is, the opposite side shall have a free kick 40 yards out from the goal-posts.

9. The match shall be decided by the greater number of goals, when no goal is made or when the goals are even, it shall be decided by the greater number of points.

10. The ball may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may kick it any way he please, but must not carry or throw it.

   NOTE - There is nothing in this rule to prevent a player throwing the ball in front to allow him more freedom in kicking it.

11. When the rules are broken the referee may allow a free-kick if he thinks fit. In all free kicks the ball must be kicked from the ground. No player on the opposite side to approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked, but if the free kick is allowed nearer than 14 yards of the goal-line, the opposite players need not to stand behind that line.

12. If the ball strikes a bystander near the side-line except the referee or umpire, it shall be considered out of play, and must be thrown in as directed in Rule 8. If it occurs at the goal-line, it shall also be considered out of play and must be kicked from the goal. In the latter case, the referee may allow a point or goal if he considers that the ball would have passed through the goal or point space but for being stopped.

13. The referee shall have, during the match, full power to disqualify any player, or order him to stand aside and discontinue play, for any act he may consider unfair, as set out in Rule 6, or for vicious play.

   No nails or iron tips allowed on the boots (strips of leather fastened to the soles will prevent slipping).

   The dress for football to be knee breeches and stocking, and shoes or boots.

It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Hitting both right and left is allowable.

11 When the rules are broken the referee may allow a free puck if he thinks fit. In free pucks, except the puck from the goal, the ball must not be taken in the hand. No player on the opposite side to approach nearer than twenty-one yards, until the ball is struck, but if the free puck is allowed nearer than twenty-one yards of the goal-line, the opposite players need not stand behind that line.

12 If the ball strikes a bystander near the side-lines except the referee or umpires, it shall be considered out of play and must be thrown in as directed in Rule 8. If it occurs at the goal line it shall also be considered out of play, and must be puckéd out from the goal. In the latter case the referee may allow a point or a goal if he considers that the ball would have passed through either the goal or the point space but for having been stopped.

13 The ball shall not be less than 4 1/2 inches, or more than 5 inches in diameter, and shall weigh not less than 7 ounces, or more than 10 ounces, for regular matches. A ball made of cork and wollen thread, and covered with leather is best. The hurley may be of any pattern fancied by the player.

The dress to be knee-breeches and stockings and shoes or boots.

2 The free puck from the goal must be taken from between the goal posts. Well regulated fields are paled in. When the field is not paled in, a wire or rope should run from one point post to the other, forming a semicircle behind the goal. None but the umpires and players to be allowed inside the enclosures.

3 If a ball that would have crossed the line without interruption after being struck by a player striving to score, meets the hurley or person of a player in defence and yet crosses the line, that ball counts where it then goes. If it goes through the goal it is a goal, if a point it is a point, if an over it is an over. It is a ball that otherwise would not have crossed the line, but for going off the hurley or person of a player in the defence, that demands a 40-yards free puck. A ball after being stopped, or a ball travelling parallel to the line, or in any direction not facing the line, and goes off a hurley or person of a player in the defence across the line, then a 40-yards free puck is given, except it goes through the goal, if so it is a goal.

FOOTBALL AND HURLEY RULES

NOVEMBER, 1889
(Adopted by the Kerry County Board)

At a meeting of the Kerry County Board held in November, 1889, a resolution was adopted that –

1. Five points should be equivalent to a goal
2. That dodging the ball on the hand should be discontinued
3. That the goal posts should not be higher than the crossbar
4. The point posts should be as high as possible
5. That an independent goal umpire be appointed for either end of the field
6. That the 21 yards and 40 yards line be understood to run parallel to the goal line
7. That the action of a player in throwing himself down before an opponent be deemed a foul
8. That unless mutually agreed upon beforehand, teams must play with 21 men aside
9. That in a hurling match players be at option to wear boots or play barefooted

FOOTBALL RULES

At the Meath G A A Convention on 29th April, 1894, Mr R T Blake was elected chairman and he proposed that –

Owing to the present imperfect state of the Rules and to ensure a uniform interpretation of the Rules by the Referee the following bye-laws to be observed in County Meath

1. Side-line, goal line and 40 yard lines shall be marked with whitewash and also by flags at corners, half-way and 40 yards
2. Side lines and goal lines shall be at least 5 yards from spectators
3. The size of the ball shall be size 6
4. In championship games and tournaments, umpires shall be neutral and shall act as linesmen only. Their sole duty, subject to the referee’s decision, shall be to decide when the ball is out of play and which side is entitled to the throw-in. They shall be provided with flags to indicate where the ball crosses the line
5. There shall be only one goal umpire at each end, who shall be neutral, not 2 as heretofore for this only leads to disputes
6. The goal post shall not exceed 8 feet in height and cross bars only must be used – not tapes. The point posts shall not be less than 16 feet high and ought to be as high as possible
A goal or a point cannot be scored until the whole ball has passed over the goal line.

The vicious practice of 'going for the man' shall be deemed foul, and no player may in any way be interfered with except in the act of kicking and playing the ball.

No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be allowed to join again. The ridiculous custom of giving offenders a couple of minutes rest shall be discontinued. The Referee shall award a free kick, and not merely hop the ball, for all breaches of the Rules. In the event of rough and dangerous play, including pushing from behind, butting with the head, and tripping, catching, holding, jumping on, or threatening a player, the Referee shall caution the offender, or in the case of violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution the Referee shall at once order the offender off the field and report him to the County Board.

The thrower-in shall stand on the side line and shall not hold the ball with lace or thong.

The goalkeeper shall kick out the ball from any part of a 7yds square in front of goal having the goal posts at adjacent corners.

Carrying the ball shall be taking more than 3 steps while holding the ball.

Throwing the ball against the ground with both hands while running is illegal but the player catching the ball may start his run by throwing the ball against the ground with both hands.

[Mr R T Blake was elected secretary of the Association on 7th April, 1895 at the Annual Convention in Thurles.]
FOOTBALL RULES

(Revised – April 28th, 1895)

NOTICE – Pending the report of a Sub-committee on the Athletic Rules to be submitted to Central Council in the first week of June, a complete Book of Rules cannot be brought until after that date. The Council, therefore, have issued the following draft of rules to enable clubs and players to become acquainted with the more important alterations as soon as possible.

[This copy of the Rules was taken from police files of that year]

1—The size of the ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 180 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 120 yards broad, and side lines and goal lines shall be either marked with a lime line or cut out of turf. Lines, indicating 21 yards, and 50 yards, from the goal lines, and half-way, shall also be made, and these lines and also each corner of the ground shall be marked by flags. A seven-yards square shall be marked in front of each goal, having the goal posts at adjacent angles. The ball shall be kicked out from within this square.

2—The players shall be 17 a side in all matches, not more and not less.

3—A referee shall be appointed, who shall be provided with a whistle and a copy of the rules. He shall enforce the rules and decide all disputes. His decisions on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final, and appeals by players must be made to him at once, otherwise they cannot be entertained. No appeal can be entertained against a referee's decision on a score. Should he grant an appeal, he shall indicate it by blowing his whistle, but players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk, for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding or the appeal being disallowed shall be perfectly valid. On questions of law only appertaining to the interpretation of the rules shall there be the right of appeal. All such appeals must be lodged with the Hon Sec of County Committee in County Championships, or in the case of inter-county matches with the Hon Sec of the GAA within 7 days, accompanied by a fee of £1, to be forfeited should the appeal be not upheld. The referee shall keep the time. He shall be the sole authorised timekeeper, and his decision shall be final. He shall also keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct, with the County Hon Sec in County Championships, or the Hon Sec of the Association in inter-County and All-Ireland matches, within 3 days of the match. This, especially in regard to rough play, is imperative. There shall be two umpires or linesmen appointed, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown. Linesmen shall be, as far as possible, neutral, and when neutral, only shall call the referee's attention to rough or foul play. There shall be two goal umpires at each end of the ground. One shall stand outside each point post, and their sole duty (also subject to the referee's decision) shall be to watch for goals and points, and decide when the ball is over the goal line.

The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line.

Field Umpires shall no longer be permitted and no person other than the referee and players shall be allowed on the field of play during the game.

4 - In the centre of each goal line shall stand the goal and point posts. The goal posts shall be 21 feet apart, with a crossbar 8 feet from the ground. There shall also be two point posts standing in each goal line, 21 feet from the goal posts. The point posts shall be at least 16 feet high. The goal posts shall not project above the crossbar, nor shall the crossbar project beyond the goal posts, and goal posts, point posts and crossbars, shall not be less than three inches or more than five inches, in thickness.

A goal is scored when the ball is driven by either side between the goal posts and under the crossbar.

A point is scored when the ball is driven by either side over the crossbar or over the goal line between the point posts at any height. The ball going directly over the point post shall not count a point.

The ball hitting the posts or crossbar and rebounding into the field is still in play.

Should the crossbar become broken or displaced and the ball pass between the posts at a point which, in the opinion of the referee, is below where the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. If the point post becomes displaced, and the ball passes inside where the point post would, in the referee's opinion, have been, he shall allow a point.

5 - The captains of the teams shall toss for choice of ends, and the game shall be started by the referee throwing up the ball, the players, with the exception of the respective goal-keepers, standing in two ranks opposite each other at the half-way line, in the centre of the field, until the ball is thrown up each player holding the hand of one of the opposite side. At half time the game shall re-start in the same manner.

6 - Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, or jumping at a player shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with except he be in the act of playing the ball. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free kick. In the case of rough or dangerous play, the referee shall also caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or, in the case of violent conduct or improper language without any previous caution, the referee shall also rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, or Central Council in all Ireland matches. No player, once ordered off the ground by the referee, shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be also at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the referee may award the match to the opposite team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification at discretion of referee.

Tripping is throwing, or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind him, putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball, and thus throwing him, shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by the hand or arm

7 - The time of actual play shall be one hour (unless otherwise arranged), sides to be changed only at half time. The referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game, whenever by reason of darkness, interference of spectators, or other cause he may think fit. If necessary, he shall extend time of play to permit a free kick or forfeit kick being taken.

8 - When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman), by a player of the opposite side to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the thrower-in must have at least one foot outside the side line at time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or tong. The thrower-in may not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the thrower-in unless the ball be touched by some other player after the throw-in. When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposite side it shall be kicked out by any of the defending side from within a seven-yards' square in front of the goal, having the goal posts at adjacent angles. No player of the opposite side to approach nearer than the 21 yards line till the ball is kicked. The referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in throwing-in or kicking out from goal. If the ball be played across the goal line outside the point posts by a player whose goal line it is, no matter in what direction the ball was previously travelling, the opposite side shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the goal line. Should the ball be played through the goal by one of the defending side it shall count a goal only, if through the points it shall count a point only to the opposite side.

9 - The match shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to 5 points.

10 - The ball may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when flying in the air, after being kicked, played, or touched by some other player, and before it hops or touches the ground. On catching the ball the player must kick it immediately, and must not hop, carry, or throw it. Carrying shall be taking more than four paces while holding the ball. The player may kick the ball by letting it drop from his hands and kicking it either before it touches the ground (punting), or immediately after it touches the ground (drop-kicking). No player shall be caught or held under any circumstances. The ball must not be allowed to rest dead on the hand except when caught on the fly. Throwing the ball against the ground is illegal, the ball must be struck, not thrown. The penalty for all breaches of this rule shall be a free kick.

11 - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the ball must be kicked from the ground from the place indicated by the referee. The ball shall not be kicked until a signal is given by the referee. In all free kicks, including 50 yards or forfeit kicks, and kicks off and from goal, the opposite side shall not approach nearer than 14 yards till the ball is kicked. If a free kick is allowed nearer than 14 yards from the goal line the defending side need not stand behind that line.

12 - No substitute shall be allowed to take the place of any player during the match.

13 - The referee shall have during the match full power to disqualify any player or order him to leave the ground and discontinue play. No player once ordered off shall again join in the game, and the referee is bound to report him for suspension to his county committee or Central Council. When play has been suspended from any cause, the ball not having crossed the side or goal lines, the referee shall re-start play by hopping the ball at the place where play was suspended. This is the only case in which the referee shall hop the ball.

14 – The regulation size match-ball shall be No 5 and shall not be less than 27 or more than 29 inches in circumference. At commencement of game it shall be the duty of the referee to see that no nails or iron tips are on the boots of the players. Any player infringing this rule shall be ordered off the ground. If bars or studs on the soles of boots are used they shall not project more than half an inch, and shall have all their fastenings driven in flush with the leather, and in no case shall they be conical or pointed. Any infringement of this rule shall lead to the disqualification of the player, and the referee shall prohibit him from taking any part in the game. It is not necessary for a referee to have an appeal made to him before putting this rule in force.

15 – Any player threatening or insulting the referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the county committee or the Central Council.

16 – A team leaving the ground before the termination of the contest in which it is engaged without the sanction of the referee, shall be liable to suspension and shall forfeit the match.

17 – Every club shall be held responsible for the conduct of its players. Officials and spectators and clubs shall take all possible precautions to prevent spectators threatening or assaulting referees, officials or players, during or after matches. Neither referees, linesmen, goal umpires, or players shall make bets on any match in which they are officiating or playing.

FOOTBALL RULES
OFFICIAL GUIDE 1896, '97

OFFICIAL GUIDE 1896-1897

1. The size of the ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 180 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 120 yards broad, and side lines and goal lines shall be either marked with a limed line or cut out of the turf. Lines, indicating 21 yards, and 50 yards, from the goal lines, and the half-way, shall also be made, and these lines and also each corner of the ground, shall be marked by flags. A seven-yards' square shall be marked in front of each goal, having the goal-posts at adjacent angles. The ball shall be kicked out from within this square.

2. No match in championships or tournaments shall be played on any ground which has not a proper railing, fence, or enclosure erected to keep spectators off the field of play. Such enclosure to be at least five yards from the goal lines and side lines.

3. The players shall be seventeen a side in all matches, at starting not more and not less. The referee may, at his discretion, permit a substitute to take the place of a player hurt.

4. In the centre of each goal line shall stand the goals and point posts. The goal posts shall be twenty-one feet apart, with a cross-bar eight feet from the ground. There shall also be two point posts standing in each goal line, twenty-one feet from the goal posts. The point posts shall be at least sixteen feet high. The goal posts shall not project above the cross-bar nor shall the cross-bar project beyond the goal-posts, and goal posts, point-posts, and cross-bars shall not be less than three inches, or more than five inches, in thickness.

5. The regulation size match ball shall be No 5 and shall not be less than 27 or more than 29 inches in circumference, and shall weigh from 13 to 15 ounces at commencement of game.

6. In all matches a referee, two linesmen, and four goal umpires shall be appointed. The referee shall carry a whistle and a copy of the rules. He shall enforce the rules and decide all disputes.

7. The referee's decision on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final, and appeals by players must be made to him at once, otherwise they cannot be entertained. No appeal can be entertained against a referee's decision on a score. Should he grant an appeal he shall indicate it by blowing his whistle, but players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk, for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding or the appeal being disallowed, shall be perfectly valid. The referee shall give his decision in writing to the captains of the respective teams before leaving the ground. On questions of law only appertaining to the interpretation of the rules.

All such appeals must be lodged within seven days, with the Hon Sec of County Committees, in County Championships, accompanied by a fee of 5s, or in inter-county matches, with the Hon Sec of the GAA, accompanied by a fee of £1, to be forfeited should this appeal be not upheld.

8. The referee shall blow his whistle in the following cases -
   (a) When he allows an appeal
   (b) When he notices rough or foul play or misconduct, when for the first offence he shall either caution the player or order him off the ground, but for the second offence he must order him off, and afterwards report him to the County Committee in county matches, or the Central Council in inter-county or All-Ireland Championship matches
   (c) When he allows a decision given by a linesman
   (d) When he allows a score, having consulted the goal umpires (two out of the three to decide)
   (e) When he wishes to stop the game for any purpose
   (f) When half time and full time are up, he being the sole timekeeper, having sole power to allow extra time for delays
   (g) In county, inter-county, and All-Ireland matches the referee shall have sole control of the game, and shall blow his whistle whenever he sees the rules infringed, without waiting for an appeal
   (h) The game shall be stopped whenever the referee blows his whistle, even though he infringes the rules in doing so.

9. The referee's decision as to the time is final, even though he keeps it inaccurately.

10. The referee shall keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct, with the County Hon Sec in County Championships, or the Hon Sec of the Association in inter-county or All-Ireland matches, within three days of the match. This, especially in regard to rough play, is imperative.

11. There shall be two linesmen appointed, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown. Linesmen shall be, as far as possible, neutral, and, when neutral, shall call the referee's attention to rough or foul play or misconduct.

12. There shall be two goal umpires at each end of the ground. One shall stand outside each point post, and their sole duty (also subject to the referee's decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points, and decide when the ball is over the goal line.

Referees, linesmen, and goal umpires are bound to give a decision one way or the other when appealed to, and all disputes must be decided on the spot.

The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. No person other than the referee and players shall be allowed on the field of play during the game. Linesmen shall keep outside the side lines. No field umpires shall be allowed

13 The captains of the teams shall toss for choice of ends, and the game shall be started by the referee throwing up the ball, the players, with the exception of the respective goal-keepers, standing in two ranks opposite each other at the half-way line, in the centre of the field, until the ball is thrown up, each player holding the hand of one of the opposite side At half time the game shall re-start in the same manner

14 Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with except he be in the act of playing the ball The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free kick In the case of rough or dangerous play the referee shall also caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or, in the case of violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the referee shall also rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, or Central Council in All-Ireland matches No player, once ordered off the ground by the referee, shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game Any player lifting his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground If he refuses to leave when ordered the referee may award the match to the opposite team Retaliation in this case, shall equal disqualification at discretion of referee

15 Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind him, putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball, and thus throwing him, shall be deemed tripping Holding includes the obstruction of a player by the hand or arm

16 The time of actual play shall be one hour (unless otherwise arranged), sides to be changed only at half time The referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays He shall also have power to terminate the game, whenever by reason of darkness, interference of spectators, or other cause, he may think fit If necessary, he shall extend time of play to permit a free kick or forfeit kick being taken No score to count except made from the kick direct

17 A referee having given a decision after sounding his whistle, cannot under any circumstances alter it

18 It shall be the referee's duty to see that all free kicks, forfeit kicks, kicks out, and throws in from side-line are properly taken

19 The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick In all free kicks the ball must be kicked from the ground from the place indicated by the referee The ball shall not be kicked until a signal is given by the referee In all free kicks, including fifty yard, or forfeit kicks, and kicks from goal, the opposite side shall not approach nearer than fourteen yards till the ball is kicked If a free kick is allowed nearer than fourteen yards from the goal-line, the defending side need not stand behind that line The kicker must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player A free kick may be in any direction

20 When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposite side to that which touched it last before crossing The ball may be thrown in in any direction, and the thrower-in must have at least one foot outside the side line at time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The thrower-in may not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball be touched by some other player after the throw-in. When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposite side it shall be kicked out by any of the defending side from within a seven yards' square in front of the goal, having the goal posts at adjacent angles. No player of the opposite side to approach nearer than the twenty-one yards' line till the ball is kicked. The referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in throwing in or kicking out from goal. If the ball be played across the goal line outside the point posts by a player whose goal line it is, no matter in what direction the ball was previously travelling, the opposite side shall have a free kick from a point on the fifty yards' line directly opposite where the ball crossed the goal line. Should the ball be played through the goal by one of the defending side it shall count a goal, if through the points it shall count a point to the opposite side.

21 The match shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points.

22 Any player threatening or insulting the referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the County Committee or the Central Council.

23 A team leaving the ground before the termination of the contest in which it is engaged, without the sanction of the referee, shall be liable to suspension and to forfeit the match.

24 Every club shall be held responsible for the conduct of its players, officials, and spectators, and clubs shall take all possible precautions to prevent spectators threatening or assaulting referees, officials, or players, during or after matches. Neither referees, linesmen, goal umpires, or players shall make bets on any match in which they are officiating or playing.

25 A goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side between the goal posts and under the crossbar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. A point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar or over the goal line between the point posts at any height, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. The ball going directly over the point post shall not count a point.

The ball hitting the posts or crossbar and rebounding into the field is still in play. Should the crossbar become broken or displaced and the ball pass between the posts at a point which, in the opinion of the referee, is below where the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. If the point post becomes displaced, and the ball passes inside where the point post would, in the referee's opinion, have been, he shall allow a point.

26 If the ball strikes a bystander standing inside the line (except the referee), it shall be out of play and must be thrown in, as directed in Rule 20. If it occurs at the goal line it shall be also out of play and shall be kicked out from goal. The referee may allow a point or a goal in the latter case, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored but for being thus stopped.

27 The ball may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground, but the player so catching it must at once kick it or strike it away with his hand, and must not hop, carry, or throw it Carrying shall be taking more than four paces while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to kick or fist it away. The ball may be kicked by letting it drop from the hands and kicking it either before it touches the ground ("punting") or immediately after it touches the ground ("drop-kicking") No player shall be caught or held under any circumstances. Hopping the ball against the ground with one hand or both hands, after catching it, is equivalent to a throw. The ball, on being caught, must be either kicked, or struck by the hand, as distinct from a throw. Throwing the ball against the ground is illegal. The penalty for all breaches of this rule shall be a free kick. (There is nothing in this rule to prevent the player throwing the ball a little in front to allow himself more freedom in kicking it.)

(The portion of this rule which is underlined and the remainder of the football rules for 1896/97 were missing from the only copy of the Official Guide available. I have extrapolated that section of the rule which is underlined from Rule 10 of the previous set of Football Rules of 1889 which include this provision when kicking the ball)

Lines indicating twenty-one yards and fifty yards from the goal lines and the half-way shall also be made, and these lines and also each corner of the ground shall be marked by flags. A seven-yards square shall be marked in front of each goal, having the goalposts at adjacent angles. The ball shall be pucked out from within this square.

2. The players shall be seventeen aside in all matches at starting, not more and not less.

3. The referee shall have power, at his discretion, to permit a substitute to replace a player hurt.

4. In the centre of each goal line shall stand the goals and point posts. The goals shall be twenty-one feet apart, with a cross-bar eight feet from the ground. There shall also be two point posts standing in each goal line, twenty-one feet from the goal posts. The point posts shall be at least sixteen feet high. The goal posts shall not project above the crossbar, nor shall the crossbar project beyond the goal posts, and goal posts, point posts, and crossbars shall not be less than three inches, or more than five inches, in thickness.

   A goal is scored when the ball is driven by either side between the goal posts, and under the crossbar.

   A point is scored when the ball is driven by either side over the crossbar or over the goal line between the point posts at any height. The ball going directly over the point post shall not count a point.
The ball hitting the posts or crossbar and rebounding into the field is still in play.

5 A referee shall be appointed, who shall be provided with a whistle and a copy of the rules. He shall enforce the rules and decide all disputes. His decisions on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final, and appeals by players must be made to him at once, otherwise they cannot be entertained. No appeal can be entertained against a referee's decision on a score. Should he grant an appeal he shall indicate it by blowing his whistle, but players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk, for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding or the appeal being disallowed shall be perfectly valid. On questions of law only appertaining to the interpretation of the rules shall there be the right of appeal. All such appeals must be lodged with the Hon. Sec. of County Committee in County Championships, or in the case of intercounty matches, with the Hon. Sec. of the G.A.A., within seven days, accompanied by a fee of £1, to be forfeited if the appeal be not upheld.

The referee shall keep the time. He shall be the sole authorised timekeeper, and his decision shall be final. He shall also keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of the players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct, with the County Hon. Sec. in County Championships, or the Hon. Sec. of the Association in inter-county and All-Ireland matches, within three days of the match. This, especially in regard to rough play, is imperative. The referee shall give his decision in writing to the respective Captains before leaving the ground. There shall be two linesmen appointed who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line, and to throw it in as provided in Rule 10. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play, changing sides at half time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play.

Linesmen shall be, as far as possible, neutral, and where neutral only, shall call the referee's attention to rough or foul play. There shall be two goal umpires at each end of the ground. One shall stand outside each post, and their sole duty (also subject to the referee's decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points, and decide when the ball is over the goal line.

The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line.

Field umpires shall no longer be permitted, and no person other than the referee and players shall be allowed on the field of play during the game.

6 The captains of the teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the hurlers (with the exception of the respective goal-keepers) shall stand in two lines in the centre of the field opposite to each other and catch hands or hurleys across, and then separate. The referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, not up high over their heads.

7 Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, or jumping at a player, or butting with the head shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no playing the ball No player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player The penalty for each breech of this rule shall be a free puck

In the case of rough or dangerous play the referee shall also caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the referee shall also rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, or Central Council in All-Ireland matches No player once ordered off the ground by the referee, shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player, or use irritating language to players or officials, shall be also at once ordered off the ground If he refuses to leave when ordered, the referee may award the match to the opposite team Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification at discretion of referee

Tripping is throwing, or attempting to throw, an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind them, putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball, and thus throwing him, shall be deemed tripping
Holding includes the obstruction of a player by the hand or arm

8 The time of actual play shall be one hour (unless otherwise arranged), sides to be changed only at half-time The referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness, interference of spectators, or other cause, he may think fit If necessary, he shall extend time of play to permit a free puck or forfeit puck being taken provided the striker's opponents stand twenty-one yards from the ball on every side until it is touched In any free puck, except the free puck from the goal, the ball can be struck in two ways only 1 Strike the ball off the ground 2 Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off hurley The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases

10 When a player drives the ball over the side line, and it does not rebound from the ground into the field of play, it shall be thrown back by the referee or one of the linesmen It must be thrown from the point where it crosses the line, and at a right angle to the line, and must touch the ground before it reaches the players, who shall not approach nearer than ten yards of the line until the ball is thrown in 11 When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposite side it shall be pucked out by any of the defending side from within a seven yards' square in front of the goal, having the goal posts at adjacent angles No player of the opposite side to approach nearer than twenty-one yards line until the ball is pucked The referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in pucking out from goal If the ball be played across the goal line outside the point posts, by a player whose goal line it is, no matter in what direction the ball was previously travelling, the opposite side shall have a free puck from a point on the fifty yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the goal line Should the ball be played through the goal by one of the defending side it shall count a goal, if through the points, it shall count a point to the opposite side

12 The match shall be decided by the greater number of points A goal shall be equal to three points
13 The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Hitting both right and left if allowable.

14 When the rules are broken, the referee shall allow a free puck. In free pucks, except the puck from the goal, the ball must not be taken in the hand. No player on the opposite side to approach nearer than twenty-one yards until the ball is struck, but if the free puck is allowed nearer than twenty-one yards of the goal line, the opposite players need not stand behind that line.

15 If the ball strikes a bystander near the side lines, except the referee, it shall be considered out of play, and must be thrown in as directed in Rule 10. If it occurs at the goal line, it shall also be considered out of play, and must be pucked from the goal. In the latter case, the referee may allow a point or a goal if he considers that the ball would have passed through either the point or the goal space but for having been stopped.

16 The ball shall not be less than four and a half inches or more than five inches in diameter, and shall weigh not less than seven ounces, or more than ten ounces, for regular matches. A ball made of cork and woollen thread, and covered with leather, is best.

17 That a team leaving the field before the termination of the contest in which it is engaged, and without the sanction of the referee, shall be liable to suspension and to forfeit the match.

18 The hurley may be of any pattern fancied by the player.

19 The referee shall have during the match full power to disqualify any player, or order him to leave the ground and discontinue play. No player once ordered off shall again join in the game, and the referee is bound to report him for suspension to his County Committee in county matches, or the Central Council in All-Ireland or inter-county matches.

20 At commencement of game, it shall be the duty of the referee to see that no nails, spikes, or iron tips on the boots of the players. Any player infringing this rule shall be ordered off the ground. If bars or studs on the soles of boots or shoes are used, they shall not project more than half an inch, and shall have all their fastenings driven in flush with the leather, and in no case shall they be conical or pointed. Any infringement of this rule shall lead to the disqualification of the player, and the referee shall prohibit him from taking any part in the game. It is not necessary for a referee to have an appeal made to him before putting this rule in force.

21 Any player threatening or insulting the referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the County Committee or the Central Council.

22 Every club shall be held responsible for the conduct of its players. Officials and spectators and clubs shall take all possible precautions to prevent spectators threatening or assaulting referees, officials, or players, during or after matches. Committee set up at annual convention 22 September, 1901
Published in the Evening Herald 16 November, 1901
(This may not be a complete set of rules)

1 The size of the ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 180 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 120 yards broad, and side lines and goal lines shall be either marked with a limed line or cut out of the turf. Lines, indicating 21 yards, and 30 yards, from the goal lines, and the half-way, shall also be made, and these lines and also each corner of the ground, shall be marked by flags. A 10 yards line shall run in front of goal and point post. That no player of the opposite side be allowed inside the 10 yards line until the ball enters it during play.

2 No match in championships or tournaments shall be played on any ground which has not a proper railing, fence, or enclosure erected to keep spectators off the field of play. Such enclosure to be at least five yards from the goal lines and side lines.

3 The players shall be seventeen a side in all matches, but a team may commence play with not less than thirteen players, and the remaining members of the team shall be allowed to participate in the game at any stage of the play. The Referee may, at his discretion, permit a substitute to take the place of a player hurt.

4 In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 18 feet apart, with a crossbar eight feet from the ground. A goal is scored when a ball passes under the crossbar. A point is scored when the ball passes over the bar between the posts at any height. The point posts to be 16 feet high and 54 feet apart.

5 The regulation size match ball shall be No 5, and shall not be less than 27 or more than 29 inches in circumference, and shall weigh from 13 to 15 ounces at commencement of game.

6 In all matches a referee, two linesmen, and four goal umpires shall be appointed. The referee shall carry a whistle and a copy of the rules. He shall enforce the rules and decide all disputes.

7 The referee’s decision on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final, and appeals by players must be made to him at once, otherwise they cannot be entertained. No appeal can be entertained against a referee’s decision on a score. Should he grant an appeal he shall indicate it by blowing his whistle, but players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk, for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding or the appeal being disallowed shall be perfectly valid. The referee shall give his decision in writing if requested to the captains of the respective teams before leaving the ground. On questions of law only appertaining to the interpretation of the rules shall there be the right to appeal. All such appeals must be lodged within seven days, with the Hon Sec of County Committees, in County Championships, accompanied by a fee of 10s, or, in Inter-County matches, with the sec of the Provincial Council with £1 fee, or in Inter-Provincial Matches with the Sec G A A with fee of £1 in all cases to be forfeited should this appeal be not upheld. That the rule of forfeiting fees accompanying appeals be rigidly enforced in order to prevent frivolous objections being lodged.

8. The referee shall blow his whistle in the following cases -
   (a) When he allows an appeal
   (b) When he notices rough or foul play or misconduct, when for the first offence he shall either caution the player or order him off the ground, but for the second offence he must order him off, and afterwards report him to the County Committee in county matches, to the Provincial Council in inter-county matches or to the Central Council in Inter or All-Ireland Championship matches
   (c) When he allows a decision given by a linesman
   (d) When he allows a score, having consulted the goal umpires (two out of the three to decide)
   (e) When he wishes to stop the game for any purpose
   (f) When half time and full time are up, he being the sole timekeeper, having sole power to allow extra time for delays
   (g) In county, inter-county, and Inter-provincial matches the referee shall have sole control of the game, and shall blow his whistle whenever he sees the rules infringed, without waiting for an appeal
   (h) The game shall be stopped whenever the referee blows his whistle, even though he infringes the rules in doing so

9. The referee's decision as to the time shall be final.

10. The referee shall keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct, with the County Hon Sec in County Championships, or Sec Prov in Prov Championships and with the Sec of the Association in Inter-Provincial, Inter-County, or All-Ireland matches within seven days of the match. This, especially in regard to rough play, is imperative.

11. There shall be two linesmen appointed, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side-line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in. They shall each take one side of the ground, inside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown. Linesmen shall be, as far as possible, neutral, and, when neutral, shall call the referee's attention to rough or foul play or misconduct.

12. There shall be two goal umpires at each end of the ground appointed by the referee. One shall stand outside each point post, and their sole duty (also subject to the referee's decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points, and decide when the ball is over the goal line

Referees, linesmen, and goal umpires are bound to give a decision one way or the other when appealed to, and all disputes must be decided on the spot

The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed on the goal line or side line

No person other than the referee, linesmen and players shall be allowed on the field of play during the game. The ball shall be considered out of play for touching a linesman.

13 The captains of the teams shall toss for choice of ends, and the game shall be started by the referee throwing up the ball, the players, with the exception of the respective goal-keepers, standing in two ranks opposite each other at the half-way line, in the centre of the field, until the ball is thrown up, each player holding the hand of one of the opposite side. At half time the game shall re-start in the same manner.

14 Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with except he be in the act of playing the ball. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free kick. In the case of rough or dangerous play the referee shall also caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or, in the case of violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the referee shall also rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, and the Central Council in Inter-Provincial or All-Ireland matches. No player, once ordered off the ground by the referee, shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game, except by his permission. Any player lifting his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be also at once ordered of the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the referee may award the match to the opposite team. Retaliation in this case, shall equal disqualification at discretion of referee.

Holding includes the obstruction of a player by the hand or arm.

(This is the extent of the Rules reported in THE EVENING HERALD. There may have been 10 or 12 more rules which were not reported. See the football rules 1896/97 & 1907.)

The referee shall keep the time. He shall be the sole authorised timekeeper. and his decision shall be final. He shall also keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of the players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct, with the County hon.sec. in County Championships, or secretary of the Association in inter-county and All-Ireland matches, within seven days of the match. This, especially in regard to rough play, is imperative. The referee shall give his decision in writing to the respective Captains before leaving the ground. There shall be two linesmen appointed by the referee, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play, changing sides at half time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play.

Linesmen shall be, as far as possible, neutral, and where neutral only, shall call the referee’s attention to rough or foul play. There shall be two neutral goal umpires appointed by the referee at each end of the ground. One shall stand outside each point post, and their sole duty (also subject to the referee’s decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points, and decide when the ball is over the goal line.

The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. No person other than the referee and players shall be allowed on the field of play during the game.

6. The captains of the teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the hurlers (with the exception of the respective goal-keepers) shall stand in two lines in the centre of the field opposite to each other and catch hands or hurleys across, and then separate. The referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, not up high over their heads.

7. Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, or jumping at a player, or butting with the head shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with except he be in the act of playing the ball. No player shall throw his hurler or bring intentionally intentionally in contact with the person of another player. The penalty for each breech of this rule shall be a free puck. In the case of rough or dangerous play the referee shall also caution the player or players; and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of violent conduct, or improper language, without any previous caution, the referee shall, at his own discretion also rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, or Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the referee, shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurler to strike or threaten another player, or use irritating language to players or officials, shall be also at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the referee may award the match to the opposite team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification at discretion of referee.

Tripping or throwing, or attempting to throw, an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind them; putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball, and thus throwing him, shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by the hand or arm.

8. The time of actual play shall be one hour, sides to be changed only at half time.
The referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness, interference of spectators, or other cause, he may think fit. If necessary, he shall extend time of play to permit a free puck or forfeited puck being taken. No score count unless made from the puck direct.

9. When a free puck is given, the players may be in any part of the field they like, provided the striker's opponents stand twenty-one yards from the ball on every side until it is touched. In any free puck, except the free puck from the goal, the ball can be struck in two ways only: 1) Strike the ball on the ground, 2) lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off hurley. The ball cannot be taken into the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

10. When a player drives the ball over the side line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposite side at a point where the ball crosses the line. No player on either side to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is touched and no score can be made unless the ball be played by another player than the striker. No player can approach nearer than the ten yards' line until the ball is touched, nor can the person taking the free puck again touch the ball until it is played by some other player.

11. When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposite side, it shall be pucked out by any of the defending side from within a seven yards square in front of the goal, having the goal posts at adjacent angles. No player of the opposite side to approach nearer than twenty-one yards line until the ball is pucked. The referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in pucking out from goal. If the ball be played across the goal line outside the point posts, by a player whose goal line it is, no matter in what direction the ball was previously travelling, the opposite side shall have a free puck from a point on the fifty yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the goal line. Should the ball be played through the goal by one of the
opposite side.

12. The match shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points.

13. The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it.

14. When the rules are broken the referee shall allow a free puck. In free pucks, except the puck from the goal, the ball must not be taken in the hand. No player on the opposite side to approach nearer than twenty-one yards until the ball is struck, but if the free puck is allowed nearer than twenty-one yards of the goal line, the opposite players need not stand behind that line.

15. If the ball strikes a bystander near the side lines, except the referee, it shall be considered out of play, and must be pucked in as directed in Rule 10. If it occurs at the goal line, it shall also be considered out of play, and must be pucked from the goal. In the latter case, the referee may allow a point or a goal if he considers that the 16 The ball shall not be less than three and a half inches or more than four inches in diameter, and shall weigh not less than 5 ounces, or more than 7 ounces. A ball made of cork and woollen thread, and covered with leather, is best.

18 At commencement of game it shall be the duty of the referee to see that no nails, spikes, or iron tips on the boots of the players. Any player infringing this rule shall be ordered off the ground. If bars or studs on the soles of boots or shoes are used they shall not project more than half an inch, and shall have all their fastenings driven in flush with the leather, and in no case shall they be conical or pointed. Any infringement of this rule shall lead to the disqualification of the player, and the referee shall prohibit him from taking any part in the game. It is not necessary for a referee to have an appeal made to him before putting this rule in force.

19 Any player threatening or insulting the referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the County Committee or the Central Council.

20 Every club shall be held responsible for the conduct of its players. Officials and members of clubs shall take all possible precautions to prevent spectators threatening or assaulting referees, officials, or players, during or after matches.

(This is not the complete set of rules. See hurling rules of 1896/7 & 1907.)

Reference to rule changes in 1903 are scattered and do not constitute more than fragments of a set of rules for either game.

A motion proposed by Mr J C O'Brien at the Annual Convention was adopted -

"The scoring area was reduced from 54ft to 45ft"

"It is quite probable that a further reduction will take place at the next convention, but we would be sorry to see the goal posts altered or the points posts abolished."\(^1\)

After a lengthy debate, a motion to abolish catching in football was defeated by the margin of 22 votes to 11. See Comparative Analysis, 1903 for details.

"Several other amendments and additions to the rules were proposed, but it was found on reference to the existing rule book they were unnecessary."\(^2\)

On the proposal of Mr TF O'Sullivan (Kerry), it was agreed that

_Umpires, when neutral, should, like linesmen, call the referee's attention to rough or foul play or misconduct, and that the referee might consult both umpires and linesmen, when those officials were neutral, regarding any dispute that might arise as to the legality of a score or any other matters connected with the game._\(^3\)

A Sub-Committee, consisting of Lorcan O'Toole, Dublin, M Murtagh, Wicklow, M F Crowe, Dublin, P J Devlin, do, and A J Murphy, do, was appointed to consider the advisability of drafting hurling and football League rules for the guidance of County Committees desirous of holding competitions on the League principle.

FOOTBALL RULES

OFFICIAL GUIDE 1907-08-09

And Notes on the application of these rules and specific Penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of Clubs by a special Committee appointed at Annual Convention, February, 1907
(From Official Guide 1907-08-09)

1 Size of ground — The size of the ground shall not be less than 140 yards long or more than 170 yards long and not less than 80 yards or more than 100 yards broad 2 Marking of ground — Side lines and goal lines shall be marked with a limed line or cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 14 yards, 21 yards and 50 yards from the goal lines, and the half-way shall also be made, and these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked by flags. A five yard square shall be marked in front of each goal, having the goal posts at adjacent angles. A five yards square shall be marked out in front of each point space, having a goal post and a point post at adjacent angles.
There will thus be formed in front of scoring area a parallelogram fifteen yards by five yards.

3 (a) The ball shall be kicked out from within the square opposite the goal
(b) No player of the opposing team shall be allowed inside the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.
It shall be the duty of the referee to see that the goal line is distinctly marked, particularly across scoring area.

(a) When a player is taking a kick from goal he can go back behind the goal for the purpose of taking a run but must run between the goal posts and kick the ball from goal square.

For an infringement of this rule the referee shall award a free to the opposing team on the 50 yards line.

(b) This rule shall be operative only when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters. It was devised for the protection of a goalkeeper and to prevent his being charged unless when in the act of playing, or moving to play, the ball, and referees, when enforcing penalties for breaches, should bear this in mind. Should a player of the opposing team enter the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play the defending side shall have a free kick, from where the ball was when the foul took place.

The goal umpires shall draw attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed.

The referee may disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play and as a result of this foul the defence was interfered with. The referee, in deciding when the defence was interfered with, must discriminate between when a score could be prevented and could not be prevented— that is a ball passing low through scoring area or high up. When the goalkeeper or backs are charged illegally in the parallelogram, the referee shall award a free kick to the defending side from where the ball was when the foul occurred.

4 Scoring Space — In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 15 feet apart with a cross-bar 8 feet from the ground. Fifteen feet from each goal post, and on the goal line, shall stand two posts called points posts, 16 feet high and 45 feet apart.

5 Number of Players — The players shall be seventeen a side in inter-county matches, but a match may be started with thirteen players.

NOTE: According to a decision of Central Council the game cannot, however, be resumed after the expiration of the first half hour unless there are seventeen players in each team.

County Committees have power to make a bye-law that in their Championship and League Competitions a match may be commenced and finished if there are thirteen players in each team.

6 Commencing Play — The captains of the teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players (with the exception of the respective goalkeepers) shall stand in two lines in the centre of the field opposite each other, and catch hands. The Referee shall throw the ball up high over their heads, and then separate.

7 Duration of Play— The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever, by reason of darkness, interference of spectators, or other cause he may think fit. If necessary, he shall extend time of play to permit a free kick or forfeit puck being taken. No score to count except from the kick direct.

8 Scores — A goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the crossbar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. A point is scored when the ball is driven or played by any team over the crossbar, or over the goal line between the point posts at any height, except when thrown or carried in the hand by any of the attacking side. The ball going directly over the point posts shall not count a point. The ball hitting the posts or crossbar and rebounding into the field is still in play. Should the crossbar become broken or displaced, and the ball pass between the posts at a point which, in the opinion of the Referee, is below where the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. If the point post become displaced, and the ball pass inside where the point post would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball strike a bystander at the goal line, the Referee may allow a point, or a goal, or a 50 yards free if he considers the ball would have passed either through the goal or point space or a 50 yards free kick would have been forfeited but for the ball having been thus stopped. Should the ball be played through the goal line by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the points, it shall count a point to the opposing team

9 The Kick Out—When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be kicked out by one of the defending side from within the square opposite goal, no player from the opposite side to approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball is kicked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out from goal.

Should a player of the opposing side stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards mark when the ball is being kicked from goal, the side having the kick out shall be awarded a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player infringing the rule stood.

10 Free Kicks—The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the ball must be kicked from the ground from the place indicated by the Referee. The ball shall not be kicked until a signal is given by the Referee. In all free kicks, including 50 yards, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards till the ball is kicked. If a free kick is allowed nearer than 14 yards from the goal line, the defending side must stand on the goal line or 14 yards away. The kicker must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free kick may be in any direction.

Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing side shall be awarded a free kick from where he stood. Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where foul occurred.

The Referee must bring back the ball to the 14 yards line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram and entitling the attacking side to a free kick.

A player taking a free kick near the goal line or side line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched, after the Referee has signalled, by a player of the side having the free kick.

11 Throw-In—When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the thrower-in must have at least one foot outside the line at time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The thrower-in must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player. All players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing in the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball be touched by some other player after the throw-in.

If a player of either side stand nearer than 10 yards to the player who is throwing in the ball a free kick shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul took place.

If the player who is throwing in the ball stand inside the side line or throw the ball by the lace or thong the opposing team shall have a free kick from where the foul took place.

The throw-in must be taken from the point indicated by the linesman.

If the player who throws in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free kick from where foul took place.
12 Fifty Yards Free Kick — If the ball is played across the goal line outside the point posts by a player whose goal line it is, no matter in what direction the ball was previously travelling, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the goal line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the goal line by an outsider, the referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

13 The Play — The ball may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. Carrying shall be taking more than four paces when holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to kick or fist it away. The ball may be kicked by letting it drop from the hands and kicking it either before it touches the ground ("punting"), or immediately after it touches the ground ("drop-kicking"). No player shall be caught or held under any circumstances. The ball, on being caught, must be either kicked or struck by the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground, but not more than once, and must not be thrown. The penalty for all breaches of this rule shall be a free kick. (There is nothing in this rule to prevent a player making a run by striking a hopping ball many times in succession, but, when caught, the ball must not be thrown.)

(a) When a player catches the ball he can hop it with one or both hands once against the ground, and can then catch it again, but must kick it without any further hop. If a player infringe this rule, the referee shall award a free kick where the foul occurred, to the opposing side.

(b) When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop. If a player infringe this rule the referee shall award a free kick, where the foul occurred, to the opposing side.

(c) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to kick it or fist it away, or take more than four paces while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free kick from where the foul occurred.

If a player lifts the ball from the ground with his hand the opposing side shall have a free kick from where the foul occurred.

14 Ball out of Play — If the ball strike a bystander standing inside the line (except the Referee) it shall be out of play, and must be thrown in from the side line, as directed in Rule 11. If it occur at the goal line it shall be also out of play, and shall be kicked out from goal. The referee may allow a point, a goal, or a fifty yards kick in the latter case should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored but for the ball being stopped or that a fifty yards free would have been forfeited.

15 Foul Play — Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with, except he be in the act of playing the ball. Tripping is throwing, or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind him, putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball, and thus throwing him, shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free kick.

Moving to play the ball shall be considered the act of playing it.
Should a player from each side foul at the same time the referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred

Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul

In awarding free kicks for foul play the Referee shall give the free —

(1) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball
(2) If the player succeeds in playing the ball -

(a) From where the ball dropped if it fall outside the 50 yards line
(b) From a point on the 50 yards line opposite where the ball drops, when the foul takes place outside the 50 yards line and the ball drops between that line and the goal line
(c) Where foul occurred when it takes place between the 50 yards line and goal line

The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, shall be deemed a foul, or

Should a player be fouled after he has delivered the ball, a free kick shall be given from where the ball was played to, unless that it falls between the 50 yards line and the goal line, when the free shall be given on the line if foul were outside this line, or where foul occurred if it took place between the 50 yards line and the goal line

16 Rough Play — In the case of rough or dangerous play the Referee shall also caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution the Referee shall also rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County Contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player, once ordered off the ground by the Referee, shall, under any circumstances, be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be also at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the Referee may award the match to the opposite team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification at discretion of Referee. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match

Should a player who has been ordered off the ground again join in a game the Referee shall award the opposing side the match. A caution is necessary only in cases where, while the play is not actually an infringement of the rules, it is such that it may be calculated to cause injury to an opponent. For deliberate violation of these rules a caution is not necessary.

17 Injured Player – The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player.

18 Weight and Size of Ball – The weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces, size, 27 to 29 inches in circumference. No 5 match ball.

19 Insulting Referee – Any player threatening or insulting the Referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification.

20 Leaving the Field – A team leaving the field without permission of the Referee forfeits the match.

21 Failure to Play – A team failing to carry out a Championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match.

22 Colours – Teams are requested to wear distinctive colours and register them.

23 Nails, &c – Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes, or iron tips on their boots.

24 Darkness – If a game has to be stopped owing to darkness, it must be replayed for the full time.

The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball strike a bystander at the goal line, the Referee may allow a point, or a goal, or a 50 yards free if he considers the ball would have passed either through the goal or point space or a fifty yards puck would have been forfeited but for the ball having been thus stopped. Should the ball be played through the goal line by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the points, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Puck Out - When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out by one of the defending side from within the square opposite the goal, no player from the opposite side to approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball is pucked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in pucking out from goal.
Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards mark when the ball is being puck ed from goal, the side taking the puck out shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite to where the player infringing the rule stood 10 Free Pucks - When the rules are broken the Referee shall allow a free puck. In free pucks, except the puck from the goal, the ball must not be taken in hand. No player to approach nearer than twenty-one yards until the ball is puck ed, but if the free puck is allowed nearer than twenty-one yards to the goal line, the defending players must stand on that line or 21 yards away. In any free pucks, except the free puck from the goal, the ball can be struck in two ways only: (1) Strike the ball on the ground, (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken into the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken the opposing side shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood. Should the player who took the free puck touch the ball again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where foul occurred.

In all free pucks other than side line pucks the ball must be lifted and struck at first effort. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he can strike it on the ground. The ball must be puck ed before the opposing team can charge.

The Referee must bring back the ball to the 14 yards line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram and entitling the attacking side to a free puck.

A player taking a free puck near the goal line or side line may stand outside when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck, after the Referee has signalled, by a player of the side having the free puck.

11 Side Puck - When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crosses the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck, and no score can be made unless the ball be played by another player other than the striker.

If a player of either side stand nearer than 10 yards to the player who is puck ing in the ball a free puck shall be given the opposing team where the foul took place.

The puck-in must be taken from the point indicated by the linesman, and while standing.

If the player who puck ed in the ball touch it before another player has touched it the opposing team shall have a free puck from where foul took place.

12 Fifty Yards Free Puck - If the ball is played across the goal line outside the point posts by a player whose goal line it is, no matter in what direction the ball was previously travelling, the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the goal line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the goal line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 50 yards free puck.

13 The Play - The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it.
If a player lifts the ball from the ground with his hand the opposing side shall be awarded a free puck

14 Ball Out of Play - If the ball strike a bystander standing inside the line (except the Referee) it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line, as directed in Rule 11. If it occur at the goal line it shall be also out of play, and shall be pucked out from goal. The Referee may allow a point, a goal, or a fifty yards puck in the latter case should he consider that a point or goal would have been scored but for the ball being stopped, or that a fifty yards free would have been forfeited.

15 Foul Play - Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with, except he be in the act of playing the ball. No player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player. Tripping is throwing, or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind him, putting the leg or hurley from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball, and thus throwing him, shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

Moving to play the ball shall be considered the act of playing it.

In awarding free pucks for foul or rough play, the referee shall give the free -

(1) If the player were prevented playing the ball from where foul occurred
(2) If the player succeeds in playing the ball -

(a) From where the ball dropped if it fall outside the 50 yards line.
(b) From a point on the 50 yards line opposite where the ball drops, when the foul takes place outside the 50 yards line and the ball drops between that line and the goal line.
(c) Where foul occurred when it takes place between the 50 yards line and goal line.

Should a player be fouled after he has delivered the ball, a free puck shall be awarded from where the ball drops, unless it falls between the 50 yards line and goal line, when the free shall be given on the line if foul were outside this line, or where foul occurred if it took place between the 50 yards line and goal line.

16 Rough Play - In the case of rough or dangerous play the Referee shall also caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution the Referee shall also rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player, once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall, under any circumstances, be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be also at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the Referee may award the match to the opposite team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification at discretion of Referee. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, shall be deemed a foul, or

Reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul.

Should a player who has been ordered off the ground again join in a game, the referee shall award the opposing side the match. A caution is necessary only in cases where, while the play is not actually a direct infringement of the rules, it is such that it may be calculated to cause injury to an opponent. For deliberate violation of these rules a caution is not necessary.

17 Injured Player - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player.

18 Weight and Size of Ball - The weight of the ball shall be from 6 to 7 ounces, size 11 1/2 to 12 1/2 inches in circumference.

19 Insulting Referee - Any player threatening or insulting the Referee shall be suspended for not less than 12 months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification.

20 Leaving the Field - A team leaving the field without permission of the Referee forfeits the match.

21 Failure to Play - A team failing to carry out a Championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match.

22 Colours - Teams are required to wear distinctive colours and register them.

23 Nails &c - Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes, or iron tips on their boots.

24 Darkness - If a game has to be stopped owing to darkness, it must be replayed for the full time.

RULES OF CONTROL
FOR FOOTBALL & HURLING
(1907-08-09)
(In a section of Official Guide separate from Playing Rules)

REFEREE, LINESMEN & UMPIRES

1 In all matches a Referee, two Linesmen and four Goal Umpires shall be appointed.

2 The Referee's decision on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final. Players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk, for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding shall be perfectly valid. The Referee shall give his decision in writing, if requested, to the captains of the respective teams before leaving the ground.

3 The Referee shall blow his whistle in the following cases,-
   (a) When he allows a decision given by a linesman
   (b) When he allows a score, having consulted the goal umpires
   (c) When he wishes to stop the game for any purpose
   (d) When half time or full time is up, he being the sole time-keeper, having sole power to allow extra time for delays
   (e) The game shall be stopped whenever the Referee blows his whistle, even though he infringes the rules in doing so.

4 The Referee's decision as to time shall be final.

5 The Referee shall keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of the players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct. This, especially in regard to rough play, is imperative.

6 When the Referee stops the game for any purpose he shall re-start it by hopping or throwing in the ball amongst the players.

7 A Referee having given a decision, after sounding his whistle, cannot under any circumstances alter it.

8 It shall be the Referee's duty to see that all free kicks or pucks, kicks-out, or pucks-out, and throws-in, or pucks from side-line, are properly taken.

9 In free-kicks or pucks the ball shall not be kicked or pucked until a signal is given by the Referee.

10 Where linesmen cannot determine which team is entitled to a throw-in or side puck, the Referee shall throw in the ball himself.

11 The Referee may, if he sees fit, consult the umpires and linesmen on any dispute which may arise in connection with the game.

12 Any player threatening or insulting the Referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council, according to which body is in control of the match.

13 If the ball strike a bystander standing inside the line (except the Referee) it shall... be out of play, and must be thrown in or pucked from side line. If it occur at the end line it shall be also out of play, and shall be kicked or pucked out from the goal. The Referee may allow a point, a goal, or a fifty yards' kick in the latter case should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored but for being thus stopped, or that the ball would have crossed the end line.

14 In the event of the Referee duly appointed being unable to act, it shall be competent for the Secretary of a County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council to select and appoint a referee.

15 There shall be two linesmen appointed by the Referee, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in or puck-in. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown. Linesmen shall keep outside the side lines.

16 There shall be two goal umpires at each end of the ground, appointed by the Referee. One shall stand outside each goal post, and their sole duty (also subject to the Referee's decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points and to decide when the ball is over the end line.

17 Referees, linesmen, and goal umpires are bound to give a decision one way or the other when appealed to, and all disputes must be decided on the spot.

BETTING AND GAMBLING

Betting men shall not be allowed on the grounds where hurling, football, or athletic sports are being held, and any member of County Committees, Hurling or Football League, Provincial or Central Council, shall be empowered to have them ejected, and any member of the GAA found betting shall be suspended. Committees holding Athletic fixtures where this rule is not enforced shall be suspended, and not be eligible for office for two years, and Handicappers who fail to report a breach of this rule at Sports shall be deprived of their licenses for like period.

NOTE - This Rule can be effectively enforced if the following simple conditions prescribed by the Street Betting Act be fulfilled:

PLAN OF FOOTBALL GROUND AND PLACING OF TEAM

Railing or Enclosure, 10 yards from Goal line.

Diagram 13

From Official Guide 1907, 08, 09
1. Size of Ground. – The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 170 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

2. Marking of Ground. – Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the Turf. Lines indicating 14 yards, 21 yards, 50 yards and half-way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corners of the ground shall be marked with flags.

3. Scoring Space. – In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

5. Number of Players. – The players shall be seventeen aside in inter-county matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be seventeen players on each side. The teams failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match. (County Committees have power to make a bye-law that teams competing in their Championship and League matches may consist of any number of players from thirteen to seventeen inclusive, but in the event of a County Committee failing to make a bye-law on the point, it shall be quite legal for either or both teams to commence and finish a match with any number of players not less than thirteen or more than seventeen.)

6. Commencing Play. – The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others who must be behind the 50 yards' lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall catch an opponent’s hand. The Referee shall throw the ball high up over the heads of the players who shall then separate.

7. Duration of Play. – The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever, by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators or other causes, he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free kick to be taken. No score to count from such free kick unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall still further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in it must be replayed.
for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in starting or playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge can award the match to the opposing team.

8. Scores. – A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland and as far as possible in Inter-County and County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the cross-bar.
The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9. The Kick-out. – When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, or through the scoring space by the defending team, it shall be kicked out from off the ground within the parallelogram irrespective of whether a score is allowed or disallowed. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run, and may run in any direction he may think desirable. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has left the parallelogram. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out.

NOTE – Should the player taking the kick-out place the ball outside the parallelogram, the opposing side shall have a free kick 50 yards out from the goal. The player taking the kick-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10. Free Kick. – The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked. If a free kick is allowed nearer than 14 yards from the goal line, the players must stand on the goal line or 14 yards away. The kicker must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free kick may be in any direction.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where he stood.
Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where

foul occurred

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 14 yards line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram and entitling the attacking side to a free kick

(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched, after the Referee has whistled, by a player of the side having the free kick.

11. The Play. — The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction, but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it or fist it away. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked by letting it drop from the hands and kicking it, either before it touches the ground (“punting”) or immediately after it touches the ground (“drop-kicking”). The ball, on being caught, must be either kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground, but not more than once. The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand. The goal-keeper, within the parallelogram may touch the ball while on the ground with his hands. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it in play.

Notes - (1) When a player catches the ball he can hop it with one or both hands once against the ground and can then catch it again, but must kick it without any further hop. If a player infringes this rule the Referee shall award a free kick to the opposing team where the foul occurred.

(2) When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop. Should a player infringe this rule the Referee shall award a free kick where the foul occurred to the opposing team.

(3) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it, or fist it away, or take more than four steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free kick from where foul occurred.

(4) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with the hand, the opposing side shall have a free kick from where foul occurred.

(5) Entering the Parallelogram — This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or back before the ball enters. Should a player of the opposing team enter it before the ball enters it during play, the defending side shall have a free kick, to be taken from where the ball was when foul took place. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play.

12. Throw-In. — When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the thrower-in must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The thrower-in must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player.
players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is throwing in the ball, a free kick shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.

(2) If the player who is throwing in the ball stands inside the side line or throws the ball by the lace or thong, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where the foul took place.

(3) If the player who throws in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free kick from where the foul took place.

13. Fifty Yards Free Kick. - If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts* by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

(* See Rule 3 - There are no points posts now)

In the case of rough or dangerous play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or without any caution in the case of violent conduct or improper language, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County matches, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match.

Notes - (1) Moving to play the ball shall be considered the act of playing it.

(2) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred.

(3) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
(4) In awarding free kicks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free-

(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball

(b) If the player succeeds in playing the ball-

1. From where the ball dropped if it fall outside the 50 yards line

2. From a point on the 50 yards line opposite where the ball drops, when the foul takes place outside the 50 yards line and the ball drops between that line and the end line

3. Where foul occurred when it takes place between the 50 yards line and end line

(5) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul

(6) If the ball cross the side line the free kick shall be given where the ball crossed the line

(7) Should a player who has been ordered off the ground again join in a game the referee shall award the opposing side the match. A caution is necessary only in cases where, while the play is not a direct infringement of the rules, it is such that it may be calculated to cause injury to an opponent. For deliberate violation of these rules a caution is not necessary

15. Ball out of Play - If the ball strikes a bystander standing inside the side-line it shall be out of play, and must be thrown in from the side line as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at the end line, it shall also be out of play, and must be kicked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal or a 50 yards free kick, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored or that a 50 yards free kick would have been forfeited.

16. Injured Player - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute.

The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate

7. Duration of Play. – The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free puck to be taken. No score to count from such free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in starting or playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge can award the match to the opposing team.

8. Scores. – A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, and as far as possible in Inter-County and County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts, and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar would have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the cross-bar.

The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9. The Puck-out. – When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, or through the scoring space by the defending team, it shall be puck out from within the parallelogram, irrespective of whether the score is allowed or disallowed. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball must be puck out from off the ground within the parallelogram.

No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 12 yards* line until the ball has left the parallelogram. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in puck out.

Notes – Should the player taking the puck-out place the ball outside the parallelogram, the opposing side shall have a free puck 70 yards out from the goal. The player taking the puck out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

(* This should be ‘21 yards line’)

10. Free Pucks. – The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be puck until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is puck. If a free puck is allowed nearer than 21 yards from the goal line, the players must stand on the goal line or 21 yards away. The player who puck the ball shall not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A Free puck may be in any direction in all free pucks other than side line pucks, the ball shall be struck in two ways only – (1) Strike the ball on the ground. (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood. Should the player who took the free puck touch the ball again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where foul occurred.

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram and entringing the attacking side to a free puck.

(3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge.

(4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, the opposing team shall have a free puck.

(5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck — after the Referee has whistled — by a player of the side having the free puck.

11. The Play. — The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it.

Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.

(2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.

(5)* Entering the Parallelogram — This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters. Should a player of the opposing team enter it before the ball enters it during play, the defending side shall have a free puck to be taken from where ball was when foul took place. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play.

(*This should read ‘(3)’ See Rule 11 Football.)

12. Side Puck. — When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck, and no score can be made unless the ball be played by another player other than the striker. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed, and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position.

Notes — (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is puckering the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred

(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place.

(3) If the player who pucks in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place.

13. Seventy Yards Free Puck. – If the ball is played across the endline outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes - (1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.

(2) Should the player who is taking the seventy yards free puck foul when doing so, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

Striking a player’s hurley unless he be in the act of striking at the ball shall be a foul.

In the case of rough or dangerous play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in the case of County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player or using irritating language to players or officials, shall at once be ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

Notes - (1) Moving to play the ball shall be considered the act of playing it.

(2) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the referee shall throw in the ball where foul occurred.

(3) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.

(4) In awarding free pucks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free-
(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball

(b) If the player succeeds in playing the ball, from where the ball dropped

(5) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul

(6) Should a player be fouled after he has delivered the ball, a free puck shall be given from where the ball was played to. If the ball cross the side line it shall be given where the ball crossed the line

(7) Should a player who has been ordered off the field again join in a game, the Referee shall award the opposing side the match. A caution is necessary only in cases where, while the play is not a direct infringement of the rules, it is such that it may be calculated to cause injury to an opponent. For deliberate violation of these rules a caution is not necessary

15. Ball out of Play.- If the ball strikes a bystander standing inside the side line it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at end line, it shall also be out of play and must be pucked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal or a 70 yards free puck, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored or that a 70 yards free puck would have been forfeited

16. Injured Player.- The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute

17. Weight and Size of Ball. – The weight of the ball shall be from 6 to 7 ounces, size, 11 1/2 to 12 1/2 inches in circumference

18. Leaving the field - A team or an individual leaving the field without the Referee’s permission becomes automatically suspended for six months and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty

19. Failure to Play.- A team failing to carry out a championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match

20. Colours. – Teams are required to wear distinctive colours and register them

21. Nails, &c. – Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes or iron tips on their boots

RULES OF CONTROL FOR FOOTBALL & HURLING

(In separate Section of O G from Playing Rules)

REFEREE, LINESMEN & UMPIRES

1 In all matches a Referee, two Linesmen and four Goal Umpires shall be appointed

2 The Referee’s decision on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final. Players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk, for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding shall be perfectly valid. The Referee shall give his decision in writing, if requested, to the captains of the respective teams before leaving the ground.

3. The Referee shall blow his whistle in the following cases:--
   (a) When he allows a decision given by a linesman.
   (b) When he allows a score, having consulted the goal umpires.
   (c) When he wishes to stop the game for any purpose.
   (d) When half time or full time is up, he being the sole time-keeper, having sole power to allow extra time for delays.
   (e) The game shall be stopped whenever the Referee blows his whistle, even though he infringes the rules in doing so.

4. The Referee’s decision as to time shall be final.

5. The Referee shall keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of the players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct. This, especially in regard to rough play, is imperative.

6. When the Referee stops the game for any purpose he shall re-start it by hopping or throwing in the ball amongst the players.

7. A Referee having given a decision, after sounding his whistle, cannot under any circumstances alter it.

8. It shall be the Referee’s duty to see that all free kicks or pucks, kicks-out, or pucks-out, and throws-in, or pucks from side-line, are properly taken.

9. In free-kicks or pucks the ball shall not be kicked or pucked until a signal is given by the Referee.

10. Where linesmen cannot determine which team is entitled to a throw-in or side puck, the Referee shall throw in the ball himself.

11. The Referee may, if he sees fit, consult the umpires and linesmen on any dispute which may arise in connection with the game.

12. Any player threatening or insulting the Referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council, according to which body is in control of the match.

13. If the ball strike a bystander standing inside the line (except the Referee) it shall be out of play, and must be thrown in or pucked from side line. If it occur at the end line it shall be also out of play, and shall be kicked or pucked out from the goal. The Referee may allow a point, a goal, or a fifty yards’ kick in the latter case should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored but for being thus stopped, or that the ball would have crossed the end line.

14. In the event of the Referee duly appointed being unable to act, it shall be competent for the Secretary of a County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council to select and appoint a referee.

15. There shall be two linesmen appointed by the Referee, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in or puck-in. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown. Linesmen shall keep outside the side lines.
16 There shall be two goal umpires at each end of the ground, appointed by the Referee. One shall stand outside each goal post, and their sole duty (also subject to the Referee's decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points and to decide when the ball is over the end line.

17 Referees, linesmen, and goal umpires are bound to give a decision one way or the other when appealed to, and all disputes must be decided on the spot.

BETTING AND GAMBLING

Betting men shall not be allowed on the grounds where hurling, football, or athletic sports are being held, and any member of County Committees, Hurling or Football League, Provincial or Central Council, shall be empowered to have them ejected, and any member of the GAA found betting shall be suspended. Committees holding Athletic fixtures where this rule is not enforced shall be suspended, and not be eligible for office for two years, and Handicappers who fail to report a breach of this rule at Sports shall be deprived of their licenses for like period.

NOTE - This Rule can be effectively enforced if the following simple conditions prescribed by the Street Betting Act be fulfilled:
(1) Have printed notices posted up at the different entrances and in other conspicuous places, as well as inside the grounds, stating the Committee forbids betting and gambling of all kinds.
(2) Inform the local police this is being done and if an infringement occur they are bound to remove the offenders off the ground.

OFFICIAL GUIDE 1914-'15.

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a special committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910

1. Size of Ground. – The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 170 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide

2. Marking of Ground. – Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the turf, Lines indicating 14 yards, 21 yards, 50 yards and half-way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corners of the ground shall be marked with flags

3. Scoring Space. – In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground

4. Lines, 5 yards long and at right angles to the goal line, shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post The ends of these lines shall be joined so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space

5. Number of Players. – The players shall be fifteen aside in inter-county matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side The teams failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match (County Committees have power to make a bye-law that teams competing in their Championship and League matches may consist of any number of players from thirteen to fifteen inclusive, but in the event of a County Committee failing to make a bye-law on the point, it shall be quite legal for either or both teams to commence and finish a match with any number of players not less than thirteen or more than fifteen)

6. Commencing Play. – The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others who must be behind the 50 yards’ lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall catch an opponent’s hand The Referee shall throw the ball high up over the heads of the players who shall then separate for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in starting or playing, the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge can award the match to the opposing team.

8. Scores. – A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland and as far as possible in Inter-County and County Championship matches nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the cross-bar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal; if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9. The Kick-out. – When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, or through the scoring space by the defending team, it shall be kicked out from off the ground within the parallelogram. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run, and may run in any direction he may think desirable. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has left the parallelogram. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made the kick-out shall be from the 21 yards line; no players to stand nearer than 14 until the ball is kicked.

NOTE.– Should the player taking the kick-out place the ball outside the parallelogram, the opposing side shall have a free kick 50 yards out from the goal. The player taking the kick-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10. Free Kick. – The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked. If a free kick is allowed nearer than 14 yards from the goal line, the players must stand on the goal line or 14 yards away. The kicker must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free kick may be in any direction.

Notes:– (1) Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where he stood. Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where foul occurred.

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 14 yards line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram and entitling the attacking side to a free kick.

(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched, after the Referee has whistled, by a player of the side having the free kick.

11. The Play. – The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction, but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it or fist it away. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked by letting it drop from the hands and kicking it, either before it touches the ground (“punting”) or immediately after it touches the ground (“drop-kicking”). The ball, on being caught, must be either kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground, but not more than once. The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand. The goal-keeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hands. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it in play.

Notes - (1) When a player catches the ball he can hop it with one or both hands once against the ground and can then catch it again, but must kick it without any further hop. If a player infringes this rule the Referee shall award a free kick to the opposing team where the foul occurred.

(2) When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop. Should a player infringe this rule the Referee shall award a free kick where the foul occurred to the opposing team.

(3) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it, or fist it away, or take more than four steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free kick from where foul occurred.

(4) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with the hand, the opposing side shall have a free kick from where foul occurred. It shall be permissible for a player knocked to the ground, in possession of the ball, to fist it away, even though it be on the ground.

(5) Entering the Parallelogram – This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or back before the ball enters. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play.

(6) When a score is disallowed for an infringement of the parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick from within the parallelogram.
12 Throw-In.- When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the thrower-in must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The thrower-in must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player. All players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is throwing in the ball, a free kick shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.

(2) If the player who is throwing in the ball stands inside the side line or throws the ball by the lace or thong, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where the foul took place.

(3) If the player who throws in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free kick from where the foul took place.

13. Fifty Yards Free Kick. – If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts* by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

Note – The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

In the case of rough or dangerous play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or without any caution in the case of violent conduct or improper language, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County matches, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match

Notes -
(1) Moving to play the ball shall be considered the act of playing it.
(2) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred.
(3) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
(4) In awarding free kicks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free-
(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball.
(b) When a man is fouled and succeeds in playing the ball the Referee may allow the game to continue.
(5) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not

5. Number of Players. — The players shall be fifteen aside in inter-county matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen player on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match. (County Committees have power to make a bye-law that teams competing in their Championship and League matches may consist of any number of players from thirteen to fifteen inclusive, but in the event of a County Committee failing to make a bye-law on the point, it shall be quite legal for either or both teams to commence and finish a match with any number of players not less than thirteen or more than fifteen.)

6. Commencing Play. — The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others, who must be behind the 70 yards lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall place his hurley across an opponent’s. The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate.

7. Duration of Play. — The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free puck to be taken. No score to count from such free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in starting or playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge can award the match to the opposing team.

8. Scores. - A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, and as far as possible in Inter-County and County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

9. The Puck-out. - When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, or through the scoring space by the defending team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has left the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball must be pucked from the ground within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 12 yards* line until the ball has left the parallelogram. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in puckmg out.

Notes - Should the player taking the puck-out place the ball outside the parallelogram, the opposing side shall have a free puck 70 yards out from the goal. The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

(* This should be '21 yards line'.)

10. Free Pucks. - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards till the ball is pucked. If a free puck is allowed nearer than 21 yards from the goal line, the players must stand on the goal line or 21 yards away. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A Free puck may be in any direction. In all free pucks other than side-line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only - (1) Strike the ball on the ground (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram and entitling the attacking side to a free puck

(3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge

(4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, the opposing team shall have a free puck

(5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck — after the Referee has whistled — by a player of the side having the free puck

11. The Play. — The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it

Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred

(2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred

(3) Entering the Parallelogram — This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play

(4) When a score is disallowed for an infringement of the parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free puck from within the parallelogram

12. Side Puck. — When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck, and no score can be made unless the ball be played by another player other than the striker The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed, and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is pucking in the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from
where the foul occurred

(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place.

(3) If the player who pucks in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place.

13. Seventy Yards Free Puck. — If the ball is played across the endline outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes - (1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.

(2) Should the player who is taking the seventy yards free puck foul when doing so, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

14. Foul and Rough Play. — Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind him. Putting the leg or hurley from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

Striking a player’s hurley unless he be in the act of striking at the ball shall be a foul.

In the case of rough or dangerous play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in the case of County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player or using irritating language to players or officials, shall at once be ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

Notes -(1) Moving to play the ball shall be considered the act of playing it.

(2) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the referee shall throw in the ball where foul occurred.

(3) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.

(4) In awarding free pucks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free-

(7) Should a player who has been ordered off the field again join in a game, the Referee shall award the opposing side the match. A caution is necessary only in cases where, while the play is not a direct infringement of the rules, it is such that it may be calculated to cause injury to an opponent. For deliberate violation of these rules a caution is not necessary

15. Ball out of Play.- If the ball strikes a bystander standing inside the side line it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at end line, it shall also be out of play and must be pucked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal or a 70 yards free puck, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored or that a 70 yards free puck would have been forfeited.

16. Injured Player.- The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute.

17. Weight and Size of Ball. – The weight of the ball shall be from 6 to 7 ounces, size, 11 1/2 to 12 1/2 inches in circumference.

FOOTBALL RULES

(OFFICIAL GUIDE 1923-1924)

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a special committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910.

1 Size of Ground. - The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 170 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

2 Marking of Ground. - Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the Turf. Lines indicating 14 yards, 21 yards, 50 yards and half-way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corners of the ground shall be marked with flags.

3 Scoring Space. - In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

4 Lines, 5 yards long and at right angles to the goal line, shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The ends of these lines shall be joined so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

5 Number of Players. - The players shall be fifteen aside in inter-county matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match (County Committees have power to make a bye-law that teams competing in their Championship and League matches may consist of any number of players from thirteen to fifteen inclusive, but in the event of a County Committee failing to make a bye-law on the point, it shall be quite legal for either or both teams to commence and finish a match with any number of players not less than thirteen or more than fifteen).

6 Commencing Play. - The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others who must be behind the 50 yards' lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall catch an opponent's hand. The Referee shall throw the ball high up over the heads of the players who shall then separate.

7 Duration of Play. - The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever, by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators or other causes, he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free kick to be taken. No score to count from such free kick unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall still further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in starting or playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge can award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. - A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland and as far as possible in Inter-County and County Championship matches nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

9 The Kick-out. - When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team it shall be kicked out from off the ground within the parallelogram. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run, and may run in any direction he may think desirable. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has left the parallelogram. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made the kick-out shall be from the 21 yards line, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

NOTE - The player taking the kick-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10 Free Kick - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked. If a free kick is allowed nearer than 14 yards from the goal line, the players must stand on the goal line or 14 yards away. The kicker must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free kick may be in any direction.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where he stood. Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where foul occurred.
The Play. - The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction, but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it or fist it away. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked by letting it drop from the hands and kicking it, either before it touches the ground ("punting") or immediately after it touches the ground ("drop-kicking"). The ball, on being caught, must be either kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground, but not more than once. The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand. The goal-keeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hands. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it in play.

Notes - (1) When a player catches the ball, he can hop it with one or both hands once against the ground and can then catch it again, but must kick it without any further hop. If a player infringes this rule, the Referee shall award a free kick to the opposing team where the foul occurred.

(2) When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop. Should a player infringe this rule, the Referee shall award a free kick where the foul occurred to the opposing team.

(3) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it, or fist it away, or take more than four steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free kick from where the foul occurred.

(4) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with the hand, the opposing side shall have a free kick from where the foul occurred. It shall be permissible for a player knocked to the ground, in possession of the ball, to fist it away even though it be on the ground.

(5) Entering the Parallelogram - This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or back before the ball enters. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in parallelogram.

(6) When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule, the defending side shall take a free kick from within parallelogram.

12. Throw-In.- When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in... from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the thrower-in must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The thrower-in must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player. All players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is throwing in the ball, a free kick shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.

(2) If the player who is throwing in the ball stands inside the side line or throws the ball by the lace or thong, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where the foul took place.

(3) If the player who throws in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free kick from where the foul took place.

13. Fifty Yards Free Kick. - If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts* by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

(OFFICIAL GUIDE 1923-24)

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a special committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910

1. Size of Ground. – The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 170 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide

2. Marking of Ground. – Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 21 yards, 70 yards and half-way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.

3. Scoring Space. – In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

4. Lines, 5 yards long and at right angles to the goal line shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The ends of these lines shall be joined so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

5. Number of Players. – The players shall be fifteen aside in inter-county matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there fifteen player on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match. (County Committees have power to make a bye-law that teams competing in their Championship and League matches may consist of any number of players from thirteen to fifteen inclusive, but in the event of a County Committee failing to make a bye-law on the point, it shall be quite legal for either or both teams to commence and finish a match with any number of players not less than thirteen or more than fifteen.)

6. Commencing Play – The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others, who must be behind the 70 yards’ lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall place his hurley across an opponent’s. The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate.

7. Duration of Play. – The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free puck to be taken. No score to count from such free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is... terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time.
Should any team cause such deliberate delay in starting or playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge can award the match to the opposing team.

8. Scores. - A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, and as far as possible in Inter-County and County Championship matches nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts, and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar would have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the cross-bar.
The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9. The Puck-out - When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The Player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball must be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has left the parallelogram. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in pucking out.

Note - The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10. Free Pucks. - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. If a free puck is allowed nearer than 21 yards from the goal line, the players must stand on the goal line or 21 yards away. The player who puckst must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A Free puck may be in any direction. In all free pucks other than side line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only: (1) Strike the ball on the ground. (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram and entitling the attacking side to a free puck

(3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge

(4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred

(5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck — after the Referee has whistled — by a player of the side having the free puck

11. The Play. — The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it

Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred

(2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred

(3) Entering the Parallelogram — This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score shall be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were inside parallelogram

12. Side Puck. — When a player drives the ball over the side line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck, and no score can be made unless the ball be played by another player other than the striker. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed, and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is pucking in the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred

(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place

(3) If the player who pucks in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place

13. Seventy Yards Free Puck. - If the ball is played across the endline outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes - (1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.

(2) Should the player who is taking the seventy yards free puck foul when doing so, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

14. Foul and Rough Play. - Pushing, kicking, tripping, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with, except he be in the act of playing the ball. No player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind him. Putting the leg or hurley from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm. Striking a player's hurley unless he be in the act of striking at the ball shall be a foul. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

In the case of rough or dangerous play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in the case of County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall at once be ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

Notes - (1) Moving to play the ball shall be considered the act of playing it.

(2) Should a player from each side foul at the same time the referee shall throw in the ball where foul occurred.

(3) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.

(4) In awarding free pucks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free-

(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball.
(b) When a man is fouled and succeeds in playing the ball, the Referee may allow the game to proceed

(c) When a player is fouled after delivery a free puck is given where the ball lands if it be outside 50 yards mark or on a point on the 50 yards mark opposite where it landed if it be inside the 50 yards mark

(5) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul

(6) Should a player be fouled after he has delivered the ball, a free puck shall be given from where the ball was played to. If the ball cross the side line it shall be given where the ball crossed the line

(7) Should a player who has been ordered off the field again join in a game, the Referee shall award the opposing side the match. A caution is necessary only in cases where, while the play is not a direct infringement of the rules, it is such that it may be calculated to cause injury to an opponent. For deliberate violation of these rules a caution is not necessary

15. Ball out of Play - If the ball strikes a bystander standing inside the side line it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at end line, it shall also be out of play and must be pucked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal or a 70 yards free puck, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored or that a 70 yards free puck would have been forfeited.

16. Injured Player.- The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute.

17. Weight and Size of Ball. – The weight of the ball shall be from 6 to 7 ounces, size, 9 to 11 inches in circumference.

18. Leaving the field.- A team or an individual leaving the field without the Referee’s permission becomes automatically suspended for six months and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty.

19. Failure to Play.- A team failing to carry out a championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match.

20. Colours. – Teams are required to wear distinctive colours and register them.

21. Nails, &c. – Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes or iron tips on their boots.

The Goal Umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both Flags and holding them crossed.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick from within parallelogram.

14 Throw-In - When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the player throwing in the ball must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The player throwing in the ball must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player, all players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick

A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match.

Notes - (1) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the Referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred.
(2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.

17 Ball out of Play.- If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line it shall be out of play, and must be thrown in from the side-line, as directed in Rule 14. If it occurs at the end line, it shall also be out of play, and must be kicked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal or 50 yards free kick should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick would have been forfeited

The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the player throwing in the ball must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The player throwing in the ball must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player, all players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

15 Fifty Yards Free Kick.—If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

   Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing.
Directions to Umpires -
(a) A "wide" or "over" is indicated by waving one or both hands
(b) A fifty yards' kick is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed the umpire holding up one hand pointing forward in the direction of the fifty yards' line
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or without any caution in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County matches, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match.

When a player is ordered off the field by the referee for striking another player he shall be suspended for a minimum period of three months. (See p. 199 O.G. 1932-33) (This penalty was decided at Congress of 1931 and was to become operative w.e.f 9th May, 1931. However, this rule eventually found its way into the appropriate part of the Official Guide, as Rule 8 a in 1938. A year later, an "Abridged and Rearranged" version of the the Official Guide gave the penalty for this offence as one month.)

Note - (1) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the Referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred.
(2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
(3) In awarding free kicks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free-
(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball
(b) When a player is fouled after delivery a free kick shall be given where ball lands (except a score is made, which is allowed). Should the ball cross the end or side line a free shall be given where the foul occurred.
(4) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of

--- 134 ---
(5) Should a player who has been ordered off the ground again join the game the Referee shall award the opposing side the match.

17 Ball out of Play - If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line it shall be out of play, and must be thrown in from the side-line, as directed in Rule 14. If it occurs at the end-line, it shall also be out of play, and must be kicked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal or 50 yards free kick should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick would have been forfeited.

18 Injured Player - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute.

19 Weight and Size of Ball - The weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces, size, 27 to 29 inches in circumference. No 5 match ball.

20 Leaving the Field - A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee’s permission, becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty.

21 Nails etc. - Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes, or iron tips on their boots.

HURLING RULES
OFFICIAL GUIDE 1930-31

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a special committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910, and revised by a special committee appointed at Annual Congress, 1925.

1 The Field of Play - The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 170 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

2 Marking of Ground - Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 21, yards, 70 yards and half way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.
3 Scoring Space. – In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

5 Number of Players. – The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match.

6 Commencing Play. – The Referee, in consultation with the Officials of Council, or County Committee present for the match, shall in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the other players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others, who must be behind the 70 yards’ lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall place his hurley across across an opponent’s. The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate.

7 Duration of Play. – The time for actual play is one hour. Sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever, by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free puck to be taken. No score to count from such free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall still further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game, that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. – A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar would have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Puck-out.- When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball must be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in pucking out.

   Note - (1) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred.

   (2) The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10 Free Pucks.- The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free puck may be in any direction. In all free pucks other than side line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only - (1) Strike the ball on the ground. (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

   Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood.

   (2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring inside the 21 yards line, and entitling the attacking side to a free puck.

   (3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge.

   (4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

   (5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck - after the Referee has whistled - by a player of the side having the free puck.

11 The Play. - The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying.
Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.
(2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.
(3) Entering the Parallelogram – This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or back before the ball enters. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were inside parallelogram.
(4) When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free puck from within parallelogram.

12 Side Puck. - When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed, and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position.

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is puckering in the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.
(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place.
(3) If the player who puckers in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place.

13 Seventy Yards Free Puck - If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes - (1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.
(2) Should the player who is taking the seventy yards free puck foul when doing so, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

Directions to Umpires -

(a) A “wide” or “over” is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A seventy yards puck is indicated by standing on the endline where the ball crossed, the umpire holding up one hand, pointing forward in the direction of the seventy yards line

(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by the attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is allowed

14 Foul and Rough Play.—Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with, except he be in the act of moving to play the ball or playing it. No player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind him. Putting the leg or hurley from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm. Striking a player's hurley unless he be in the act of striking at the ball shall be a foul. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in the case of County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall at once be ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

When a player is ordered off the field for striking another player he shall be suspended for three months. (This penalty was passed by Congress in 1931 and should have been in operation w.e.f. 9th May, 1931. However, it was not inserted in the relevant rules till some years later. See Rule 8 a p 33 O G 1938. A year later, the "Abridged and Rearranged" version of the O G gives the penalty for this offence as one month.)

1. Should a player from each side foul at the same time the Referee shall throw in the ball where foul occurred.
2. Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
3. In awarding free pucks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free—
   a. From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player from playing the ball.
   b. When a player is fouled after delivery a free puck shall be given (except a score is made, which is allowed), where the ball lands if outside 70 yards mark or on a point on the 70 yards mark opposite where it landed if it be inside the 70 yards mark.
4. The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul.

(5) If the ball crosses the side line it shall be given where the ball crossed the line.

(6) Should a player who has been ordered off the field again join the game, the Referee shall award the opposing side the match.

15 Ball out of Play. - If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line, it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line, as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at end line, it shall also be out of play, and must be pucked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal, or a 70 yards free puck, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or a 70 free puck would have been forfeited.

16 Injured Player. - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute.

17 Weight and Size of Ball. - The weight of the ball shall be from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 ounces, size, 9 to 10 inches in circumference.

18 Leaving the Field. - A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee's permission becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty.

19 Failure to Play - A team failing to carry out a championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match.

20 Nails, etc. - Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes or iron tips on their boots.

REFEREE, LINESMEN AND UMPIRES

1. In all matches a Referee, two Linesmen and four Goal Umpires shall be appointed.

2. The Referee's decision on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final. Players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk, for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding shall be perfectly valid. The Referee shall give his decision in writing, if requested, to the captains of the respective teams before leaving the ground.

3. The Referee's decision as to time shall be final.

4. The Referee shall keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of the players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct.

5. A Referee having given a decision, after sounding his whistle, cannot under any circumstances alter it.

6. In free-kicks or pucks the ball shall not be kicked or pucked until a signal is given by the Referee.

8 The Referee may, if he sees fit, consult the umpires and linesmen on any dispute which may arise in connection with the game.

9 Any player threatening or insulting the Referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council, according to which body is in control of the match.

10 In the event of the Referee duly appointed being unable to act, it shall be competent for the Secretary (or official in charge) of a County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council to select and appoint a referee.

11 There shall be two linesmen appointed by the Referee, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in or puck-in. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown. Linesmen shall keep outside the side lines.

12 There shall be two goal umpires, at each end of the ground, appointed by the Referee. One shall stand outside each goal post, and their sole duty (also subject to the Referee's decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points and to decide when the ball is over the end line. The goal umpires shall not change ends at half-time.

13 Referees, linesmen, and goal umpires are bound to give a decision one way or the other when appealed to, and all disputes must be decided on the spot.

7 Duration of Play.- The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever, by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes, he may think fit If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free kick to be taken No score to count from such free kick unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall still further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in it must be replayed for the full time Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing side

8  Scores. – A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

9  The Kick-out. – When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team it shall be kicked out from off the ground within the parallelogram. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run, and may run in any direction he may think desirable. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been kicked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made the kick-out shall be a point on 21 yards line(sic), in front of the scoring space, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note -The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10  Free Kicks.– The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked. When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the parallelogram, a free shall be given on the 14 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where he stood. Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where foul occurred.

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the point on the 14 yards line opposite to where the foul occurred, for the foul occurring in the parallelogram, and entitling the attacking side to a free kick, all players, with the exception of the defending goal-keeper and player taking the kicks, to stand outside the 21 yards.
(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched, after the Referee has whistled, by a player of the side having the free kick.

11 The Play - The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction, but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground. The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goal-keeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hands. A player of the opposing team must not enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it in play.

Note - When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop.

12 The Goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

13 Entering the Parallelogram. - The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in parallelogram. The Goal Umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both Flags and holding them crossed.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick from within parallelogram.

14 Throw-In. - When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the player throwing in the ball must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The player throwing in the ball must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player, all players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

15 Fifty Yards Free Kick. - If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

Directions to Umpires -
(a) A “wide” or “over” is indicated by waving one or both hands
(b) A fifty yards’ kick is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed the umpire holding up one hand pointing forward in the direction of the fifty yards’ line
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score (sic) is disallowed

16 Foul and Rough Play - Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with unless he is moving to play the ball or in the act of playing the ball. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs or by stooping in front of or behind him. Putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball and thus throwing him shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or without any caution in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County matches, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match.

Note - (1) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the Referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred
(2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul
(3) In awarding free kicks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free –

(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball
(b) When a player is fouled after delivery a free kick shall be given where ball lands (except a score is made, which is allowed). Should the ball cross the end or side line a free shall be given where the foul occurred
(4) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul
(5) Should a player who has been ordered off the ground again join the game the Referee shall award the opposing side the match.

17 Ball out of Play. - If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line it shall be out of play, and must be thrown from the side-line, as directed in Rule 14. If it occurs at the end-line, it shall also be out of play, and must be kicked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal or 50 yards free kick should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick would have been forfeited.

18 Injured Player. - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute.

19 Weight and Size of Ball. - The weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces, size, 27 to 29 inches in circumference. No 5 match ball.

20 Leaving the Field. - A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee's permission, becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty.

HURLING RULES

OFFICIAL GUIDE 1932-33

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a Special Committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910, and revised by a Special Committee appointed at Annual Congress, 1925.

1 The Field of Play. - The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 170 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

2 Marking of Ground. - Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 21 yards, 70 yards and half way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.

3 Scoring Space - In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

4 Lines. - 5 yards long and at right angles to the goal line shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The ends of these lines shall be joined, so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring place.

5 Number of Players. - The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match

6 Commencing Play. – The Referee, in consultation with the Officials of Council, or County Committee present for the match, shall, in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others, who must be behind the 70 yards lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall place his hurley across an opponent's. The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate

7 Duration of Play. – The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He also shall have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free puck to be taken. No score to count from such free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. – A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar would have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee's opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Puck-out. – When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball must be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in puckin out.
Note - (1) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred

(2) The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10 Free Pucks. - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free puck may be in any direction. In all free pucks other than side line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only - (1) Strike the ball on the ground. (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood.

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring inside the 21 yards line, and entitling the attacking side to a free puck.

(3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge.

(4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

(5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck — after the Referee has whistled — by a player of the side having the free puck.

11 The Play. - The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying.

Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.

(2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand(sic), the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.

(3) Entering the Parallelogram - This rule shall be operative when the player... enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters.
The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were inside parallelogram.

(4) When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free puck from within parallelogram.

12 Side Puck.- When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line.
No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck, and no score can be made unless the ball be played by another player other than the striker. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed, and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position.

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is puckering the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.

(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place.

(3) If the player who puckers the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place.

13 Seventy Yards Free Puck.- If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line.
If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes - (1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.

(2) Should the player who is taking the seventy yards free puck foul when doing so, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

Directions to Umpires -
(a) A "wide" or "over" is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A seventy yards puck is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed, the umpire holding up one hand, pointing forward in the direction of the seventy yards line.
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by the attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is allowed (sic).

14 Foul and Rough Play.- Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with, except he be in the act of moving to play the ball or playing it. No player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front of or behind him. Putting the leg or hurley from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm. Striking a player's hurley unless he be in the act of striking at the ball shall be a foul. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in the case of County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall at once be ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

1) Should a player from each side foul at the same time the Referee shall throw in the ball where foul occurred.

2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.

3) In awarding free pucks for fouls or rough play, the Referee shall give the

(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player from playing the ball.

(b) When a player is fouled after delivery a free puck shall be given (except a score is made, which is allowed), where the ball lands if outside 70 yards mark or on a point on the 70 yards mark opposite where it landed if it be inside the 70 yards mark (sic).

4) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul.

5) If the ball cross th side line it shall be given where the ball crossed the line.

6) Should a player who has been ordered off the field again join the game, the Referee shall award the opposing side the match.

15 Ball out of Play.- If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line, it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line, as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at end line, it shall also be out of play, and must be pucked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal, or a 70 yards free puck, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored or that a 70 yards free puck would have been forfeited.

16 Injured Player. - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute.

17 Weight and Size of Ball. - The weight of the ball shall be from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 ounces; size 9 to 10 inches in circumference.

18. Leaving the Field. – A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee’s permission becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty.

19. Failure to Play. - A team failing to carry out a championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match.

20. Nails, etc. – Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes or iron tips on their boots.

REFEREE, LINESMEN, AND UMPIRES

1. In all matches a Referee, two Linesmen and four Goal Umpires shall be appointed.

2. The Referee’s decision on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final. Players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk; for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding shall be perfectly valid. The Referee shall give his decision in writing, if requested, to the captains of the respective teams before leaving the ground.

3. The Referee’s decision as to time shall be final.

4. The Referee shall keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of the players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct.

5. A Referee having given a decision, after sounding his whistle, cannot under any circumstances alter it.

6. In free-kicks or pucks the ball shall not be kicked or pucked until a signal is given by the Referee.

7. Where linesmen or referee cannot determine which team is entitled to a throw-in or side puck, the Referee shall throw in the ball himself.

8. The Referee may, if he sees fit, consult the umpires and linesmen on any dispute which may arise in connection with the game.

9. Any player threatening or insulting the Referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council, according to which body is in control of the match.

10. In the event of the Referee duly appointed being unable to act, it shall be competent for the Secretary (or official in charge) of a County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council to select and appoint a referee.

11. There shall be two linesmen appointed by the Referee, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in or puck-in. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown Linesmen shall keep outside the side lines

12 There shall be two goal umpires, at each end of the ground, appointed by the Referee One shall stand outside each goal post, and their sole duty (also subject to the Referee’s decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points and to decide when the ball is over the end line The goal umpires shall not change ends at half time

13 Referees, linesmen, and goal umpires are bound to give a decision one way or the other when appealed to, and all disputes must be decided on the spot

7 Duration of Play.- The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever, by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes, he may think fit. If necessary, he shall extend time of play to permit of a free kick to be taken. No score to count from such free kick unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall still further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. - A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the cross-bar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Kick-out.- When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be kicked out from off the ground within the parallelogram. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run, and may run in any direction he may think desirable. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been kicked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made the kick-out shall be a point on 21 yards line (sic), in front of the scoring space, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note: The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on.
the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood

10 Free Kicks - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked. When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the parallelogram, a free shall be given on the 14 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where he stood. Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where foul occurred.

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the point on the 14 yards line opposite to where the foul occurred, for a foul occurring in the parallelogram, and entitling the attacking side to a free kick, all players, with the exception of the defending goal-keeper and player taking the kicks, to stand outside the 21 yards line.

(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched, after the Referee has whistled, by a player of the side taking the free kick.

11 The Play. - The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction, but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground. The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goal-keeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hands. A player of the opposing team must not enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it in play.

Note - When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop.

12 The Goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent, or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

13 Entering the Parallelogram. - The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball returns before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in parallelogram. The Goal Umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both Flags and holding them crossed.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick from within parallelogram.
14 Throw-In.- When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the player throwing in the ball must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The player throwing in the ball must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player, all players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

15 Fifty Yards Free Kick - If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

Directions to Umpires -
(a) A “wide” or “over” is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A fifty yards’ kick is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed the umpire holding up one hand pointing forward in the direction of the fifty yards’ line.
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed.

16 Foul and Rough Play.- Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with unless he is moving to play the ball or in the act of playing the ball. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs or by stooping in front of or behind him. Putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball and thus throwing him shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or without any caution in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County matches, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match.

Note - (1) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the Referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred.
(2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
(3) In awarding free kicks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free –

(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball

(b) When a player is fouled after delivery a free kick shall be given where ball lands (except a score is made, which is allowed) Should the ball cross the end or side line a free shall be given where the foul occurred

(4) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul

(5) Should a player who has been ordered off the ground again join the game the Referee shall award the opposing side the match

17 Ball out of Play. - If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line it shall be out of play, and must be thrown in from the side-line, as directed in Rule 14 If it occurs at the end-line, it shall also be out of play, and must be kicked out from the parallelogram The Referee may allow a point or a goal or 50 yards free kick should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick would have been forfeited

OFFICIAL GUIDE 1934-35

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a Special Committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910, and revised by a Special Committee appointed at Annual Congress, 1925

1 The Field of Play. - The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 170 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide

2 Marking of Ground - Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 21 yards, 70 yards and half way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags

3 Scoring Space. - In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground

5 Number of Players. - The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match

6 Commencing Play. - The Referee, in consultation with the Officials of Council, or County Committee present for the match, shall, in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others, who must be behind the 70 yards lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall place his hurley across an opponent's. The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate

7 Duration of Play. - The time for actual play is one hour. Sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He also shall have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free puck to be taken. No score to count from such free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.
8 Scores. - A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar would have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee's opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Puck-out - When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball must be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in pucking out.

Note - (1) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred.
(2) The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10 Free Pucks. - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free puck may be in any direction. In all free pucks other than side line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only - (1) Strike the ball on the ground. (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood.
(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring inside the 21 yards line, and entitling the attacking side to a free puck.
(3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge.

(4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

(5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck - after the Referee has whistled - by a player of the side having the free puck.

11 The Play. - The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying.

Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.

(2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand(sic), the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.

(3) Entering the Parallelogram - This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball returns before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were inside parallelogram.

(4) When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free puck from within parallelogram.

12 Side Puck.- When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position.

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is puckin the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.

(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place

(3) If the player who pucks in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place

13 Seventy Yards Free Puck.- If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts(sic) by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes - (1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it

(2) Should the player who is taking the seventy yards free puck foul when doing so, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team

Directions to Umpires -
(a) A "wide" or "over" is indicated by waving one or both hands

(b) A seventy yards puck is indicated by standing on the endline where the ball crossed, the umpire holding up one hand, pointing forward in the direction of the seventy yards line

(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by the attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is allowed (sic)

14 Foul and Rough Play.- Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with, except he be in the act of moving to play the ball or playing it. No player shall bring his hurley in contact with the person of another player. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front of or behind him. Putting the leg or hurley from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm. Striking a player's hurley unless he be in the act of striking at the ball shall be a foul. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in the case of County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall at once be ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

(1) Should a player from each side foul at the same time the Referee shall
(2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.

(3) In awarding free pucks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free:

(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player from playing the ball.

(b) When a player is fouled after delivery a free puck shall be given (except a score is made, which is allowed), where the ball lands if outside 70 yards mark (sic) or on a point on the 70 yards mark (sic) opposite where it landed if it be inside the 70 yards mark (sic).

(4) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul.

(5) If the ball cross the side line it shall be given where the ball crossed the line.

(6) Should a player who has been ordered off the field again join the game, the Referee shall award the opposing side the match.

15 Ball out of Play. - If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line, it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line, as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at end line, it shall also be out of play, and must be pucked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal, or a 70 yards free puck, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 70 yards free puck would have been forfeited.

16 Injured Player. - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute.

17 Weight and Size of Ball. - The weight of the ball shall be from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 ounces, size, 9 to 10 inches in circumference.

18 Leaving the Field. - A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee’s permission becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty.

19 Failure to Play. - A team failing to carry out a championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match.

20 Nails, etc. - Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes or iron tips on their boots.

REFEREE, LINESMEN, AND UMPIRES

1 In all matches a Referee, two Linesmen and four Goal Umpires shall be appointed.

2 The Referee’s decision on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final. Players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk, for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding shall be perfectly valid. The Referee shall give his decision in writing, if requested, to the captains of the respective teams before leaving the ground.

3. The Referee’s decision as to time shall be final.

4. The Referee shall keep a record of the game, and shall lodge a report of the match, with the names of the players, if any, whom he has disqualified for rough play or misconduct.

5. A Referee having given a decision, after sounding his whistle, cannot under any circumstances alter it.

6. In free-kicks or pucks the ball shall not be kicked or pucked until a signal is given by the Referee.

7. Where linesmen or referee cannot determine which team is entitled to a throw-in or side puck, the Referee shall throw in the ball himself.

8. The Referee may, if he sees fit, consult the umpires and linesmen on any dispute which may arise in connection with the game.

9. Any player threatening or insulting the Referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council, according to which body is in control of the match.

10. In the event of the Referee duly appointed being unable to act, it shall be competent for the Secretary (or official in charge) of a County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council to select and appoint a referee.

11. There shall be two linesmen appointed by the Referee, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in or puck-in. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown (sic). Linesmen shall keep outside the side lines.

12. There shall be two goal umpires, at each end of the ground, appointed by the Referee. One shall stand outside each goal post, and their sole duty (also subject to the Referee’s decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points and to decide when the ball is over the end line. The goal umpires shall not change ends at half-time.

13. Referees, linesmen, and goal umpires are bound to give a decision one way or the other when appealed to, and all disputes must be decided on the spot.

14. There can be no objection to Referee’s decision save when he gives a ruling on a score contrary to the decision of both umpires.

15. Referees shall present the winning Captain with the Ball on behalf of the Council in Provincial and All-Ireland Finals.

16. In all Inter-County and Provincial matches referees and officials shall be appointed at meeting when fixtures are made, such officials shall have the right to appoint proxy and notify the Secretary in charge.

4a. The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules and the two Captains should, before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to Referee before match starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay

5. Number of Players. - The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match

6. Commencing Play - The Referee, in consultation with the Officials of Council, or County Committee present for the match, shall in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. Should any of these players advance beyond this line, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick. The remaining players shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall catch an opponent's hand. The Referee shall throw the ball over the heads of the players, who shall then separate

time of play to permit of a free kick to be taken. No score to count from such free kick unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to permit of a free being given the score to count from such free if the ball passes through the scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. — A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the cross-bar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

8 (sic) The Kick-out.- In the football kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground inside the parallelogram, the players of the defending team, except the player taking the kick and the goalkeeper — who shall remain within the parallelogram, to be outside the 14 yds line, and all players of the attacking team to be outside of the 21 yds line. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run, and may run in any direction he may think desirable. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made the kick-out shall be a point on 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note — The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10 Free Kicks. — The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked. When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the
Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where he stood. Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where foul occurred.

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to a point on the 14 yards line opposite to where the foul occurred, for a foul occurring in the parallelogram, and entitling the attacking side to a free kick, all players, with the exception of the defending goal-keeper and player taking the kicks, to stay outside the 21 yards line.

(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched, after the Referee has whistled, by a player of the side taking the free kick.

(4) A player charging a free commits a foul and a free will be given from where the player charged. Should a player charge from within the parallelogram a penalty kick to be given.

11 The Play.- The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction, but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground.

The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goal-keeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hand, and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away. A player of the opposing team may not enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it in play.

Note - When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop.

12 The Goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent, or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

13 Entering the Parallelogram - The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in parallelogram. The Goal Umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both Flags and holding them crossed.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick from within parallelogram.

14 Throw-In.- When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in...
from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the player throwing in the ball must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or thong. The player throwing in the ball must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player, all players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

15 Fifty Yards Free Kick.- If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

Directions to Umpires -
(a) A "wide" or "over" is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A fifty yards' kick is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed the umpire holding up one hand pointing forward in the direction of the fifty yards' line.
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed.

16 Foul and Rough Play.- Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with unless he is moving to play the ball or in the act of playing the ball. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs or by stooping in front of or behind him. Putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball and thus throwing him shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or without any caution in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County matches, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match.

Note - (1) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the Referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred.
(2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
(3) In awarding free kicks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free
   - (a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball
   - (b) When a player is fouled after delivery a free kick shall be given where ball lands (except a score is made, which is allowed) Should the ball cross the end or side line a free shall be given where the foul occurred
   - (4) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul

18 Injured Player. – The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but must not delay the game for the admission of a substitute. The maximum of two minutes’ delay to be strictly enforced when a player is injured. Henceforward only two officials will be permitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for those officials (to apply only to inter-county matches)

With notes on their interpretation and specific penalties for offences, compiled by a Special Committee appointed at the Annual Congress, 1910; revised by a Congress Committee, 1925, and embodying all further alterations and recommendations to date, 1937.

1 The Field of Play.—The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 160 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

2 Marking of Ground.—Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 21 yards, 70 yards and halfway shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.

3 Scoring Space.—In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

4a The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules and the two Captains should, before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to Referee before match starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay.

5 Number of Players.—The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match.

6 Commencing Play.—The Referee, in consultation with the Officials of Council or County Committee present for the match, shall, in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others, who must be behind the 70 yards lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall place his hurley across an opponent's. The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate.

7 Duration of Play.—The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He also shall have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free puck to be taken. No score to count from such free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team

8 Scores. – A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the cross bar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the cross bar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the cross bar would have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal; if through the point space it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Puck-out. – When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball must be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in puckling out.

Note - (1) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred.

(2) The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood. Should the player taking the puck-out miss at the first stroke, the ball may be raised but not taken into the hand before striking.

10 Free Pucks. – The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free puck may be in any direction. In all free pucks other than side line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only - (1) Strike the ball on the ground. (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood.
(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring inside the 21 yards line, and entitling the attacking side to a free puck.
(3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge.
(4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.
(5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck—after the Referee has whistled—by a player of the side having the free puck. A player charging a free commits a foul and a free will be given from where the player charged.

11 The Play. — The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying.

The goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.
(2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.
(3) Entering the Parallelogram — This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were inside parallelogram.
(4) When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free puck from within parallelogram
(5) The attention of Referees is drawn to the ruling of Council that a player can only catch the ball twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

12 Side Puck.—When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed, and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position.

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is pucking in the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.
(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place.
(3) If the player who pucks in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place.

13 Seventy Yards Free Puck.—If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes - (1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.
(2) Should the player who is taking the 70 yds free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

Directions to Umpires -

(a) A “wide” or “over” is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A seventy yards puck is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed, the umpire holding up one hand, pointing forward in the direction of the seventy yards line.
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by the attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed.

shall be a foul. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in the case of County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall at once be ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

1. Should a player from each side foul at the same time the Referee shall throw in the ball where foul occurred.
2. Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
3. In awarding free pucks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free:
   a. From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player from playing the ball.
   b. When a player is fouled after delivery a free puck shall be given (except a score is made, which is allowed), where the ball lands if outside 70 yards mark (sic) or on a point on the 70 yards mark (sic) opposite where it landed if it be inside the 70 yards mark (sic).
   c. If the ball cross the side line it shall be given where the ball crossed the line.
4. The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul.
5. Should a player who has been ordered off the field again join the game, the Referee shall award the opposing side the match.

15 Ball out of Play. - If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line, it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line, as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at end line, it shall also be out of play, and must be pucked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal, or a 70 yards free puck, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 70 yards free puck would have been forfeited.

16 Injured Player. - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but the maximum of two minutes delay to be strickly enforced when a player is injured. Henceforward only two officials will be admitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for these officials. (To apply only to inter-county matches.)

that Hurlin (sic) Balls are up to standard No penalty

18 Leaving the Field. - A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee’s permission becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty. When a player, players or a whole team refuse to continue the game or proceed to leave the field without the permission of the Referee, he shall give the Captain of the team concerned certain time, say three minutes, to decide, and if there be no sign of resumption he should endeavour to find out and report the names of the players willing to finish the game. The Committee in charge must award the match to the team willing to continue.

19 Failure to Play - A team failing to carry out a championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match.

20 Nails, etc. - Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes or iron tips on their boots.

REFEREE, LINESMEN, AND UMPIRES

1. In all matches a Referee, two Linesmen and four Goal Umpires shall be appointed.

2. The Referee’s decision on questions of fact connected with the match shall be final. Players should particularly note that, as the ball is in play till the whistle sounds, any stoppage of play on their part is at their own risk, for any score made in the event of the whistle not sounding shall be perfectly valid. A Referee should not give his decision before leaving the field. It is a matter for the Council or Board concerned to award the match on the Referee’s Report. The Referee, however, may give final score if requested.

Intruding persons other than those authorised to be reported by the Referee, Players or officials interfering in any way with the Referee or Umpires to suffer a penalty at the discretion of the Committee in charge.

9. Any player threatening or insulting the Referee shall be suspended for not less than twelve months, and his whole team shall be liable to disqualification at the discretion of the County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council, according to which body is in control of the match.

10 In the event of the Referee duly appointed being unable to act, it shall be competent for the Secretary (or official in charge) of a County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council to select and appoint a referee.

11 There shall be two linesmen appointed by the Referee, County Committee, Provincial Council or Central Council, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in or puck-in. They shall each take one side of the ground, outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown. Linesmen shall keep outside the side lines.

12 There shall be two goal umpires, at each end of the ground, appointed by the Referee, County Committee, Provincial Council, or Central Council. 2. Marking of Ground.- Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with line or cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 14 yards, 21 yards, 50 yards and halfway shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.

3. Scoring Space. – In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

4. Lines 5 yards long, and at right angles to the goal line, shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The ends of these lines shall be joined so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules and the two Captains should before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to the Referee before match starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a reply.

5. Number of Players.- The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match.

6. Commencing Play – The Referee, in consultation with the officials in charge of the fixture and present, shall in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play. The goalkeeper and six others must be behind the 50 yards’ lines. The remaining players shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall catch an opponent’s hand. The Referee shall throw the ball over the heads of the players, who shall then separate.

7. Duration of Play.– The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever, by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes, he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free kick to be taken. No score to count from such free kick unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to permit of a free being given. The score to count from such free if the ball passes through the scoring.
space without any other player of the same side touching it. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time.
Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. — A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side.
The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the cross-bar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Kick-out. — In the Football kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground inside the parallelogram the players of the defending team, except the player taking the kick or the goalkeeper — who shall remain within the parallelogram — to be outside the 14 yds line, and all players of the attacking team to be outside of the 21 yds line. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run, and may run in any direction he thinks desirable. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made the kick-out shall be taken from a point on 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note — The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite the place the player stood.

10 Free Kicks. — The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked. When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the parallelogram, a free shall be given on the 14 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

Notes — (1) Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where he stood. Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where foul occurred
(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the point on the 14 yards line opposite to where the foul occurred, for a foul occurring in the parallelogram, and entitling the attacking side to a free kick. All players, with the exception of the defending goal-keeper and player taking the kick, to stand outside the 21 yards line.
(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched, after the Referee has whistled, by a player of the side taking the free kick.
(4) A player charging a free commits a foul and a free will be given from where the player charged. Should a player charge from within the parallelogram a penalty kick to be given.

11 The Play.- The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction, but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground. The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goal-keeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hand, and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away. A player of the opposing team must not enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it in play.

Note - When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop.

12 The Goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent, or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

13 Entering the Parallelogram. – The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in parallelogram. The Goal Umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both Flags and holding them crossed.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick from within parallelogram.

14 Throw-In.- When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the player throwing in the ball must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or
The player throwing in the ball must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player, all players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

15 Fifty Yards Free Kick.- If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

Directions to Umpires -
(a) A "wide" or "over" is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A fifty yards' kick is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed the umpire holding up one hand pointing forward in the direction of the fifty yards' line.
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed.

16 Foul and Rough Play - Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with unless he is moving to play the ball or in the act of playing the ball. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs or by stooping in front of or behind him. Putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball and thus throwing him shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or without any caution in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County matches, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match.

Note - (1) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the Referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred.
(2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
(3) In awarding free kicks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free-
(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball.
(b) When a player is fouled after delivery a free kick shall be given where ball lands (except a score is made, which is allowed) Should the ball cross the end or side line a free shall be given where the foul occurred

(4) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul

(5) Should a player who has been ordered off the ground again join the game the Referee shall award the opposing side the match

17 Ball out of Play.- If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line it shall be out of play, and must be thrown in from the side-line, as directed in Rule 14. If it occurs at the end-line, it shall also be out of play, and must be kicked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal or 50 yards free kick should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick would have been forfeited.

18 Injured Player – The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player. The maximum of two minutes’ delay to be strictly enforced when a player is injured. Henceforward only two officials will be permitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for those officials (to apply only to inter-county matches).

19 Weight and Size of Ball. – The weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces, size, 27 to 29 inches in circumference. No 5 match ball.

20 Leaving the Field.– A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee’s permission, becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty. When a player, players or a whole team are refusing to continue the game, etc., the Referee should give Captain of the team concerned certain time, say three minutes, to decide and if then there be no sign of resumption, he should endeavour to find out and report the names of any players willing to finish the game. The Committee in charge must award match to team willing to continue.

21 Nails, etc. – Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes, or iron tips on their boots. See Rule 25 championships.

HURLING RULES

OFFICIAL GUIDE 1938

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a special committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910, and revised by a special committee appointed at Annual Congress, 1925.

1 The Field of Play shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 160 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

2 Marking of Ground.- Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 21 yards, 70 yards and halfway shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.

3 Scoring Space. - In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

4 Lines 5 yards long and at right angles to the goal line shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The ends of these lines shall be joined, so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules and the two Captains should, before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to Referee before match starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay.

5 Number of Players.- The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match.

6 Commencing Play. - The Referee, in consultation with the Officials of Council or County Committee present for the match shall, in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others, who must be behind the 70 yards lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall place his hurley across an opponent's. The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate.

7 Duration of Play.- The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He also shall have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free puck to be taken. No score to count from such free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to allow of a free being.
taken, but no score shall be awarded except made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played between the cross bar and the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the cross bar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the cross bar would have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the crossbar.

The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal; if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Puck-out. When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke, the ball must be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in puckmg out.

Note - (1) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram, the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred.

(2) The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

(3) Should the player taking the puck-out miss at the first stroke, the ball may be raised but not taken into the hand before striking.

10 Free Pucks. The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free puck may be in any direction. In all free pucks other than side line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only - (1) Strike the ball... on the ground (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood.

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring inside the 21 yards line, and entitling the attacking side to a free puck.

(3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge.

(4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

(5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck — after the Referee has whistled — by a player of the side having the free puck. A player charging a free commits a foul and a free will be given from where the player charged. Should a player charge from within the parallelogram, a penalty to be given.

11 The Play. — The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying. The goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.

(2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.

(3) Entering the Parallelogram — This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were inside parallelogram.

(4) When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free puck from within parallelogram
(5) The attention of Referees is drawn to the ruling of Council that a player can only catch the ball twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

12 Side Puck - When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed, and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position.

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is pucking in the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.
(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place.
(3) If the player who pucks in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place.

13 Seventy Yards Free Puck - If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes - (1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.
(2) Should the player who is taking the 70 yds free puck foul when doing so, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

Directions to Umpires -
(a) A "wide" or "over" is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A seventy yards puck is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed, the umpire holding up one hand, pointing forward in the direction of the seventy yards line.
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by the attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed.

shall be a foul. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, without any previous caution, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in the case of County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall at once be ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

1. Should a player from each side foul at the same time the Referee shall throw in the ball where foul occurred.
2. Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
3. In awarding free pucks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free—
   a. From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player from playing the ball.
   b. When a player is fouled after delivery a free puck shall be given (except a score is made, which is allowed), where the ball lands if outside 70 yards mark (sic) or on a point on the 70 yards mark (sic) opposite where it landed if it be inside the 70 yards mark (sic).
   c. If the ball cross the side line it shall be given where the ball crossed the line.
4. The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul.
5. Should a player who has been ordered off the field again join the game, the Referee shall award the opposing side the match.

15 Ball out of Play. - If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line, it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line, as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at end line, it shall also be out of play, and must be pucked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal, or a 70 yards free puck, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 70 yards free puck would have been forfeited.

16 Injured Player. - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but the maximum of two minutes delay to be strictly enforced when a player is injured. Henceforward only two officials will be admitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for these officials. (To apply only to inter-county matches.)

that Hurling Balls are up to standard No penalty

18 Leaving the Field. – A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee’s permission becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty When a player, players or a whole team refuse to continue the game or proceed to leave the field without the permission of the Referee, he shall give the Captain of the team concerned certain time, say three minutes, to decide, and if there be no sign of resumption he should endeavour to find out and report the names of the players willing to finish the game The Committee in charge must award the match to the team willing to continue

19 Failure to Play - A team failing to carry out a championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match

AND FOOTBALL

HURLING AND FOOTBALL

The following conditions and regulations apply to both games -

1 Ground. Maximum, 160 yards x 100 yards, Minimum, 140 x 84 yards

2 Marking. Side and Goal lines cut in turf or lime-washed. For Football, cross lines at 14 yards, 21 yards, 50 yards and half way; for Hurling, similar lines at 21 yards, 70 yards and half way. All corners and intersections to be indicated by flags.

3 Scoring Space. Equidistant from the corners on each end-line posts 21 feet apart and 16 feet high, with a cross bar fixed horizontally 8 feet above the ground define the scoring area.

Four yards outside each post lines 5 yards long are drawn at right angles to end line and joined, making a parallelogram 5 yards by 15 yards in front of each goal.

If ground has been incompletely or incorrectly marked, a replay may be ordered, but no objection can arise unless captains of teams draw Referee’s attention to the irregularity before the match starts.

In Inter-provincial, Inter-county, and, if practicable, in all championship matches, nets should be fixed behind the goal-scoring space.

Teams comprise 15 players aside, but a team may start with 13 players and continue until resumption after the interval, when it must be at full strength or forfeit the match.

Time. The duration of actual play is one hour, with a change of ends at the expiration of 30 minutes play.

Interval allowed is 10 minutes, and the penalty for excess delay is a fine of £5 deducted from expenses.

Scoring. All contests are decided by the greater score of points and goals, the latter being equal to three points.

A Goal is scored when entire ball is played or driven, not thrown or carried, across the goal line under the bar by the attacking side, or in any manner by one of the defenders.

A Point is scored when the ball is similarly driven or played, not thrown, between the posts above the bar by an attacking player or put across by a defender.

Should cross bar or posts become broken or displaced, the Referee can allow a goal or a point if, in his judgment, the ball passed legitimately through the regulation goal or point scoring space.

A ball rebounding from post or cross bar into the arena is still in play. The ball is always in play until the Referee has whistled. Voluntary stoppages are not recognised, and a score made under such circumstances is valid.

Commencement. Captains toss for choice of ends. 8 players from each team line up on the mid-way line. The remainder, goalman and six others, retire behind the 50 yards line if Football, and 70 yards line if Hurling.

Frees. The penalty for all breaches of the Rules is a free A player may go outside any line to take a free, which is deemed to have been taken when he, or any of his side, touches the ball after the Referee has signalled

Charging down a free is a foul, and a free is given to opposing team from point of attack If it was within the parallelogram a penalty is awarded

Goal Area. No attacking player may enter the goal area before the ball reaches it in play Otherwise a score made will be disallowed and a free from within the parallelogram given to defending side

But if ball returns before player can leave and he does not interfere with the defence, the score then made is legal, or when the ball passes overhead out of reach of all players

The goal-keeper can only be charged when he is in possession, or obstructing an opponent, or outside the parallelogram

Dead Ball. A ball striking a non-player, other than the Referee, inside the lines is out of play If it occurs at the side line it must be thrown, or pucked in as directed in Rules 14 Football 12 Hurling If at the end line it must be kicked, or pucked, from the parallelogram

Referee may allow a score, a "50 yards" or a "70 yards" free, if he considers such advantage was lost by the interference

When mutual fouls occur the Referee will hop the football, or throw in the hurling ball where the fouls took place, but if a player by turning renders a fair charge foul no penalty is imposed

All dangerous projections on boots are prohibited

Last player touching the ball is considered the last to have played it

A player once ordered off cannot resume If such occurs the match shall be awarded to opposing side

A player or team leaving the field without the permission of the Referee or refusing to continue is automatically suspended for six months without any power of mitigation

When it occurs the Referee shall give captain concerned a few minutes to decide Failing a resumption, he will endeavour to ascertain names of players willing to continue and report accordingly to the committee in charge, who must award match to the team prepared to finish contest

(d)- Player taking free must not again touch the ball before another player has done so subject to a free for opposing side from point of offence
(e)- For a foul in the parallelogram by a defender the kick is taken from a point on the 14 yards line opposite scene of foul, and all players, except the goalman and player taking the kick, must withdraw beyond the 21 yards line
(f)- Fifty Yards Free. If ball is put over end line outside the posts by a defending player or in the same circumstances is prevented crossing by a non-player, a free is given directly opposite the point of crossing, or stoppage, on the 50 yards line under conditions governing all frees

Throw-in. A ball driven over side-line is thrown in from the point indicated by the linesman by an opponent of the player who touched it last

Ball may be thrown in in any direction, but not by the aid of the lace
Player throwing must have one foot outside the line and cannot play the ball before another player has done so
All players must stand away 10 yards
No score can be made directly from the throw-in

Kick from Goal. When a score has been made, the delivery is from a point on the ground along the 21 yards line in front of the scoring space. No player can be nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

When the ball is sent over outside the posts the kick is taken off the ground inside the parallelogram and the rest of the defending side must be beyond the 14 yards, and the attacking side beyond the 21 yards lines.

The penalty for encroachment by one of attacking side is a free kick to opposite side on the 21 yards line.
Player making delivery from goal can play the ball more than once, and may go behind the line for the run.

In Play it is permitted to strike or catch the ball when it is off the ground, kick or fist it away, or hop it once only with one or both hands.
A ball not caught may be hopped repeatedly with one or both hands, not otherwise.
A ball on the ground must not be touched with the hand, but a player knocked down in possession may fist it away, though it is grounded.
The goal-keeper can touch the ball on the ground, but only within the limits of the parallelogram.

Forbidden. Carrying—that is, taking more than four strides while holding the ball—is prohibited, and the ball must not be thrown.

Ball must not be held longer than is necessary to hop, kick, or fist it. Tipping on the hand is “carrying.”

Foul Play. The following are deemed foul tactics—Pushing, tripping by means of legs or body, kicking, catching, holding or obstruction by hand or arm in any way, Jumping at or butting with head, charging from behind, or interfering in any manner with a player unless he is about to play or in the act of playing the ball.

Frees for such offences are taken—
(a) From where the foul occurred if it prevented the ball being played, or if the ball went over the side-line or end-line, and (b) From where the ball landed if foul followed or did not prevent delivery. If a score was made it is valid and no free is awarded.

CONTROL OF MATCHES

Control of matches is entrusted to the Referee, Umpires (four) and Linesmen (two).

Referee-The duties and powers of a Referee, in addition to those set out under Playing Rules are—
1 -Consult with umpires and linesmen when occasion arises and in case any of them withdraw before end of match, appoint another.
2 -Receive lists of players and see that players are properly attired.
3 -Throw in ball at commencement of play in each moiety from side-line when Linesman is in doubt and allow or disallow a score if Umpires disagree but not otherwise else his decision can be contested.
4 -Signal when and where frees are to be taken.
5 -Present ball to captain of winning team at conclusion of Provincial and All-Ireland finals.
6 -Keep a record and forward report of the match with names of players disqualified, the intrusion of unauthorised person and names of players or officials interfering during course of the game. These latter may be penalised at discretion of controlling body.

The Referee has power to—

(a) Declare ground or other conditions unsuitable for play after consulting responsible officials.
(b) Terminate a match for want of light, because of outside interference, or any other reason he considers sufficient.

If match is stopped by darkness coming on it must be refixed for full time unless there was a deliberate delay on the part of one team, when it may be awarded to their opponents.
(c)- Extend time for delays, deliberate or incidental or to allow a free or frees, to be taken
A score can only result from such free in Football when no other player of the same side touches the ball and in Hurling when made direct off the stroke
(d)- Order to the line a player indulging in dangerous play, threatening another with hand or hurley, or using provocative language to players or officials
(e)- Award match to opponents if player refuses to leave field or retaliation occurs
(f)- Caution player for forbidden tactics and send him to the line on repetition of offence
(g)- Disqualify an entire team for rough play
Once having given a decision the Referee cannot alter it
Referee may not make an award of a match, but may give his final scores, if requested The award rests with the Committees or Council concerned acting on his report Referee's decision on any question of fact and in regard to time is final.
Umpires take up positions outside each goal post to signal scores, determine when and how a ball crosses the end line and when the goal area has been infringed
Wide balls ("Overs") are signalled by waving one or both arms
A "Fifty" in Football and "Seventy" in Hurling is indicated by pointing directly infield from point where ball passed over
Breaches of the parallelogram when score is disallowed are notified by crossing the signal flags in front of the goal
Umpires do NOT change ends at the interval
LINESMEN, provided with flags, are assigned to opposite boundaries to indicate when and by whom, the ball has been driven over
This is done by inclining the flag towards the scoring end of the team entitled to the throw or puck in, i.e. opponents of player who put ball out
LINESMEN keep outside playing area and change lines at half time
Teams incur no penalty by failure of LINESMEN to change over (Congress 1938)
Necessary officials for inter-county matches should be appointed when fixtures are being made Those selected may nominate a deputy by notifying secretary
Unless already done, Referee can select LINESMEN and Umpires and, when a Referee is unable to act, the official in charge can appoint a substitute
All questions affecting play must be decided on the field by the officials concerned
FOOTBALL RULES
OFFICIAL GUIDE 1943

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a special committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910, and revised by a special committee appointed at Annual Congress, 1925.

1 The Field of Play shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 160 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

2 Marking of Ground.- Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with line or cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 14 yards, 21 yards, 50 yards and half-way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.

3 Scoring Space. - In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

4 Lines 5 yards long, and at right angles to the goal line, shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The ends of these lines shall be joined so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules and the two Captains should before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to Referee before match starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a reply.

5 Number of Players.- The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match.

6 Commencing Play. - The Referee, in consultation with the officials in charge of the fixture and present, shall in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play. The goal-keeper and six others must be behind the 50 yards’ lines. The remaining players shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall catch an opponent’s hand. The Referee shall throw the ball over the heads of the players, who shall then separate.

7 Duration of Play.- The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever, by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes, he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free kick to be taken. No score to count from such free kick unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to permit of a free being given. The score to count from such free if the ball passes through the scoring.
space without any other player of the same side touching it. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. — A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played between the goal posts and under the crossbar by either team except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the cross-bar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Kick-out. — In the Football kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground inside the parallelogram the players of the defending team, except the player taking the kick or the goalkeeper — who shall remain within the parallelogram — to be outside the 14 yds line, and all players of the attacking team to be outside of the 21 yds line. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run, and may run in any direction he may think desirable. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made the kick-out shall be taken from a point on 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10 Free Kicks. — The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked. When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the parallelogram, a free shall be given on the 14 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

Notes — (1) Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where he stood. Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has
(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the point on the 14 yards line opposite to where the foul occurred, for a foul occurring in the parallelogram, and entitling the attacking side to a free kick. All players, with the exception of the defending goal-keeper and player taking the kick, to stand outside the 21 yards line
(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched, after the Referee has whistled, by a player of the side taking the free kick
(4) A player charging a free commits a foul and a free will be given from where the player charged. Should a player charge from within the parallelogram a penalty kick to be given

11 The Play.- The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction, but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground. The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goal-keeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hand, and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away. A player of the opposing team must not enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it in play.

Note - When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop.

12 The Goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent, or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

13 Entering the Parallelogram. - The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in parallelogram. The Goal Umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both Flags and holding them crossed.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick from within parallelogram.

14 Throw-In.- When the ball is driven across the side line it should be thrown in from the point where it crossed the side line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The ball may be thrown in any direction, and the player throwing in the ball must have one foot outside the line at the time of throwing, and must not hold the ball by the lace or

— 196 —
The player throwing in the ball must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player, all players to stand away ten yards from the player throwing the ball. Neither a goal nor a point can be scored from the throw-in unless the ball is touched by some other player after the throw-in.

15 Fifty Yards Free Kick - If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

Directions to Umpires -
(a) A “wide” or “over” is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A fifty yards’ kick is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed the umpire holding up one hand pointing forward in the direction of the fifty yards’ line.
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed.

16 Foul and Rough Play. - Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with unless he is moving to play the ball or in the act of playing the ball. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs or by stooping in front of or behind him. Putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball and thus throwing him shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or without any caution in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County matches, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match.

Note - (1) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the Referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred.
(2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
(3) In awarding free kicks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free -
(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball.
(b) When a player is fouled after delivery a free kick shall be given where ball lands (except a score is made, which is allowed) Should the ball cross the end or side line a free shall be given where the foul occurred

(4) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul

(5) Should a player who has been ordered off the ground again join the game the Referee shall award the opposing side the match

17 Ball out of Play.- If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line it shall be out of play, and must be thrown in from the side-line, as directed in Rule 14 If it occurs at the end-line, it shall also be out of play, and must be kicked out from the parallelogram The Referee may allow a point or a goal or 50 yards free kick should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick would have been forfeited

18 Injured Player. – The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player The maximum of two minutes’ delay to be strictly enforced when a player is injured Henceforward only two officials will be permitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for those officials (to apply only to inter-county matches)

19 Weight and Size of Ball. – The weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces, size, 27 to 29 inches in circumference No 5 match ball

20 Leaving the Field - A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee’s permission, becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty When a player, players or a whole team are refusing to continue the game, etc., the Referee should give Captain of the team concerned certain time, say three minutes, to decide and if then there be no sign of resumption, he should endeavour to find out and report the names of any players willing to finish the game The Committee in charge must award match to team willing to continue

21 Nails, etc. – Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes, or iron tips on their boots See Rule 25 championships
And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a special committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910, and revised by a special committee appointed at Annual Congress, 1925.

1. The Field of Play.- The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 160 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

2. Marking of Ground.- Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 21 yards, 70 yards and half way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.

3. Scoring Space.- In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

4. Lines 5 yards long, and at right angles to the goal line, shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The ends of these lines shall be joined, so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules and the two Captains should, before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to Referee before match starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay.

5. Number of Players.- The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match.

6. Commencing Play.- The Referee, in consultation with the Officials of Council or County Committee present for the match, shall, in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others, who must be behind the 70 yards' lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall place his hurley across an opponent's. The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate.

7. Duration of Play.- The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall have power to terminate the game whenever by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes he may think fit. If necessary, he shall extend time of play to permit of a free puck to be taken. No score to count from such free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to allow of a free being... taken, but no score shall be awarded except being made directly off the free.
Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. - A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the crossbar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee's opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the crossbar.
The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Puck-out - When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball must be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in puckling out.

Note - (1) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred.

(2) The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

(3) Should the player taking the puck-out miss at the first stroke, the ball may be raised but not taken into the hand before striking.

10 Free Pucks - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free puck may be in any direction. In all free pucks other than side line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only - (1) Strike the ball on the ground (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood. (2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring inside the 21 yards line, and entitling the attacking side to a free puck. (3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge. (4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred. (5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck — after the Referee has whistled — by a player of the side having the free puck. A player charging a free commits a foul and a free will be given from where the player charged.

11 The Play. — The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying. The goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred. (2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred. (3) Entering the Parallelogram — This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were inside parallelogram. (4) When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free puck from within parallelogram

(5) A player may catch the ball only twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

12 Side Puck.—When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed, and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position.

Notes -
(1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is pucking in the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.
(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place.
(3) If the player who pucks in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place.

13 Seventy Yards Free Puck.—If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line.

If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes -
(1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.
(2) Should the player who is taking the 70 yds free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

Directions to Umpires -
(a) A “wide” or “over” is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A seventy yards puck is indicated by standing on the endline where the ball crossed, the umpire holding up one hand, pointing forward in the direction of the seventy yards line.
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by the attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed.

14 Foul and Rough Play.—Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with, except he be in the act of moving to play the ball or playing it. No player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind him. Putting the leg or hurley from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm. Striking a player’s hurley unless he be in the act of striking at the ball shall be a foul. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

FOOTBALL RULES
OFFICIAL GUIDE 1945

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a special committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910, and revised by a special committee appointed at Annual Congress, 1925.

(The Official Guide, 1943 was amended by inserting rule changes passed in 1945.)

1. The Field of Play shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 160 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.
2. Marking of Ground. - Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with line or cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 14 yards, 21 yards, 50 yards and half-way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.
3. Scoring Space. - In the centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.
4. Lines 5 yards long, and at right angles to the goal line, shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The ends of these lines shall be joined so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules and the two Captains should before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to Referee before match starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a reply.

5. Number of Players. - The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match.

6. Commencing Play. - The Referee, in consultation with the officials in charge of the fixture and present, shall in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play. The goal-keeper and six others must be behind the 50 yards' lines. The remaining players shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall catch an opponent's hand. The Referee shall throw the ball over the heads of the players, who shall then separate.

7. Duration of Play. - The time for actual play is one hour, sides to be changed only at half time. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for delays. He shall also have power to terminate the game whenever, by reason of darkness setting in, interference of spectators, or other causes, he may think fit. If necessary he shall extend time of play to permit of a free kick to be taken. No score to count from such free kick unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to permit of a free being given. The score to count from such free if the ball passes through the scoring space without any other player of the same side touching it. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. - A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee's opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the cross-bar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Kick-out. - In the Football kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground inside the parallelogram the players of the defending team, except the player taking the kick or the goalkeeper — who shall remain within the parallelogram — to be outside the 14 yds line, and all players of the attacking team to be outside of the 21 yds line. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run, and may run in any direction he may think desirable. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made the kick-out shall be taken from a point on 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

10 Free Kicks. - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked. When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the parallelogram, a free shall be given on the 14 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.
Notes - (1) Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick is being taken, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where he stood. Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where foul occurred.

Note 2 The Referee must bring back the ball to the centre point of the 14 yards line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram, and entitling the attacking side to a free kick. All players, with the exception of the defending goal-keeper and player taking the kick, to stand outside the 21 yards line.

(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched, after the Referee has whistled, by a player of the side taking the free kick.

(4) A player charging a free kick commits a foul and a free will be given from where the player charged. Should a player charge from within the parallelogram a penalty kick to be given.

11 The Play.- The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction, but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick it or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground. The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goal-keeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hand, and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away. A player of the opposing team must not enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it in play.

Note - When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by striking it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop.

12 The Goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent, or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

13 Entering the Parallelogram. – The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in parallelogram. The Goal Umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both Flags and holding them crossed.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick from within parallelogram.

14 When the ball is driven across the side -line it should be kicked off the ground from the point where it crossed the side-line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The player so kicking the ball must not play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player. If a score be made from such kick it shall be allowed.

15 Fifty Yards Free Kick.- If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

Directions to umpires -
(a) A “wide” or “over” is indicated by waving one or both hands.
(b) A fifty yards’ kick is indicated by standing on the end line where the ball crossed the umpire holding up one hand pointing forward in the direction of the fifty yards’ line.
(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed.

16 Foul and Rough Play - Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with unless he is moving to play the ball or in the act of playing the ball. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs or by stooping in front of or behind him. Putting the leg from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball and thus throwing him shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm.

In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or without any caution in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct or improper language, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play and report him or them to the County Committee in County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County matches, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. A player ordered off the ground by the Referee shall not under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player raising his hand to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall be at once ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play even though it won the match.

Note - (1) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the Referee shall hop the ball where foul occurred.
(2) Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.
(3) In awarding free kicks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free -
(a) From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player playing the ball.
(b) When a player is fouled after delivery a free kick shall be given where ball lands (except if a score is made, which is allowed). Should the ball cross the end or side line a free shall be given where the foul occurred

(4) The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul

(5) Should a player who has been ordered off the ground again join the game the Referee shall award the opposing side the match

17 Ball out of Play.- If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line it shall be out of play, and must be thrown in from the side-line, as directed in Rule 14. If it occurs at the end-line, it shall also be out of play, and must be kicked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal or 50 yards free kick should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick would have been forfeited.

18 Injured Player. – The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player. The maximum of two minutes’ delay to be strictly enforced when a player is injured. Henceforward only two officials will be permitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for those officials (to apply only to inter-county matches).

19 Weight and Size of Ball. – The weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces, size, 27 to 29 inches in circumference. No 5 match ball.

20 Leaving the Field.- A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee’s permission, becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty. When a player, players or a whole team are refusing to continue the game, etc, the Referee should give Captain of the team concerned certain time, say three minutes, to decide and if then there be no sign of resumption, he should endeavour to find out and report the names of any players willing to finish the game. The Committee in charge must award match to team willing to continue.

21 Nails, etc. – Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes, or iron tips on their boots. See Rule 25 championships.

And notes on the application of these rules, and specific penalties for breaches thereof, compiled for the guidance of clubs by a special committee appointed at Annual Convention, 1910, and revised by a special committee appointed at Annual Congress, 1925.

(The Official Guide of 1943 was amended by inserting rule changes passed in 1945.)

1 The Field of Play.- The ground shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 160 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide

2 Marking of Ground.- Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with a limed line or one cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 21 yards, 70 yards and half way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags

4 Lines 5 yards long, and at right angles to the goal line, shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The ends of these lines shall be joined, so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules and the two Captains should, before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to Referee before match starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay

5 Number of Players.- The players shall be fifteen aside in all matches, but a team may start a match with thirteen players. The second half hour, however, cannot be resumed unless there be fifteen players on each side. The team failing to field the full number of players shall forfeit the match

6 Commencing Play. - The Referee, in consultation with the Officials of Council or County Committee present for the match, shall, in case of inclement weather or unsuitable state of playing pitch, decide as to the playing or postponement of the match. The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play, and the players, with the exception of the goal-keeper and six others, who must be behind the 70 yards' lines, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field, and each player shall place his hurley across an opponent's. The Referee shall throw the ball along the ground between the players, who shall then separate

free puck unless the ball passes through scoring space without any other player touching it. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the Referee whistles for full time, he shall further extend the time to allow of a free being taken, but no score shall be awarded except being made directly off the free. Whenever a game is terminated by reason of darkness setting in, it must be replayed for the full time. Should any team cause such deliberate delay in playing the game that it has to be terminated owing to darkness setting in, the Committee in charge may award the match to the opposing team.

8 Scores. - A Goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal posts and under the crossbar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches, nets shall be placed behind the goal area so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A Point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the goal posts, except when thrown by any of the attacking side. The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts and below where in the opinion of the Referee the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee’s opinion, have been, he shall allow a point or a goal according as the ball would have passed over or under the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line. The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A Goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal, if through the point space, it shall count a point to the opposing team.

9 The Puck-out. - When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball must be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time for deliberate delay in pucking out.

Note - (1) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred.

(2) The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

(3) Should the player taking the puck-out miss at the first stroke, the ball may be raised but not taken into the hand before striking.

10 Free Pucks. - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free puck shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free puck may be in any direction. In all free pucks other than side line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only - (1) Strike the ball on the ground. (2) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

(4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift, or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.
(5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck - after the Referee has whistled - by a player of the side having the free puck. A player charging a free commits a foul and a free will be given from where the player charged.

11 The Play. - The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground, and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying. The goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. A player of the opposing team cannot enter the parallelogram until the ball enters it during play.

Notes - (1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.
(2) If a player touches the ball while on the ground with his hand, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where foul occurred.
(3) Entering the Parallelogram - This rule shall be operative when the player enters the parallelogram and charges goal-keeper or backs before the ball enters. The goal umpires shall call attention to breaches of this rule by raising both flags and holding them crossed. The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball return before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were inside parallelogram

(4) When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free puck from within parallelogram

(5) A player may catch the ball only twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed

12 Side Puck.- When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed, and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position.

Notes - (1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is pucking in the ball, a free puck shall be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.

(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place.

(3) If the player who pucks in the ball touches it before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place.

13 Seventy Yards Free Puck.- If the ball is played across the end line outside the point posts by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

Notes - (1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.

(2) Should the player who is taking the 70 yds free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

Directions to Umpires -

(a) A "wide" or "over" is indicated by waving one or both hands.

(b) A seventy yards puck is indicated by standing on the endline where the ball crossed, the umpire holding up one hand, pointing forward in the direction of the seventy yards line.

(c) A breach of the parallelogram rule by the attacking side is shown by crossing both flags in front of the goal, thus indicating that score is disallowed.

14 Foul and Rough Play.- Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, or jumping at a player, or butting with the head, shall be deemed foul. No player shall be charged from behind, and no player shall be charged or in any way interfered with, except he be in the act of moving to play the ball or playing it. No player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player. Tripping is throwing or attempting to throw an opponent by using the legs, or by stooping in front or behind him. Putting the leg or hurley from behind another player for the purpose of getting the ball shall be deemed tripping. Holding includes the obstruction of a player by hand or arm. Striking a player's hurley unless he be in the act of striking at the ball shall be a foul. A player must not throw his hurley under any circumstances. The penalty for each breach of this rule shall be a free puck.

In the case of rough play, the Referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, or in the case of dangerous play, violent conduct, or improper language, without any previous caution, the Referee shall rule the offender or offenders out of play, and report him or them to the County Committee in the case of County Championships, to the Provincial Council in Inter-County contests, and to the Central Council in All-Ireland matches. No player once ordered off the ground by the Referee shall under any circumstances be permitted to again join in the game. Any player lifting his hand or hurley to strike or threaten another player, or using irritating language to players or officials, shall at once be ordered off the ground. If he refuses to leave when ordered, the Referee shall award the match to the opposing team. Retaliation in this case shall entail disqualification. A whole team may be disqualified for rough play, even though it won the match.

1. Should a player from each side foul at the same time, the Referee shall throw the ball where foul occurred.

2. Should a player charge another who turns so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.

3. In awarding free pucks for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free:
   a. From where foul occurred if the foul prevented the player from playing the ball.
   b. When a player is fouled after delivery, a free puck shall be given (except a score is made, which is allowed), where the ball lands if outside the 70 yards mark or on a point on the 70 yards mark opposite where it landed if it be inside the 70 yards mark.
   c. If the ball crosses the side line, it shall be given where the ball crossed the line.

4. The obstruction of a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, is a foul, or reaching from behind over the shoulders or around the body of a player who has caught the ball shall be a foul.

5. Should a player who has been ordered off the field again join the game, the Referee shall award the opposing side the match.

15 Ball out of Play. - If the ball strikes a spectator or official other than the referee inside the side-line, it shall be out of play, and must be pucked in from the side line, as directed in Rule 12. If it occurs at end line, it shall also be out of play, and must be pucked out from the parallelogram. The Referee may allow a point or a goal, or a 70 yards free puck, should he consider that a point or a goal would have been scored, or that a 70 yards free puck would have been forfeited.

16 Injured Player. - The Referee may allow a substitute for an injured player, but the maximum of two minutes delay to be strictly enforced when a player is injured. Henceforward only two officials will be admitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for these officials. (To apply only to inter-county matches.)

18 Leaving the Field. - A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee's permission becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty. When a player, players or a whole team refuse to continue the game or proceed to leave the field without the permission of the Referee, he shall give the Captain of the team concerned certain time, say three minutes, to decide, and if there be no sign of resumption he should endeavour to find out and report the names of the players willing to finish the game. The Committee in charge must award the match to the team willing to continue.

19 Failure to Play. - A team failing to carry out a championship fixture, of which it received due notice, shall be disqualified, and the opposing team shall be entitled to the match.

20 Nails, etc. - Players are not allowed to wear projecting nails, spikes or iron tips on their boots.

CONTROL OF MATCHES

84 Control of matches shall be entrusted to the Referee, Umpires (four) and linesmen (two).

Referee. - The duties and powers of a Referee in addition to those set out under Playing Rules shall be:

(a) Receive lists of players, sign them, give a copy to opposing team, and see that players are properly attired.

(b) Throw in ball at commencement of play in each moiety, from side-line when linesman is in doubt, and allow or disallow score if Umpires disagree, but not otherwise.

(c) Signal when and where frees are to be taken.

(d) Consult with Umpire and Linesman when occasion arises and in case any of them withdraws before the end of match, appoint a substitute.

(e) Keep a record of the scores and forward report of the match with names of players disqualified, players injured and replaced, the intrusion of unauthorised persons, and names of players or officials interfering during course of the game. These latter may be penalised at discretion of controlling body.

(f) Present the ball to the captain of winning team at conclusion of Provincial and All-Ireland Finals.

85 The Referee shall have power to:

(a) Declare ground or other conditions unsuitable for play after consulting responsible officials.

(b) Terminate a match for want of light, because of persistent outside interference, or any other reason he considers sufficient. If match is stopped by...
darkness coming on, it must be refixed for full-time, unless there was deliberate delay on the part of one team, when it may be awarded to their opponents

(c) Extend time for delays, deliberate or incidental, in each moiety, or to allow a free, or frees to be taken. A score can result from such a free only when no other player of the same side touches the ball

(d) Order to the line a player indulging in dangerous play threatening another with hand or hurley, or using provocative language to players or officials

(e) Abandon match if player refuses to leave field

(f) Caution player for forbidden tactics and send him to the line on repetition of offence

(g) Disqualify an entire team for rough play

86 Once having given a decision the Referee, after sounding the whistle shall not alter it

87 Referees may not make an award of a match, but may give his final scores if requested. The award rests with the Committee or Council concerned, acting on his report

Referee’s decision on any question of fact and in regard to time shall be final

88 There shall be two linesmen appointed by the Referee, County Committee, Provincial Council or Central Council, who shall be provided with flags. Their sole duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the side-line, and which side is entitled to the throw-in or puck-in. They shall each take one side of the ground just outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction the ball is to be thrown or pucked. No penalty shall be incurred by competing teams should linesmen not change sides at half-time

89 There shall be two goal Umpires at each end of the ground, appointed by the Referee, County Committee, Provincial Council or Central Council. One shall stand outside each goal post. Their sole duty (subject to the Referee’s decision when they differ) shall be to watch for goals and points and to decide when the ball is over the end line. Umpires shall not change ends at half-time.

Wide balls “overs” are signalled by waving one or both arms. The flag shall be raised at the centre of the goal space when a score has been made.

A “Fifty” in football and a “Seventy” in hurling shall be indicated by pointing directly infield where the ball last played or touched by a defending player passed over the end line.

When a score is disallowed breaches of the Parallelogram Rule shall be notified by crossing the signal flags in front of the goal.

90 In all Inter-County and Inter-Provincial matches referees and officials shall be appointed at meeting when fixtures are made, such officials shall have the right to nominate a proxy subject to approval of the official in charge.

In county, divisional or other matches a referee who is unable to act at the last moment may nominate a proxy under whom the teams shall play

91 When a game shall result in a draw, teams may play extra time – 15 minutes each way – by mutual consent and a substitute shall then be allowed for any player previously ordered off.

Otherwise, or if match shall be postponed for some unavoidable cause, it may be refixed for a date seven days later provided four days' notice be given. In the event of further draw, extra time, as above, shall be played.

92 The All-Ireland Senior Finals shall take place in Croke Park, Hurling on the first and Football on the fourth Sundays in September, but in case of exceptional difficulty the Central Council may make other arrangements.

93 In Inter-County, Championship and National League matches players shall be numbered and duplicate numbered lists of 25 players with full Christian names and names of Clubs from which players are drawn, forwarded seven clear days before the match. One of these shall be retained for reference and the other sent to the Secretary of the opposing team. Omission shall entail penalty of £5. A team shall not consist of more than 20 players and two officials of the County Board, one of the latter to be put in charge of County team to see that all players have visible numbers and that their numbers correspond exactly with published list.

94 Duplicate lists of players and substitutes, giving full Christian names shall be handed to the Referee before all championship matches and in inter-county matches lists shall also show clubs to which players belong. First fifteen players listed shall constitute the actual team.

95 All questions affecting play shall be decided on the field by the officials concerned.

96 Misconduct on field - A player ordered off shall stand suspended for at least one month and must be reinstated by responsible authority.

97 A player insulting or threatening a Referee, umpire or linesman, shall incur suspension for not less than twelve months, and his team shall be liable to disqualification. A player once ordered off shall not resume. If this should occur, the match shall be awarded to opposing side.

A team may commence a match with 13 players, but any team failing to field the full number of players prior to start of second-half shall forfeit the match. Late arrivals may join in the game in the first half only during a cessation of play and must report to the Referee when so doing.

98 A player or team leaving the field without the permission of the Referee, or refusing to continue the game shall become automatically suspended for six months. No Committee or Council shall have power to modify the penalty.

When a team refuses to continue play, the Referee shall give the Captain concerned three minutes to decide. Failing resumption he shall endeavour to ascertain names of players willing to continue and report accordingly to the Committee in charge. The match shall be awarded to the team prepared to finish contest.

99 Injured Players - Substitutes shall be allowed only during the course of the game, but a delay of not more than two minutes shall be permitted. In Inter-County contests only two authorised officials shall be allowed on the field during stoppages.

(While it is true to say that every facet of our games is governed by a rule, the Ard Chomhairle realised that it would be a worthwhile scheme to publish guidelines to players in a booklet. They were of the opinion that it would be of great help to referees as well who could then apply the rules sensibly and in the true spirit of the games and especially seeing that such a pamphlet would put an end to the interpretations which often times ignore the rule per se.

Refereeing is one of the most important aspects of the GAA, and it is incumbent on every member of the Association who has to perform that work to be knowledgeable of every rule and sub-rule that applies to the playing of the games.)

These rules were published by a committee of referees who had much experience of this work, and every member should study them and explain them to other Gaels.)
INSTRUCTIONS ON THE PLAYING RULES WITH PARTICULAR INTEREST TO REFEREES

(a) SPEEDING UP THE GAME.

(1) Keep up with the play
(2) Insist that “free-kicks,” “free pucks,” kick-in,” etc should be taken at once there is no necessity to place the ball except for close-in frees
(3) Should a player be injured see that the game resumes inside 2 minutes
(4) Do not hold up the game by whistling petty infringements when same do not impede the course of the game
(4) Always keep the game going by prompt decisions – the spectators enjoy such

(b) DANGEROUS PLAY:

(1) Deal sternly with the player who makes a practice of obstructing his opponent by using his hurley or elbow before the ball arrives in the struggle for possession, or when he has obtained possession
(2) Remember that it’s only permissible to charge the goal-man when he’s in possession of the ball, hence the practice of charging indiscriminately when the ball is in the air in the goal-mouth or crossing the bar, or coming goalwards must be penalised. Similarly “defenders” must not be allowed to foul forwards by butting from behind or holding their hurleys horizontally when they, the forwards, are endeavouring to save the ball crossing the end line
(3) A player should be sent to the line without warning for any action likely to result in serious injury to his opponent, such as (a) deliberate striking, (b) deliberate kicking, (c) malicious use of the knee, elbow or handle of the hurley

GENERAL

1 Remember that fair shoulder charging is permissible. That the practice of holding on to the ball in the expectation of being fouled is in itself a foul and should be penalised
2 Note that a player who in jumping for the ball secures possession by reaching over his opponent does not commit a foul even if he accidentally strikes him coming down
3 Note when the ball has been placed for a free (a) should the offending player deliberately strike it away, he must replace the ball in its proper position, and if he refuses the referee should order him to the line,
(b) should the team entitled to the free deliberately displace the ball, the free shall be given to the opposing team

“ADVANTAGE RULE.”

The so-called advantage rule merely permits the referee to allow play to continue after a foul has been committed, in the expectation that the continuation of the play will result in greater benefit to the offended team than the awarding of a free would confer. Sounding of the whistle suspends the game temporarily and a score cannot be made till the game is resumed.

A - FOOTBALL RULES

(These instructions on the rules of football and hurling follow in a simplified format.)

A FOOTBALL RULES

1 – 4 Scoring Space
In the case of inclement weather and state of ground due to same the Referee should consult with the Officials present as to the advisability of play, but should not postpone a game unless absolutely necessary.

Lines
If there is any complaint from any of the teams concerned the Referee should request the Committee in charge of the fixture to have the matter complained of rectified if possible.

The Referee shall observe particularly that the parallelogram is distinctly marked, and that the end line is marked from post to post across the scoring space.

5 Number of Players
(a) Fifteen players shall comprise a team in Inter-County matches. Should any player be obliged through injury to retire a substitute shall be allowed, but the game must not be delayed for his admission.
(b) In all matches the Referee may start the game with either or both teams having only thirteen players, but full teams of fifteen must be fielded in the second half else the defaulting team forfeits the match

(c) Referees should count the players at the commencement of each half of the game

(d) The Referee should not allow players late for the start of the game to take part in it until they report themselves to him, and he should see that no team, players or player leave the field during the game without his permission

6 Commencing Play
The Referee must not award a "free" where at the commencement of play a player stands in front of the fifty line – he must direct the player to his proper position

7 Duration of Play
(a) The Referee should note on paper the time of start and the time when the half hour or full time should expire. He can easily add to the time for delays or stoppages

(b) The referee may allow lost time in each half of the game for any stoppages or delays incurred during each half. Each half hour must be regarded as a separate period.

(c) Referees are bound to do everything possible to start the game punctually, if the start is delayed the reason should be reported

8 Scores
(a) The whole of the ball must have passed over the goal-line and between the posts under the bar before a goal is scored

(b) Referees should remember that the ball might possibly roll along the goal line and even have the greater part of it over the line and yet not pass altogether over the line so as to count a goal

(c) In catching or "fisting out" a ball the goal-keeper may allow the ball, especially if it be a high one, to pass over the line through his standing too far back for the purpose of catching or "fisting out" the ball, and it must be borne in mind that if the whole ball is over the line a goal has been scored

(d) The Referee is reminded that he cannot over-rule the agreed decision of the two Goal Umpires, but in the event of their not agreeing he alone is empowered to give a decision
(e) The Referee is advised to keep in close touch with the play near the goals and to endeavour to have a side view whenever a shot is being put in, or when there is a scrimmage near the goal-mouth

(f) Should the ball pass through the scoring space and be blown back into play, a score must be allowed

(g) Should any part of the ball in passing over the bar and posts be outside the inner edge of the upright, a point has not been scored

(h) Where the posts or bar have been broken great care must be taken in deciding as to a score

(i) The practice of claiming a score is too frequent and unnecessary, but the Referee and Umpires should decide immediately, and no amount of claiming can alter the decision

9 Kick-out
Referees are not bound to order players outside the twenty-one yards line when the free kick is being taken, but must penalize them if they remain inside it

10 Free Kicks
(a) The Referee having whistled for a foul shall at once indicate the place from where the free shall be taken, and shall immediately whistle for the free to be taken so as to keep the game going. Delay in taking frees is irritating to spectators and players alike

(b) Referees should see that the free is not taken till the whistle sounds. On the other hand, Referees should not tolerate attempts to delay the game by wasting time in taking a free-kick. The free-kick must not be allowed if the ball is moving at the time the free is being taken

(c) Referees should note that the player who takes a free-kick must not again play the ball till it has been played by some other player. They should also note that no player approaches nearer than fourteen yards till the free-kick is taken

(d) The Referee should not order players to stand the required distance away, but should penalize them if they infringe the Rule

(e) Referees should be extremely cautious regarding fouls within the parallelogram, and should note that only the goalkeeper of the defending side is allowed to stand in the scoring space when frees are being taken for such fouls. The other players must stand in all such cases outside the 21 yards line

Note – All such frees must be given from the centre point on the 14 yards line, directly opposite the goal.

(f) The Referee need not place the ball for a free-kick - it shall be sufficient for him to indicate the place from which it shall be taken. When he sounds his whistle for the free to be taken the first player of the side entitled to a free who touches the ball shall be deemed to have taken the free.

(g) When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the parallelogram, a free should be given on the 14 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

Referees should note that players of either side can stand inside the 14 yards line if they are 14 yards from where free kick is being taken.

The Play

(a) The Referee should remember that a player having caught the ball is allowed to hop the ball against the ground only once with either one or both hands. If the player has not caught a hopping ball he can make a run by striking it with either one or both hands, but if he catches the ball he is allowed but one hop.

(b) Referees are reminded that the ball may be touched with the hand while on the ground only:
   (1) by the goalkeeper within the parallelogram
   (2) by a player who has been knocked to the ground in possession of the ball
   [In this case the player is permitted only to fist the ball away.]

(c) Referees should be careful not to allow “carrying” of the ball, nor “holding” of the ball, nor “throwing” the ball out of the hand. Strict vigilance should be exercised for picking of the ball from the ground; it must be toed to the hand.

(d) Referees are advised to have a consultation with their Goal Umpires on the “Parallelogram” Rule, and to give them instructions on its application before the game starts.

(e) When a score has been disallowed a “free-kick” must be taken from within the parallelogram by the defending team.

(f) Referees should bear in mind that once a player catches a ball he must without delay either
   (1) hop it against the ground, (2) hop it in the air, (2) kick it, or (3) fist it away
   If he holds the ball longer than is necessary to do so he commits a foul.

(g) Players may kick the ball in any direction and either “drop-kicking” or “punting” is allowed.
Referees must be exceedingly vigilant so as to detect “throwing” the ball—a not so infrequent occurrence when a player attempts to pass the ball with his hand to one of his colleagues.

NOTE. – In hand-passing the ball must be fisted.

A player of the opposing side must not enter the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play. The back or goalkeeper within the parallelogram must not be charged by an opponent unless the ball has entered the parallelogram, and any score made shall be nullified by an infringement of the Parallelogram Rule.

Referees should be thoroughly conversant with the Parallelogram Rule and should keep in mind that provided opposing players had entered the parallelogram legitimately in the course of play, a score must be allowed (1) if the ball on being driven out is returned before they have time to leave the parallelogram, (2) if the ball passes so high as to be out of the reach of all players; always provided, however, that they do not interfere with the defence in the return of the ball.

The Referee must see that the Goal Umpires hold up both flags crossed when a score has been disallowed for a breach of the Parallelogram Rule.

Charging Goal-keeper

Referees should be careful to penalise charging of the goalkeeper except when he is in possession of the ball.

Entering Parallelogram

See (d) under rule (11).

Kick-In

(a) The Referee should note that a foul kick-in occurs (1) if the player kicking-in the ball plays it himself again before it is touched by another player, and (2) if any player stands nearer than ten yards to the player kicking in the ball.

(b) The Referee has power to give a ruling contrary to the linesman if he feels justified in doing so.

(c) Referee should not order players to stand back ten yards at the time of a kick-in, but should penalize the offenders.

(d) Referees shall see that the linesmen change sides at half-time, and that they keep outside the touch line. The linesman shall throw in the ball in any case where he cannot decide as to which team is entitled to the “kick-in.”

(e) A kick-in must be given if the ball touches a spectator who was standing...
inside the touchline, and also if the ball having crossed the side-line re-enteres the field of play through the action of the wind or the screw of the kick

(f) If the ball strikes the Referee, it must be thrown in by the referee, even though it would have passed over the side line or end line

15 Fifty Yards Free Kick

(a) Referees and Gaol Umpires should note that the mere touching any part of a defender by the ball before it crosses the end-line outside the point posts entitles the attacking team to a fifty-yards free kick

(b) Referees should endeavour to be in close touch with the play so as to be in a position to determine if a "fifty" is due. It is advisable that the Goal Umpires signal immediately to the Referee when a "fifty" has been conceded by the defenders

(c) The Referee should place the ball himself in position for the fifty, which should not be taken till he whistles

(d) Should the ball touch an outsider who was standing inside the field of play, and be thus prevented from crossing the end-line after being last played by a defender, a fifty must be awarded the attacking team

(e) Should the Goal Umpires be unable to definitely decide if a "fifty" is conceded, as in the case of close play be two opposing players over the end-line the Referee must use his discretion in giving a decision

(f) The whole ball must have crossed the end-line before the attackers are entitled to a fifty

16 Foul and Rough Play

(a) The Referee must remember that on his strict insistence on compliance with this rule depends the smooth playing of the game, and to a great extent the popularity of the game with the public. Rough play is strongly inclined to bring discredit on the game apart altogether from the great risk of injury to the players. The Referee is advised, therefore, to enforce the rule vigorously from the opening of the game, and thus prevent rough play developing

(b) The Referee must remember that in order to prevent rough play and to ensure that players who are guilty of it shall be duly punished, he is empowered by the Rule-

(1) To order players guilty of rough play off the field of play;

(2) To caution players whose conduct approaches roughness;

(3) To bring to the notice of the Council in charge of the fixture the names of any players whose conduct tends to bring the game into disrepute, or whose play tended to injure an opponent. The Referee should bear in mind he is assured of the support of the Council in dealing with rough play, and he should therefore, take the initiative in suppressing it.

(c) The Referee should under no circumstances allow a player to push an opponent with his hands or arms. Using the elbow or knee against an opponent being a dangerous practice, should be sternly suppressed.

(d) The Referee should be very vigilant, especially when there is close play, to detect tripping. The player need not necessarily be brought to the ground by the trip, as the attempt to throw him by use of the legs is sufficient. Stooping in front of or behind a player constitutes an infringement of the Rule, as, also, does the act of putting in the foot from behind to obtain the ball. Putting the foot across at full length in front of a player for the purpose of getting the ball is a foul even if the ball is touched, or if any part of the player's person is touched.

(f) No player is permitted to catch an opponent in any way, and a free must be awarded for every breach of the Rule.

(g) Obstructing a player by the hand or arm extended from the body is holding, and is an infringement just as much as if the player had been held about the body, arms or legs. Once a player has secured possession of the ball any attempt to take it from him by reaching over his shoulder or around his body shall be a foul.

(h) Jumping at an opponent must not be confused with jumping for the ball.

(i) The Referee shall rigorously penalize any player guilty of butting with the head, but he must be careful to distinguish this offense from the case of a player who bends to get out with the ball. The Referee must be vigilant so as not to confuse these somewhat similar movements.

(j) In one instance only is it fair to charge a player from behind – that is, when the opponent intentionally turns his back so as to make what would otherwise be a fair charge a foul one. The Referee must remember that an offence is not committed where a player in moving to play the ball touches another player behind unintentionally. The Referee is the sole judge, but he should not, by being overstrict in this matter, delay the progress of the game, or irritate the players or spectators.

(k) Referees must not allow any player to be charged or in any way interfered with unless that player is moving to play the ball or actually playing it.

(l) Referees must allow a fair shoulder charge, but should the charge be violent or dangerous, he should award a free to the offended team. If a player persists in violently charging opponents he should be cautioned, and if his actions are likely to injure another player he should be ordered off the field of play.

(m) The Referee has definite instructions under this Rule, and should fearlessly carry them out, as he will be supported by the Council in putting down rough play and ungentlemanly conduct. He should –

(1) Caution a player whom he notices playing roughly, and should do so at first opportunity that offers. One caution is sufficient.

(2) Order off the field any player whose conduct is such as to injure an opponent, who uses improper language to the Referee himself, to other players or to officials, who uses threatening language, who raises his hand to strike or threaten an opponent.

(3) Report to the proper authority the players ordered off the field.

(n) Referees are advised to give the caution to the player in a proper manner. While making the caution specific and personal he must not discuss or argue the point with the player, nor point to or place his hand on the player concerned. An apology by the player to the Referee should not be accepted by him in mitigation of the offence.

(o) The Referee should report to the Council concerned any misconduct or improper language towards him by players away from the field of play in connection with his duty as Referee.

(p) The Referee must terminate the match and report to the Council should a player refuse to leave the field when ordered to do so by him.

(q) The Referee must hop the ball amongst the two offending players when they foul at the same time.

(r) When a player receives an injury the Referee when the ball goes out of play, shall stop the game to ascertain the facts of the case, but if the player is unable to continue he should be removed, and the Referee must allow a substitute. – Note (18)c.

(s) When a player is fouled after delivery a free kick shall be given where the ball lands (except a score is made, which is allowed). Should the ball cross the end or side line a free shall be given where the foul occurred.

(t) The granting of a free is entirely at the discretion of the Referee when a player though fouled succeeds in playing the ball. The Referee while being prompt with his whistle must also be discreet, as often a too hasty decision spoils an advantage to the side offended against especially in the scoring area. A Referee should not give a free where it would be of less advantage to the side entitled to it than the kick already taken.
Note.- When the whistle has sounded play ceases and no score can be allowed, but the referee should not blow the whistle where the score is likely to result.

17 Ball out of Play
(a) Referees must be prompt to stop the game the moment the ball touches a bystander who is inside the playing pitch

(b) A “kick-in” must be given in all cases where the ball touched a spectator inside the side-line

(c) Where the ball touches a spectator inside the end-line the Referee must be vigilant so as to detect whether a “kick-out” or a “fifty-yards” is the outcome. The awarding of a “fifty” in such cases is at the Referee’s own discretion, as such cases are specially provided for in the Rule re “Fifty Yards Free Kick”. Should the referee have any doubt he should consult the umpires

(d) Where encroachment takes place the Referee is advised to stop the game and permit its resumption only when the playing pitch is absolutely clear of spectators

18 Injured Player
(a) The Referee must be cautious regarding injured players. He shall not stop the game when a player is injured, until the ball goes out of play

(b) Should the injury be such as to require attention the injured player should be removed as soon as possible

(c) The Referee shall for the purpose of his report take the name of the injured player, and shall note where possible the time, cause and nature of the accident. He shall also obtain the name of the substitute

19 Weight and Size of Ball
(a) The Referee shall see that the ball is properly inflated and securely tied and laced. He shall where possible ensure that a reserve ball is ready in case of emergency

(b) The weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces, size, 27 to 29 inches in circumference. No 5 match ball

(c) Should the ball not be of the required size, he shall see that a ball of the official size is provided. The Referee shall, if required, permit the captain of the competing teams to satisfy themselves that the ball is of the specified weight and size
(d) The Referee shall make it his business to secure the ball at the end of the contest and hand it over to the official in charge of the fixture

20 Leaving the Field
A team or an individual leaving the field, or refusing to continue the game, without the Referee’s permission, becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the Association shall have power to modify this penalty. When a player, players or a whole team are refusing to continue the game, etc., the Referee should give captain of the team concerned time, say, three minutes, to decide and if then there is no sign of resumption, he should endeavour to find out and report the names of any players willing to finish the game. The committee in charge must award match to team willing to continue.

(c) The Referee is advised to insist on teams being punctual for their matches, and in all cases he shall see that the team shall wear their registered colours for their match, even when lining out to take a walk-over.

21 Colours
(a) If asked to do so the referee shall report all cases of teams taking the field not properly togged.

SPECIAL.

1. The Referee shall terminate the game and not award the match.
2. If a player taking a free strikes the cross-bar or upright, he must not play the ball again until it has been played by another player.
3. No substitute to take part in game until he has reported to the Referee.
4. The game is stopped when Referee has blown his whistle.

B. HURLING RULES.

As most of the Instructions to Referees given under Section A – FOOTBALL RULES – apply also in general to the conducting of Hurling Matches, the Instructions are not here repeated. Instructions are given in all cases where the rule governing Hurling differs from that governing Football, and also in the special cases that apply to Hurling exclusively.

Referees are advised to study the Football Instructions, and then follow the Instructions in the Hurling Section directly applicable to the game of Hurling.

1 The Puck-Out
(a) The Referee should see that the player stands within the parallelogram to puck out the ball.
(b) The Referee should note the position of the attacking players, and if any of them approach nearer than the 21 yards’ line at the time of the puck-out, he shall award the defending team a free puck on the 21 yards' line opposite where offending player stood

(c) The Referee must be careful to see that in case the player fails to deliver the ball at first stroke he must then puck it off from the ground, or raising it strike it without taking it in his hand

(d) The player taking the puck-out is entitled to strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it

(e) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred

2 Free Pucks

(a) A "Free-Puck" is the penalty for a breach of the Rules and differs from the puck-out

(b) It shall be sufficient for the Referee to indicate where free shall be taken from

(c) The Referee shall see that ball is not pucked till he has whistled

(d) The Referee shall see that no player approaches nearer than 21 yards till the free-puck has been taken

(e) The player having taken the free must not again touch the ball till another player has touched it

(f) The player may take the free-puck by hitting the ball on the ground. In this case he must not again touch the ball till it has been played by another player

(g) The player may (1) lift the ball with the hurley, and then (2) strike it off the hurley. Close attention must be given to this method - (1) If the player makes a second attempt to lift the ball the Referee shall throw in the ball between the teams where the foul occurred (2) If the player fails at first attempt to strike off the hurley he may strike the ball on the ground, and then free shall be deemed to have been taken. Should a player when taking a free puck (for a foul) draw his stroke and touch the ball, he cannot again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. Should he do so the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred

(h) For a foul inside 21 yards line the ball must be brought back for the free-puck to the 21 yards line

(b) The ball may be kicked on or off the ground, it may be caught when off the ground, and may be struck with the hand when off the ground

e) To throw the ball is a foul, and the Referee shall award the opposing team a free-puck in all such cases.

(f) For instructions on the “parallelogram” Rule see Rule 11 in the Football section of the Chart, where details are given under heads (j), (k), (l), (m). In all cases of infringement of the Parallelogram Rule where a score is disallowed the ball must be given the defending side for a “free-puck” from the parallelogram and this puck must be taken in accordance with Rule 10 as it differs from a puck-out.

4 Side Puck

(a) A player taking a side-puck fouls (1) if he attempts to lift the ball off the ground, (2) if he attempts to alter the position of the ball as placed by the linesmen, (3) if he touches it after having pucked it in before it is touched by another player. The Referee shall for any of these infringements award a free to the opposing team.

(b) For further instructions on this subject, see “Throw-In” in Football Chart Rule 11.

5 Seventy Yards Free Puck

(a) See Football Chart (Rule 13 Fifty Yards Free Kick)- the instruction on which apply in a similar manner to the Seventy Yards Free Puck in Hurling.

(b) The seventy yards free puck may be taken in either of the ways permitted by the Rule on ordinary “free pucks”.

(c) The Referee must be exceptionally vigilant when a player is taking a “seventy-yards” free puck, so as to detect fouls. The player may foul by -

1. Attempting a second time to lift the ball off the ground.
2. Attempting a second time to strike the ball off the hurley.

(f) A player who raises his hurley to strike or threaten another player shall at once be ordered off the field by the Referee

(g) Should a player from each side foul at the same time the Referee shall throw in the ball where the foul occurred

(h) Holding another player's hurley comes under the category of "Holding" and must be penalized by the Referee

(c) Indicate when and where frees are to be taken.
(d) Consult with Umpires and Linesmen when occasion arises and in case any of them withdraws before the end of a match, appoint a substitute.

These later may be penalised at discretion of controlling body.

(c) Extend time in each half for delays, delivered or incidental, in that half or to allow a free to be taken. The Linesmen shall each take one side of the ground just outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction which the ball is to be kicked or pucked. A "Fifty" in football and a "Seventy" in Hurling shall be indicated by pointing directly infield where the ball, last played or touched by a defending player, passed over the end line.

109 In all inter-county and inter-provincial matches referees, Umpires and Linesmen shall be appointed at meetings when fixtures are made. Any of these officials unable to act shall notify Secretary in charge, who shall arrange for substitute.

In county, divisional or other matches a referee who is unable to act at the last moment may nominate a proxy under whom the team shall play.

112 In Inter-County, Championship and National League matches players shall be numbered, and duplicated numbered lists of 25 players with full Christian names and the names of Clubs from which the players are drawn, forwarded seven clear days before the match. Omission shall entail penalty of £5. One of those shall be retained for reference and the other sent to the Secretary of the opposing team.

A team party shall consist of not more than 20 players and two officials of the County Board, one of the latter to be put in charge of the team to see that all players have visible numbers and that their numbers correspond exactly with published list.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules, and the two Captains should, before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc, unless a protest has been made to the Referee before match starts The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay

132 Duration of Play - The time for actual play is one hour - sides to be changed at half time. An interval, not exceeding 10 minutes, may be allowed at half-time.

133 Scores - A goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal-posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, and Inter-County and, as far as possible, in County Championship matches, a net shall be placed behind each goal so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the posts except when thrown by any of the attacking side.

The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts, below, where in the opinion of the Referee, the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee's opinion, have been, he shall allow a goal or a point according as the ball would have passed under or over the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line.

The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal to the opposing team, and if through the point space, it shall count a point.

134 The goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent, or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

135 Entering the Parallelogram - The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball returns before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in the parallelogram.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick (Football), or free puck (Hurling), from within parallelogram.

(f) A whole team may be disqualified and suspended for rough play, even though it won the match.

(g) In awarding frees for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free from where foul occurred, if the foul prevented the player playing the ball. In Football, when a player is fouled after delivery, a free kick shall be given where ball lands, except a score is made, which is allowed, but, should the ball cross the end or side-line, a free shall be given where the foul occurred, and, should the ball fall within the 14 yards line of the opponents’ territory, the free shall be given from the 14 yards line.

In Hurling, when a player is fouled after delivery, a free puck shall be given (except a score is made, which is allowed) where the ball lands, if outside the 70 yards mark, or, on a point on the 70 yards’ mark opposite where it landed, if it be inside the 70 yards mark.

(h) In Hurling, no player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player or put his hurley from behind another player, for the purpose of getting the ball. No player shall strike another player’s hurley, unless both players are in the act of striking the ball. A player must not throw his hurley, under any circumstances.

(i) Should a player from each team foul at the same time, the Referee shall hop the ball where the fouls occurred.

137 Ball out of play: If the ball strikes a spectator or official, other than the Referee, inside the side-line, it shall be out of play, and must be kicked (Football), or pucked (Hurling), from the side-line. If it occurs at the end line, it shall also be out of play and must be kicked (Football) or pucked (Hurling) out from the parallelogram.

The Referee may allow a goal or a point or a 50 yards free kick (Football), or 70 yards free puck (Hurling), should he consider that a goal or a point would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick (Football), or 70 yards free puck (Hurling), would have been forfeited.

138 Injured player: The Referee shall allow a substitute for an injured player. A maximum of two minutes’ delay shall be strictly enforced when a player is injured. Only two officials will be permitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for those officials.

140 Leaving the Field: A team or a player leaving the field, without the Referee’s permission, or refusing to continue the game, becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the association shall have power to modify this penalty. When a player, players or a whole team refuse to continue the game, the Referee should give Captain of the team concerned certain time, say three minutes, to decide and if then there be no sign of resumption, he should endeavout to find out the names of any players willing to finish the game and report accordingly. The Committee in charge must award match to team willing to continue.

RULES APPLICABLE TO FOOTBALL ONLY.

141 The Kick-out-In the kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground inside the parallelogram, and the players of the defending team, except the player taking the kick, and the goalkeeper, who shall remain within the parallelogram, to be outside the 14 yards line, and all players of the attacking team to be outside the 21 yards line. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time to compensate for deliberate delay in kicking out.

When a score is made the kick-out shall be taken from a point on 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

NOTE - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

142 Free Kicks- The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled. In all free kicks, including the 50 yards kick, no player shall approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the parallelogram a free shall be given on the 14 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

143 The Play - The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying.

The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the hand or hopped once with either one or both hands against the ground.

The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The Goalkeeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hand, and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away.

NOTE - When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by hopping it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop.

144 When the ball is driven across the side-line it shall be kicked off the ground from the point where it crossed the side-line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The player so kicking the ball must not again play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player. If a score be made from such kick it shall be allowed. Opposing players must stand at least 14 yards from player taking the side-line kick.

145 Fifty Yards Free Kick - If the ball is played across the end line outside the goal posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

NOTE - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

RULES_APPLICABLE_TO_HURLING_ONLY.

146 The Puck-out - When the ball is driven over the goal line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck it out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball may be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram or may be raised, but not taken into the hand before striking. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked.

The Referee shall be empowered to allow extra time to compensate for any deliberate delay in pucking out.

NOTES -

(1) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred.

(2) The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

147 Free Pucks - The Penalty for all breaches of the Rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player. A free puck may be in any direction.

In all free pucks other than side-line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only: (a) Strike the ball on the ground, (b) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

NOTES -

(1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, or charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood or charged.

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring inside the 21 yards line and entitling the attacking side to a free puck.

(3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge.

(4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

(5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side-line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck - after the Referee has whistled - by a player of the side having the free puck.

148 The Play - The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying. Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball.

NOTES -

(1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where the foul occurred.

(2) When the ball is on the ground, a player touching it with his hand commits a foul and the opposing side shall have a free puck where foul occurred.
(3) A player may catch the ball only twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

149 Side Puck- When a player drives the ball over the side line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than ten yards until the ball is struck. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed and the player who takes the free puck cannot alter its position.

NOTES -

(1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 10 yards to the player who is puckling in the ball, the free puck shall then be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.

(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempt to lift the ball, a free puck shall be awarded the opposing team where foul took place.

(3) If the player who puckles in the ball touches it again before another player has touched it, the opposing team shall have a free puck from where the foul took place.

150 Seventy Yards Fee Puck - If the ball is played across the end line outside the posts by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

NOTES -

(1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.

(2) Should the player who is taking the 70 yards free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by opposing team.
CONTROL OF MATCHES

104(x) The Central Council, Provincial Councils and County Committees shall delegate the power to appoint referees, for all games under their jurisdiction, to a subcommittee of not more than six.

104 Control of matches shall be entrusted to the Referee, Umpires (four) and Linesmen (two). All questions affecting play shall be decided on the field by them.

Referee - The duties and powers of a Referee in addition to those set out under Playing Rules, shall be:

(a) Receive lists of players, which must be in Irish, sign them, give a copy to the opposing team, and see that the players are properly attired.
(b) Throw in ball at commencement of play in each half, and allow or disallow score if Umpires disagree, but not otherwise.
(c) Indicate when and where frees are to be taken.
(d) Consult with Umpires and Linesmen when occasion arises and in case any of them withdraws before the end of a match, appoint a substitute.
(e) Keep a record of the scores and forward a report of the match, with names of players ordered off, players injured and replaced, the intrusion of unauthorised persons, and the names of players or officials interfering during the course of the game. These later may be penalised at discretion of controlling body.
(f) Present the ball to the captain of the winning team at conclusion of Provincial and All-Ireland Finals.
(g) Referee cannot make award of a match, but may give his final scores if requested. The award rests with the Committee or Council concerned acting on his report.
(h) Referee's decision on any question of fact and in regard to time shall be final.

105 The Referee shall have power to:

(a) Declare the ground or other conditions unsuitable for play, after consulting officials in charge of the fixture.
(b) Terminate a match for want of light, because of persistent outside interference, and any other reason he considers sufficient. If match is stopped by darkness coming on, it must be re-fixed for full-time, unless there was deliberate delay on the part of one team, when it may be awarded to their opponents.
(c) Extend time in each half for delays, delivered or incidental, in that half or to allow a free to be taken. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the referee whistles for full time he shall further extend the time to permit an additional free to be taken. A score can result from such frees only when no other player of the same side touches the ball.
(d) Caution player for forbidden tactics and send him to the line on repetition of offence.
(e) Order to the line a player indulging in dangerous play, threatening another with hand or hurley, or using provocative language to players or officials.
(f) Abandon match if player refuses to leave field
(g) Disqualify an entire team for rough play

106 Once having given a decision the Referee, after sounding the whistle, shall not alter it.

107 There shall be two Linesmen appointed by the Referee, County Committee, Provincial Council or Central Council, who shall be provided with flags. Their duty (subject to the decision of the Referee) shall be to decide when or where the ball crosses the side-line, and which side is entitled to the kick-in or puck-in. Where a Linesman cannot determine which team is entitled to a kick-in or puck-in, the linesman shall throw in the ball himself.

The Linesmen shall each take one side of the ground just outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction which the ball is to be kicked or puck ed. No penalty shall be incurred by competing teams should linesmen not change sides at half-time.

108 There shall be two Goal Umpires at each end of the ground, appointed by the Referee, County Committee, Provincial Council or Central Council. One shall stand outside each goal post. Their duty (subject to the Referee’s decision when the differ) shall be to watch for goal and points and breaches of the parallelogram rule, and to decide when the ball is over the end line. Umpires shall not change ends at half-time.

Wide balls (overs) are signaled by waving one or both arms. The flags shall be raised at the centre of the goal space when a score had been made.

When a score is disallowed, breaches of the parallelogram Rule shall be notified by crossing the signal flags in front of the goal.

A “Fifty” in football and a “Seventy” in hurling shall be indicated by pointing directly infield where the ball, last played or touched by a defending player, passed over the end line.

109 In all inter-county and inter-provincial matches referees, Umpires and Linesmen shall be appointed at meetings when fixtures are made. Any of these officials unable to act shall notify Secretary in charge, who shall arrange for substitute.

In county, divisional or other matches a referee who is unable to act at the last moment may nominate a proxy under whom the team shall play.

110 If a match results in a draw, teams may, by mutual consent, play extra time - 15 minutes each way - and a substitute shall then be allowed for any player previously ordered off.

Otherwise, or if match be postponed for some unavoidable cause it may be refixed for a date seven days later, provided four days’ notice be given. In the event of a further draw, extra time, as above, must be played the team or teams refusing to continue to be ruled out of the competition.

111 The All-Ireland Senior Finals shall take place in Croke Park - Hurling on the first and Football on the fourth Sundays in September, but in case of exceptional difficulty the Central Council may make other arrangements.

112 In Inter-County, Championship and National League matches players shall be numbered, and duplicated numbered lists of 25 players with full Christian names and the names of Clubs from which the players are drawn, forwarded seven clear days.
before the match. Omission shall entail penalty of £5. One of those shall be retained for reference and the other sent to the Secretary of the opposing team.

A team party shall consist of not more than 20 players and five officials of the County Board, one of the later to be put in charge of the team to see that all players have visible numbers and that their numbers correspond exactly with published list. In All-Ireland Semi-finals and Finals the placing of teams must be given to the General Secretary 6 days prior to the match.

113 Duplicate lists of players, giving full Christian names and, in the case of Inter-County matches, Clubs to which players belong, shall be handed to the Referee before all official matches. Where more than fifteen names appear on such lists, unless clearly indicated, the first fifteen shall be taken as constituting the actual team. Names of substitutes replacing injured players, must be taken by Referee before resumption of play.

Failure to furnish list in Irish, for official matches, shall entail loss of match, as shall also the inclusion of a player whose name has not been supplied to the referee.

114 The players shall be 15 aside in all matches, but a team may commence a match with 13 players. Any team failing to field the full number of players prior to the start of second half shall forfeit the match.

Late arrivals may join in the game in the first half only during a cessation of play and must report to the Referee when so doing.

115 Misconduct on field - A player ordered off shall stand suspended for at least one month.

The minimum penalty for a player striking an opponent shall be first offence, two months' suspension, for a second similar offence six months suspension and for any subsequent similar offences twelve months' suspension.

A player insulting or threatening a Referee, Umpire or Linesman shall incur suspension of not less than twelve months, and his team shall be liable to disqualification.

PLAYING RULES
1956
(Applicable to Football and Hurling)

127 The field of play shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 160 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

128 Marking of Ground - Side lines and end lines (goal lines) shall either be marked with lime or cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 14 yards, 21 yards, 50 yards (Football), 70 yards (Hurling), and half-way shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground, shall be marked with flags.
129 Scoring Space - In centre of the goal line shall stand the goal posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

130 Lines, 5 yards long, and at right angles to the end line, shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The end of these lines shall be joined so as to form a parallelogram 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules, and the two Captains should, before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to the Referee before the match starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay.

131 Commencing play - The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play. The goalkeeper and six others must be behind the 50 yards' lines (Football) and 70 yards' lines (Hurling). The remaining players shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field.

The Referee shall throw in the ball over the heads of the players (Football), and along the ground between the players (Hurling), who shall then separate.

132 Duration of Play - The time for actual play is one hour - sides to be changed at half time. An interval, not exceeding 10 minutes, may be allowed at half-time.

133 Scores - A goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal-posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, and Inter-County, and, as far as possible, in County Championship matches, a net shall be placed behind each goal so as to receive the ball when it passes through.

A point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the posts except, when thrown by any of the attacking side.

The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts, below, where in the opinion of the Referee, the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal. Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would, in the Referee's opinion, have been, he shall allow a goal or a point according as the ball would have passed under or over the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line.

The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal to the opposing team, and if through the point space, it shall count a point.

134 The goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent, or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

135 Entering the Parallelogram - The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball returns before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when it is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in the parallelogram.

NOTE - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule the defending side shall take a free kick (Football), or free puck (Hurling), from within parallelogram.

136 Foul and Rough Play

(a) Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding or jumping at a player, obstructing a player by hand or arm, even though he be not actually held, reaching from behind a player who has caught the ball, shall be deemed fouls.

(b) No player shall be charged from behind and no player shall be charged or interfered with unless he is moving to play the ball or in the act of playing it. (Should a player charge another who turns deliberately so as to make the charge that would otherwise be fair come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul).

(c) In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players and should the offence be repeated he shall order the offender or offenders off the field and report accordingly to the Committee or Council in charge of the fixture.

(d) In the case of dangerous play, violent conduct, irritating or improper language, or a player raising his hand to threaten or strike another player or to retaliate, the Referee shall, without any caution, order the offender or offenders off the field of play and report accordingly to the Committee or Council in charge of the fixture.

(e) If a player refuses to leave when ordered off, or having been ordered off again joins in the game, the Referee shall terminate the game and report accordingly to the Committee or Council in charge of the fixture, who shall award the match to the other team.

(f) A whole team may be disqualified and suspended for rough play, even though it won the match.

(g) In awarding frees for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free from where foul occurred, if the foul prevented the player playing the ball. In Football, when a player is fouled after delivery, a free kick shall be given where ball lands, except a score is made, which is allowed, but, should the ball cross the end or side-line, a free shall be given where the foul occurred, and, should the ball fall within the 14 yards line of the opponents' territory, the free shall be given from the 14 yards line.

In Hurling, when a player is fouled after delivery, a free puck shall be given (except a score is made, which is allowed) where the ball lands, if outside the 70 yards mark, or, on a point on the 70 yards' mark opposite where it landed, if it be inside the 70 yards' mark.

(h) In Hurling, no player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player or put his hurley from behind another player, for the purpose of getting the ball. No player shall strike another player's hurley, unless both players are in the act of striking the ball. A player must not throw his hurley, under any circumstances.

(i) Should a player from each team foul at the same time, the Referee shall hop the ball where the fouls occurred.

137 Ball out of play - If the ball strikes a spectator or official, other than the Referee, inside the side-line, it shall be out of play, and must be kicked (Football), or pucked.
(Hurling), from the side-line. If it occurs at the end line, it shall also be out of play and must be kicked (Football) or pucked (Hurling) out from the parallelogram.

The Referee may allow a goal or a point or a 50 yards free kick (Football), or 70 yards free puck (Hurling), should he consider that a goal or a point would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick (Football), or 70 yards free puck (Hurling), would have been forfeited.

138 Injured Player - The Referee shall allow a substitute for an injured player, provided there are not more than three such substitutions by a team during a game. Injured players needing attention must be removed to the side-line for treatment during which play must be resumed. Only two officials will be permitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for those officials.

139 The Weight and Size of Ball - FOOTBALL The weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces, size 27-29 inches in circumference - No 5 match ball.

HURLING The weight of the ball shall be from 3.5 to 4.5 ounces and 9 to 10 inches in circumference.

140 Leaving the Field - A team or a player leaving the field, without the Referee's permission, or refusing to continue the game, becomes automatically suspended for six months, and no Council or Committee of the association shall have power to modify this penalty. When a player, players or a whole team refuse to continue the game, the Referee should give Captain of the team concerned certain time, say three minutes, to decide and if then there be no sign of resumption, he should endeavour (sic) to find out the names of any players willing to finish the game and report accordingly. The Committee in charge must award match to team willing to continue.

RULES APPLICABLE TO FOOTBALL ONLY.

141 The Kick-out - In the kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground inside the parallelogram, and the players of the defending team, except the player taking the kick, and the goalkeeper, who shall remain within the parallelogram, to be outside the 14 yards line, and all players of the attacking team to be outside the 21 yards line. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end line for the purpose of taking a run. The Referee shall be empowered to allow time to compensate for deliberate delay in kicking out.

When a score is made the kick-out shall be taken from a point on 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

NOTE - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

—251—

All players, with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick, to stand outside the 21 yards line.

(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side-line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when, after the Referee has whistled, the ball is touched, by a player of the side taking the free kick.

(4) A player standing nearer than 14 yards or charging a free, commits a foul and a free shall be given from where the player stood or charged. Should a player charge from within the parallelogram, a penalty kick to be given.

(5) A player, other than the player taking the free kick, who kicks the ball away when placed by the latter shall be put to the side-line.

143 The Play - The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. It may be kicked in any direction but not carried. Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball, which must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying.

The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the fist or hopped once against the ground with either one or both hands.

Throwing shall include any means of passing, with the open hand, a ball which has been caught other than hopping it against (sic) the ground.

The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The Goalkeeper, within the parallelogram, may touch the ball while on the ground with his hand, and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away.

NOTE - When a player strikes a hopping ball which he has not caught, he can make a run by hopping it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop from the point where it crossed the side-line (as indicated by the linesman) by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing The player so is taking side-line kick

145 Fifty Yards Free Kick - If the ball is played across the end line outside the goal posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick

NOTE- The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it

(c) Extend time in each half for delays, delivered or incidental, in that half or to allow a free to be taken. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the referee whistles for full time he shall further extend the time to permit an additional free to be taken. Umpires shall not change ends at half-time.

124 Duplicate lists of players, giving full Christian names, and, in the case of Inter-County matches, Clubs to which players belong, shall be handed to the Referee, before all official matches. Where more than fifteen names appear on such lists, unless otherwise clearly indicated, the first fifteen shall be taken as constituting the actual team. from each goal post. The end of these lines shall be joined so as to form a parallelogram, 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules, and the two Captains should before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal line or side line.

The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal to the opposing team, and if through the point space, it shall count a point.

134. The goalkeeper shall not be charged unless in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent, or when he has passed outside the parallelogram.

135. Entering the Parallelogram - The Referee shall disallow a score made if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play, but if the ball returns before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when the ball is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in the parallelogram.

In Football, when a player is fouled after delivery, a free kick shall be given where ball lands, except a score is made, which is allowed, but, should the ball cross the end or side-line, a free shall be given where the foul occurred, and, should the ball fall within the 14 yards line of the opponents' territory, the free shall be given from the 14 yards line.

The Referee may allow a goal or a point or a 50 yards free kick (Football), or 70 yards free puck (Hurling), should he consider that a goal or a point would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick (Football), or 70 yards free puck (Hurling), would have been forfeited.

138 INJURED PLAYER - The Referee shall allow a substitute for an injured player, provided there are not more than three such substitutions by a team during a game. Injured players needing attention must be removed to the side-line for treatment during which play must be resumed. When a player, players or a whole team refuse to continue the game, the Referee should give Captain of the team concerned certain time, say three minutes, to decide and if then there be no sign of resumption, he should endeavour (sic) to find out the names of any players willing to finish the game and report accordingly. The Committee in charge must award match to team willing to continue.

RULES APPLICABLE TO FOOTBALL ONLY.

141 The Kick-out - In the kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground inside the parallelogram, and the players of the defending team, except the player taking the kick, and the goalkeeper, who shall remain within the parallelogram, to be outside the 14 yards line, and all players of the attacking team to be outside the 21 yards line. When a score is made the kick-out shall be taken from a point on 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no players to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

NOTE - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

142 FREE KICKS - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the position or himself place the ball on the spot from where the free shall be taken (no player to touch the ball after it has been so placed). The ball shall not be kicked until the Referee has whistled.
When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the parallelogram, a free shall be given on the 14 yards' line opposite where the foul was committed.

All players, with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick, to stand outside the 21 yards' line.
(3) A player taking a free kick near the end line or side-line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when, after the Referee has whistled, the ball is touched by a player of the side taking the free kick.
(4) In the case of a free kick or 50, a player standing nearer than 14 yards commits a foul and a free shall be given from where the player stood or charged. Should a player charge from within the parallelogram, a penalty kick to be given.
(5) A player, other than the player taking the free kick, who kicks the ball away when placed shall be put to the side-line.

143 THE PLAY - The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball. The ball must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying.

The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the fist or hopped once against the ground with either hand. Throwing shall include any means of passing, with the open hand, a ball which has been caught other than hopping it against the ground. Changing the ball once only from one hand to the other shall not be a foul.

The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goalkeeper, within the parallelogram, may lift the ball while on the ground with his hand, and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away.

NOTE - When a player strikes a hopping ball, which he has not caught, he may make a run by hopping it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball, he is allowed only one hop.

144 When the ball is driven across the side-line, it shall be kicked off the ground from the point where it crossed the side-line by a player of the opposing team to that which touched it last before crossing. The player so kicking the ball must not again play the ball himself until it has been played by some other player. If a score be made from such kick, it shall be allowed.

All players must stand at least 14 yards from where the ball is placed when player is taking side-line kick.

The Linesman shall place the ball for the kick.
145 Fifty Yards Free Kick - If the ball is played across the end line outside the goal posts by a player whose end line it is, the opposing team shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow the 50 yards free kick.

NOTE - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

RULES APPLICABLE TO HURLING ONLY.

The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puke it out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball may be pucked from off the ground within the parallelogram or may be raised, but not taken into the hand before striking. No player from the opposing side shall approach nearer than the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked.

The Referee shall be empowered to allow extra time to compensate for any deliberate delay in pucking out.

NOTES -

(1) Should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards' free puck opposite to where foul occurred.

(2) The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

147 Free Pucks - The Penalty for all breaches of the Rules shall be a free puck. In all free pucks the Referee must indicate the place from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. In all free pucks, including the 70 yards puck, no player shall approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball is pucked. The player who pucks must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player.

In all free pucks other than side-line pucks, the ball can be struck in two ways only:
(a) Strike the ball on the ground, (b) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball cannot be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley in a free puck, though lawful in all other cases.

NOTES -

(1) Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck is being taken, or charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood or charged.

(2) The Referee must bring back the ball to the 21 yards line for a foul occurring inside the 21 yards line and entitling the attacking side to a free puck.

(3) The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley at first effort, he must strike the ball on the ground. The ball must be pucked before the opposing team can charge.
4) Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

5) A player taking a free puck near the end line or side-line may stand outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is struck - after the Referee has whistled - by a player of the side having the free puck.

148 The Play - The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. It may be struck with the hand when off the ground, or kicked. It may be caught when off the ground and the player so catching it may puck it in any way he pleases, but must not carry it (except on the hurley) or throw it. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying. Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball.

NOTES -
(1) Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where the foul occurred.

(2) When the ball is on the ground, a player touching it with his hand commits a foul and the opposing side shall have a free puck where foul occurred.

(3) A player may catch the ball only twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

149 SIDE PUCK When a player drives the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. No player to approach nearer than 14 yards until the ball is struck. The linesman shall drop the ball at the line where it crossed and the player who takes the free puck may not alter its position.

NOTES -
(1) If a player of either side stands nearer than 14 yards to the player who is pucking the ball, the free puck shall then be given to the opposing team from where the foul occurred.

(2) If a player who is taking a side puck attempts to lift the ball, touches it again before another player has touched it, or otherwise fouls the ball, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurs.

150 Seventy Yards Fee Puck - If the ball is played across the end line outside the posts by a player whose end line it is the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line. If the ball, having been last played by one of the defending side, is prevented from crossing the end line by an outsider, the Referee shall allow a 70 yards free puck.

NOTES -
(1) The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.

(2) Should the player who is taking the 70 yards free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by opposing team.

(c) Extend time in each half for delays, delivered or incidental, in that half or to allow for a free to be taken. (d) Order to the line a player indulging in dangerous play, threatening another with hand or hurley, or using provocative language to players or officials.

(e) If a player refuses to leave when ordered off, or, having been ordered off, again joins in the game, the referee shall terminate the game and report accordingly to the Committee or Council in charge of the fixture, who shall award the match to the other team.

Where a Linesman cannot determine which team is entitled to a kick-in or puck-in, the linesman shall throw in the ball himself.

The Linesmen shall each take one side of the ground just outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction which the ball is to be kicked or pucked. No penalty shall be incurred by competing teams should linesmen not change sides at half-time.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules, and the two Captains should before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc, unless a protest has been made to the Referee before the game starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay.

131 COMMENCING PLAY - The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play. Four players, two from each side, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field - the other players to be in their respective positions behind the 50 yard's line (Football) and 70 yard's line (Hurling).

The Referee shall throw in the ball over the heads of the players (Football) and along the ground between the players (Hurling).

132 DURATION OF PLAY - The time for actual play is one hour - sides to be changed at half time. An interval not exceeding 10 minutes, may be allowed at half-time.

133 SCORES - A goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal-posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, and Inter-County and, as far as possible, in County Championship matches, goal-nets shall be provided.

A point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the posts except, when thrown by any of the attacking side.

Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would in the Referee's opinion have been, he shall allow a goal or a point according as the ball would have passed under or over the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal-line or side-line.

The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal to the opposing team, and if through the point space, it shall count a point.

134 The goalkeeper shall not be charged with in the parallelogram unless he is in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent.

135 ENTERING THE PARALLELOGRAM - The Referee shall disallow a score, subject to Rule 122(b), if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play. If the ball returns before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score. should be allowed. The score is allowed when the ball is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in the parallelogram.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule, the defending side shall take a free kick (Football) or free puck (Hurling) from within parallelogram.

136 FOUL AND ROUGH PLAY-

5. Charging or interfering with a player unless he is moving to play the ball or is in the act of playing it.

Note 1: A fair charge is hereby defined as a shoulder to shoulder charge.
Note 2: Should a player who is being legitimately charged turn deliberately to make the charge come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.

(b) In the case of rough play the Referee shall caution the player or players and should the offence be repeated, he shall order the offender or offenders off the field and report accordingly to the Committee or Council in charge of the fixture.

(c) In the case of dangerous play, violent conduct, irritating or improper language, or a player raising his hand to threaten or strike another player or to retaliate the Referee shall, without any caution, order the offender or offenders off the field of play and report accordingly to the Committee or Council in charge of the fixture.

(d) If a player refuses to leave when ordered off, or having been ordered off again, joins in the game, the referee shall terminate the game and report accordingly to the Committee or Council in charge of the fixture, who shall award the match to the other team.

(e) A whole team may be disqualified and suspended for rough play even though it won the match.

(f) In awarding frees for foul or rough play, the Referee shall give the free from where foul occurred - except when a player is fouled after delivering the ball, a free shall be given where the ball lands, but if a score is made it should be allowed, should the ball cross the end- or side-line the free shall be given where the foul occurred.

In Football should the ball land within the opponents’ 14 yards, line the free shall be given from the 14 yards line.

In Hurling should the ball land inside the opponents’ 21 yards line, the free shall be given from the 21 yards line.

(g) In Hurling, no player shall bring his hurley intentionally in contact with the person of another player or put his hurley from behind over another player, for the purpose of getting the ball. No player shall strike another player’s hurley, unless both players are in the act of striking the ball. A player must not throw his hurley, under any circumstances.

football, hop the ball where the fouls occurred, and, in hurling, throw the ball between the opposing sides.

137 BALL OUT OF PLAY - If the ball strikes a spectator or official, other than the referee, inside the side-line, it shall be out of play, and must be kicked (Football), or pucked (Hurling), from the side-line. If it occurs at the end line, it shall also be out of play and must be kicked (football) or pucked out (hurling) from the parallelogram. The referee may allow a goal or a point or a 50 yards free kick (football), or 70 yards free puck (hurling), should he consider that a goal or a point would have been scored, or that a 50 yards free kick (football), or 70 yards free puck (hurling) would have been forfeited.

138 INJURED PLAYER - The referee shall allow a substitute for an injured player, provided there are not more than three such substitutions by a team during a game. Injured players needing attention must be removed to the side-line for treatment during which play must be continued. All players of the opposing team, are to be outside the 21 yards line, and all players of the defending team are to be outside the 14 yards line, except the player taking the kick, and the goalkeeper who shall remain inside the parallelogram. The player taking the kick out may go behind the end-line for the purpose of taking a run. The referee shall be empowered to allow time to compensate for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made, the kick-out shall be taken from a point on 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no player is to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal-line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

141 FREE KICKS - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. In all free kicks the Referee must indicate the position or himself place the ball on the spot.

When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards line, but not within the parallelogram a free shall be given on the 14 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

Note 1 - Should the player who took the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off the crossbar or upright, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where foul occurred.

Note 3 - A player taking a free kick near the end-line or side-line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when, after the Referee has whistled, the ball is touched, by a player of the side taking the free kick.

Note 5 - A player, other than the player taking the free kick, who kicks the ball away when placed shall be put to the side-line.

142 THE PLAY - The ball, when off the ground, may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball. The ball must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the fist or hopped once against the ground with one or both hands. If a player having caught the ball, passes it in any way with the open hand other than hopping it on the ground, he shall be deemed to have thrown it. Changing the ball once only from one hand to the other shall not be a foul.

The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except in the case of a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball who may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goalkeeper, within the parallelogram, may lift the ball off the ground by hand and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away.

Note - When a player strikes a hopping ball, which he has not caught, he may make a run by hopping it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball, he is allowed only one hop.

The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck it out. Should he miss at first stroke the ball may be pucked from off the ground or may be raised, but not taken into the hand before striking. All the players of the opposing team are to be outside the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The referee shall be empowered to allow extra time to compensate for any deliberate delay in pucking out.

Note 1 - Should a player pucked-out the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred.

Note 2 - The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

146 FREE PUCKS - The Penalty for all breaches of the Rules shall be a free puck. For all free pucks the referee must indicate the spot from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the Referee has whistled. When a foul is committed by the defence within the 21 yards line, a free shall be given on the 21 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

For all free pucks other than side-line pucks, the ball may be struck in two ways only - (a) Strike the ball on the ground, (b) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball may not be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley for a free puck, though this is lawful in all other cases.

Note 1 - The player who takes a free puck must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player.

Note 2 - The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley, he must strike the ball on the ground.
Note 3 - Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

Note 4 - A player taking a free puck near the end line or side-line may go outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when, after the referee has whistled, the ball is struck, by a player of the side awarded the free puck.

Note 5 - Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck or 70 yards free is being taken, or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood or charged.

Note 6 - The ball must be pucked before any of the opposing team may charge.

147 THE PLAY - The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. The ball may be kicked or it may be struck with the hand when off the ground, but must not be carried (except on the hurley) or thrown. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying. Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball.

Note 1 - Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - When the ball is on the ground, a player touching it with his hand commits a foul, and the opposing side shall have a free puck where foul occurred.

Note 3 - A player may catch the ball only twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

148 SIDE-PUCK - When a player plays the ball over the side-line it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesman shall place the ball for the puck and the player may not alter its position.

Note 1 - If a player of either side stands nearer than 14 yards to the player who is taking the side line puck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - If a player who is taking a side puck attempt to lift the ball, touches it again before another player has played it, or otherwise fouls the ball, the Referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurs.

149 SEVENTY-YARDS FREE PUCK - If the ball is played across the end-line outside the goal-posts by one of the defending side, the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line.

Note 1 - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.

Note 2 - Should the player who is taking the 70 yards free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by opposing team.

Where a Linesman cannot determine which team is entitled to a kick-in or puck-in, the linesman shall throw in the ball himself.

The Linesmen shall each take one side of the ground just outside the field of play, changing sides at half-time, and they shall hold up the flag when and where the ball is out of play, inclining the flag in the direction which the ball is to be kicked or pucked. No penalty shall be incurred by competing teams should linesmen not change sides at half-time.

INTERPRETATION (1) Linesman throwing in the ball shall face the players. If an unfair advantage is given to either team the Referee shall order the throw to be retaken.

4. Umpire and Linesmen to note that the ball is not scored, wide, or out, until the ball is completely over the line.

5. If the ball hits the side-line flag and comes back it is out of play.

(c) The referee shall consult with the umpires and/or linesmen for infringement of playing rules, in particular rough tactics and deliberate striking, hitting or kicking - this to apply in all games where the officials concerned are neutral. The linesmen and umpires shall have power to draw the referee's attention during the course of the game to incidents of rough tactics or deliberate striking, hitting or kicking which have gone unnoticed by the referee - this to apply in all games where the official(s) is/are neutral.

123. Referees for all games shall be appointed by the Sub-Committee as outlined in Rule 119 and it is recommended that in inter-county and inter-provincial games umpires and linesmen be appointed by the same Committee. The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules, and the two Captains should before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to the Referee before the game starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay.
130 - INTERPRETATION
Referee should mention in his Report irregularities of field requirements

131 Commencing Play - The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play. Four players, two from each side, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field—the other players to be in their respective positions behind the 50 yard's line (Football) and 70 yard's line (Hurling).

The Referee, facing the players, shall throw in the ball over the heads of the players (Football), and along the ground between the players (Hurling).

Teams exceeding this allowance shall be fined not more than £5 by the Committee responsible for the fixture.

INTERPRETATION Whistle should be blown 3 minutes before recommencement of second half.

133 Scores - A goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal-posts and under the cross-bar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland, and Inter-County and, as far as possible, in County Championship matches, goal-nets shall be provided.

A point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the posts except, when thrown by any of the attacking side.

The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts below where, in the opinion of the Referee, the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal.

Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would in the Referee’s opinion have been, he shall allow a goal or a point according as the ball would have passed under or over the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal-line or side-line.

The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal to the opposing team, and if through the point space, it shall count a point.

INTERPRETATION (1) For a score the ball must be driven or played over the goal-line. It cannot be carried by any of the attacking side. If carried over the line by a defender the score is allowed.

(2) A ball coming back from the uprights or crossbar may be played even before it touches the ground.
(3) A ball fisted over a player’s head may be played even before it touches the ground.

135 Entering the Parallelogram:- The Referee shall disallow a score, subject to Rule 122(b), if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play. If the ball returns before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when the ball is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in the parallelogram.

Note:-When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule, the defending side shall take a free kick (Football) or free puck (Hurling) from within parallelogram.

INTERPRETATION. Having consulted the Umpires the referee shall:-
(1) Disallow a goal in all cases where an attacking player is in the parallelogram before the incoming ball.
(2) Allow a goal scored from within the parallelogram if the ball is in the parallelogram before the attacker.
(3) Allow a goal when a player having got possession in the parallelogram leaves the area and then scores, provided no other attacker is in the parallelogram.
(4) Allow a goal when a player having got possession in the parallelogram passes a ball to a team-mate who is outside the parallelogram and who scores after first player and any other attackers have left the area.
(5) Allow a point in all cases except when scored from within the parallelogram by a player who is in the parallelogram before the ball.

A substitution may be made only during stoppage in play. Injured players needing attention must be removed to the sidelines for treatment during which play must be continued. Only two officials will be permitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the Committee in charge for these officials.

Penalty: A team which makes more than three substitutions shall automatically forfeit the game to its opponents.

INTERPRETATIONS: If more than three substitutions are made, the referee shall report accordingly.

140 The Kick-out - For the kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground, inside the parallelogram. All the players of the opposing team are to be outside the 21 yards line, and the players of the defending team are to be outside the 14 yards line, except the player taking the kick, and the goalkeeper who shall remain inside the parallelogram. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end-line for the purpose of taking a run. The referee shall be empowered to allow time to compensate for deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made, the kick-out shall be taken from a point on the 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no player is to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal-line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

INTERPRETATIONS (1) In the kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground and the player taking the kick shall not at the first or any other attempt take the ball into his hands.

(2) The kick-out or puck-out can be taken from any point on the parallelogram, e.g., a ball that goes wide on the left side of post - the kick-out or puck-out may be taken at the right hand side not outside the parallelogram.

(3) The kick-out (after a score) from the 21 yards line must be taken from in front of the scoring space. All attacking players must be outside 21 yards line and 14 yards from the ball.

(4) If kick-out is taken before whistle for it is blown, it shall be re-taken.

141 Free Kicks - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. For the sake of continuity of play all free kicks (except penalty kicks) may be taken immediately at the spot indicated by the Referee.

When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14 yards' line, but not within the parallelogram a free shall be given on the 14 yard line opposite where the foul was committed.

Note 1 - Should the player who takes the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off the crossbar or upright, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where foul occurred.

Note 2 - The Referee must bring back the ball to the centre point of the 14 yards' line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram, and entitling the attacking side to a penalty kick. All players with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick are to stand outside the 21 yards' line. No player shall cross this line until the ball has been kicked.

Note 3 - A player taking a free kick near the end-line or side-line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched by a player of the side taking the free kick.

Note 4 - Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick or 50 yards' kick is being taken, or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where he stood or illegally. Should a player charge illegally from within the parallelogram, a penalty kick is to be given.

Note 5 - A player, other than the player taking the free kick, who kicks the ball away when placed, shall be put to the side-line.

Interpretations

Note 1 - A ball coming back from crossbar or uprights may be played even before it touches the ground.

Note 2 - In the taking of a penalty, all players, with the exception of the goalkeeper and the player taking the penalty must be outside the 21 yard line and 14 yards from the ball.

Note 3 - Allow a player to set the ball. If player from same side re-sets or there is deliberate delay, a hop ball shall be given.

Quick Free

Note 4 - All players must be 14 yards from the ball when a 14 yards kick is being taken.

In all other cases

(a) When a free kick has been given and when an opposing player deliberately interferes with the taking of the free, a free kick shall be given at a place 14 yards nearer the opponents' goal.

(b) When a free kick has been given and when the free taker passes to a colleague who is standing less than 14 yards from the free taken the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where he stood.

142 The Play - The ball when off the ground may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball. The ball must not be held longer than is necessary to hop it, kick or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the fist or hopped once against the ground with one or both hands. If a player having caught the ball, passes it in any way with the open hand other than hopping it on the ground, he shall be deemed to have thrown it. Changing the ball once only from one hand to the other shall not be a foul.

The ball while on the ground must not be touched with the hand, except that a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goalkeeper within the parallelogram may lift the ball off the ground by hand and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away.
Note - When a player strikes a hopping ball, which he has not caught, he may make a run by hopping it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball, he is allowed only one hop.

INTERPRETATIONS
(1) If a player is knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball and the ball falls or is knocked out of his hands he may still fist it away.
(2) A Ball fisted over a player’s head may be played even before it touches the ground.

143 Side Kick - When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free kick to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesman shall place the ball for the kick.

Note 1 - If a player of either side stands nearer than 14 yards from where the ball is placed, a free kick shall be given to the opposing side from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - If the player who takes the kick plays the ball again before another player plays it, the referee shall hop the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurs.

INTERPRETATIONS
(1) If the ball hits side-line flag and comes back it is out of play.
(2) The ball is not out until completely over the line.
(3) A Linesman should first indicate that the ball has gone over the line and then move to replace it for side-line kick.
(4) If a player changes a ball which has been placed by a linesman the referee shall hop the ball.
(5) The side-line ball to be given against player who punches the ball from opponent’s hands over side-line.
(6) Linesman throwing in the ball shall face players.

144 Fifty Yards Free Kick - If the ball is played over the end-line outside the goal-posts by one of the defending side, the opposing side shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

RULES APPLICABLE TO HURLING ONLY.

145 The Puck-out - When the ball is driven over the goal-line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to pUCK it out. Should he miss at first stroke, the ball may be pucked from off the ground or may be raised, but not taken into the hand before striking. All the players of the opposing team are to be outside the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The referee shall be empowered to allow extra time to compensate for any deliberate delay in pucking out.

Note 1 - Should a player puck-out the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where foul occurred.

Note 2 - The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal-line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood

INTERPRETATIONS (1) Umpires shall call referee's attention to blatant infringements of the parallelogram rule. (should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck) - by putting up hand as for a 70. Should the player taking the 70 foul, the ball shall be puck'd from goal by opposing team.

(2) If a puck-out is taken before whistle for it is blown it shall be re-taken.

146 Free Pucks - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. For all free pucks the referee must indicate the spot from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be puck'd until the Referee has whistled. When a foul is committed by the defence within the 21 yards line, a free shall be given on the 21 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

For all free pucks other than side-line pucks the ball may be struck in two ways only - (a) strike the ball on the ground, (b) lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball may not be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley for a free puck, though this is lawful in all other cases.

Note 1. The player who takes a free puck must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player.

Note 2. The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at first effort to strike off hurley. Should a player fail to lift at first effort, or fail to strike off hurley, he must strike the ball on the ground.

Note 3. Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second effort to lift or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

Note 4. A player taking a free puck near the end line or side-line may go outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when, after the referee has whistled, the ball is struck, by a player of the side awarded the free puck.

Note 5. Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck or 70 yards free is being taken, or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood or charged.

Note 6. The ball must be puck'd before any of the opposing team may charge.

INTERPRETATIONS Allow player to set the ball. If a player from the same side re-sets or there is deliberate delay, a hop ball shall be given. If the free puck is taken before the whistle for it is blown it shall be re-taken.

Note 4. It is only when a player misses the ball completely at the first attempt that he is permitted to strike it on the ground.

147 The Play - The ball must not be lifted off the ground with the hand when in play. The ball may be kicked or it may be struck with the hand when off the ground but must not be carried (except on the hurley) or thrown. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying. Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball.

Note 1 - Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - When the ball is on the ground, a player touching it with his hand commits a foul, and the opposing side shall have a free puck where foul occurred.

Note 3 - A player may catch the ball only twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

INTERPRETATIONS

Note 1 - 3 steps only in hurling is approved.

Note 2 - The ball on the ground may not be touched or lifted with the hand, but if a player falls in possession and doesn’t lose the ball, provided the ball is not held longer than is necessary to rise and puck it away, he should not be penalised even though the ball in his hand may touch the ground.

148 Side-Puck - When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team, at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesman shall place the ball for the puck, and the player may not alter its position.

Note 1 - If a player of either side stands nearer than 14 yards to the player who is taking the side-line puck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - If a player who is taking a side-line puck attempt to lift the ball touches it again before another player has played it or otherwise fouls the ball, the referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurs.

INTERPRETATIONS

(1) If the ball hits side-line flag and comes back it is out of play.

(2) The ball is not out until it is completely over the line.

(3) Linesman should first indicate that the ball has gone over-line and then move to replace it for side-line puck.

(4) If a player changes a ball which has been placed by a linesman the referee shall throw in the ball.

(5) Linesman throwing in the ball shall face the players.

149 Seventy-yards Free Puck - If the ball is played across the end-line outside the goal-posts by one of the defending side, the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line.
Note 1 - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last person playing it.

Note 2 - Should the player who is taking the 70 yards free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by opposing team.

INTERPRETATIONS

(1) Umpires shall call referee’s attention to blatant infringements of the parallelogram rule (should a player puck the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck) by putting up hand as for a 70. Should the player taking the 70 foul, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

(2) An umpire should first indicate 70 and then move out to indicate the position.

This REFEREE’S AND PLAYERS’ HANDBOOK, of 1973 has this introduction:

[This green booklet dated 1973 is based on the Playing Rules which appeared in the Official Guide of 1966. 132 SCORING SPACE - In centre of the goal-line shall stand the goal-posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

133 Lines, 5 yards long and at right angles to the end-line, shall be marked 4 yards from each goal post. The end of these lines shall be joined so as to form a parallelogram, 15 yards by 5 yards in front of each scoring space.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules, and the two Captains should before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc., unless a protest has been made to the Referee before the game starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay.

134 Commencing Play - The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play. Four players, two from each side, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field—the other players to be in their respective positions behind the 50 yards’ line (Football) and 70 yards’ line (Hurling).

The Referee, facing the players shall throw in the ball over the heads of the players (Football) and along the ground between the players (Hurling).

135 The time for actual play is one hour—sides to be changed at half-time. In provincial finals, All-Ireland semi-finals and All-Ireland finals, senior only, the duration of play shall be 40 minutes each half, and interval not exceeding 10 minutes may be allowed at half-time.

A point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the posts except, when thrown by any of the attacking side.

Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would in the Referee’s opinion have been, he shall allow a goal or a point according as the ball would have passed under or over the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal-line or side-line.

The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to... three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal to the opposing team, and if through the point space, it shall count a point.

137 The goalkeeper shall not be charged within the parallelogram unless he is in possession of the ball or obstructing an opponent.

138 ENTERING THE PARALLELOGRAM - The Referee shall disallow a score, subject to Rule 120(b), if a player of the opposing team enters the parallelogram before the ball enters it during play. If the ball returns before a player has had time to get out of the area, and the player in question does not interfere with the defence, the score should be allowed. The score is allowed when the ball is sufficiently high to be out of reach of attack and defence, though attacking players were in the parallelogram.

Note -When a score is disallowed for infringement of parallelogram rule, the defending side shall take a free kick (Football) or free puck (Hurling) from within the parallelogram.

Note 1. A fair charge is hereby defined as a shoulder to shoulder charge.

Note 2. Should a player who is being legitimately charged turn deliberately to make the charge come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul.

(b) In the case of rough play, irritating or improper language, the referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, he shall order the offender or offenders off the field and report accordingly to the Committee or Council in charge of the fixture.

(f) In awarding a free for foul or rough play, the referee shall give the free from where the foul occurred - except when a player is fouled after delivering the ball, a free shall be given where the ball lands but if a score is made it should be allowed. When a player is fouled after delivering the ball and the ball lands over the end line, a free shall be given from the 14-yards' line opposite the point where the ball crossed the end line. Should the ball land over the side line, the free shall be given from the point where the ball crossed the side line.

(h) Should a player from each team foul at the same time, the referee shall throw in the ball between the players of the opposing sides where the foul occurred - in football, over the heads of the players, and in hurling, along the ground between the players.

140 If the ball strikes anyone other than the players at or near the sideline and if the referee adjudges that in doing the ball has been prevented from going out of play, a sideline kick or puck shall be given against the player who touched or played the ball last. If a similar incident occurs at or near the end line, a "wide" or a "50" or "70", as applicable, shall be given. The referee shall allow a goal or a point should he consider that such a score has been prevented by the ball striking anyone other than the players. If in any circumstances other than referred to above, the ball, during play, strikes anyone other than the players a "throw-in" shall be given where the incident occurred, except if it occurs inside the 14-yards' line when the throw-in shall be given at the 14-yards' line. If the ball, in play, strikes anyone other than a player direct from a free, the free shall be retaken.

141 The referee shall allow a substitution for a player (not ordered off) provided there are not more than three such substitutions by a team during the game. When a substitution is being made the substitute must give the referee a slip of paper with his name and the name of the player whom he is replacing written on it. A substitution may be made only during stoppage in play. Injured players needing attention must be removed to the sideline for treatment, during which play must be continued. Only two officials will be permitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the committee in charge for these officials. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end-line for the purpose of taking a run. The referee shall be empowered to allow time to compensate. for a deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made, the kick-out shall be taken from a point on the 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no player is to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal-line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

144 FREE KICKS. The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. For the sake of continuity of play all free kicks (except penalty kicks) may be taken immediately at the spot indicated by the Referee.

When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14-yards' line, but not within the parallelogram, a free shall be given on the 14-yards' line opposite where the foul was committed.

Note 1 - Should the player who takes the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it except where the ball rebounds off the crossbar or upright, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where the foul occurred.

Should a player charge illegally from within the parallelogram, a penalty kick is to be given.

Note 5 - A player other than the player taking the free kick, who kicks the ball away when placed, shall be put to the side-line.

145 THE PLAY - The ball when off the ground may be struck with the hand. It may be caught when off the ground. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball. The ball must not be held longer than is necessary to hop, kick, or fist it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the fist or hopped once against the ground with one or both hands.

If a player having caught the ball, passes it in any way with the open hand other than hopping it on the ground, he shall be deemed to have thrown it. Changing the ball once only from one hand to the other shall not be a foul.

The ball while on the ground must not be touched with the hand, except that a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goalkeeper within the parallelogram may lift the ball off the ground by hand and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away.

Note. When a player strikes a hopping ball, which he has not caught, he may make a run by hopping it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball, he is allowed only one hop.

The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck it out. Should he miss at first stroke, the ball may be pucked from off the ground or may be raised, but not taken in the hand before striking. All the players of the opposing team are to be outside the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The referee shall be empowered to allow extra time to compensate for any deliberate delay in pucking out.

149 FREE PUCKS - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. For all free pucks the referee must indicate the spot from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the referee has whistled. When a foul is committed by the defence within the 21 yards line, a free shall be given on the 21 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

   For all free pucks other than side-line pucks the ball may be struck in two ways only - (a) strike the ball on the ground, (b) lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball may not be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley for a free puck, though this is lawful in all other cases.

   Note 1 - The player who takes a free puck must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player.

   Note 2 - The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at the first effort to strike off the hurley. Should a player fail to lift at the first effort or fail to strike off the hurley, he must strike the ball on the ground.

   Note 3 - Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second effort to lift or... otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

Note 4 - A player taking a free puck near the end-line or side-line may go outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken, when, after the referee has whistled, the ball is struck by a player of the side awarded the free puck.

Note 5 - Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck or 70 yards free is being taken, or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood or charged.

Note 6 - The ball must be pucked before any of the opposing team may charge.

Note 1 - Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - When the ball is on the ground, a player touching it with his hand commits a foul and the opposing side shall have a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 3 - A player may catch the ball only twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

151 SIDE-PUCK - When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team, at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesman shall place the ball for the puck, and a player may not alter its position.

Note 1 - If a player of either side stands nearer than 14 yards to the player who is taking the side-line puck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - If a player who is taking a side-line puck attempts to lift the ball, touches it again before another player has played it, or otherwise fouls the ball, the referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

RULES APPLICABLE TO FOOTBALL ONLY.

143 THE KICK OUT - For the kick-out from goal the ball shall be kicked from the ground, inside the parallelogram. All the players of the opposing team are to be outside the 21 yards line, and the players of the defending team are to be outside the 14 yards line, except the player taking the kick, and the goalkeeper who shall remain inside the
The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end-line for the purpose of taking a run. The referee shall be empowered to allow time to compensate for a deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made, the kick-out shall be taken from a point on the 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no player is to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.

Note - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal-line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

144 FREE KICKS The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. For the sake of continuity of play all free kicks (except penalty kicks) may be taken immediately at the spot indicated by the Referee.

When a foul is committed by the defence within the 14-yards' line, but not within the parallelogram, a free shall be given on the 14-yards' line opposite where the foul was committed.

After a free has been awarded by the referee, if a player argues or otherwise shows dissent with the referee's decision, the free shall be awarded at a point ten yards nearer that players end-line.

Note 1 - Should the player who takes the free kick touch the ball again before another player has touched it except where the ball rebounds off the crossbar or upright, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - The referee must bring back the ball to the centre point of the 14-yards' line for a foul occurring in the parallelogram, and entitling the attacking side to a penalty kick. All players with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick are to stand outside the 21-yards' line. No player shall cross this line until the ball has been kicked.

Note 3 - A player taking a free kick near the end-line or side-line may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched by a player of the side taking the free kick.

Note 4 - Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick or 50-yards' kick is being taken, or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where he stood or illegally charged. Should a player charge illegally from within the parallelogram, (sic) a penalty kick is to be given.

Note 5 - A player other than the player taking the free kick, who kicks the ball away when placed, shall be put to the side-line.

145 THE PLAY - The ball when off the ground may be struck with the fist or palmed with the open hand. It may be caught when off the ground. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps while holding the ball. The ball must not be held longer than is necessary to hop, kick, or fist or palm it away. Tipping it on the hand is considered carrying. The ball must not be thrown. When caught, the ball may be kicked or struck with the fist or palmed with the open hand or hopped once against the ground with one or both hands. If a player having caught the ball, passes it in any way with the open hand other than hopping it on the ground, he shall be deemed to have thrown it. Changing the ball once only from one hand to the other shall not be a foul.

The ball while on the ground must not be touched with the hand, except that a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball may fist it away even though it be on the ground. The goalkeeper within the parallelogram may lift the ball off the ground by hand and when himself on the ground, fist the ball away.

Note: When a player strikes a hopping ball, which he has not caught, he may make a run by hopping it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball, he is allowed only one hop.

146 SIDE KICK - When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free kick to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesman shall place the ball for the kick.

Note 1 - If a player of either side stands nearer than 14 yards from where the ball is placed, a free kick shall be given to the opposing side from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - If the player who takes the kick plays the ball again before another player plays it, the referee shall hop the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurs.

Note: The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

RULES APPLICABLE TO HURLING ONLY.

148 THE PUCK-OUT - When the ball is driven over the goal-line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck it out. Should he miss at first stroke, the ball may be pucked from off the ground or may be raised, but not taken in the hand before striking. All the players of the opposing team are to be outside the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The referee shall be empowered to allow extra time to compensate for any deliberate delay in pucking out.

Note 1 - Should a player puck-out the ball from outside the parallelogram the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once, before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal-line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood

149 FREE PUCKS - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. For all free pucks the referee must indicate the spot from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the referee has whistled. When a foul is committed by the defence within the larger rectangle, the referee shall place the ball on the centre spot of the 21 yards line and only three players may stand on the goal line, all other players must be outside the 21 yards line. When a foul is committed by the defence inside the 21 yards line, a free shall be given on the 21 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

For all free pucks other than side-line pucks the ball may be struck in two ways only - (a) strike the ball on the ground, (b) lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball may not be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley for a free puck, though this is lawful in all other cases.

Note 1 - The player who takes a free puck must not again play the ball until it has been played by some other player.

Note 2 - The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at the first effort to strike off the hurley. Should a player fail to lift at the first effort or fail to strike off the hurley, he must strike the ball on the ground.

Note 3 - Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second effort to lift or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

Note 4 - A player taking a free puck near the end-line or side-line may go outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken, when, after the referee has whistled, the ball is struck by a player of the side awarded the free puck.

Note 5 - Should a player stand nearer than 21 yards when a free puck or 70 yards free is being taken, or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood or charged.

Note 6 - The ball must be pucked before any of the opposing team may charge.

150 THE PLAY - The ball must not be lifted off the ground by hand when in play. The ball may be kicked or it may be struck with the hand when off the ground but must not be carried (except on the hurley) or thrown. Tipping on the hand is considered carrying. Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball.

Note 1 - Should a player hold the ball longer than is necessary to puck it away, or take more than three steps while holding it, the opposing side shall have a free puck from where the foul occurred.
Note 2 - When the ball is on the ground, a player touching it with his hand commits a foul and the opposing side shall have a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 3 - A player may catch the ball only twice before hitting. Throwing up the ball and catching it again without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

151 SIDE-PUCK - When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team, at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesman shall place the ball for the puck, and a player may not alter its position.

Note 1 - If a player of either side stands nearer than 14 yards to the player who is taking the side-line puck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - If a player who is taking a side-line puck attempts to lift the ball, touches it again before another player has played it, or otherwise fouls the ball, the referee shall throw in the ball between the opposing sides where the foul occurred.

Note 1 - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

Note 2 - Should the player who is taking the 70 yards free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

The following amended or new regulations, as approved by Congress 1975, are to be incorporated into the Official Guide and will apply as and from April, 27th. In the meantime, those regulations which have been in force on an experimental basis since Congress 1974 will continue to be applied.

The full text of the altered playing rules will be made available to all units of the Association as early as possible.

(The words and phrases in bold appear to be the changes made at Congress 1975)

R 139 5 Charging or interfering with a player unless he has possession or is in the act of playing the ball shall be a foul.

Note 1 "A fair charge is defined as side to side, with at least one foot on the ground.

- A player committing a second personal foul, such as pulling down or tripping an opponent, jersey pulling, etc shall be cautioned by the referee and if he repeats the offence he shall be ordered off the field.

- In addition to fouls specified in (a) above, the following shall be fouls in hurling -

“In Football should the ball land inside the opponent’s 14 yd line a free shall be given from the 14 yd line opposite the point where the ball landed.

“In Hurling should the ball land inside the opponent’s 21 yd line a free shall be given from the 21 yd line opposite the point where the ball landed.

“After the referee has awarded a free and prior to the free being taken if a player on the team awarded the free fouls an opponent in retaliation, the free awarded shall be disallowed and play restarted by the referee throwing in the ball where the original foul occurred - in football the ball to be thrown over the heads of two players from each team and in hurling, along the ground between one player from each team.

Should a player fail to comply with this regulation, the referee shall disallow the free and shall throw in the ball over the heads of two players from each team where the foul occurs."

REFEREES AND PLAYERS GUIDE.
1976 & ‘80, (&’81)
Published by The National Referees’ Advisory Council.

(The rules quoted in this booklet are extracts from the Official Guide which contains the authorised version of the Constitution and Rules of Cumann Lúthchleas Gael. The Rules incorporate the new Playing Rules adopted at Annual Congress 1975. In this booklet each rule is printed in medium type with the interpretation in bold type immediately below it.)

PLAYING RULES
(Applicable to Hurling and Football)

Field of Play

130 The field of play shall not be less than 140 yards or more than 160 yards long, and not less than 84 yards or more than 100 yards wide.

131 Side-lines and end-lines (goal-lines) shall either be marked with lime or cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 14 yds, 21 yds, 50 yds (Football), 70 yds (Hurling), and halfway shall also be marked, and the ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.

132 In centre of the goal-line shall stand the goal-posts, 16 feet high and 21 feet apart. There shall be a crossbar 8 feet from the ground.

133 Two parallelograms of the dimensions set out hereunder shall be formed in front of each scoring space. One parallelogram, 15 yards by 5 yards shall be formed by two lines 5 yards long and at right angles to the end-line, being marked 4 yards from each goalpost, and the ends of these lines being joined.

A larger parallelogram 21 yards by 14 yards shall be formed by two lines 14 yards long at right angles to the end lines, being marked 7 yards from each goalpost and the end of these lines being joined.

The Referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules, and the two Captains should, before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc. unless a protest has been made to the Referee before the game starts. The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay.

Commencing Play

134 The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play. Four players, two from each side, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field—the other players to be in their respective positions behind the 50 yds line (Football) and 70 yds (Hurling). The Referee facing the players, shall throw in the ball over the heads of the players (Football) and along the ground between the players (Hurling).

Duration of Play

135 The time for actual play is one hour—sides to be changed at half-time. In all Senior, Inter-County Championship games, the duration of play shall be 35 minutes each half, and interval not exceeding 10 minutes may be allowed at half-time. Teams exceeding this allowance shall be fined not more than £5 by the Committee responsible for the fixture.

Interpretation
(1) Whistles should be blown 3 minutes before commencement of second half.
(2) In all games interval shall not exceed 10 minutes.

Scores

136 A goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goalposts and under the crossbar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side. In All-Ireland and Inter-County and, as far as possible in County Championship matches, goal-nets shall be provided.

A point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the posts except, when thrown by any of the attacking side.

The ball hitting the crossbar or upright posts and rebounding into the field of play is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and the ball pass between the upright posts, below where, in the opinion of the Referee, the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal.

Should the upright posts become displaced and the ball pass inside where they would in the Referee’s opinion have been, he shall allow a goal or a point according as the ball would have passed under or over the crossbar. The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal-line or end-line.

The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points. Should the ball be played through the goal space by one of the defending side, it shall count a goal to the opposing team, and if through the point space, it shall count a point.

Interpretation.
(1) For a score the ball must be driven or played over the goal-line. It cannot be carried by any of the attacking side. If carried over the line by a defender the score is allowed. If carried over the goal-line by attacker it is no goal.
(2) A ball coming back from the upright or crossbar may be played even before it touches the ground.

(3) A ball fisted or hand passed over a player’s head may be played even before it touches the ground.

Goalkeeper

137 The goalkeeper shall not be charged within the smaller parallelogram

Note 1 - The goalkeeper may be challenged within the smaller parallelogram for possession of the ball, but physical contact with the goalkeeper is not allowed

Note 2 - The goalkeeper in possession within the smaller parallelogram shall not delay in playing the ball from the area

Interpretation.

A deliberate physical charge on the goalkeeper within the smaller parallelogram is not permitted.

If the goalkeeper deliberately charges a forward within the smaller parallelogram, in football a penalty kick shall be awarded against him, and in hurling a 21 yards free with three defenders only lining the goal line shall be awarded.

Note 1: - Challenging of a goalkeeper does include the legally blocking down of his clearance within the smaller parallelogram.

In hurling this may involve a forward, in the act of playing the ball, bringing his hurley into contact with the hurley of the goalkeeper.

Note 2: - The ball must not be held longer than is necessary to play it away or to take three steps (hurling) or four steps (football) while holding it.

In football, the playing of the ball from ‘toe to hand’ does constitute delay.

The Smaller Parallelogram

138 It shall be an offence for an attacking player to be within the smaller parallelogram before the ball enters it during play

If an attacking player legally enters the smaller parallelogram, and the ball is played from that area, but is returned before the attacking player has had time to leave the area, the player shall not be deemed to have committed an offence, provided he does not interfere with the defence.

When a point is scored from outside the smaller parallelogram, and the ball is sufficiently high to be out of reach of defence and attack, the score shall be allowed even though an attacking player or players may have been within the smaller parallelogram before the ball, provided that the attacking player or players in question do not, in any way, interfere with the defence.

Note - When a score is disallowed for infringement of this parallelogram rule, the defending side shall take a free kick (football) or free puck (hurling) from within the smaller parallelogram

Interpretation

(1) Disallow a goal in all cases where an attacking player is in the smaller parallelogram before the incoming ball.
(2) Allow a goal scored from within the smaller parallelogram if the ball is in the parallelogram before the attacker.

Foul and Rough Play

139 (a) The following shall be fouls -
1 Pushing, tripping, kicking, catching, holding, jumping, at an opponent, striking him with fist, elbow or knee
2 Obstructing a player by hand or arm even though he be not actually held
3 Reaching from behind a player who is in possession of the ball
4 Charging a player from behind. Should a player who is being legitimately charged turn deliberately to make the charge come from behind, that charge shall not be deemed foul
5 Charging or interfering with a player unless he has possession or is in the act of playing the ball shall be a foul

Note 1 - A fair charge is defined as side to side with at least one foot on the ground

Interpretation

(1) If the recipient of a “side to side” charge falls to the ground, this tackle is not illegal.
(2) Allow a fair charge when two opposing players only are moving to play the ball.

(b) In addition to fouls specified in (a) above, the following shall be fouls in hurling
1 Bringing the hurley intentionally or through careless play in contact with the person of another player
2 Pulling with the hurley in a dangerous manner from behind around the body of an opponent for the purpose of playing the ball
3 Reaching the hurley from behind, over another player for the purpose of getting the ball
4 Obstructing or holding off a player with a hurley
5 Throwing a hurley in any circumstances
6 Striking an opponent’s hurley, unless both players are in the act of striking the ball

(c) In the case of rough play, irritating or improper language, the referee shall caution the player or players, and should the offence be repeated, he shall order the offender or offenders off the field and report accordingly to the committee or council in charge of the fixture

(d) In the event of a player committing any of the following offences, the referee, without caution, shall order the offender off the field and report accordingly to the committee or council in charge of the fixture
1 Striking or attempting to strike an opponent with a hurley, fist, elbow or knee, kicking or attempting to kick an opponent
2 Retaliation of a nature outlined in (1) above
3 A foul of a dangerous nature
4 Any form of violent conduct
(e) If a player refuses to leave when ordered off, or having been ordered off again joins in the game, the referee shall terminate the game and report accordingly to the committee or council in charge of the fixture, who shall award the match to the other team

(f) A whole team may be disqualified and suspended for rough play even though it won the match.

(g) In awarding a free for foul or rough play the referee shall award the free from where the foul occurred, except in the case of a foul on a player after his delivery of the ball, where in such cases a free shall be given from where the ball lands or if a score is made the score shall be allowed.

When a player is fouled after delivering the ball and the ball lands over the end line, a free shall be given from the 14 yards line in football or the 21 yards line in hurling opposite the point where the ball crossed the end line. Should the ball land over the side line, a free shall be given from the point where the ball crossed the side line.

In football should the ball land inside the opponents’ 14 yards line, the free shall be given from the 14 yards line opposite the point where the ball landed.

In hurling should the ball land inside the opponent’s 21 yards line the free shall be given from the 21 yards line opposite the point where the ball landed.

(h) Should a player from each team foul at the same time the referee shall throw in the ball between the players of the opposing sides where the foul occurred - in football, over the heads of the two players from each team and in hurling along the ground between one player from each team.

After the referee has awarded a free and prior to the free being taken, if a player on the team awarded the free fouls an opponent in retaliation, the free awarded shall be disallowed and play restarted by the referee, throwing in the ball where the original foul occurred - in football the ball to be thrown over the heads of two players from each team and in hurling along the ground between one player from each team.

If a player in any way shows dissent with the referee’s decision to award a free to the opposing team the free shall be awarded from a point 10 yards more advantageous to the opposing team.

(i) Personal fouls - The referee shall take serious regard of personal fouls. If a player trips an opponent, by hand, or foot, pulls down an opponent, jersey pulls an opponent, he will be cautioned after second offence and if he repeats offence will be put off the field of play.

Interpretation

(1) All fouls on a player are personal fouls. The penalties mentioned apply to the specific types of personal fouls named.

Ball Out of Play

140 If the ball strikes anyone other than the player at or near the side-line and if the referee adjudges that in so doing the ball has been prevented from going out of play, a sideline kick or puck shall be given against the player who touched or played the ball last. If a similar incident occurs at or near the end line, a “wide” or a “50” or “70”, as applicable shall be given. The referee shall allow a goal or a point should he consider that such a score has been prevented by the ball striking anyone other than the players.
If in any circumstances other than referred to above, the ball, during play, strikes
Interpretation

(1) If the ball strikes the referee during play, it shall be thrown up between two players from each team, and in hurling be thrown in along the ground between one player from each side.

(2) If the ball strikes the referee direct from a free, it shall be re-taken.

141. The referee shall allow a substitution for a player (not ordered off) provided there are not more than three such substitutions by a team during the game.

When a substitution is being made, the substitute must give the referee a slip of paper with his name and the name of the player whom he is replacing written on it. A substitution may be made only during stoppage in play.

Injured players needing attention must be removed to the sideline for treatment, during which play must be continued. Only two officials will be permitted on the field of play when a player is injured, and special badges may be provided by the committee in charge for these officials.

Penalty: A team which makes more than three substitutions shall automatically forfeit the game to its opponents.

Interpretation

(1) If more than three substitutions are made, the referee shall report accordingly.

(2) For extra time - new players can be brought on in place of players previously ordered off. Three substitutions only are allowed in extra time.

(3) A substitute coming on shall tender a slip with team name, name of substitute and name of player who is being replaced.

142. The Weight and Size of Ball:

Football: - The weight of the ball shall be from 13 to 15 ounces, size, 27 to 29 inches in circumference - No 5 match ball.

Hurling: - The weight of the ball shall be from 3.5 to 4.5 ounces and 9 to 10 inches in circumference.

RULES APPLICABLE TO FOOTBALL ONLY

143. The Kick Out: - For the kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground, inside the smaller parallelogram. All the players of the opposing team are to be outside the 21 yards line and the players of the defending team are to be outside the 14 yards line, except the player taking the kick, and the goalkeeper who shall remain inside the smaller parallelogram. The player taking the kick-out may go behind the end-line for the purpose of taking a run. The referee shall be empowered to allow time to compensate for a deliberate delay in kicking out. When a score is made, the kick-out shall be taken from a point on the 21 yards line, in front of the scoring space, no player is to stand nearer than 14 yards until the ball is kicked.
Note - The player taking the kick-out may play the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player stand nearer to the goal-line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free kick on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

(1) In the kick-out from goal, the ball shall be kicked from the ground and the player taking the kick shall not at the first or any other attempt take the ball into his hands.
(2) The kick-out can be taken from any point within the smaller parallelogram, e.g. a ball that goes wide on the left of post - the kick-out may be taken at the right hand side not outside the smaller parallelogram.

144 Free Kicks: The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free kick. For the sake of continuity of play all free kicks (except penalty kicks) may be taken immediately at the spot indicated by the referee.

Interpretation
Quick Free: See Note 4: All players must be 14 yards from the ball when a free kick is being taken.

When a free kick has been given and when the free taker passes to a colleague who is standing less than 14 yards from the ball the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where he stood.

No quick free is allowed for a foul inside the 14 yards line.

When a personal foul is committed by the defence on an attacking player within the larger parallelogram, a penalty shall be given from the central point of the 14 yards line. All players with the exception of the goalkeeper and the player taking the kick are to be outside the 21 yards line.

For all other fouls committed by the defence within the 14-yards line, but not within the smaller parallelogram, a free kick shall be given on the 14 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

Interpretation
(1.) A personal foul is any form of foul on the person of a player, as distinct from the fouling of the ball.
(2.) A penalty shall be awarded in the case of any foul committed by the defence within the smaller parallelogram and for a personal foul on an attacker occurring in the large parallelogram.

When a player fouls the ball in the area of the larger parallelogram, excluding the smaller parallelogram, an ordinary free shall be awarded.
(3.) When a penalty is being taken, all players with the exception of the goalkeeper and the player taking the penalty, must be outside the 21 yards line and 14 yards from the ball.
(4.) It is only the player wearing the distinctive jersey enjoys the rights and privileges of a goalkeeper.

Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or has been placed on the spot indicated by the referee by a player of the team awarded the free, and the whistle... having been blown for the free to be taken, a player of that team may not reset the ball, except with the expressed permission of the referee. Should a player fail to comply with this regulation, the referee shall disallow the free and throw the ball over the heads of one player from each side where the free was to have been taken.

Interpretation

Allow a player to set the ball - if player from the same side resets without permission of referee or there is deliberate delay, ball shall be thrown up between two players from each team.

Note 1 - The player who takes the free kick may not play the ball again before another has touched it except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or upright. Should a player so foul the referee shall throw up the ball between two players from each team from where the foul occurs.

Note 2 - The referee must bring back the ball to the centre point of the 14 yards line for a foul occurring in the smaller parallelogram, and entitling the attacking side to a penalty kick. All players with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick are to stand outside the 21 yards line. No player shall cross the line until the ball has been kicked.

Note 3 - A player taking a free kick near the endline or sideline may go outside these lines for the purpose of taking a run. The free kick shall be deemed to have been taken when the ball is touched by a player of the side taking the free kick.

Note 4 - Should a player stand nearer than 14 yards when a free kick or 50 yards kick is being taken, or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free kick from where he stood or illegally charged. Should a player charge illegally from within the smaller parallelogram, a penalty kick is to be given.

Note 5 - A player, other than the player taking the free kick, who kicks the ball away when placed, shall be ordered off the field.

The Play

145 The ball, while on the ground, must not be touched with the hand, except that a player knocked to the ground while in possession of the ball may fist or palm it away even though it be on the ground. The goalkeeper, within the smaller parallelogram, may lift the ball off the ground by hand and, when himself on the ground fist or palm it away.

The ball may not be lifted off the ground with the knees.

2 The ball, when off the ground, may be caught or struck with the open hand(s) or fist. The ball, while on the ground, may be played with the foot into the hands, provided the ball is not touched on the ground with the hands.

3 When caught, the ball may be kicked, struck with the fist or open hand or hopped once against the ground with one or both hands. The ball may not be thrown.

---318---
4 The ball may not be held longer than is necessary to kick, fist, hop it away or move four steps
5 The ball may not be carried. Carrying shall be taking more than four steps, while holding the ball. Tipping the ball on the hands is considered carrying.
6 The ball may be changed from one hand to the other once.

Interpretation

The ball must not lose contact with the hands.

7 A player, in possession of the ball, may play the ball on to the boot and back into the hands any number of times, and after each such play may hop the ball once against the ground, with one or both hands.
8 The player who plays the ball he has not caught may take a run by hopping it with one or both hands, but should he catch the ball he is allowed only one hop.

146 Side Kick.- When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free kick to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesman shall place the ball for the kick.

Note 1 - If a player of either side stands nearer than 14 yards from where the ball is placed, a free kick shall be given to the opposing side from where the foul occurred.

If a player of the team awarded a side-line kick resets the ball, it having been placed for the kick by the linesman, or if having kicked the ball he plays it again before it is touched by another player, the referee shall throw in the ball over the heads of two players from each team where the foul occurs.

Interpretation

1. If the ball hits side-line flag and comes back, it is out of play.
2. The ball is not out until completely over the line.
3. A linesman should first indicate that the ball has gone over the line and then move to place it for the side-line kick.
4. The side-line ball to be given against player who punches the ball from opponent's hands over side-line.
5. Linesmen throwing in the ball shall face players.

147 Fifty Yards Free Kick.: If the ball is played over the end-line outside the goalposts by one of the defending side, the opposing side shall have a free kick from a point on the 50 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end line.

Note - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

RULES APPLICABLE TO HURLING ONLY

148 The Puck Out:- When the ball is driven over the goal-line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the smaller parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to pucker it out. Should he miss at first stroke, the ball may be pucked from off the ground or may be raised, but not taken in the hand.
before striking. All the players of the opposing team are to be outside the 21 yards line until the ball has been pucked. The referee shall be empowered to allow extra time to compensate for any deliberate delay in pucking out.

Note 1 - Should a player pucking out the ball from outside the smaller parallelogram, the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck opposite to where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - The player taking the pucking out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal-line than the 21 yards line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 21 yards line opposite where the player stood.

Interpretation

(1) Umpires shall call referee's attention to blatant infringements of the parallelogram rule - (should a player pucking the ball from outside the parallelogram, the opposing team shall be awarded a 70 yards free puck) - by putting up hand as for a 70. Should the player taking the 70 foul, the ball shall be pucked from goal by opposing team.

(2) If the pucking-out is taken before whistle for it is blown it shall be re-taken.

(3) If the player pucking out the ball fouls the pucking-out other than by pucking it from a point outside the parallelogram, the ball shall be thrown in between one player from each team on the 21 yards line.

Free Pucks

149 The Penalty for all breaches of the rule shall be a free puck. For all free pucks the referee must indicate the spot from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the referee has whistled.

When a personal foul is committed on an attacking player by a defender within the larger parallelogram, a free shall be awarded from the centre of the 21 yards line, and only three defending players may stand on the goal-line. All other players must be outside the 21 yards line and shall not cross the 21 yards line until the ball has been struck.

In the case of a defender fouling the ball within the larger parallelogram, a free shall be awarded from the central point of the 21 yards line, but in this case more than three defenders may line the goal-line.

Interpretation

(1) A personal foul is any form of foul on the person of a player, or the striking of an opponent's hurley unless both players are in the act of playing the ball.

(2) A penalty (three defenders lining goal) shall not be awarded for the fouling of the ball in the larger or smaller parallelogram in hurling.

When a foul is committed by the defence inside the 21 yards line, and outside the larger parallelogram, a free shall be given on the 21 yards line opposite where the foul was committed.

For all free pucks other than side-line pucks the ball may be struck in two ways - (a) strike the ball on the ground, (b) lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball may not be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley for a free puck, though this is lawful in all other cases.

Note 1 - The player who takes a free puck may not play the ball again before another.
player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or upright. Should a player so foul, the referee shall throw the ball along the ground between one player from each team where the foul occurs.

Note 2 - The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at the first effort to strike off the hurley. Should a player fail to lift at the first effort or fail to strike off the hurley, he must strike the ball on the ground.

Note 3 - Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second effort to lift or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the referee shall throw in the ball along the ground between one player from each team, where the foul occurs.

Note 4 - A player taking a free puck near the end-line or side-line may go outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken when, after the referee has whistled, the ball is struck by a player of the side awarded the free puck.

Note 5 - Should a player stand nearer than 21 yds when a free puck or 70 yds free is being taken or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood or charged.

Note 6 - A player may not approach nearer than 21 yards until the ball has been actually struck.

Interpretation

If a player lifts and fails to strike at the first attempt, he shall not delay in striking the ball on the ground. Only when he delays his puck on the ground, may a player of either side approach nearer than 21 yards.

Note 7 - Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or has been placed at the spot indicated by the referee by a player of the team awarded the free, and the whistle has been blown for the free to be taken, the player of that team may not reset the ball except with the expressed permission of the referee. Should a player fail to comply with this regulation, the referee shall disallow the free and shall throw in the ball along the ground between a player from each team where the free was to have been taken.

150 The Play

1. The ball, when on the ground, may not be lifted or touched with the hands. The ball may not be lifted off the ground with the knees.

   The ball may be lifted off the ground with the hurley or feet.

Interpretation

If a player falls in possession and doesn't lose the ball, provided the ball is not held longer than is necessary to rise and puck it away, he should not be penalised even though the ball in his hand may touch the ground.

2. The ball, when off the ground, may be caught or struck with the hand.

3. The ball may be kicked when on or off the ground.

4. The ball may not be thrown.

5. A player may catch the ball only twice before playing the ball away. Throwing up the ball and catching it without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.

Interpretation

The player who catches the ball in his hand may go on a solo run and catch it a second time before parting with it.
The player who takes the ball on his hurley without catching, may solo and catch and solo and catch a second time, after which he may not take the ball into his hands again.

In hurling a player may not change or transfer the ball from one hand to the other.

6 The ball may not be held longer than is necessary to play it away or to take three steps while holding it.

Note: Only 3 steps in hurling approved.

7 The ball may not be carried except on the hurley. Carrying shall be taking more than three steps while holding the ball. Tipping the ball on the hand is considered carrying.

151 The Side Puck - When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team, at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesman shall place the ball for the puck, and a player may not alter its position.

Note 1 - If a player from either side stands nearer than 14 yds to the player who is taking the side-line puck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where the foul occurred.

Note 2 - A player may not approach nearer than 14 yds until the ball has been actually struck.

Note 3 - If a player who is taking a side-line puck re-sets the ball it having been placed by the linesman attempts to lift the ball, touches it again before another player has played it, or otherwise foul the ball, the referee shall throw in the ball along the ground between one player from each team where the foul occurs.

Interpretation

1. If the ball hits side-line flag and comes back, it is out of play.
2. The ball is not out until it is completely over the line.
3. Linesmen should first indicate that the ball has gone over the line and then move to place it for side-line puck.
4. Linesmen throwing in the ball shall face the players.
5. If a player taking a side-line puck fails to strike the ball at the first attempt, he shall not delay in making a second attempt. Only when the player delays his second attempt to strike, may a player from either side approach nearer than 14 yards.

152 Seventy-yards Free Puck: - If the ball is played across the end-line outside the goal-posts by one of the defending side, the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 70 yards line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end-line.

Note 1 - The last player touching the ball shall be considered the last player playing it.

Note 2 - Should the player who is taking the 70 yards free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.

Interpretation

An umpire should first indicate 70 and then move out to indicate the position.
APPROVED RECOMMENDATIONS AND AMENDMENTS TO HURLING PLAYING RULES.
(Operative 17/3/77 and thereafter)

1 A Player in possession, who is surrounded, is entitled to go for an open space, even if the open space is closed by the time he gets to it, provided in so doing, he does not make a frontal attack on an opponent (Rule 139 (5))

2 Carrying the ball more than three steps will be rigidly applied (Rule 150 (6))

3 A deliberate physical charge on the goalkeeper is not allowed within the smaller parallelogram, but the opposing forwards are entitled to challenge the goalkeeper for possession or block his clearance and incidental contact with him in so doing is permissible (Rule 137 Note 1)

4 The Puck Out - (a) When the ball is driven over the goal-line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the smaller parallelogram The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck it out Should he miss at first stroke he may puck the ball off the ground or may raise it, but not take the ball into his hands before striking Taking the ball into his hand in this circumstance shall be penalised by referee throwing in the ball between one player from either side on the 20m line opposite where foul occurred (Congress 1980 - Remainder of Rail 148 is unchanged)

Comment - This simply provides a penalty in the case of a puck out by catching the ball in the hand when the player has missed at first stroke

5 Dropping the hurley to strike the hurling ball with the hand is contrary to rule (Rule 139 (b) 5)

6 Scores may still be made by striking the hurling ball with hand or foot (Rule 136)

7 Reaching from behind an opponent with the hurley to strike or tap the hurling ball away, is not a foul unless it is done in a dangerous manner (Rule 139 (b) 3)

8 A fair shoulder charge is permissible (Rule 139 (a) Note 1)

APPROVED RECOMMENDATIONS AND AMENDMENTS TO FOOTBALL PLAYING RULES

1 A player in possession, who is surrounded, is entitled to go for an open space even if the open space is closed by the time he gets to it, provided in so doing, he does not make a frontal attack on an opponent (Rule 139 (5))

2 Carrying the ball more than four steps will be rigidly applied (Rule 145 (4))

3 A deliberate physical charge on the goalkeeper is not allowed within the smaller parallelogram but the opposing forwards are entitled to challenge the goalkeeper for possession or block his clearance and incidental contact with him in so doing is permissible (Rule 137 Note 1)

4 The goalkeeper is entitled to toe to hand within the smaller parallelogram when clearing the ball (Rule 137 Note 2)
5 “In a throw in, the ball is now thrown in over the heads of a player from each side (Congress 1980)”

6 The hand pass must involve a striking action. The striking hand must not be in contact with the ball immediately before delivering the strike. A player may execute a legal hand pass from one hand only provided he strikes the ball with fist or open hand. A “Throw” is defined as follows -
   (a) When the ball is held in both hands and played away by releasing it from both hands simultaneously
   (b) When the ball is held in one hand and played away directly by that hand (Rule 145)

7 Scoring by hand pass is permitted (Rule 136)

8 A fair shoulder charge is permitted, (Rule 139 (a) Note 1)

9 For the sake of continuity of play all free kicks (except penalty kicks and frees awarded to attacking teams inside 13 metres) may be taken immediately at the spot indicated by the referee - (see 144) This Congress amendment 1980 merely confirms the existing practice

10 Striking with the hand or attempting to block with the boot while an opponent is in the act of kicking the ball from the hand are now additional specific fouls (Congress 1980)

11 In the taking of a penalty, all players with the exception of the player taking the kick and the goalkeeper must remain outside the 20 mt line and be 13 mt from the ball, until the ball is kicked (Congress 1980)

INSTRUCTIONS TO HURLING AND FOOTBALL REFEREES.

1 If a referee is not certain that the smaller parallelogram rule is infringed and a score is made, he should place more reliance on his umpires (Rule 125 (b))

2 The referee must not anticipate the outcome of a forward in the smaller parallelogram in the case of a high ball coming in as -
   (a) The ball may go over the bar for a point
   (b) It may fall short of the smaller parallelogram
   (c) It may be caught and cleared (Rule 138)

3 The “Advantage Rule” means that the referee allows play to continue if it is to the advantage of the player in possession, even though he is fouled.

   Technical offences in this regard should be ignored
   Examples of technical offences are -

   (a) The accidental hand on the back which does not interfere with the movement or effectiveness of the opponent
   (b) The goalkeeper who rides a tackle in successfully clearing the ball
   (c) The forward who is in the smaller parallelogram before the ball, but who doesn’t affect the play and the ball is cleared
4 Rail 127 (e) was amended at Congress 1980 - to read as follows -

(e) When a player refuses to leave after being ordered off or having been ordered off again joins the game, the referee shall give the captain or official in charge of the team concerned three minutes to have the player removed to the side-line. If the offending player has not left the pitch after three minutes have elapsed, the referee shall terminate the match and report accordingly to the Committee or Council in charge of the fixture, who shall award the match to the other team.

5 The personal foul rule has been deleted (139 I) - Congress 1980. There are ample remedies within the rules to control jersey pulling, etc.

139 (a) - Holding

124 (d), 139 c & d - Trips

124 (d), 139 c & d - Pulling down

6 Rail 139 (c) has been amended by Congress 1980 to read as follows -

'The referee shall consult with the umpires and/or linesmen for infringement of the playing rules, in particular rough tactics and deliberate striking, hitting or kicking - this to apply to all games where the officials concerned are neutral. The referee may apply the rules as he sees fit, following such consultation.'

Comment

The referee is still in charge and it is up to him only to take action after consultation.

APPROVED RECOMMENDATIONS AND AMENDMENTS TO FOOTBALL PLAYING RULES.

1 Rule 136 was amended to read as follows -

136 In hurling a goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goalposts and under the crossbar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side.

In hurling a point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the posts except, when thrown by any of the attacking side.

Note Goal nets shall be provided in All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible, in County Championship matches.

In Football a goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goalposts and under the crossbar, except when thrown, carried, fisted or handpassed by any of the attacking side. Exception is to be made when the ball in flight is flicked on with the hand or added to with the fist.

In Football a point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the posts, except when thrown, fisted or handpassed by any of the attacking side Exception is to be made when the ball in flight is flicked on with the hand or added to with the fist

2 Rule 145 section (d) was amended to read as follows -
When caught, the ball may be kicked, struck with the fist or open hand or hopped once against the ground with one or both hands The ball may not be thrown In the case of the open Hand Pass, there shall be a visible striking action and where the striking action is not visible the referee shall deem the pass as being foul

3 A new section was added to Rule 145 as follows -
(j) It shall be permissible to knock the ball from a player’s hand by flicking it with the open hand

(Special Congress 1981)

RECOMMENDATIONS ON THE APPLICATION OF THE HAND PASS

1 There must be a visible striking action
2 There can be no propulsion from the holding hand where both hands are involved in the pass, but the ball may be released by the holding hand for striking by the other hand
3 A good ‘rule of thumb’ is that the striking hand should extend beyond the holding hand
4 When a referee sees the pass but is in doubt regarding its validity, the pass must be regarded as a foul pass

The benefit of the doubt is not to be given

5 When a referee is unsighted, he uses his discretion
6 The fisted pass remains - no change
7 Referees must not become obsessed with the handpass to the detriment of other fouls
8 In the early stages of application the referee should speak to the players before a game

Scores from a Fisted or Hand Pass

9 Allow a score that comes from a deflection but a deflection from a crossbar or upright is not a score
10 Allow a score when a ball in flight or a ball that comes hopping along the ground is flicked on or added to with the hand or fist
11 Do not allow a score that comes directly from a hand or fisted pass by the attacking player in possession - if a defender in error passes a ball into his own net, allow the score.

The player on a solo run is in possession. The player who tips a ball over a defender's head is in possession. The player who hops a ball sideways as a goalkeeper or defender approaches is in possession. Therefore a score from a hand pass, fisted pass from any of these three positions is not to be allowed.

12. A score directly from a hand or fisted pass is a foul and the free is given from the position where the foul occurred.

General

13. Referees must be stricter with over-running, i.e. the number of steps taken - four steps.

14. A player may now strike the ball with the open hand as he approaches from behind, frontally or from the side - to strike away with the fist is not allowed. In any tackling situation, it is a foul to strike the ball away with the fist.

Explanatory notes.

There are at least two editions of this Little Yellow Booklet dated 1976. Each edition of this booklet states:-

However, one edition of this booklet states:-

APPROVED RECOMMENDATIONS AND AMENDMENTS TO HURLING PLAYING RULES

(Operative 17/3/77 and thereafter)

Playing rule changes made at Congress 1980 and 1981 are also included.

Two booklets contain versions of playing rules which are significantly different from the official rules of the Official Guides. Many of the interpretations of the playing rules contained in these "Referees' and Players' Guides" constitute new rules, and rule changes which were never sanctioned by Annual Congress.

Congress 1975 adopted the metric system, yet both editions of these "HANDBOOK FOR REFEREES AND PLAYERS - RULES OF GAELIC FOOTBALL AND HURLING - REFEREE’S AND PLAYERS’GUIDE" use the imperial system of measurement which seems to suggest that one of these booklets was in the course of preparation for some time before Congress 1975 and another at least as late as 1981.

One edition reproduces at least six playing rule changes which were made at Congress 1980. There may have been more than two editions of these Yellow Booklets because one edition refers to playing rule changes made at the Special Congress 1981 even though it was not amended to incorporate playing rule changes already in operation in 1981.
PLAYING RULES: FIELD OF PLAY.

142 The field of play shall not be less than 128 mts or more than 146 mts long, and not less than 77 mts or more than 91 mts wide.

143 Side Lines and End Lines (Goal Lines) shall either be marked with line or cut out of the turf. Lines indicating 13 mts, 20 mts, 45 mts (football), 65 mts (hurling) and half way shall also be marked. The ends of these lines and each corner of the ground shall be marked with flags.

144 In the centre of the goal-line shall stand the goal-posts, 5 mts high and 6 40 mts apart. There shall be a crossbar 2 44 mts from the ground.

145 Two parallelograms of the dimensions set out hereunder shall be formed in front of each scoring space. One parallelogram, 14 mts by 4 5 mts shall be formed by two lines 4 5 mts long and at right angles to the end-line, being marked 3 80 mts from each goal-post, and the ends of these lines being joined.

A larger parallelogram 19 mts by 13 mts shall be formed by two lines 13 mts long at right angles to the end-line, being marked 6 4 mts from each goal-post and the ends of these lines being joined.

Note: The referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules, and the two Captains should before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. There can be no objection to size of pitch, lines, etc unless a protest has been made to the referee before the game starts.

The Committee or Council acting on such a report can order a replay.

146 COMMENCING PLAY (a) The Captains of teams shall toss for choice of sides before commencing play.

(b) Four players, two from each side, shall stand in two lines at the centre of the field. The other players must be in their respective positions behind the 45 mts line (football) and 65 mts line (hurling).

(c) The Referee facing the players, shall throw in the ball over the heads of the players (Football) and along the ground between the players (Hurling).

147 DURATION OF PLAY (a) The time for actual play is one hour and ends must be changed at half-time.

(b) In Senior Inter-County Championship games, the duration of play shall be 35 minutes each half.

(c) An interval not exceeding 10 minutes may be allowed at half-time.

Penalty: Teams exceeding this allowance shall be fined not more than £5 by the Committee responsible for the fixture.

148 SCORES (a) A goal is scored when the ball is driven or played by either team between the goal-posts and under the crossbar, except when thrown or carried by any of the attacking side

(b) A point is scored when the ball is driven or played by either side over the crossbar and between the posts except when thrown by any of the attacking side

Note: Goal nets shall be provided in All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches

(c) When the ball hits the crossbar or upright posts and rebounds into the field of play, it is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and should the ball pass between the upright posts, below where, in the opinion of the referee, the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal

(d) Should the upright posts become displaced and should the ball pass inside where, in the referee’s opinion, they would have been, he shall allow a goal or a point according as the ball would have passed under or over the crossbar

(e) A ball played through the goal space by one of the defending side shall count a goal to the opposing team and if played through the point space, shall count a point

149 The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal-line or sideline

150 The game shall be decided by the greater number of points. A goal shall be equal to three points

PLAYING RULES: HURLING.

151 FREE PUCKS - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. For all free pucks the referee must indicate the spot from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the referee has whistled.

152 For all free pucks other than side-line pucks the ball may be struck in two ways

   (a) Strike the ball on the ground
   (b) Lift the ball with the hurley and strike it off the hurley. The ball may not be taken in the hand when lifted with the hurley for a free puck

Note 1 - The player who takes a free puck may not play the ball again before another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or upright. Should a player so foul, the referee shall throw in the ball between one player from each team along the ground where the foul occurs.

Note 2 - The ball must be lifted at first effort to lift, and struck at the first effort to strike off the hurley. Should a player fail to lift at the first effort or fail to strike off the hurley, he must strike the ball on the ground.

Note 3 - Should the player who is taking a free puck make a second attempt to lift or otherwise foul the ball before any other player plays it, the referee shall throw in the ball between one player from each team along the ground where the foul occurs.

Note 4 - A player taking a free puck near the end-line or side-line may go outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken, when, after the referee has whistled, the ball is struck by a player of the side awarded the free puck.

Note 5 - Should any other player stand nearer than 20 mts when a free puck or 65 mts free is being taken, or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood or charged.

Note 6 - A player may not approach nearer than 20 mts until the ball has been actually struck.

Note 7 - Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or has been placed at the spot indicated by the referee, by a player of the team awarded the free, and the whistle has been blown for the free to be taken, the player of that team may not reset the ball except with the expressed permission of the referee. Should a player fail to comply with this regulation, the referee shall disallow the free and shall throw the ball between one player from each team along the ground from where the free was to have been taken.

153 In awarding a free for foul or rough play the referee shall award a free where the foul occurred, except in the case of a foul on a player after his delivery of the ball, where in such cases a free shall be given from where the ball lands, or if a score is made, the score shall be allowed.

When a player is fouled after delivering the ball and the ball lands over the end-line, a free shall be given from the 20 mts line opposite the point where the ball crossed the end-line.

Should the ball land inside the opponents' 20 mts line a free shall be given from the 20 mts line opposite the point where the ball landed.

Should the ball land over the side-line, a free shall be given from the point where the ball crossed the side-line.

(b) If a player in any way shows dissent with the referee's decision to award a free to the opposing team, the free shall be awarded from a point 10 mts more advantageous to the opposing team.

156 65 mts FREE PUCK - (a) If the ball is played across the end-line outside the goalposts by one of the defending side, the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 65 mts line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end-line.

(b) Should the player who is taking the 65 mts free puck foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from goal by the opposing team.
157 SIDE-LINE PUCK - (a) When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team, at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesmen shall place the ball for the puck, and a player may not alter its position.

(b) If a player from either side stands near than 13 mts to the player who is taking the side-line puck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where the foul occurred.

(c) A player may not approach nearer than 13 mts until the ball has been actually struck.

(d) If a player who is taking a side-line puck resets the ball, placed by a linesman, attempts to lift the ball, touches it again before another player has played it, or otherwise fouls the ball, the referee shall throw in the ball between one player from each team along the ground where the foul occurs.

158 THE PUCK-OUT - (a) When a ball is driven over the goal-line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the smaller parallelogram. (b) Should a player puck out the ball from outside the smaller parallelogram, the opposing team shall be awarded a 65 mts free puck opposite to where the foul occurred.

(c) The player taking the puck out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal-line than the 20 mts line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 20 mts line opposite where the player stood.

A larger parallelogram 19 mts by 13 mts shall be formed by two lines 13 mts long at right angles to the end-line, being marked 6.4 mts from each goal post and the ends of these lines being joined.

Note: The referee shall report any irregularities in respect of the foregoing Rules, and the two Captains should before start of game, jointly call attention to irregularities. Note: Goal nets shall be provided in All-Ireland, Inter-County, and as far as possible in County Championship matches.

(c) When the ball hits the crossbar or upright posts and rebounds into the field of play, it is still in play. Should the crossbar become displaced or broken and should the ball pass between the upright posts, below where, in the opinion of the referee, the crossbar should have been, he shall allow a goal.

(d) Should the upright posts become displaced and should the ball pass inside where, in the referee's opinion, they would have been, he shall allow a goal or a point according as the ball would have passed under or over the crossbar.

(e) A ball played through the goal space by one of the defending side shall count a goal to the opposing team and if played through the point space, shall count a point.

149 The ball is in play until the whole ball has passed over the goal-line or sideline.

PLAYING RULES: HURLING.

151 FREE PUCKS - The penalty for all breaches of the rules shall be a free puck. For all free pucks the referee must indicate the spot from where the free shall be taken. The ball shall not be pucked until the referee has whistled.

152 For all free pucks other than side-line pucks the ball may be struck in two ways:

Note 1 - The player who takes a free puck may not play the ball again before another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or upright. Should a player so foul, the referee shall throw in the ball between one player from each team along the ground where the foul occurs.

Note 4 - A player taking a free puck near the end-line or side-line may go outside these lines when striking. The free puck shall be deemed to have been taken, when, after the referee has whistled, the ball is struck by a player of the side awarded the free puck.
Note 5 - Should any other player stand nearer than 20 mts when a free puck or 65 mts free is being taken, or illegally charge a free, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where he stood or charged.

Note 6 - A player may not approach nearer than 20 mts until the ball has been actually struck.

Note 7 - Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or has been placed at the spot indicated by the referee, by a player of the team awarded the free, and the whistle has been blown for the free to be taken, the player of that team may not reset the ball except with the expressed permission of the referee. Should a player fail to comply with this regulation, the referee shall disallow the free and shall throw the ball between one player from each team along the ground from where the free was to have been taken.

153 In awarding a free for foul or rough play the referee shall award a free where the foul occurred, except in the case of a foul on a player after his delivery of the ball, where in such cases a free shall be given from where the ball lands, or if a score is made, the score shall be allowed.

When a player is fouled after delivering the ball and the ball lands over the end-line, a free shall be given from the 20 mts line opposite the point where the ball crossed the end-line.

157 SIDE-LINE PUCK - (a) When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team, at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesmen shall place the ball for the puck, and a player may not alter its position.

(b) If a player from either side stands near than 13 mts to the player who is taking the side-line puck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where the foul occurred.

(c) A player may not approach nearer than 13 mts until the ball has been actually struck.

158 THE PUCK-OUT - (a) When a ball is driven over the goal-line by the opposing team, it shall be pucked out from within the smaller parallelogram. The player taking the puck may take the ball in his hand to puck it out. Should he miss at first stroke, he may puck the ball off the ground or may raise it but not take the ball into his hands before striking. Taking the ball into his hand in this circumstance shall be penalised by referee throwing in the ball between one player from either side on the 20m line opposite where the foul occurred. All the players of the opposing team are to be outside the 20 mts line until the ball has been pucked. The referee shall be empowered to allow extra time to compensate for any deliberate delay in pucking out.

(b) Should a player puck out the ball from outside the smaller parallelogram, the opposing team shall be awarded a 65 mts free puck opposite to where the foul occurred.

(c) The player taking the puck out may strike the ball more than once before any other player touches it. Should a player of the opposing team stand nearer to the goal-line than the 20 mts line, the defending side shall have a free puck on the 20 mts line opposite where the player stood.

139 LINESMEN (a) There shall be two linesmen appointed by the Referee, County Committee, Provincial Council or Central Council, who shall be provided with flags.
(b) Their duty (subject to the decision of the referee) shall be to decide when and where the ball crosses the sideline, and which side is entitled to the kick in, or puck in.

When a score is disallowed, breaches of the smaller parallelogram shall be notified by crossing the signal flags in front of the goal.

Note 1 - The player who takes a free puck may not play the ball again before another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or upright. Should a player so foul, the referee shall throw in the ball between one player from each team along the ground where the foul occurs.

after the referee has whistled, the ball is struck by a player of the side awarded the free puck

Note 6 - A player may not approach nearer than 20 mts until the ball has been actually struck

Note 7 - Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or has been placed at the spot indicated by the referee, by a player of the team awarded the free, and the whistle has been blown for the free to be taken, the player of that team may not reset the ball except with the expressed permission of the referee. Should a player fail to comply with this regulation, the referee shall disallow the free and shall throw the ball between one player from each team along the ground from where the free was to have been taken.

153 In awarding a free for foul or rough play the referee shall award a free where the foul occurred, except in the case of a foul on a player after his delivery of the ball, where in such cases a free shall be given from where the ball lands, or if a score is made, the score shall be allowed.

156 65 mts FREE PUCK - (a) If the ball is played across the end-line outside the goalposts by one of the defending side, the opposing team shall have a free puck from a point on the 65 mts line directly opposite where the ball crossed the end-line.

157 SIDE-LINE PUCK - (a) When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a free puck on the ground to the opposing team, at the point where the ball crossed the line. The linesmen shall place the ball for the puck, and a player may not alter its position.

(b) If a player from either side stands near than 13 mts to the player who is taking the side-line puck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free puck from where the foul occurred.

(c) A player may not approach nearer than 13 mts until the ball has been actually struck.

The referee shall be empowered to allow extra time to compensate for any deliberate delay in pucking out.

(b) Should a player pucker out the ball from outside the smaller parallelogram, the opposing team shall be awarded a 65 mts free puck opposite to where the foul occurred.

(f) It shall be a foul for an attacking player to be within the small rectangle before the ball enters it during play.

There shall be two exceptions to this rule:

In the case of fouls by a defending player within the rectangles, the following shall apply -

In Hurling, a penalty shall be awarded for a Category A, B or C foul within the large rectangle.
The penalty shall be taken from the centre point of the 20m line and only 3 defending players may stand on the goal-line. All other players, with the exception of the player taking the puck, must be outside the 20m line, be 20m from the ball, and shall not cross the 20m line until the ball has been struck.

A free from the centre of the 20m line shall be awarded for a Category D foul within the large rectangle.

In Football, a penalty shall be awarded for a Category A, B or C foul within the large rectangle, or a Category D foul within the small rectangle.

The penalty shall be taken from the centre point of the 13m line and all players, with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick, shall be outside the 20m line and 13m from the ball.

No player shall cross the 20m line until the ball has been kicked. The goalkeeper may move along his line but not advance from the goal-line, until the ball has been actually kicked. If the goalkeeper moves forward before the ball is kicked and the penalty is missed, the referee shall allow the kick to be retaken.

A free from the centre of the 13m line shall be awarded for a Category D foul within the large rectangle, but outside the small rectangle.

197 When a score is disallowed for an infringement of the rectangle rule, the defending side shall be awarded a free from the small rectangle.

Frees.

198 Except as provided hereunder at (a) and (b), a free shall be awarded for all breaches of the Playing Rules, which the referee shall indicate by blowing his whistle.

(a) If a foul occurs, the referee may allow play to continue if he considers this to be to the advantage of the offended team, but once the referee allows the play to continue he may not subsequently award a free for that foul. He shall apply such disciplinary action as is warranted against the offender.

(b) If a player from each team fouls at the same time, the referee shall award a throw-in ball where the fouls occurred.

(c) If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 13/20m in Football/Hurling to the ball before it is actually kicked/struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.

200 If a player shows dissent with the referee’s decision to award a free to the opposing team, the free shall be taken from a spot 10m more advantageous to the opposing team.

201 Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or by a player of the team awarded the free at the spot indicated by the referee, and the whistle has been blown for the free to be taken, it may not be replaced except with the permission of the referee. If the ball is replaced, without such permission, the referee shall disallow the free, and there shall be a throw-in from where the free was to have been taken.

202 A free shall be from the spot indicated by the referee. The referee shall blow his whistle for a free to be taken. In Football a quick free may be taken, except a free to an attacking team on the 13m line. A free shall be deemed to have been taken once the ball has been struck by a player of the side awarded the free.

203 In the case of a foul on a player after his delivery of the ball, at the option of the player fouled, a free shall be given from where the foul was committed or where the ball landed, or, if a score is made, the score shall be allowed.

(a) If the ball lands over the end-line, a free shall be given from the 20m /13m line in Hurling/Football, opposite the point where the ball crossed the end-line.

(b) If the ball lands inside the opponents 20/13m line in Hurling/Football, a free shall be given from the 20/13m line opposite the point where the ball crossed the line.

(c) If the ball crosses the side-line, a free shall be given from the point where the ball crossed the line.

204 The player who has taken a free may not play the ball again until another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or goalpost. Should a player so play the ball the referee shall give a throw-in ball where the offence occurred.

In Hurling for all free pucks the ball may be struck with the hurley in either of two ways.

(a) Lift the ball with the hurley at the first attempt and strike it with the hurley.

(b) Strike the ball on the ground.

206 (a) If a player taking a free puck fails to lift the ball at the first attempt or fails to strike it with the hurley, he must strike it on the ground without delay. Only where he delays, may a player of either side approach nearer than 20m.

(b) If a player fouls a free puck by making a second attempt to lift, hop the ball on the hurley, or take the ball in the hand, the referee shall give a throw-in ball.

207 If the ball is played over the endline outside the goalposts by a defending player, the opposing team shall have a free from a spot on the 45m line in Football or the 65m line in Hurling directly opposite where the ball crossed the endline.

Should the player who is taking the 45/65m free, foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be kicked or pucked from the small rectangle by the opposing team.

208 Side-Line Ball. (a) When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a kick/puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line. A player on the team awarded the kick/puck shall place the ball.

(b) If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 13m to the ball before it is actually kicked/struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.

(c) In Hurling, if a player taking a sideline puck fails to strike the ball at the first attempt, he shall not delay in making a second attempt. Only when the player delays his second attempt to strike may a player from either side approach nearer than 13m.

(d) If a player who is taking a sideline kick/puck plays the ball a second time before another player has touched it, or in Hurling attempts to lift it, there shall be a throw-in ball where the offence occurred.

209 The last player touching the ball before it crosses the boundary lines shall be considered the last person playing it.

210 For the purpose of a lead-up to a free, sideline kick/puck, or kick/puck-out, a player may go outside a sideline/endline, but shall otherwise remain within the field of play.

211 The Puck-Out in Hurling. (a) The ball shall be pucked out from within the small rectangle after a score or wide. If the puck is taken from outside the small rectangle, the opposing team shall be awarded a 65m free opposite, to where the foul occurred.

(b) The player taking the puck shall take the ball in his hand, but should he miss... his stroke, the ball may be struck from the ground or may be raised with the hurley, but not taken in the hand again before striking. Taking the ball into the hand in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in on the 20m line opposite to where the offence occurred. The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before another player touches it.

(c) All players shall be outside the 20m line until the ball has been struck except the goal-keeper and the player taking the puck, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offends, he shall be penalised by a free being awarded from the 20m line opposite to where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in ball shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team.

212 The Kick Out in Football
(a) The ball shall be kicked out from within the small rectangle after a wide, and from a spot on the 20m line in front of the scoring space after a score.

(b) The player taking the kick-out shall kick the ball from the ground, and may kick it more than once before any other player touches it, but he may not take it into his hands. Taking the ball into the hands in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in on the 20m line opposite where the offence occurred.

(c) For a kick out from the small rectangle all players shall be outside the 20m line, until the ball has been kicked, except the goalkeeper who shall remain inside the small rectangle, and the player taking the kick, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offends, he shall be penalised by a free being awarded from the 20m line opposite where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team. For a kick-out from the 20m line no player shall stand closer than 13m until the ball is kicked.

They shall remain at the same end for the duration of the game. They shall decide if a score is made or if the ball has gone over the endline for a wide or a 65/45. If the decision is solely that the ball has crossed over the goal-line or crossbar, their agreed decision is final, with the referee deciding only where the umpires disagree. If a score is made and there is an issue concerning the illegal entry of an attacking player into the small rectangle before the ball enters it during play, the agreed decision of the umpires may be over-ruled by the referee.

The umpires and linesmen, where neutral, shall have power during a stoppage, to bring to the notice of the referee any instances of foul play, or incursions on to the field of play which have gone unnoticed by the referee. (c) Lifting the ball off the ground with the knees. It may be lifted by foot or hurley

(d) Lying on the ball

(e) Touching the ball on the ground with the hands, except as follows

1. In Football, when a player is knocked or falls in possession, he may fist or palm the ball away even though it be on the ground. In Football, the goalkeeper may lift the ball off the ground or play it on the ground by hand, within the small rectangle.

2. In Hurling, when a player is knocked or falls, and the ball in his hand touches the ground.

(f) It shall be a foul for an attacking player to be within the small rectangle before the ball enters it during play.

There shall be two exceptions to this rule

1. If an attacking player legally enters the small rectangle, and the ball is played from that area, but is returned before the attacking player has time to leave the area, the player shall be deemed not to have committed an offence, provided he does not play the ball or interfere with the defence.

2. When a point is scored from outside the small rectangle and the ball is sufficiently high to be out of reach of defence and attack, the score shall be allowed, even though an attacking player may have been within the small rectangle before the ball, provided that the player in question does not interfere with the defence.

Applicable to Hurling only

(g) Catching the ball more than twice before playing it away

(h) Throwing up the ball and catching it without playing it with the hurley

(i) Dropping the hurley intentionally

(j) Tipping the opponent's hurley in the air or tipping it up for the purpose of allowing the ball to pass through

Applicable to Football only

(k) Changing the ball from hand to hand more than once
(l) Hopping the ball more than once after catching it

(m) Hand-passing the ball without a visible striking action

(n) A defending player illegally charging a free from within the small rectangle

(o) Fisting or handpassing the ball up and catching it without it touching the ground or being touched by another player

FOULS WITHIN RECTANGLES

196 In the case of fouls by a defending player within the rectangles, the following shall apply -

In Hurling A penalty shall be awarded for a Category A, B or C foul within the large rectangle.

The penalty shall be taken from the centre point of the 20m line and only 3 defending players may stand on the goal-line. All other players, with the exception of the player taking the puck, must be outside the 20m line, be 20m from the ball, and shall not cross the 20m line until the ball has been struck.

A free from the centre of the 20m line shall be awarded for a Category D foul within the large rectangle.

In Football A penalty shall be awarded for a Category A, B or C foul within the large rectangle, or a Category D foul within the small rectangle.

The penalty shall be taken from the centre point of the 13m line and all players, with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick, shall be outside the 20m line and 13m from the ball. No player shall cross the 20m line until the ball has been kicked. The goalkeeper may move along his line but not advance from the goal-line, until the ball has been actually kicked. If the goalkeeper moves forward before the ball is kicked and the penalty is missed, the referee shall allow the kick to be retaken.

A free from the centre of the 13m line shall be awarded for a Category D foul within the large rectangle, but outside the small rectangle.

197 When a score is disallowed for an infringement of the rectangle rule, the defending side shall be awarded a free from the small rectangle.

Frees

198 Except as provided hereunder at (a) and (b), a free shall be awarded for all breaches of the Playing Rules, which the referee shall indicate by blowing his whistle.
(a) If a foul occurs, the referee may allow play to continue if he considers this to be to the advantage of the offended team, but once the referee allows the play to continue he may not subsequently award a free for that foul. He shall apply such disciplinary action as is warranted against the offender.

(b) If a player from each team fouls at the same time, the referee shall award a throw-in ball where the fouls occurred.

199 If a foul is committed by the defence within the 13/20m line in Football/Hurling, but outside the large rectangle, a free shall be given on the 13/20m line in Football/Hurling opposite where the foul occurred.

200 If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 13/20m in Football/Hurling to the ball before it is actually kick/struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.

201 If a player on the team awarded a free fouls an opponent in retaliation before the free has been taken, the free awarded shall be disallowed and play restarted by a throw-in ball where the original foul occurred.

202 If a player shows dissent with the referee's decision to award a free to the opposing team, the free shall be taken from a spot 10m more advantageous to the opposing team.

203 Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or by a player of the team awarded the free at the spot indicated by the referee, and the whistle has been blown for the free to be taken, it may not be replaced except with the permission of the referee. If the ball is replaced, without such permission, the referee shall disallow the free, and there shall be a throw-in from where the free was to have been taken.

204 A free shall be from the spot indicated by the referee. The referee shall blow his whistle for a free to be taken. In Football a quick free may be taken, except a free to an attacking team on the 13m line. A free shall be deemed to have been taken once the ball has been struck by a player of the side awarded the free.

205 In the case of a foul on a player after his delivery of the ball, at the option of the player fouled, a free shall be given from where the foul was committed or where the ball landed, or, if a score is made, the score shall be allowed. In the specified circumstances the rule shall apply as follows:

(a) If the ball lands over the end-line, a free shall be given from the 20m/13m line in Hurling/Football, opposite the point where the ball crossed the end-line.

(b) If the ball lands inside the opponents 20/13m line in Hurling/Football, a free shall be given from the 20/13m line opposite the point where the ball crossed the line.
(c) If the ball crosses the side-line, a free shall be given from the point where the ball crossed the line

206 The player who has taken a free may not play the ball again until another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or goalpost. Should a player so play the ball the referee shall give a throw-in ball where the offence occurred.

207 In Hurling for all free pucks the ball may be struck with the hurley in either of two ways
   (a) Lift the ball with the hurley at the first attempt and strike it with the hurley
   (b) Strike the ball on the ground

208 (a) If a player taking a free puck fails to lift the ball at the first attempt or fails to strike it with the hurley, he must strike it on the ground without delay. Only where he delays, may a player of either side approach nearer than 20m.
   (b) If a player fouls a free puck by making a second attempt to lift, hop the ball on the hurley, or take the ball in the hand, the referee shall give a throw-in ball.

209 If the ball is played over the endline outside the goalposts by a defending player, the opposing team shall have a free from a spot on the 45m line in Football or the 65m line in Hurling directly opposite where the ball crossed the endline.

   Should the player who is taking the 45/65m free, foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be kicked or pucked from the small rectangle by the opposing team.

210 Side-Line Ball
   (a) When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a kick/puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line.
   (b) If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 13m to the ball before it is actually kicked/struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.
   (c) In Hurling, if a player taking a sideline puck fails to strike the ball at the first attempt, he shall not delay in making a second attempt. Only when the player delays his second attempt to strike may a player from either side approach nearer than 13m.
   (d) If a player who is taking a sideline kick/puck plays the ball a second time before another player has touched it, or in Hurling attempts to lift it, there shall be a throw-in ball where the offence occurred.

211 The last player touching the ball before it crosses the boundary lines shall be considered the last person playing it.
212 For the purpose of a lead-up to a free, sideline kick/puck, or kick/puck-out, a player may go outside a sideline/endline, but shall otherwise remain within the field of play.

213 The Puck-Out in Hurling
(a) The ball shall be pucked out from within the small rectangle after a score or wide. If the puck is taken from outside the small rectangle, the opposing team shall be awarded a 65m free opposite, to where the foul occurred.
(b) The player taking the puck shall take the ball in his hand, but should he miss his stroke, the ball may be struck from the ground or may be raised with the hurley, but not taken in the hand again before striking. Taking the ball into the hand in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in on the 20m line opposite to where the offence occurred. The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before another player touches it.
(c) All players shall be outside the 20m line until the ball has been struck except the goalkeeper and the player taking the puck, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offends he shall be penalised by a free being awarded from the 20m line opposite to where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in ball shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team.

214 The Kick Out in Football
(a) The ball shall be kicked out from within the small rectangle after a wide, and from a spot on the 20m line in front of the scoring space after a score.
(b) The player taking the kick-out shall kick the ball from the ground, and may kick it more than once before any other player touches it, but he may not take it into his hands. Taking the ball into the hands in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in on the 20m line opposite where the offence occurred.
(c) For a kick out from the small rectangle all players shall be outside the 20m line, until the ball has been kicked, except the goalkeeper who shall remain inside the small rectangle, and the player taking the kick, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offends, he shall be penalised by a free being awarded from the 20m line opposite where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team. For a kick-out from the 20m line no player shall stand closer than 13m until the ball is kicked.

Match Officials

168 Appointment of Match Officials: The Central Council, Provincial Council and County Committee shall have the absolute power to appoint the match officials for all games under their respective jurisdiction. The Council or Committee may delegate those powers to a Sub-Committee, or in the case of the appointment of umpires and linesmen to the referee.

Where a referee is unable to act, a substitute shall be appointed by the Secretary of the Committee in charge, or in the case of a referee who is unable to contact the Secretary, the referee may appoint a substitute.

Duties and Powers of Match Officials

169 Duties of a Referee: The duties of a referee shall be

(a) To receive lists of players, sign them in Irish, and give a copy to the opposing team before the game.

(b) To ensure that all players are correctly and safely attired, and that all playing equipment conforms with the rules *

(c) To control the game in accordance with the Rules of Play.

(d) To keep a record of scores, names of players ordered off or cautioned, injured and/or replaced, names of substitutes coming on to play, any instance of late taking the field or exceeding the half-time interval, and the intrusion of unauthorised persons.

(e) To record playing time and to extend time in each half for deliberate or incidental delay or to allow for a free, awarded before time has expired, to be taken. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the referee whistles for full-time, he shall further extend the time to permit an additional free to be taken, from which a score can be made, provided no other player of the same side touches the ball.

(g) To report any irregularities in respect of dimensions, markings, or unsatisfactory condition of field of play.

If a referee judges the dimensions of a hurley exceed those stipulated by rule he should check it with the official measure. Where it exceed the stipulated dimensions he should instruct the player to use a...*
Referee’s Report: Within a period of seven days of the game, the referee shall forward his report to the Committee or Council in charge, together with one copy of each team list. The report shall include the names of umpires and linesmen, the result of the game, the time each team took the field, and the game commenced if interval exceeded, reason to be stated, names of substitutes taking part and players replaced, names of players injured, cautioned, ordered off (stating exact reason therefor), names of officials or spectators who interfered during the course of the game and any other breaches of the regulations.

Powers of a Referee: The referee shall have power to:

(a) Declare ground or other conditions unsuitable for play, after consulting, where feasible with officials in charge of the fixture;

(b) Overrule a decision of a linesman;

(c) Terminate a game because of persistent outside interference or any other serious reason that merits such action;

(d) Terminate a game, having first given a three minute warning to the team captain or official in charge of the team or the player(s) involved, in any of the following circumstances:

(i) A player refusing to leave when ordered off, or having been ordered off again joining the game;

(ii) A team or player(s) leaving the field without the Referee’s permission, or refusing to continue. In the latter case any member of the team who is willing to continue shall give his name to the Referee.

Umpires: There shall be two goal umpires at each end of the field of play, who shall stand outside each goalpost and behind the endline. They shall remain at the same end for the duration of the game. They shall decide if a score is made or if the ball has gone over the endline for a wide or a 65/45. If the decision is solely that the ball has crossed over the goal-line or crossbar, their agreed decision is final, with the referee deciding only where the umpires disagree. If a score is made and there is an issue concerning the illegal entry of an attacking player into the small rectangle before the ball enters it during play, the agreed decision of the umpires may be overruled by the referee.

The Umpires shall signal their decision as follows:

(a) A “65” in hurling or “45” in football, by first raising an arm upright and then pointing directly infield at the spot where the ball, last played or touched by a defending player, passed over the end-line.

(This constitutes a new rule)

A player on the team awarded the sideline kick/puck shall place the ball on the line at the point indicated by the linesman. Where the ball is played across a sideline by opposing players simultaneously, the linesman, facing the players, shall throw in the ball. The linesmen shall change sides at half-time, but failure to change shall not affect the result of the game.

174 Consultation: The referee may consult with the umpires and/or linesmen for infringements of Playing Rules, in particular rough or dangerous play and deliberate striking, hitting or kicking. The umpires and linesmen, where neutral, shall have power during a stoppage, to bring to the notice of the referee any instances of foul play, or incursions on to the field of play which have gone unnoticed by the referee. The referee may apply the appropriate rule following such consultations.

175 The referee’s decision on any question of fact and in regard to time shall be final.

176 Once having given a decision, the referee, after sounding the whistle, shall not alter it.

Teams and Substitutes

177 Teams shall be 15 a-side. A team may commence a game with 13 players, but shall have fielded 15 players, inclusive of players ordered off or retired injured, by the start of the second half. In the event of this not being complied with, the game shall continue, but the game shall be awarded to the opposing side. Late arrivals may join in the game during a cessation of play, and must report to the referee before so doing.

A County Committee may reduce the number of players in a team for non-Championship competitions.

178 (a) A maximum of three substitutions shall be allowed. A substitution is not allowed in the case of a player ordered off.

(b) In Inter-county games all substitutions must be from players on the official list furnished to the referee.

Penalty for (a) and (b) Forfeiture of game to its opponents

179 List of Players: The referee must be given a list, in duplicate and in Irish, of players, giving full Christian names, before all official games

In Inter-county games the list of players shall be numbered from 1-21 and shall also name the Clubs to which players belong

Unless otherwise clearly indicated, the first 15 names appearing on a list shall be taken as constituting the actual team

Penalty for failing to furnish lists as specified, or the inclusion of a player whose name has not been supplied to the referee - forfeiture of game *

In inter-county games the list of players, giving full Christian names and the names of clubs to which players belong, must be numbered 1-21. Any substitution made must be from this list. You will note that the penalty for breaches, which should be reported, is loss of game. Players should be numbered in accordance with the official programme - an exception will be made only in the case of valid withdrawal, and such withdrawal should be notified in advance to the committee in charge of the fixture.

180 Taking the Field: A team shall take the field not later than 10 minutes before the appointed starting time for Senior Inter-County Championships, National League Finals, Railway Cup Finals, All-Ireland, Provincial and Senior Championship Finals, and not later than five minutes before the appointed starting time in all other games. (b) Two players from each team, one behind the other and standing in their own defensive side of the half-way line shall face the referee for the throw-in. The other players shall be in their respective positions behind the 45m line (Football) and 65m line (Hurling)

*(This constitutes a new rule)
(c) The referee, facing the players, shall throw the ball over the heads of the players (Football), and along the ground between the players (Hurling).

(d) Regulations (b) and (c) above shall also apply for the commencement of the second period.

183 Duration of Play: The playing time shall consist of two periods of 30 minutes each, except in Senior Inter-County Championship games when these periods shall be 35 minutes each. Time shall be added on in each period for incidental or deliberate delays.

The playing time may be reduced by local Bye-Law for under 15 or younger grades.

Interval. An interval not exceeding 10 minutes shall be allowed at half-time, following which the teams shall change ends.

A team responsible for the 10 minute interval being exceeded shall be penalised as follows: County or Provincial - £20 per minute or part thereof, Club - £5 per minute or part thereof. A team responsible for the interval exceeding 15 minutes shall forfeit the game.

184 Extra time: If a game in a knock-out competition ends in a draw, teams may, by consent, play extra time, consisting of two periods of 15 minutes each way, which extra time shall be obligatory in the case of a further draw in a replay. For extra time as a consequence of a draw, a toss for choice of ends shall be made. Three substitutions shall be allowed during this period, and a player ordered off during normal time may be replaced. In Inter-county games players shall be from the lists submitted prior to the game.

Play shall commence not more than 10 minutes after the end of normal time. A team or teams failing to field for such extra time within the specified 10 minutes, shall be ruled out of the competition.

Extra time shall be obligatory in the Inter-Provincial, Oireachtas and other Inter-county Tournaments, the Sigerson/Fitzgibbon Cups and any other games in subsidiary competitions that may be determined by the Central Council. 185 Scores: A goal is scored when the ball is played by either team between the goalposts and under the crossbar. A point is scored when the ball is played by either team between the uprights and over the crossbar. The ball shall not be thrown or carried over the goal-line by an attacking player. In Football, a score may not be made by an attacking player in possession fistling or handpassing the ball, but a score may be made by a player striking the ball in flight with the fist or open hand

If a defending player plays the ball in any manner through his own scoring space shall count as a score

In the event of an upright or crossbar being broken or displaced and the ball crossing the scoring space, the referee shall award the score which he considers appropriate

The game shall be decided by the greater number of points, a goal being equal to three points

186 The referee may give his expressed permission to a team medical officer or one authorised official to enter the field of play to examine an injured player

Treatment shall be given on the sideline

Play shall not be stopped for injury to a player, save in exceptional circumstances to enable a seriously injured player to be removed from the field. No other team official shall enter the field of play

Penalty for unauthorised entry - One month

[Nobody may go on the field of play to treat an injured player without the prior permission of the referee. Though play is continuing, the referee may signal to the designated person to attend the injured player and remove him to the sideline for treatment. For a stoppage in play the referee must judge the player to be seriously injured and insist on his removal to the sideline for treatment. No injured player may be treated on the field of play.]

(This is a new rule.)

Ball in Play - Hurling and Football

187 The ball is in play until the whole ball has crossed over a goal-line, end-line or side-line

188 (a) If the ball strikes the referee, a throw-in ball shall be given at the spot concerned, but if it strikes him from a free, the free shall be retaken

(b) If the ball strikes any non-player, a throw-in ball shall be given at the spot concerned.

If it strikes him from a free, the free shall be retaken, but if in the opinion of the referee the ball has been impeded from crossing a sideline or goal-line he shall make the appropriate award
A throw-in ball in these rules shall involve throwing in the ball between one player of each team, along the ground in Hurling and up over the heads in Football.

It shall be given on the 13m line when the incident occurs within the 13m line.

Section (c) states that the ball may be struck with the open hand or fist but there must be a visible striking action and no propulsion from the holding hand. The one-hand/fisted pass is not permitted (Central Council Ruling, May 1986). As a rule of thumb at the end of a properly executed hand-pass the striking hand should extend beyond the holding hand.

(This constitutes a new rule.)
191 Ball Out of Play:
(a) The ball is out of play when it passes outside the boundary lines of the field of play.

(b) If the ball strikes a sideline or corner flag and comes back, it shall be deemed out of play and the appropriate award shall be made.

(2) In Hurling, when a player is knocked or falls, and the ball in his hand touches the ground.

(f) Entering the small rectangle before the ball enters it during play, in which case a free shall be awarded from the small rectangle.

There shall be two exceptions to this rule

(1) If an attacking player legally enters the small rectangle, and the ball is played from that area, but is returned before the attacking player has time to leave the area, the player shall be deemed not to have committed an offence, provided he does not play the ball or interfere with the defence.

(2) When a point is scored from outside the small rectangle and the ball is sufficiently high to be out of reach of defence and attack, the score shall be allowed, even though an attacking player may have been within the small rectangle before the ball, provided that the player in question does not interfere with the defence.

Applicable to Hurling only

(g) Catching the ball more than twice before playing it away.

(h) Throwing up the ball and catching it without playing it with the hurley.

(i) Dropping the hurley intentionally.

(j) Tipping the opponent’s hurley in the air or tipping it up for the purpose of allowing the ball to pass through.

Applicable to Football only

(k) Changing the ball from hand to hand more than once.

(l) Hopping the ball more than once after catching it.
(m) Hand-passing the ball without a visible striking action

(n) A defending player illegally charging a free from within the small rectangle

(o) Fisting or handpassing the ball up and catching it without it touching the ground or being touched by another player

[Section (e)(1) If a score results in this situation it shall be allowed (Central Council Ruling, August 1986)]

FOULS WITHIN RECTANGLES

196 In the case of fouls by a defending player within the rectangles, the following shall apply -

In Hurling: A penalty shall be awarded for a Category A, B or C foul within the large rectangle

The penalty shall be taken from the centre point of the 20m line and only 3 defending players may stand on the goal-line. All other players, with the exception of the player taking the puck, must be outside the 20m line, be 20m from the ball, and shall not cross the 20m line until the ball has been struck.

A free from the centre of the 20m line shall be awarded for a Category D foul within the large rectangle.

In Football: A penalty shall be awarded for a Category A, B or C foul within the large rectangle, or any foul within the small rectangle.

The penalty shall be taken from the centre point of the 13m line and all players, with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick, shall be outside the 20m line and 13m from the ball.

No player shall cross the 20m line until the ball has been kicked. The goalkeeper may move along his line but not advance from the goal-line, until the ball has been actually kicked. If the goalkeeper moves forward before the ball is kicked and the penalty is missed, the referee shall allow the kick to be retaken.

A free from the centre of the 13m line shall be awarded for a Category D foul within the large rectangle, but outside the small rectangle.

FREES

197 Except as provided hereunder at (a) and (b), a free shall be awarded for all breaches of the Playing Rules, which the referee shall indicate by blowing his whistle.

(a) If a foul occurs, the referee may allow play to continue if he considers this to be to the advantage of the offended team, but once the referee allows the play to continue he may not subsequently award a free for that foul. He shall apply such disciplinary action as is warranted against the offender.

(b) If a player from each team fouls at the same time, the referee shall award a throw-in ball where the fouls occurred.

198 If a foul is committed by the defence within the 13/20m line in Football/Hurling, but outside the large rectangle, a free shall be given on the 13/20m line in Football/Hurling opposite where the foul occurred.

199 If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 13/20m in Football/Hurling to the ball before it is actually kick/struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.

200 If a player on the team awarded a free fouls an opponent in retaliation before the free has been taken, the free awarded shall be disallowed and play restarted by a throw-in ball where the original foul occurred.

201 If a player shows dissent with the referee’s decision to award a free to the opposing team, the free shall be taken from a spot 10m more advantageous to the opposing team.

202 Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or by a player of the team awarded the free at the spot indicated by the referee, and the whistle has been blown for the free to be taken, it may not be replaced except with the permission of the referee. If the ball is replaced, without such permission, the referee shall disallow the free, and there shall be a throw-in from where the free was to have been taken.

203 A free shall be from the spot indicated by the referee. The referee shall blow his whistle for a free to be taken. In Football a quick free may be taken, except a free to an attacking team on the 13m line a free shall be deemed to have been taken once the ball has been struck by a player of the side awarded the free.

204 In the case of a foul on a player after his delivery of the ball, a score, if made, shall be allowed. If a score is not made the referee shall award the free from where the foul was committed or where the ball landed, in which circumstances,

(a) If the ball lands over the end-line, a free shall be given from the 20m/13m line in Hurling/Football, opposite the point where the ball crossed the end-line.

(b) If the ball lands inside the opponents 20/13m line in Hurling/Football, a free shall be given from the 20/13m line opposite the point where the ball crossed the line.

(c) If the ball crosses the side-line, a free shall be given from the point where the ball crossed the line.
205 The player who has taken a free may not play the ball again until another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or goalpost. Should a player so play the ball, the referee shall give a throw-in ball where the offence occurred.

206 The following offences shall be punished by the offender being cautioned, which shall consist of taking the player's name, and if the player repeats the offence, or commits any of the other cautionable offences the referee shall order him off.

(a) Dissenting with or challenging the authority of the match official
(b) Delaying tactics, e.g., delaying the kick/puck out, kicking or hitting the ball away when a free is awarded, not releasing the ball to the opposition for taking a free, deliberately not moving back to allow a quick free to be taken
(c) Interfering with a free taker by jumping up and down, waving hands or hurley or any other physical or verbal interference considered by the referee to be aimed at distracting the free taker. A player holding his hands or hurley upright shall not constitute an interference
(d) Deliberately advancing the ball from a point from which a free or kick-out is to be taken
(e) Interfering with the goalposts for the purpose of distracting opponents or gaining an advantage
(f) Committing persistent fouls as listed in Category C (Rule 194)
(g) The use of foul or improper language

207 In Hurling for all free pucks the ball may be struck with the hurley in either of two ways

(a) Lift the ball with the hurley at the first attempt and strike it with the hurley
(b) Strike the ball on the ground

208 (a) If a player taking a free puck fails to lift the ball at the first attempt or fails to strike it with the hurley, he must strike it on the ground without delay. Only where he delays, may a player of either side approach nearer than 20m
(b) If a player fouls a free puck by making a second attempt to lift, hop the ball on the hurley, or take the ball in the hand, the referee shall give a throw-in ball

209 If the ball is played over the endline outside the goalposts by a defending player, the opposing team shall have a free from a spot on the 45m line in Football or the 65m line in Hurling directly opposite where the ball crossed the endline.

Should the player who is taking the 45/65m free, foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be kicked or pucked from the small rectangle by the opposing team.
210 Side-Line Ball:

(a) When a player plays the ball over the side-line, it shall be a kick/puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line.

(b) If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 13m to the ball before it is actually kicked/struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.

(c) In Hurling, if a player taking a sideline puck fails to strike the ball at the first attempt, he shall not delay in making a second attempt. Only when the player delays his second attempt to strike may a player from either side approach nearer than 13m.

(d) If a player who is taking a sideline kick/puck plays the ball a second time before another player has touched it, or in Hurling attempts to lift it, there shall be a throw-in ball where the offence occurred.

211 The last player touching the ball before it crosses the boundary lines shall be considered the last person playing it.

212 For the purpose of a lead-up to a free, sideline kick/puck, or kick/puck-out, a player may go outside a sideline/endline, but shall otherwise remain within the field of play.

213 The Puck-Out in Hurling:

(a) The ball shall be pucked out from within the small rectangle after a score or wide. If the puck is taken from outside the small rectangle, the opposing team shall be awarded a 65m free opposite, to where the foul occurred.

(b) The player taking the puck shall take the ball in his hand, but should he miss his stroke, the ball may be struck from the ground or may be raised with the hurley, but not taken in the hand again before striking. Taking the ball into the hand in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in on the 20m line opposite to where the offence occurred. The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before another player touches it.

(c) All players shall be outside the 20m line until the ball has been struck except the goal-keeper and the player taking the puck, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offends he shall be penalised by a free being awarded from the 20m line opposite to where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in ball shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team.

214 The Kick Out in Football:

(a) The ball shall be kicked out from within the small rectangle after a wide, and from a spot on the 20m line in front of the scoring space after a score.
(b) The player taking the kick-out shall kick the ball from the ground, and may kick it more than once before any other player touches it, but he may not take it into his hands. Taking the ball into the hands in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in on the 20m line opposite where the offence occurred.

(c) For a kick-out from the small rectangle all players shall be outside the 20m line, until the ball has been kicked, except the goalkeeper who shall remain inside the small rectangle, and the player taking the kick, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offends, he shall be penalised by a free being awarded from the 20m line opposite where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team. For a kick-out from the 20m line no player shall stand closer than 13m until the ball is kicked and an attacking or defending player be penalised as above.

[Note In Hurling, the penalty for taking a puck-out from outside the small rectangle is a 65m free to the opposing team. The penalty in Football for taking a kick-out from outside the small rectangle is a caution. This constitutes a new rule.]

Where it exceeds the stipulated dimensions he should instruct the player to use a hurley of proper dimensions.)
the player refuses the referee should caution him and if he refuses a second time the referee should order him off)

168 Under-age

MATCH OFFICIALS

169 Control: Control of the games shall be entrusted to a referee, four umpires and two linesmen, who shall decide on the field all matters affecting play

170 Appointment of Match Officials: The Central Council, Provincial Council and County Committee shall have the absolute power to appoint the match officials for all games under their respective jurisdiction. The Council or Committee may delegate those powers to a Sub-Committee, or in the case of the appointment of umpires and linesmen to the referee.

Where a referee is unable to act, a substitute shall be appointed by the Secretary of the Committee in charge, or in the case of a referee who is unable to contact the Secretary, the referee may appoint a substitute.

Duties and Powers of Match Officials

171 Duties of Referee: The duties of a referee shall be

(a) To receive lists of players, sign them in Irish, and give a copy to the opposing team before the game

(b) To ensure that all players are correctly and safely attired, and that all playing equipment conforms with the rules

(c) To control the game in accordance with the Rules of Play

(d) To keep a record of scores, names of players ordered off or cautioned, injured and/or replaced, names of substitutes coming on to play, any instance of taking the field late or exceeding the half time interval, and the intrusion of unauthorised persons

(e) To record playing time and to extend time in each half for deliberate or incidental delay or to allow for a free, awarded before time has expired, to be retaken. Should the defending team commit a further foul before the referee whistles for full-time, he shall further extend the time to permit an additional free to be taken, from which a score can be made, provided no other player of the same side touches the ball

(f) To obtain, if requested by the captain or responsible official, the signature, full address, and Club of any player participating in the game
(g) To report any irregularities in respect of dimensions, markings, or unsatisfactory condition of field of play

172 Report of Referee: The referee shall forward his report within a period of seven days of the game, to the Committee or Council in charge, together with one copy of each team list. The report shall include the names of umpires and linesmen, result of the game, time each team took the field, and the game commenced, if interval exceeded, reason to be stated, names of substitutes taking part and players replaced, names of players injured, cautioned, or ordered off (stating exact reason therefor), names of officials or spectators who interfered during the course of the game and any other breaches of the regulations.

(a) Declare ground or other conditions unsuitable for play, after consulting, where feasible, with officials in charge of the fixture
(b) Over-rule a decision of a linesman
(c) Terminate a game because of persistent outside interference, or any other serious reason that merits such action
(d) Terminate a game, having first given a three minute warning to the team captain or official in charge of the team or the player(s) involved, in any of the following circumstances -
   (i) A player refusing to leave when ordered off, or having been ordered off again joining the game
   (ii) A team or player(s) leaving the field without the referee’s permission, or refusing to continue. In the latter case any member of the team who is willing to continue shall give his name to the referee.

174 Umpires: There shall be two goal umpires at each end of the field of play, who shall stand outside each goalpost and behind the endline. They shall remain at the same end for the duration of the game. They shall decide if a score is made or if the ball has gone over the endline for a wide or a 45m/65m free. If the decision is solely that the ball has crossed over the goal-line or crossbar, their agreed decision is final, with the referee deciding only where the umpires disagree. If a score is made and there is an issue concerning the illegal entry of an attacking player into the small rectangle before the ball enters it during play, the agreed decision of the umpires may be over-ruled by the referee.

The Umpires shall signal their decision as follows:

(a) A 45m/65m free in football/hurling by first raising an arm upright and then pointing directly infield at the spot where the ball, last played or touched by a defending player, passed over the endline

(b) A wide, by crossing both arms above the head

(d) A decision to disallowed score, by crossing the flags at the centre of the scoring space

175 Linesmen: The two linesmen shall take position on opposite sidelines and shall indicate by flag signal when the ball crosses the sideline, and which side is entitled to sideline kick/puck. A player on the team awarded the sideline kick/puck shall place the ball on the line at the spot indicated by the linesman. Where the ball is played across a sideline by opposing players simultaneously, the linesman, facing the players, shall throw in the ball. The linesmen shall change sides at half-time, but failure to change shall not affect the result of the game.

176 Consultation: The referee may consult with the umpires and/or linesmen concerning infringements of Playing Rules, in particular rough or dangerous play and deliberate striking, hitting, or kicking. The umpires and linesmen, where neutral, shall have power during a stoppage to bring to the notice of the referee any instances of foul play, or incursions on to the field of play which have gone un-noticed by the referee. The referee may apply the appropriate rule following such consultations.

177 Decision of Referee: The referee's decision on any question of fact and in regard to time shall be final.

178 Once the referee has given a decision and has sounded his whistle to indicate this he shall not alter the decision.

Teams and Substitutes

179 Teams shall consist of 15 players. A team may commence a game with 13 players, but shall have fielded 15 players, inclusive of players ordered off or retired injured, by the start of the second half. In the event of this not being complied with, the game shall continue, but it shall be awarded to the opposing side. Late arrivals may join in the game during a cessation of play, but must report to the referee before so doing.

A County Committee may reduce the number of players in a team for non-Championship competitions.

180 (a) A maximum of three substitutions shall be allowed. A substitution is not allowed in the case of a player ordered off.
(b) In Inter-county games all substitutions must be from players on the official list furnished to the referee.

(c) A substitution may only be made during a stoppage in play, and after the player has given a substitution note to the referee.

Penalty for (a) and (b) Forfeit of game to its opponents.

181. List of Players:
Before all official games the referee shall be given a list, in duplicate and in Irish, of players, giving full Christian names.
In Intercounty games the list of players shall be numbered from 1 to 21 and shall also name the Clubs to which players belong.
Unless otherwise clearly indicated, the first 15 names appearing on a list shall be taken as constituting the actual team.

Penalty for failing to furnish lists as specified, or the inclusion of a player whose name has not been supplied to the referee - forfeit of game.
(In Intercounty games the list of players, giving full Christian names and the names of clubs to which players belong, must be numbered 1 to 21. Any substitution made must be from the list. You will note that the penalty for breaches, which should be reported, is forfeiture of game. Players should be numbered in accordance with the official programme - an exception will be made only in the case of valid withdrawal and such withdrawal should be notified in advance to the committee in charge of the fixture.)

182. Taking the Field: A team shall take the field not later than 10 minutes before the appointed starting time for Senior InterCounty Championships, National League Finals, Railway Cup Finals, All-Ireland, Provincial and County Senior Championship Finals, and not later than five minutes before the appointed starting time in all other games.

(b) Two players from each team, one behind the other and standing in their own defensive side of the half-way line shall face the referee for the throw-in The other players must be in their respective positions behind the 45m line (Football) and 65m line (Hurling)

(c) The referee, facing the players, shall throw in the ball over the heads of the players (Football), and along the ground between the players (Hurling)

(d) Regulations (b) and (c) above shall also apply for the commencement of the second period

185 Duration of Play: The playing time shall consist of two periods of 30 minutes each, except in Senior Inter County Championship games when these periods shall be of thirty five minutes each. Time shall be added on in each period for incidental or deliberate delays.

The playing time may be reduced by local Bye-Law for under 15 or younger grades.

Interval: An interval not exceeding ten minutes shall be allowed at half-time, following which the teams shall change ends.

Penalty A team responsible for the 10 minute interval being exceeded shall be penalised as follows: County or Provincial - £20 per minute or part thereof, Club
- £5 per minute or part thereof. A team responsible for the interval exceeding 15 minutes shall forfeit the game.

(The referee must report breaches to the committee in charge of the fixture.)

186 Extra time: If a game in a knock-out competition ends in a draw, teams may, by consent, play extra time, consisting of two periods of fifteen minutes each way, which extra time shall be obligatory in the case of a further draw in a replay.
For extra time as a consequence of a draw, a toss for choice of ends shall be made. Three substitutions shall be allowed during this period, and a player ordered off during normal time may be replaced. In Inter-county games players shall be from the lists submitted prior to the game.

Play shall commence not more than ten minutes after the end of normal time. A team or teams failing to field for such extra time within the specified ten minutes, shall be ruled out of the competition.

Extra time shall be obligatory in the Inter-provincial, Oireachtas and other Intercounty Tournaments, the Sigerson/Fitzgibbon Cups and any other games in subsidiary competitions as determined by the Central Council.

(In Intercounty games no addition may be made to the 1 to 21 list of players given to the referee before the game (Central Council Ruling August 1986).)
Scores: A goal is scored when the ball is played by either team between the goalposts and under the crossbar. A point is scored when the ball is played by either team between the goalposts and over the crossbar. The ball shall not be thrown or carried over the goal-line by an attacking player. In Football, a score may not be made by an attacking player in possession fisting or handpassing the ball, but a score may be made by a player striking the ball in flight with the fist or open hand.

If a defending player plays the ball in any manner through his own scoring space, this shall count as a score.

In the event of a goalpost or crossbar being broken or displaced and the ball crossing the scoring space, the referee shall award the score which he considers appropriate.

The game shall be decided by the greater number of points, a goal being equal to three points.

Injuries and Incursions: The referee may give his expressed permission to a team medical officer or one authorised official to enter the field of play to examine an injured player. Treatment shall be given on the sideline.

Play shall not be stopped for injury to a player, except in exceptional circumstances to enable a seriously injured player to be removed from the field of play. No other team official shall enter the field of play.

Penalty for unauthorised entry - One month.

Nobody may go on to the field of play to treat an injured player without the prior permission of the referee. Though play is continuing, the referee may signal to the designated person to attend the injured player and remove him to the sideline for treatment. For a stoppage in play, the referee must judge the player to be seriously injured and insist on his removal to the sideline for treatment. No injured player may be treated on the field of play.

BALL IN PLAY
HURLING AND FOOTBALL

General:

The ball is in play until the whole ball has crossed over a goal-line, endline or sideline.

(a) If the ball strikes the referee, a throw-in ball shall be given at the spot concerned, but, if it strikes him from a free, the free shall be retaken.

(b) If the ball strikes any non-player other than the referee, a throw-in ball shall be given at the spot concerned.
If it strikes him from a free, the free shall be retaken, but if in the opinion of the referee the ball has been impeded from crossing a sideline or goal-line, he shall make the appropriate award.

(c) A throw-in ball in these rules shall involve throwing in the ball between one player of each team, up over the heads in Football, and along the ground in Hurling. It shall be given on the 13m line when the incident occurs inside the 13m line.

191 The Ball in Play - Hurling:
(a) The ball may be struck with the hurley when it is on the ground, in the air, tossed from the hand, or lifted with the hurley.
(b) A player may run with the ball balanced on or hopping on his hurley.
(c) A player may catch the ball, play it on to his hurley and bring it back into his hand once. A player who has not caught the ball may play it from the hurley into his hand twice. Throwing up the ball and catching it without playing it with the hurley is not allowed.
(d) The ball may be struck with the hand, kicked or lifted off the ground with the feet.

192 The Ball in Play - Football:
(a) The ball may be caught in flight or raised with the foot into the hands off the ground.
(b) The ball may be kicked on the ground or in flight.
(c) When in flight or when caught, the ball may be struck with the open hand or fist.
(d) The ball may be changed from hand to hand once, with the original holding hand maintaining contact until the change is completed.
(e) The ball, when caught, may be hopped once against the ground with one or both hands.
(f) The ball may be played from foot to hand any number of times, and after any such play the ball may be hopped once against the ground by hand.
(g) The ball may be knocked from an opponent's hands by flicking it with the open hand.

[Section (c) states that the ball may be struck with the open hand or fist but there must...] be a visible striking action and no propulsion from the holding hand. The one-hand/fisted pass is not permitted (Central Council Ruling May 1986). As a rule of thumb, at the end of a properly executed hand-pass the striking hand should extend beyond the holding hand.

—428—

193 Ball Out of Play:
(a) The ball is out of play when it passes outside the boundary lines of the field of play.
(b) If the ball strikes a sideline or corner flag and comes back, it shall be deemed out of play and the appropriate award shall be made.

194 Category A Fouls: The following fouls shall be penalised by,
(1) A free being awarded to the opposing team.
(2) The offender being ordered off the field without caution.

(c) Striking, attempting to strike, interfering with, threatening, or using abusive language or conduct to a match official.

195 Category B Fouls: The following fouls shall be penalised by,

(d) Careless use of the hurley.
(e) Throwing a hurley
[Throwing a hurley here means throwing a hurley at a player. Throwing a hurley at the ball which clearly involves no danger to a player is a Category D foul. Consequently throwing a hurley by a goalkeeper or a defender at the ball within the large rectangle is penalised by a 20m free (Central Council Ruling May 1988)]

(f) Pulling with the hurley before the ball arrives

Applicable to Football

(g) Blocking or attempting to block with the boot when an opponent is in the act of kicking the ball with the hands

   (2) When a point is scored from outside the small rectangle and the ball is sufficiently high to be out of reach of defence and attack, the score shall be allowed, even though an attacking player may have been within the small rectangle before the ball, provided that the player in question does not interfere with the defence.

Fouls within Rectangles:

In the case of fouls by a defending player within the rectangles, the following shall apply:

In Hurling: A penalty shall be awarded for a Category A, B or C foul within the large rectangle.

The penalty shall be taken from the centre point of the 20m line and only 3 defending players may stand on the goal-line. All other players, with the exception of the player taking the puck, must be outside the 20m line, be 20m from the ball, and shall not cross the 20m line until the ball has been struck.

A free from the centre of the 20m line shall be awarded for a Category D foul within the large rectangle.

In Football: A penalty shall be awarded for a Category A, B or C foul within the large rectangle, or any foul within the small rectangle.

The penalty shall be taken from the centre point of the 13m line and all players, with the exception of the defending goalkeeper and the player taking the kick, shall be outside the 20m line and 13m from the ball.

No player shall cross the 20m line until the ball has been kicked. The goalkeeper may move along his line but not advance from the goal-line, until the ball has been kicked. If the goalkeeper moves forward before the ball is kicked and a goal does not result, the referee shall allow the kick to be retaken.

A free from the centre of the 13m line shall be awarded for a Category D foul outside the small rectangle, but within the large rectangle.

FREES - General

Except as provided hereunder at (a) and (b), a free shall be awarded for all breaches of the Playing Rules, which the referee shall indicate by blowing his whistle.

(a) If a foul occurs, the referee may allow play to continue if he considers this to be to the advantage of the offended team, but once the referee allows the play to continue he may not subsequently award a free for that foul. He shall apply such disciplinary action as is warranted against the offender.

(b) If a player from each team fouls at the same time, the referee shall award a throw-in ball where the fouls occurred.

[The referee should blow the whistle and award a free unless there is a clear advantage to the offended player]
Whether the advantage rule is applied or not, the offending player must be booked for a cautionable offence or sent off for a sending off offence. As a rule of thumb, the advantage rule should never be applied in circumstances that would lessen the control of the referee.

201 If a foul is committed by a defending player within the 13m/20m line in Football/Hurling, but outside the large rectangle, a free shall be given on the 13m/20m line in Football/Hurling opposite where the foul occurred.

202 If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 13m/20m in Football/Hurling to the ball before it is actually kicked/struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.

203 Retaliation
   If a player on the team awarded a free fouls an opponent in retaliation before the free has been taken, the free awarded shall be disallowed and play restarted by a throw-in ball where the original foul occurred.

204 Dissent
   If a player shows dissent with the referee’s decision to award a free to the opposing team, the free shall be taken from a spot 10m more advantageous to the opposing team.

205 Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or by a player of the team awarded the free at the spot indicated by the referee, and the whistle has been blown for the free to be taken, it may not be replaced except with the permission of the referee. If the ball is replaced, without such permission, the referee shall disallow the free, and there shall be a throw-in from where the free was to have been taken.

206 A free shall be from the spot indicated by the referee. The referee shall blow his whistle for a free to be taken. In Football a quick free may be taken, except a free awarded to an attacking team for a foul inside the 13m line. A free shall be deemed to have been taken once the ball has been kicked/struck by a player of the side awarded the free.

207 In the case of a foul on a player after his playing the ball, the referee shall award a free where the foul was committed or where the ball landed, or if a score is made, the score shall be allowed. In the specified circumstances the rule shall apply as follows:

(a) If the ball lands over the endline, a free shall be given from the 13m/20m line in the Football/Hurling opposite the point where the ball crossed the endline.

(b) If the ball lands inside the opponents 13m/20m line in Football/Hurling, a free shall be given from the 13m/20m line opposite the point where the ball crossed the line

(c) If the ball crosses the side-line, a free shall be given from the point where the ball crossed the line

208 The player who has taken a free may not play the ball again until another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or goalpost. Should a player so play the ball the referee shall give a throw-in ball where the offence occurred.

FREE-TAKING - HURLING

209 In Hurling for all free pucks the ball may be struck with the hurley in either of two ways

(a) Lift the ball with the hurley at the first attempt and strike it with the hurley
(b) Strike the ball on the ground

210 (a) If a player taking a free puck fails to lift the ball at the first attempt or fails to strike it with the hurley, he must strike it on the ground without delay. Only where he delays may a player of either side approach nearer than 20m.
(b) If a player fouls a free puck by making a second attempt to lift, hop the ball on the hurley, or take the ball in the hand, the referee shall give a throw-in ball.

211 45m./65m. Frees:
If the ball is played over the endline outside the goalposts by a defending player, the opposing team shall have a free from a spot on the 45m line in Football or the 65m line in Hurling directly opposite where the ball crossed the endline.

Should the player who is taking the 45m/65m free, foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be kicked or pucked from the small rectangle by the opposing team.

212 Sideline Ball:
(a) When a player plays the ball over the sideline, it shall be a kick/puck on the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line.
(b) If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 13m to the ball before it is actually kicked/struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.
(c) In Hurling, if a player taking a sideline puck fails to strike the ball at the first attempt, he shall not delay in making a second attempt. Only when the player delays his second attempt to strike may a player from either side approach nearer than 13m.
(d) If a player taking a sideline kick/puck plays the ball a second time before another player has touched it, or in Hurling attempts to lift it, there shall be a throw-in ball where the offence occurred

213 Definition:
The last player touching the ball before it crosses the boundary lines shall be considered the last person playing it

214 Field of Play:
For the purpose of a lead-up to a free, sideline kick/puck, or kick-out/puck-out, a player may go outside a sideline/endline, but shall otherwise remain within the field of play

215 The Puck-Out in Hurling:
(a) After a score or a wide, the ball shall be pucked out from within the small rectangle. If the puck-out is taken from outside the small rectangle, the opposing team shall be awarded a 65m free opposite to where the foul occurred.

(b) The player taking the puck-out shall take the ball in his hand, but should he miss his stroke, the ball may be struck from the ground or may be raised with the hurley, but not taken in the hand again before striking. Taking the ball into the hand in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in ball on the 20m line opposite to where the offence occurred. The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before another player touches it.

(c) All players shall be outside the 20m line until the ball has been struck except the goal-keeper and the player taking the puck-out, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offends he shall be penalised by a free being awarded from the 20m line opposite to where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in ball shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team.

216 The Kick-Out in Football:
(a) The ball shall be kicked out from within the small rectangle after a wide, and from a spot on the 20m line in front of the scoring space after a score.

(b) The player taking the kick-out shall kick the ball from the ground, and may kick it more than once before any other player touches it, but he may not take it into his hands. Taking the ball into the hands in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in on the 20m line opposite where the offence occurred.

(c) For a kick-out from the small rectangle all players shall be outside the 20m line, until the ball has been kicked, except the goalkeeper who shall remain...
inside the small rectangle, and the player taking the kick, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offends, he shall be penalised by a free being awarded from the 20m line opposite to where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in shall be awarded on the 20 m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team. For a kick-out from the 20m line no player shall stand closer than 13m until the ball is kicked and an attacking or defending player shall be penalised as above.

[In Hurling the penalty for a puckout taken outside the small rectangle is a 65m free to the opposing team but the penalty in Football for taking a kickout outside the small rectangle is not the awarding of a free to the opposing team but the offending player should be cautioned]

(e) To record playing time and to extend time in each half for deliberate or incidental delay or to allow for a free, awarded before time has expired, to be taken. The umpires and linesmen, where neutral, shall have power during a stoppage, to bring to the notice of the referee any instances of foul play, or incursions on to the field of play which have gone unnoticed by the referee. 181 Extra time:
If a game in a knock-out competition ends in a draw, teams may, by consent, play extra time, consisting of two periods of fifteen minutes each way, which extra time shall be obligatory in the case of a further draw in a replay.

For extra time as a consequence of a draw, a toss for choice of ends shall be made. Three substitutions shall be allowed during this period, and a player ordered off during normal time may be replaced. In Intercounty games players shall be from the lists submitted prior to the game.

Play shall commence not more than ten minutes after the end of normal time. A team or teams failing to field for such extra time within the specified ten minutes shall be ruled out of the competition.

He shall apply such disciplinary action as is warranted against the offender.

(b) If a player from each team fouls at the same time, the referee shall award a throw-in ball where the fouls occurred.

OTHER MATCH OFFICIALS

5. Umpires:
There shall be two goal umpires at each end of the field of play, who shall decide if a score is made or if the ball has gone over the endline for a wide or a 45m free. If the decision is solely that the ball has crossed over the goal-line or crossbar, their agreed decision is final, with the referee deciding only where the umpires disagree. If a score is made and there is an issue concerning the illegal entry of an attacking player into the small rectangle before the ball enters it during play, the agreed decision of the umpires may be over-ruled by the referee

6 Linesmen:
There shall be two linesmen who shall indicate by flag signal when the ball crosses the sideline and which side is entitled to sideline puck. A player on the team awarded the sideline puck shall place the ball on the line at the spot.
indicated by the linesman. Where the ball is played across a sideline by opposing players simultaneously, the linesman, facing the players, shall throw in the ball

7 Consultation:
The referee may consult with the umpires and/or linesmen for infringements of Playing Rules, in particular rough or dangerous play and deliberate striking, hitting or kicking. The umpires and linesmen, where neutral, shall have power during a stoppage to bring to the notice of the referee any instances of foul play or incursions on to the field of play which have gone unnoticed by the referee.
The referee may apply the appropriate rule following such consultations.

8 Taking the Field:
A team shall take the field not later than 10 minutes before the appointed starting time for Senior Inter-County Championship, National League Finals, Railway Cup Finals, All-Ireland, Provincial and County Senior Championship Finals, and not later than five minutes before the appointed starting time in all games.
Penalty: A team taking the field late County or Provincial - £20, Club - £5 for every five minutes or part thereof. A team taking the field more than 15 minutes after the appointed starting time shall be liable for forfeiture of game, in which case the game shall be awarded to the opposing team.

the referee for the throw-in with the other players in their respective positions behind the 45m line.

12 Duration of Play.
Two periods of thirty minutes each (thirty five minutes in Senior Inter-County Championships). Time shall be added on in each period for incidental or deliberate delay. Interval shall not exceed ten minutes. In a draw in a replay, extra time of two periods of fifteen minutes is obligatory.

13 Scores:
A goal is scored when the ball is played by either team between the goalposts and under the crossbar. A point is scored when the ball is played by either team between the uprights and over the crossbar. A score may not be made by an attacking player throwing or carrying the ball over the goal-line. A goal equals three points.
Injuries and Incursions:
The referee may give his expressed permission to a team medical officer or one authorised official to enter the field of play to examine an injured player. Treatment shall be given on the sideline. Play shall not be stopped for injury to a player, save in exceptional circumstances to enable a seriously injured player to be removed from the field of play. No other team official shall enter the field of play.

The ball is in play until the whole ball has crossed over a goal-line, end-line or side-line.

(a) If the ball strikes the referee or other non-player, a throw-in ball shall be given at the spot concerned, but if it strikes him from a free, the free shall be retaken. If in the opinion of the referee the ball has been impeded from crossing a sideline or goal-line by a non-player other than himself, he shall make the appropriate award.

(b) A throw-in ball shall involve throwing in the ball between one player of each team along the ground. It shall be given on the 13m line when the incident occurs within the 13m line.

(ii) When a point is scored from outside the small rectangle, and the ball is sufficiently high to be out of reach of the defence and attack, the score shall be allowed, even though an attacking player may be within the small rectangle before the ball, provided that the player in question does not interfere with the defence.

FREES - GENERAL

25 Except as provided hereunder at (a) and (b), a free shall be awarded for all breaches of the Playing Rules, which the referee shall indicate by blowing his whistle

(a) If a foul occurs, the referee may allow play to continue if he considers this to be to the advantage of the offended team, but once the referee allows the play to continue he may not subsequently award a free for that foul. He shall apply such disciplinary action as is warranted against the offender.

(b) If a player from each team fouls at the same time, the referee shall award a throw-in ball where the fouls occurred.

26 If a foul is committed by a defending player within the 20m line, but outside the large rectangle, a free shall be given on the 20m line opposite where the foul occurred.

27 If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 20m to the ball before it is actually struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.

28 Retaliation:
If a player on the team awarded a free fouls an opponent in retaliation before the free has been taken, the free awarded shall be disallowed and play restarted by a throw-in ball where the original foul occurred.

29 Dissent:
If a player shows dissent with the referee's decision to award a free to the opposing team, the free shall be taken from a spot 10m more advantageous to the opposing team.

30 Once the ball has been placed for a free by the referee, or by a player of the team awarded the free at the spot indicated by the referee, and the whistle has been blown for the free to be taken, it may not be replaced except with the permission of the referee. If the ball is placed, without such permission, the referee shall disallow the free, and there shall be a throw-in from where the free was to have been taken.

31 A free shall be from the spot indicated by the referee. The referee shall blow his whistle for a free to be taken. A free shall be deemed to have been taken once the ball has been struck by a player of the side awarded the free.

32 In the case of a foul on a player after his playing the ball, the referee shall award a free where the foul was committed or where the ball landed, or, if a score is made, the score shall be allowed. In the specified circumstances the rule shall apply as follows:

(a) If the ball lands over the end-line, a free shall be given from the 20m line, opposite the point where the ball crossed the end-line.

(b) If the ball lands inside the opponents 20m line, a free shall be given from the 20m line opposite the point where the ball crossed the line.

(c) If the ball crosses the sideline, a free shall be given from the point where the ball crossed the line.

33 The player who has taken a free may not play the ball again until another player has touched it, except where the ball rebounds off a crossbar or goalpost. Should a player so play the ball the referee shall give a throw-in where the offence occurred.

FREE TAKING

34 For all free pucks the ball may be struck with the hurley in either of two ways:

(a) Lift the ball with the hurley at the first attempt and strike it with the hurley.

(b) Strike the ball on the ground.

35 (a) If a player taking a free puck fails to lift the ball at the first attempt or fails to strike it with the hurley, he must strike it on the ground without delay. Only where he delays may a player of either side approach nearer than 20m.

(b) If a player fouls a free puck by making a second attempt to lift, hop the ball on the hurley, or take the ball in the hand, the referee shall give a throw-in ball.

36 65m. Free:

If the ball is played over the endline outside the goalposts by a defending player, the opposing team shall have a free from a spot on the 65m line directly opposite where the ball crossed the endline. Should the player who is taking the 65m free, foul the ball before any other player plays it, the ball shall be pucked from the small rectangle by the opposing team.

37 Side-Line Ball.

(a) When a player plays the ball over the sideline, it shall be a puck from the ground to the opposing team at the point where the ball crossed the line.

(b) If a player from either side stands or moves nearer than 20m to the ball before it is actually struck, the opposing team shall be awarded a free from where the foul occurred.

(c) If a player taking a sideline puck fails to strike the ball at the first attempt, he shall not delay in making a second attempt. Only when the player delays his second attempt to strike may a player from either side approach nearer than 13m.

(d) If a player who is taking a sideline puck plays the ball a second time before another player has touched it, or attempts to lift it, there shall be a throw-in ball where the offence occurred.
Definition:
The last player touching the ball before it crosses the boundary lines shall be considered the last person playing it.

Field of Play:
For the purpose of a lead-up to a free, sideline puck, or puck-out, a player may go outside the sideline/endline, but shall otherwise remain within the field of play.

The Puck-Out:
(a) After a score or a wide the ball shall be pucked out from within the small rectangle. If the puck is taken from outside the small rectangle, the opposing team shall be awarded a 65m free opposite, to where the foul occurred.
(b) The player taking the puck shall take the ball in his hand, but should he miss his stroke, the ball may be struck from the ground or may be raised with the hurley, but not taken in the hand again before striking. Taking the ball into the hand in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in on the 20m line opposite to where the offence occurred. The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before another player touches it.
(c) All players shall be outside the 20m line until the ball has been struck except the goalkeeper and the player taking the puck, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offends he shall be penalised by a free being awarded the 20m line opposite to where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in ball shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite to where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team.

miss his stroke, the ball may be struck from the ground or may be raised with the hurley, but not taken in the hand again before striking. Taking the ball into the hand in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in ball on the 20m line opposite to where the offence occurred. The player taking the puck-out may strike the ball more than once before another player touches it.

(c) All players shall be outside the 20m line until the ball has been struck except the goal-keeper and the player taking the puck-out, if other than the goalkeeper. If an attacking player offend he shall be penalised by a free being awarded from the 20m line opposite to where he stood. If a defending player offends, a throw-in ball shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team.

(b) The player taking the kick-out shall kick the ball from the ground, and may kick it more than once before any other player touches it, but he may not take it into his hands. Taking the ball into the hands in this circumstance shall be penalised by a throw-in on the 20m line opposite where the offence occurred.

(c) For a kick-out from the small rectangle all players shall be outside the 20m line, until the ball has been kicked, except the goalkeeper who shall remain inside the small rectangle, and the player taking the kick, if other than the goalkeeper. If a defending player offends, a throw-in shall be awarded on the 20m line opposite where he stood. The ball shall travel 13m before being played by another player of the defending team. 29 When the team plays the ball over the side-line, a free kick from the hand(s) shall be awarded to the opposing team from the place where the ball crossed the side-line. If opposing players play the ball simultaneously over the side-line, or if the officials are not sure which team played the ball last, the linesman shall throw in the ball between one player from each team. A ball that strikes a side-line or corner flag shall be treated as having crossed the side-line. All players except the player taking the side-line kick, or the two players contesting the throw-in, shall be at least 13m from the ball until it is kicked or thrown in.

EXPERIMENTAL RULES

FOOTBALL

At its 4 meetings to date, a considerable amount of time has been spent on finalising Experimental Rule Changes which it is proposed should be implemented in the McKenna Cup (Ulster) FBD Connacht League, O Byrne Cup (Leinster) and the McGrath Cup (Munster). These experimental changes include

- Any player who pushes, pulls or holds an opponent to be cautioned/booked
- Players to be restricted to one toe-tap and one bounce in the course of a solo-run
- A player who catches the ball overhead, direct from a kickout, to be permitted to take a mark or to play on. A player who opts to take a mark to retreat four steps before playing the ball
- Players to be permitted to play the ball away with the hand by using the fist only
- Players to be permitted to lift the ball off the ground with the hand/s provided they are not in a kneeling, lying, sitting or sliding position
- Two referees to officiate at the experimental games in 2 of the 4 provinces
- Team panels to comprise of a maximum of 24 players and teams to be permitted to use 5 substitutes. All substitutions to be made during a stoppage in play, supervised by a neutral linesman, and no substitute to enter the field of play until the player who is being replaced has left the field of play at the specified substitution area - half way line
- A "Runner" will be used in these games

(On 30 August, 1997, it was announced on RTE's SPORTS STADIUM by a member of the Games Administration Committee, Brian McEniff, that A Runner will be used in these games
This change of playing rule was not discussed or sanctioned by Central Council at its meeting on 23 August, 1997)

[According to the Match Programme for 1973, ‘Previous Internationals were played at the TAILTEANN GAMES in 1924 and 1932, both in Dublin.]
RULES

The pitch played on will be 160 yards by 84 yards. The usual 12 feet wide, 10 feet high shinty goals will be increased to 18 feet wide and each post extended 8 feet above the crossbar.

The hurley scoring system of a goal for a ball passing between the lower posts and a point for one between the upper will be followed. The start of play will be a throw-up as in shinty.

There will be no corners, instead a defender's ball over his own byeline will be penalised by a 45 yards free hit in front of goal to the opposing side.

As in shinty there will be no handling of the ball, but the keeper will be allowed to catch it.

The penalty area will be 22 yards by 10 yards and for an offence inside by a defender, a 21 yard free shot will be given with the goal-keeper and three defenders between ball and goal, and all these four players allowed to handle the ball as in hurling.

For a side-line hit the ball cannot be lifted with the stick. For free hits the ball may be so "lifted". After a bye or a point score, the ball is to be hit out from the penalty area and the goal-keeper may strike from hand.

The number of players is 14, the choice of camán or hurley stick is free. Fouls are as in shinty and for infringement within the 21 yard area a free hit is granted on the 21-yard line directly opposite the point of infringement.

The ball may be stopped on the ground with the foot, but must not be kicked. The total duration of play is to be 80 minutes and three substitutes will be allowed for injury as in hurling.

HURLING-SHINTY

PROGRAMME FOR INTERNATIONAL MATCH, CROKE PARK, 1973

COMPROMISE PLAYING RULES

(1) The goalkeeper is the only player entitled to catch the ball and at no other time may a player catch the ball unless he stands with the goalkeeper to save a penalty shot. This is a compromise made by this Association with the Shinty people.

(2) A player may not kick the ball - he may, of course, stop the ball with his feet but to kick the ball after a missed pick-up or otherwise is deemed a foul.

(3) He may raise the ball with the hurley and strike but he may not pass the ball with his hand.

(4) The parallelogram is roughly twice the size of our regulation one and entry to this before the ball is penalised.

(5) Bodily contact is at a minimum and as the game of shinty is not played as robustly as hurling, a shoulder to shoulder charge is permitted, but the jostle which is part of our technique will not be favoured by the Scottish referee.

Other than the limitations set out the Irish players can play their natural game. They will have an advantage in so far that they can control the ball on the hurley as the shinty stick is not made for such control. Shinty gains on ground strokes because of the wedge type boss of the shinty stick.

The compromise rules are set out hereunder:

1. GOAL: Width - 10 feet, Height - 10 feet, posts to extend at least 10 feet above crossbar for points.
2. BALL: Weight - 3 to 4 ozs, Size - 8 inches to 9 inches circumference.
3. GROUND: Length - 160 yards, Breadth - 84 yards.
4. START OF PLAY: Throw the ball up as in shinty.
5. CORNERS: Abolished.

9. OFFENCE INSIDE PENALTY AREA BY DEFENDER: 21 yards free shot with goalkeeper and three other defenders between ball and goal - All four may catch the ball. Striker may strike off the ground or lift the ball and strike without catching - Other players 5 yards behind striker.
10. SIDE-LINE HIT: Side-line ball shall not be lifted with stick. Other frees may be lifted with stick. In all frees players other than striker must be 10 (ten) yards distant.
ORDINARY BYES: Hit from penalty area
AFTER A GOAL: Resume as for Start of Play
AFTER A POINT: Hit from penalty area
NUMBER OF PLAYERS: Fourteen
MARKINGS: Penalty spot, 45 yards line, Centre (5 yards circle)
STICKS: No specification

In The first Booke of The Survey of Cornwall written by Richard Carew in 1602, he describes two forms of Hurling played in Cornwall and Devon in the 16th and at the start of the 17th century. One of these forms of hurling was known as HURLING TO GOALES and was played on a field about 200 to 240 yards long with the goals at either end which were 8 to 10 feet apart. The other form of Hurling was HURLING TO THE COUNTRIE in which game two, three or more Parishes of the East or the South quarter would hurl against as many other Parishes of the West and North.

The following playing rules and laws of these games have been extracted from Carew’s descriptions of them. I have retained as much of the original text as possible to facilitate an easy reading, and have used modern terms to describe what was obviously intended in the original text. In addition, the relevant pages from Carew’s book are reproduced as closely as possible to the original following this interpretation.

HURLING

Hurling gets its name from throwing the ball, and is of two sorts. In the East parts of Cornwall, to goales, and in the West, to the countrey.

HURLING TO GOALES

For hurling to goales, there are 15, 20 or 30 players more or less chosen out of each side, who strip themselves to their underwear and then join hands in rank one against another. Out of these ranks they match themselves in pairs, one embracing another, & so pass away. Each one in each couple is specially to watch an other during the play.

After this, they pitch two bushes in the ground, some eight or ten feet apart, and directly against them 200 or 240 yards away another pair of bushes the same distance apart which they call their Goales. One of these is selected by lots to the one side, and the other to the opponents.

To guard the goals, a couple of the best stopping hurlers are assigned, the rest of the players draw into the middle between the goals where some indifferent person...
[neutral] throws up the ball, and whosoever can catch, and carry through his adversary’s goale have won the game. But therein consists a Herculean Task. For he that is once possessed of the ball, has his contrary mates [opposite number] waiting at inches and trying to lay hold of him. The player in possession thrusts his opponent in the chest with closed fist to keep him off— which they call Butting. A well delivered Butt is a symbol of manhood.

If he escapes the first, another takes him in hand and so a third, and he is not left, until having met (as they Frenchman says) chausseur a son pied, he either touch the ground with some part of his body, in wrestling or cry, Hold, which is the word for yeelding. Then he must cast the ball (named Dealing) to some one of his fellows who catching it in his hand, makes off with it, and if his hap [hop] or agility be so good as to shake off or outrun his counter-wayters [opponents], at the goale, he finds one or two fresh men ready to receive and keep him off. It is therefore a very uneven match or extraordinary accident that allows many goales. The best reputation is won by the side which gives most falls in the hurling, keeps the ball longest, and presses his opponent nearest to his own goales.

Sometimes one chosen player on each party casts the ball [i.e. after calling “Hold” a free throw is given and is taken by a selected player].

LAWS OF HURLING

The hurlers are bound to the observation of many laws such as—

— They must hurl man to man
— Two are not to set against one man at once — The Hurler against the ball [the tackler] must not butt [strike his opponent in the chest with the fist], nor hand-fast under the girdle
— The player in possession may only butt in the other’s chest
— He must deale [pass] no Fore-ball, viz he must not throw it to any of his mates standing nearer the goale than himself [Forward pass not allowed]
— Lastly in dealing [passing] the ball, if any of the other party [opponents] can catch it flying between, or before the other have it fast [caught], he hereby winneth the same to his own side, which straighthway becomes an attacker [rather than defender], as the other assailant [attacker] becomes a defender.

The least breach of these laws, the Hurlers take for a just cause of going together by the ears [boxing?], but with their fists only, neither does any among them seek revenge for such wrongs or hurts, but at the like play again.

These hurling matches are mostly used at weddings, where commonly the ghests [guests] undertake to encounter all comers [The guests versus the rest].

HURLING TO THE COUNTRIE

Hurling to the Countrey, is more diffuse and confused, as bound to few of these orders [Rules].

Some two or more Gentlemen usually make this match, appointing that on such a Holy Day, they will bring to such an indifferent place [neutral venue], two, three or more Parishes of the East or South quarter, to hurl against as many other [Parishes] of the West or North.

Their goales are either those gentlemen’s houses, or some towns or villages three. or four miles assunder, which either side chooses, depending on which is the nearest to their dwellings.

When they meet, there is neither comparing of numbers, or matching of men.

A silver ball is cast up, and that company which can catch, and carry it by force or slight [craft or skill] to their place assigned, gaineth the ball and victory.

Whosoever grabs the ball, finds himself generally pursued by the adverse party, neither will they leave till (without all respects) he has been laid flat on God's deare earth which fall once received, disableth him from any longer detaining the ball [when brought down he must play the ball away]. He therefore throws the ball—(with like hazard [risk] of it being intercepted—as in other hurling)—to someone of his fellows furtherest away from him, who makes off with the ball in like manner. Those who see where the ball is played advise their team mates by crying Ware East, Ware West, etc. as the same [the ball] is carried.

The Hurlers take their next way over hilles, dales, hedges, ditches, ye and through bushes, briars, mires, plashes and rivers whatsoever so you shall sometimes see 20 or 30 lie tugging together in the water, scrambling and scratching for the ball. A play (verily) both rude & rough, and yet such as is not destitute of policies [without plans] in some sort resembling the feats of war, for you shall have companies laid out before on the one side to encounter them that come with the ball, and the other party to succor them [help] in manner of a fore-ward.

Again other troops lie hovering on the sides, like wings to help or stop their escape and where the ball itself goes, it resembles the joining of two main battles. The slowest footed who lag behind, supply the show of a rere-ward.

Yes—there are horseman placed also on either party, [as if it were an ambush] and ready to ride away with the ball, if they can catch it at advantage.

But they must not so steal the palme. For gallop any one of them never so fast yet he shall be surely met at some hedge corner, cross-lane, bridge, or deep water, which (by casting the Countrie) [reconnoitring] they know he must needs pass by, and if his good fortune guard him not the better, he is like to pay the price of his theft with his own and his horse being overthrown to the ground.

Sometimes the whole company runneth with the ball, seven or eight miles out of the direct way [to the opposing goals] which they should keep.

Sometimes a footman getting it by stealth, the better to escape unespied [unseen] will carry the ball backwards and so, at last, get to the ball by a windlace. Which once known to be won all that side flock thither with great jolity, and if the same be a Gentleman's house, they give him the ball for a Trophee, and the drinking out of his Beer to boote.

The ball in this play may be compared to an infernal spirit. For whosoever catcheth it, behaves straightaway like a madde man, struggling and fighting with those that go about to hold him. And no sooner is the ball gone from him, he resigneth this fury [the madness leaves him] to the next receiver, and himself becometh peacable as before.

The Survey of Cornwall.

Hurling taketh his denomination from throwing of the ball, and is of two forts, in the East parts of Cornwall, to goales, and in the West, to the countrey.

For hurling to goales, there are 15, 20 or 30 players more or less, chosen out on each side, who strip themselves into their lightest apparel, and then join hands in rank one against another. Out of these ranks they match themselves by pairs, one embracing another, and so pass away every of which couple, are specially to watch one another during the play.

After this, they pitch two bushes in the ground, some eight or ten foot apart, and directly against them, ten or twelve score off, other twaine in like distance, which they term their Goales. One of these is appointed by lots, to the one side, and the other to his adversary party. There is assigned for their guard, a couple of their best stopping Hurlers; the residue draw into the midst between both goales, where some indifferent person throweth up a ball, the which whosoever can catch, an carry through his adversary goale, hath wonne the game. But therein consisteth one of Hercules and his labours; for he that is once possessed of the ball, hath his contrary mate waiting at inches, and assaying to lay hold upon him. The other trusteth him in the breast, with his closed fist, to keep him off, which they call Butting, and place in wudong the fame, no finall poynt of manhood.

If he escape the first, another taketh him in hand, and so a third, nayethers he left, until haung met (as the Frenchman sayes) Chauffeur a fon pied, hee either touch the ground with some part of his bodie, in wraftling or cry, Hold, which is the word of yeelding. Then must muft he caft the ball (named Dealing) to fome one of his fellowes, who catching the fame in his hand, maketh away withall as before, and if his hap or agility bee fo good, as to fhake off or outrunne his counter-wayters, at the goaie, hee findeth one or two frefh men, readie to receive and keepe him off. It is therefore a very disaduantageable match, or extraordinary accident, that leefeth many goales howbeit, that fide car­ryeth away beft reputation, which giueth moft falles in the hurling, keepeth the ball longeft, and prefeth his contrary neereft to their owne goaie. Sometimes one choifen perfon on eche party dealeth the ball.

The Hurlers are bound to the obferuation of many lawes, as, that they muft hurle man to man, and not two fet vpon one man at once, that the Hurler againft the ball, muft not but, nor hand-faft vnder girdle, that hee who hath the ball, muft but onely in the others breft, that he muft deale no Fore-ball, viz he may not throw it to any of his mates, standing neerer the goaie, then himfelfe. Laftly, in dealing the ball, if any of the other part can catch it flying between, or e’re the other haue it faft, he thereby winneth the fame to his fide, which fraightway of defendant becommeth affailant, as the other, of affailant falls to be defendant. The leaft breach of thefe lawes, the Hurlers take for a luft caufe of going together by the eares, but with their fifts onely, neither doth any among them feele reuenge for fuch wrongs or hurts, but at the like play againe. Thefe hurling matches are moftly vfed at weddings, where commonly the ghefts vndertake to encounter all com­mers.

The Survey of Cornwall.

The hurling to the Countrey, is more diffufe and confufe, as bound to few of these orders. Some two or more Gentlemen doe commonly make this match, appointing that on such a holyday, they will bring to such an indifferent place, two, three, or more parishes of the East or South quarter, to hurle against so many other, of the West or North. Their goales are either those Gentlemens houses, or some townes or villages, three or foure miles afunder, of which either fide maketh choice after the neerneffe to their dwellings. When they meet, there is neyther comparing of numbers, nor matching of men, but a siluer ball is caft vp, and that company, which can catch, and carry it by force, or fleight, to their place affigned, gaineth the ball and victory. Whosoever getteth feizure of this ball, findeth himfelfe generally pursuèd by the aduerfe party, neither will they leaue, till (without all refpects) he be layd flat on Gods deare earth which fall once receiued, disableth him from any longer detayning the ball. Hee therefore throweth the fame (with like hazard of intercepting, as in the other hurling) to fome one of his fellowes, fardeft before him, who maketh away withall in like maner. Such as fee where the ball is played, give notice thereof to their mates, crying, Ware Eaft, Ware Weft, &c as the fame is carried.

The Hurlers take their next way ouer hilles, dales, hedges, ditches, yea, and thorow bushes, briers, mires, plashes and riuers whatfoeuer, fo as you shall fometimes fee 20 or 30 lie tugging together in the water, scrambling and scratching for the ball. A play (verily) both rude & rough, and yet fuch, as is not deftitute of policies, in some fort refembling the feats of warre, for you shall have haue companies layd out before, on the one fide, to encounter them that come with the ball, and of the other party to succor them, in maner of a fore-ward Againe, other trourp lye houering on the fides, like wings, to helpe or stop their escape and where the ball it felfe goeth, it refembleth the ioyning of the two mayne battels the floweft footed who come lagge, supply the fhowe of a rere-ward yea, there are horfemen placed also on either party (as it were in ambufh) and ready to ride away with the ball, if they can catch it at aduan-tage But they may not fo fteale the palme for gallop any one of them neuer fo faft, yet he fhall be furely met at fome hedge corner, croffe-lane, bridge, or deep water, which (by cafting the Countrie) they know he muft needs touch at and if his good fortune gard him not the better, hee is like to pay the price of his theft, with his owne and his horfes ouerthrowe to the ground Sometimes, the whole company runneth with the ball, feuen or eight miles out of the direct way, which they fhould keepe Sometimes a foote-man getting it by fstealth, the better to fcape vnspied, will carry the fame quite backwards, and fo, at laft, get to the goale by a windlace which once knowne to be wonne, all that fide flocke thither with great lolity and if the fame bee a Gentlemans houfe, they giue him the ball for a Trophee, and the drinking out of his Beere to boote
The ball in this play may bee compared to an infernall fpirt for whosoeuer catcheth it, fareth ftraight-ways like a madde man, strugling and fighting with thofe that goe about to holde him and no fooner is the ball gone from him, but hee refigneth this fury to the next receiuer, and himfelf becometh peacable af before
